Pemberton Retrieves Daughter's Dog

Warren Fire Loss Heavy

WARREN--A Monday afternoon fire destroyed a garage and heavily damaged the two vehicles inside at the residence of Harold E. Pemberton, approximately one mile south of Warren.

The blaze began at approximately 1:30 p.m. while Pemberton was doing some welding on one of the vehicles. He told firemen that he tried to put out the fire, but was unable to prevent it from spreading.

Two units from the Warren Volunteer Fire Department, aided by volunteer firemen from Wildwood, had the fire under control in approximately 30 minutes. An additional unit from the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department responded, but arrived after the fire was already under control.

Heavily damaged by the fire were a 1973 International pickup and a 1968 Chrysler Imperial. No one was hurt, but a pet dog belonging to Pemberton's daughter was missing for a while. The dog was found, safe, in the front seat of a WVFD truck.

Firemen at the scene said that a favorable wind kept the blaze from spreading to Pemberton's nearby house.

Pemberton told the firemen that he had just filled the gas tank on one of the vehicles that morning.

Highway 287 Now Under Federal Beautification Act

AUSTIN--Almost 18 miles of U.S. Highway 287 from Woodville to west of Chester in Tyler County were among four thousand miles of Texas highways which came under the Federal Highway Beautification Act on July 1, according to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

All of U.S. highways 190 and 69 were already included in the beautification program.

The department said it will inventory all existing signs and junkyards along the newly controlled routes. Attempts will also be made to contact sign and junkyard owners to explain requirements of the act.

The federal beautification act requires any person erecting or maintaining a sign along a controlled highway to have an outdoor advertising license and a permit for each sign.

Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located and signs advertising activities conducted on the property upon which they are located are exempt.

No new junkyards may be started unless they are screened from view of the highway. Violators will be subject to fine, said the department.

Persons who think their signs or junkyards may be affected by the change are requested to contact the nearest district office of the department. Specific limits of highways subject to controls will be available at the district office.

Senior Citizens Needed To Help Shape Aging Plan

JASPER--Senior Citizens from the Deep East Texas area have an opportunity to help shape Texas' upcoming Aging Plan for 1977 by attending one of the public hearings on the plan slated for mid-July.

Representatives from the Area Agency on Aging, Deep East Texas Council of Governments; and members of the County Committees on Aging are making plans to attend the meetings, scheduled for Abilene, Dallas and San Antonio on July 12, 14 and 15.

Area Agency on Aging Director Martha Jones feels that, due to the distances involved, most Deep East Texans will attend the Dallas meeting July 14. It will be held at Park South YMCA, 2500 Romine in South Dallas, from 1-4 p.m.

The 1977 Aging Plan, compiled by the Governor's Committee on Aging, will outline programs affecting all of Texas' Senior Citizens, and will also determine how and in what areas federal money for aging programs should be spent, so input from older residents of the 12-county DETCOG Region is important.

Persons in the area wishing to attend one of these hearings are asked to contact their county Aging Service Center. Some Service Centers may be providing transportation to the hearings. Copies of the draft plan of the 1977 Aging Plan are also being made available to interested persons in the Region. These may be obtained by contacting Martha Jones or Loretta Hatch at the Deep East Texas Council of Governments, 272 East Lamar Street, Jasper, Texas 75951.

The Tyler County Aging Service Center is located at 101A Pecan in Woodville. The phone number is 283-5517 and the Rev. Jesse Adams is the project director.

Youth To Offer Garbage Service

WARREN--A garbage pick-up service is being formed to help the elderly and shut-ins in the Warren area during the 90-day period that the county solid waste program is shut down.

The Rev. John Spanhanks of Bethel Baptist Church said that the youth of the church are planning the service which will make a weekly pick-up on Saturday mornings.

The service will be free, but the garbage will have to be put in plastic bags for pick-up, and only those who have no other way of getting their garbage to the county dump are eligible, said Spanhanks.

Those interested in joining the "garbage pool" should contact Spanhanks at 547-2881.

The 'Kid' and the Speaker

WOODVILLE--They called him "Kid" Leach and there were few in his class that could beat him. Only five-foot-five and 110 pounds, he was twice runnerup in the NCAA national flyweight wrestling competition.

And, once he did something which some Republicans would have given money to do -- he beat Carl Albert, Democrat and Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives for the last five years.

"Kid" is now known to his neighbors and friends in Woodville as Marvin. He's been retired for five years, but stays in shape by working on his farm.

But almost 50 years ago, he was the leading flyweight wrestler at the University of Oklahoma for three straight years. He took the two second place titles his sophomore and junior years, and might have done better his senior year.

In the semifinals he dislocated an elbow while wrestling Bobby Pierce. Leach won the match anyway, but couldn't advance and had to settle for third place. Pierce went on to become the Olympic champion in 1932.

Leach was invited to try-out for the Olympic team, but declined. There was no 115-pound class in Olympic wrestling and he would have had to go against men in the 125-pound class. Anyway, there was already a 125-pounder at OU named Mantooth--who could beat him.

One day Leach's coach told him that another wrestler by the name of Carl Albert wanted to challenge him for his place on the team.

"I didn't know him then," says Leach, "and I told the coach it was okay by me."

The two wrestlers of approximately the same build, attired in red tights, knee pads and white shorts met at the assigned place and time.

"He was new and out of condition," relates Leach, "but he was aggressive. He just didn't have the experience."

Leach says he had little trouble putting down his challenger and thought little about it, until he saw the papers the next morning.

"The school and city newspapers all carried stories telling how I'd had a hard time beating Carl Albert. I went to the coach and asked him what all the ballyhoo was about," says Leach.

The coach explained that Albert was trying for a Rhodes Scholarship and he had to have credit for competing in sports. His size kept him out of most sports, except for wrestling.

Well, Albert was a much better speaker than wrestler. He made quite a name for himself as a debater and speaker. "And he was witty," adds Leach. As a Democrat from Oklahoma he went to Congress and became speaker of the House in 1971. He will retire at the end of 1976.

Marvin 'Kid' Leach

Oh, yes. He did get the Rhodes Scholarship.

The incident came to light once in 1966, when SPORTS ILLUSTRATED ran a short article about Albert's wrestling days at OU. It credited Leach with stopping Albert's climb to wrestling fame. "He never could dislodge that Kid Leach", said an Oklahoma official in the story.

The article came to Marvin's attention when former pro-football star Sam Huff showed it to Marvin's brother, Oather Leach, who also wrestled at OU.

Leach retired as plant manager of Chemetron Corporation's LaPorte plant in 1971 and moved to Woodville with his wife Donella. Cattle and corn take his time now. And two quail chicks which he adopted follow him about his home.

A rematch probably would not be fair. Albert, after all, has been sitting in Congress for many years.

Lions Rodeo Nears

WOODVILLE--With the Tyler County Lion's Rodeo less than three weeks away, the members of the Lions Clubs of Tyler County are in pursuit of their various committee functions to bring the rodeo fans of East Texas an "exciting, fast-moving, and entertaining show".

In keeping with the schedule established when the show barn was built and the new covered bleachers were installed last year, the Lions are in the process of "branding" the seat numbers on all of the covered area since all seats under the cover will be reserved seats from henceforth.

Advertising posters are being distributed throughout East Texas, and news stories and radio publicity are appearing throughout the area.

Advance tickets are now on sale and they may be ordered by mail through the ticket chairman, Malcolm Collier, 305 West Bluff, Woodville, Texas 75979. Box seats may be reserved by calling Mr. Collier at 283-2518.

Sheriff Car Repairs Ok'd

WOODVILLE--At a hurriedly called special meeting Monday morning, the Tyler County Commissioners Court approved repairs to the sheriff's car so that it might pass state inspection.

Estimated cost of the repairs was stated at $126 by the court.

Commissioner Bo Jordan told the court that even if the court agreed to purchase a new car, the sheriff would have to drive the present one for another month.

"It just doesn't look good for the Sheriff's Department," said Jordan about the lack of an inspection sticker.

County Judge Tom Dick Mann left the meeting to get Sheriff Lewis Craven. After they were both back, Judge Mann called for a motion. Commissioner Joe Best made the motion for repairs to the old car and it was seconded by Commissioner H.M. Parks. The motion carried unanimously.

Solid waste was discussed once more by the court, but no action was taken. The avenues for financing a new solid waste system were explored, but action on a new system may be as far off as 1977, said the commissioners.

"We don't just meet today and raise the taxes tomorrow," said Judge Mann in reference to one citizen's asking him why something has not been done about the solid waste situation.

Additional discussion focused on the warrant serving process and its financing.

The court met in executive session for approximately 15 minutes at the end of the meeting.

Hill Not In County This Week

WOODVILLE--Rumors that Attorney General John Hill was coming to Woodville Tuesday proved to be just that -- rumors.

The December term holdover grand jury has sent a written request to the Attorney General's office, asking that he join the investigation of financial allegations in Tyler County.

Speaking from Austin for the Attorney General's office, investigator Lee Clyburn told the BOOSTER that he and an assistant would probably come to Tyler County "in a week or so". He added that they would meet with the grand jury to discuss the allegations.

Clyburn said that the District Attorney and District Judge had joined the jury in the request.

During the Tuesday morning Tyler County Commissioners Court meeting, several of the commissioners remarked about the impending visit of Hill to the county. Commissioner H.M. Parks added, "I know why Mr. Hill's coming."

District Attorney Stanley Coe said he would be "totally surprised if you see anybody from the Attorney General's office this week."

DETCOG Approves Regional Projects

HOUSTON-Ten criminal justice projects totaling approximately $1,93,000, for the Deep East Texas Region were approved at the June meeting of the Texas Criminal Justice Division Advisory Board in Houston.

Twelve officials from the Deep East Texas Region attended, including Tyler County Judge Tom Dick Mann and Woodville Mayor Terry Watts.

The ten projects funded included six Phase 1 Jail Planning projects for counties in the DETCOG Region. These Phase 1 projects will provide for planning studies at six county jails in the 12-county area. Phase 1 funding for Tyler County is $8,575.

A regional Law Enforcement Training Program and the implementation of a Regional Teletype System were two other projects which met with state approval.

The Law Enforcement Training Program will enable the DETCOG to work with the East Texas Police Academy in Kilgore to provide basic officer training for 40 to 50 law enforcement personnel and advanced training for 160 to 200 officers during the year. Grant funds for $22,502 were approved.

The Deep East Texas Regional Teletype System will tie in with a present teletype system operating in the cities of Lufkin and Nacogdoches. This system will help reduce information exchange time between law enforcement agencies in the 12-county area and with other sources of criminal justice information nationwide.

Four additional teletypes will be established, including a city-county cooperative set-up between Woodville and Tyler County.

In other business, the committee heard favorable reports on 12 applications for funding from the region. Some 500 young people are being employed throughout the 12 county area during the summer in the program.

Colmesneil News

By Lou Ella Moseley

The Fourth was celebrated in a big way at First Baptist Church Sunday. Both buildings had been beautifully decorated by the pastor and his wife in attractive arrangements of national emblems and colors which formed an appropriate setting for the occasion. The program consisted of special music and readings followed by an inspirational message by the pastor. An hour of feasting and good fellowship was shared by a host of local residents and visitors from various places of the coast area.

Another big reunion Sunday was that of the Ratcliff family at the old Joe Ratcliff home in the Beech Creek community, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Bingham. Seats and tables, all in Bi-Centennial decorations under the pecan trees on the lawn provided an inviting place for this gathering. Ten of the eleven children were there with their families and friends, making a total of one hundred ninety six present, ranging in age from eight days to eighty-three years.

Mrs. Ella Boyett had as her guests on Wednesday two friends from Nederland, Mrs. Alvin Barr and Mrs. Dorothy Webb. Coming on the weekend, and remaining for a few days visit, were her niece, Mrs. Barry Snowden and little daughter, Amber Lorraine of Houston.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ogden and Mrs. Iva Gray over the weekend, and attending the program at the Baptist Church on Sunday and the Butler reunion at Lake Tejas, on Monday, were their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Butler of Port Neches. Also a sister, Hallie Mae Jones of San Antonio who remained for a visit during the present week.

With Vennie Fortenberry over the weekend was her grand-daughter, Sharon Smith from Tyler who will extend her trip to Beaumont where she will enroll in Lamar University for the next semester. Sharon has just returned from a pioneer mission trip with her parents in Wyoming which was sponsored by their home church in Tyler.

Mrs. Marvin Fowler visited in Grand Saline over the weekend with her brother in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Fowler, and while there she shared in a day of fun and visitation with friends at Trades Day. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fowler had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Glenn of Woodville.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gregory spent the Fourth in Magnolia Springs at the home of their daughter, Jean Satchitano where they were joined by their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gregory of Beaumont.

Marguerite Bates of Port Arthur visited her mother, Mrs. Helen Richardson over the weekend. Mrs. Richardson returned home with her daughter for a weeks visit and a periodic trip to her doctor.

Frances Fondren who has been in a hospital in Tyler for the past several days, will go to the home of her brother, Homer Leavings, in Lufkin Wednesday for the remainder of the week before returning to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fowler and daughters, Glenda and Gina, will spend the weekend in Fort Worth to see their oldest daughter, Rhonda, compete in the Miss Texas pageant. Also attending the contests will be Rhonda's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Fuller and other relatives and friends of Woodville and Lumberton.

Bro. and Mrs. Ron Walling and children, Ronny, Rhonda Sue and Rochelle, left Monday for a vacation with his mother in Colorado, his sister in Wyoming and other relatives along the way. With the Wallings over the weekend was his brother, Fred Pratt of Houston who participated in the program at First Baptist Sunday.

The warmest of sympathy is extended from relatives and friends of this community to Easter Mann and other members of the Matthews family in the death of her brother, Lawson Matthews of Henderson. Attending the funeral in Henderson Saturday were Mrs. Mann, with her sons, Herbert of Lake Charles and Bobby of Lufkin, and also her sister, Lurley Bradberry and family of Jasper.

Church Identity (5)

In previous articles the rule of faith and practice, organization, worship and terms of salvation have been discussed as they relate to the New Testament church.

Consider the kind of life that Christians should live. In Titus 2:11,12 Paul says, "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world..." Please read: Romans 12:1,2; I John 2:15,17.

Christians are a "called out" people (II Cor. 6:17), a holy nation (I Pet. 2:9). Therefore, they must live a life that is "worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called..." (Eph. 4:1).

Worldliness is rampant among religious peoples. Dancing, social drinking, gambling, immorality, cursing, etc should not be once named among those who have been called out of the world into Christ. The church of the New Testament must stand against all such. Any church that winks at sin cannot be the church of Jesus Christ.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK
State Comptroller

AUSTIN—Summer is here. And in Texas that generally means weekend arts and crafts shows almost everywhere.

When consumers are enjoying themselves moving from one booth to another, trying to decide what, if anything to buy, having a cold drink and a hot dog, perhaps listening to a little music, taxes are probably the last thing they think about.

But the Comptroller's Department, as the state's chief tax collector and administrator, has to think about taxes all the time.

It is important not only for us, but also for Texas taxpayers, the organizations which sponsor arts and crafts shows and the exhibitors to be aware of the legal requirements for sales at such events.

Sales of arts and crafts are taxable.

Artists and exhibitors must obtain sales tax permits, collect the sales tax from their customers and report and remit the tax dollars collected with their sales tax returns to the Comptroller's Department in Austin.

Sponsors of such events should require exhibitors to present, and prominently display, their sales tax permits. It is difficult enough to put together and run an event like this without having problems with violations of the sales tax law. The time to insure that violations do not occur is in advance of the occasion, not in the midst of it.

The Comptroller's Department wants to avoid tax problems for ourselves, for retailers who collect taxes for us, and for taxpayers. Avoiding problems or solving them when they first arise saves time, money, and trouble for everyone.

IF YOU HAVE ANY STATE TAX PROBLEMS OR QUESTIONS, CONTACT YOUR LOCAL COMPTROLLER'S FIELD OFFICE OR CALL TOLL FREE 1-800-252-5555.

The Fifth Annual Woodville Tennis Tournament was held on July 3rd and 4th with more than seventy entries, according to Sergio Ramos, Tournament director. Ramos said he tried to get some games under way on the second and third rounds but was rained out.

The tournament got under way at 7 p.m. on Thursday, but was quickly rained out. Friday playoff matches were held, but again Saturday it rained periodically from about 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and most of the tournament was played Sunday afternoon.

MEN'S DOUBLES went like this: First round Tindel and Daniel drew a bye; Durr and Gilchrist defeated Ramos and Fortenberry 7-5, 6-1; Best and Sloan won over Stafford and Freeman 6-1, 6-1; King and Martin lost to Boynton and Westbrook 6-3, 6-0; Rossier and Miller also lost to Washburn and Hillard 6-3, 6-4; Hubbard and Smith slipped by Findley and West 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; Moffett and Summers also slipped by Trest and Ogden 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; Daniels and Collins fell to Dean with 5-7 and 6-3, defaulting and finishing the first round.

The second round went as follows: Tindel and Daniel also won over Durr and Gilchrist 7-5, 6-1; when Best and Sloan decided not to play Boynton and Westbrook who won from a default; Washburn and Hillard took Hubbard and Smith 6-1, 6-1. Dean and Lane also won the second round 6-1, 7-5 over Summers and Moffett. This action left Daniel and Tindel to play against Boynton and Westbrook, and Washburn and Hillard against Dean and Lane. Daniel and Tindel pulled through 6-3, 6-4 with Dean and Lane accomplishing the same thing, but not as easy with scores of 6-7, 6-4, 6-3.

The finals in Men's Doubles were won by Dean and Lane taking first and Daniel and Tindel taking second at the game count of 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

There were fifteen teams entered in this event.

The Men's Singles saw a lot of action also.

In the first round, Rossier won over Washburn 6-2, 6-3; Westbrook also slipped by Sloan 6-4, 4-6, 6-3; Durr also tore up Bendy 6-0, 6-3; and the other thirteen entries took byes.

Sergio Ramos With Trophies

The second round went as follows: Rossier over Boynton 1-6, 6-4, 6-3; Collins over Fortenberry 6-4, 6-4; Trest went over Findley also 6-2, 6-2; Lane took Moore 6-0, 6-2; Westbrook took Daniels 7-6, 4-6, 7-6; Ramos also went over Martin 6-2, 6-2; Moffett beat Kent 6-0, 6-0; and Hillard went over Durr 6-2, 7-6. The third round went as follows: Rossier went over Collins 8-3 in a pro set; Lane went over Trest 9-7; Ramos took Westbrook 8-5; and Hillard took Moffett 8-4. The fourth round Rossier took Lane 6-1, 6-4 and Hillard went over Ramos by default. In the finals Rossier took the first place trophy. Seeded was Charles Boynton for first which was defeated in the second round and Bob Hillard seeded second which took the second place trophy home.

and Johnny Lane seeded third which was beat in the fourth round.

The mixed doubles went like this: first round Crawford and Tindel took a defeat from Moore and Moore; and Summer and Freeman defeated Findley and Findley 9-7; Findley and Hairgrove went over Miller and Friend 2-6, 7-5, 6-4; and Hubbard and Hubbard fell to Daniel and Griffin 9-7. The semi final round went Crawford and Tindel over Summers and Freeman 6-2, 6-7, 6-3; Griffin and Daniel also took Findley and Hairgrove 6-3, 6-4. Crawford and Tindel took home the first place trophy and Daniel and Griffin took home the second place trophy by a score of 6-4, 6-4. There was eight teams entered in this event.

The last bracket was the Women's Singles. First round went quickly: E. Findley over Griffin 6-2, 6-2; Crawford over Freeman 6-2, 6-4; Hairgrove also took Moore 6-2, 6-2; Phelps took G. TP&W Warns About Summer Hazards

AUSTIN -- As the peak summer outdoor recreation period approaches, more than 200 persons around the state already have lost their lives in water-related activities this year. In the Central Texas area alone, five persons drowned during a four-day period in early June.

With the right preparations and proper precautions, say water safety and law enforcement officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, a summer outing to one of the many Texas lakes can avoid ending in tragedy and death.

There were 650 water-related fatalities reported in 1975, according to P&WD records. Of the total, some 211 were swimming fatalities; 93 fishing; and 47 boating. Another 54 persons in the state drowned in private swimming pools. And 12 people died trying to save someone else in trouble in the water.

Of the 204 fatalities recorded by P&WD as of June 9, 1976, 51 deaths were caused by swimming, 30 while fishing, and 16 in boating mishaps.

"As a rule, the summer months are the most dangerous periods as far as water fatalities are concerned," said Billy Walker, P&WD coastal law enforcement supervisor, "because there are more people taking part in water recreational activities."

Records compiled during 1975 seem to bear this out. Fully two-thirds of the 1975 water deaths were registered between May and August.

During July, some 121 persons lost their lives in the water. During the next month, 84 water-related deaths were reported. But in September, the number of water deaths dropped to 33.

Similarly, there were 50 deaths in April 1975. The number more than doubled to 118 the following month.

Non-swimmers and swimmers alike should wear life jackets at all times when aboard a boat.

More than 500 persons may drown in Texas this year, but with proper care that number could be cut significantly.

Football Safety Studied

New NCAA rules may make schoolboy football safer this year. However, some coaches in their enthusiasm may accidently overlook regulations that could decrease serious or fatal neck injuries, according to one prominent team physician.

A UIL official has said the rules are hard to enforce.

Training begins August 11 for Class 4A and August 3 for other classes. Class 4A contact drills begin August 16; others start August 13.

Improperly using the head can result in cervical vertebrae (upper neck) injuries such as hyperflexion (vertebrae compression with possible spinal cord damage), hyperextension (slipped, dislocated vertebrae with possible spinal cord damage) or cervical plexus damage (injury of the nerves going from the neck to the upper part of the body), according to the Texas Medical Association. These conditions can result in paralysis or death. Other injuries such as pinched nerves can be very painful.

Ball carriers rammed with the top of the head can suffer bruised heart muscles, broken ribs and possible collapsed lung from the rib fracture, hip tendon injuries and liver, spleen, bladder or kidney damage, depending on where he was hit.

New NCAA rules permit using the hands and arms more in blocking. Hopefully players will use their heads less in the line and they will be less prone to use their heads in open field play where most serious injuries occur; said Bailey Marshall, Ph.D., who is UIL athletics director. He said secondary backs in high-speed open field play most often get serious neck injuries, sometimes as a result of catching a knee in the head.

Ed Etier, M.D., TCU team physician and past president of the Texas Society of Athletic Team Physicians, says many serious neck injuries do occur in open field play but this most illegal use of the head occurs in the line. He said that the new rules on hands and arm use may cut down on head and neck injuries if coaches will follow them.

Some coaches in their urge to win have been known to change a position slightly so legally it can appear tackling but it is still dangerous. They don't mean to endanger players. They sometimes just get overly enthusiastic, Dr. Etier said in an interview.

Dr. Marshall said tackling below the waist may become illegal in certain situations in the future although no changes are foreseen soon. He said this regulation might cut down on head, neck, knee and ankle injuries.

Even the widespread, legal "forehead hits the numbers" tactic is dangerous. "It's just less dangerous than hitting with the crown of the head," Dr. Etier said.

NCAA rules say a player cannot deliberately use his head to butt or ram an opponent. More specifically, it is illegal to strike a runner if the player uses the crown of his head. Spear tackling which is also illegal, is defined as deliberately using the helmet in an attempt to punish an opponent.

These acts carry a 15 yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty. A player also could be expelled from a game, depending on the official's judgment.

The American Football Coaches' Association ethics code prohibits teaching use of the helmet as a weapon or as the primary point of contact. A coach found guilty of the practice by the association could be put on probation or expelled from the association.

However, it seems these rules are difficult to enforce in a game, said Dr. Marshall. An official must determine that a player intentionally used his head illegally.

Players tend to use their heads often and unintentionally. "If a player leads with his head, he's more likely to get part of a runner. If he leads with his head to the side, he may miss entirely if the runner dodges," Dr. Marshall said in an interview.

Dr. Etier says youngsters feel fairly secure about hitting with their heads since helmets are so sturdy. "What players don't realize is that the neck is virtually unprotected and can be severely injured when they use their heads unwisely," Dr. Etier said.

Properly fitted helmets and better educated coaches, trainers and athletes could cut down on these injuries. About the only way to design a safer helmet would be to make one where the athlete has to turn his whole upper body to look to the side. Manufacturers are studying other alternatives, Dr. Etier said.

Adams Bill May Reduce School Days

AUSTIN--State Senator Don Adams of Jasper and State Representative Herman Adams of Silsbee will introduce a bill during the 65th session of the Texas Legislature that will reduce the number of school days for public school in Texas.

The bill changes the present 180 days of classroom instruction to 174 days and the 10 days of teacher in-service training to 6.

"Since the school year was lengthened in 1971, many schools across the state start the fall semester in early August. This has caused problems for high school students who have summer jobs and teachers who attend college summer school", Senator Adams said.

"Because August is one of the hottest months of the year and many of the classrooms across the state are not air-conditioned, both students and teachers are inconvenienced" Representative Adams added.

The bill does not alter the annual salary rate calculation that went into effect in 1975.

Teach them to respect our freedoms.

A basic ingredient of the American Dream is that the children of each succeeding generation shall achieve a standard of living of greater quality and opportunity than their parents. What lies in store for today's little ones?

Will they be happier and prouder of this nation and its leaders? Will they laugh a lot? Will they have the right to go into business and make a profit? Will they have adequate energy and housing? Will they be able to decide for themselves what they want in a free competitive marketplace? Will they go on to build a nation of even greater purpose?

They will. If we constantly teach them in our schools and homes to respect the freedoms of spirit and private initiative so largely responsible for the realization of the American Dream.

Farm Vehicle Registrations Have Restrictions

AUSTIN–One of the most common violations of motor vehicle registration laws in Texas is the use of farm registration plates on a vehicle used for non-farm purposes.

Farmers and ranchers pay only half the normal registration fee for plates on vehicles used solely for farm purposes and certain personal activities of farm and ranch families.

The law is specific in stating that a farm-registered vehicle "may not be used for other gainful employment."

Violation of this statute is considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $25 to $200," according to R.W. Townsley, director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation's Motor Vehicle Division.

Townsley said a farmer or rancher may not use his farm-registered vehicle as a means of transportation to an industrial job, nor for hire–even if it is for the transport of farm or ranch products.

Violations frequently occur when a farm-registered pickup is sold to a non-farm operator, Townsley said. In such instances, the plates must be surrendered and application made for new registration, he added.

Welding School Slated For Jasper

JASPER–A second combine welding school will be offered in Jasper starting August 2. Following the successful completion of the first combine welding school, which held informal graduation exercises in Jasper June 30, a second school is being offered in conjunction with the Deep East Texas Council of Governments Manpower program, under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of 1973.

The school is funded jointly by the DETA program and the Texas Education Agency (TEA), and is aimed at providing job training to unemployed, underemployed and economically disadvantaged persons in Jasper, Newton and Tyler counties.

According to Jasper County School Superintendent Johnnie McLeod, the school will be held at the Precinct Two County Commissioner's Barn, located on the Old Lufkin Highway in Jasper. Classes will run for 20 weeks, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Those wishing further information or needing to know eligibility requirements are asked to contact DETCOG CETA Representative Emma Hector at the Jasper DETCOG office, 272 East Lamar Street, Jasper, 384-5704; or the CETA/TEC outreach office in Woodville, located in the Tyler County Courthouse, 283-3715.

Holiday Pinings

By: Kathy Kinnon

We are tremendously happy with our new registered nurse at Holiday Pines. Her name is Mrs. Elizabeth Sorrels and she came to Woodville from Seattle, Washington. She has worked with Public Health and the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Alaska for many years and with the Peace Corps in Brazil. Last year she was employed with the North Atlantic Girls Scouts as their camp nurse in Germany. Mrs. Sorrels has been active with 4-H Clubs, Girl Scouts, and is an American Red Cross Nurse and Instructor. Mrs. Sorrels adds to the Nursing Care for Woodville, in general, and to Holiday Pines Lodge, in particular.

The president of Fairview Baptist BYU, Sharon Ayers, invited me to their meeting last week to discuss their possible involvement in the Holiday Pines Volunteer Program. They decided that they could be of the most service to us by working in the one-to-one program with our residents. We are proud to have Sharon Ayers, Ann Owens, Brenda Henry, Tressa Lee, Elva Ratcliff and Rose Barber join our volunteer Corps.

Maurice Morgan plays the piano–and plays it well. He entertained our residents with a very wide range of musical requests. The residents loved it and we hope he will be back soon.

We had delicious fruit baskets for Bingo prizes last week. Brad Smith called seven games which were won by Hurshall Bean, Janes Bodine, Samp Brookshire, Bob Clburn, Sarah Handley, Bryan Sturrock, and Shirley Woodcock.

On the 4th of July decorations were up and we had a week-end full of activities. Most of our residents went with their families to community and church reunions. Mr. Woodrome took several of the residents to the Bi-Centennial celebration at the Masonic Lodge in Chester. On Sunday we had a watermelon feast at the Home and were entertained by the Kathy Baptist Youth Choir.

Come join our Birthday Party today. We're celebrating the Birthdays of Minnie Hopson, Mary Frances Willburn, Willie Ferguson and Alonzo Gulley.

Alan Miller's T-WHEELER

By ALAN MILLER, Director, Public Information
Temple-Eastex Incorporated

This past week a "time capsule" was implanted on the grounds of the Lufkin Community Center. As with all time capsules, the artifacts purported to show life as it was in 1976 in East Texas.

I'm not aware of all the memorabilia that was sealed away, for someone to open a hundred years hence, and I hope they showed a little more imagination than our forebears did when they gathered some items to seal away after our Centennial celebration in 1876. Items like photographs of Lincoln and Jefferson, autographs of famous Americans, and an essay on temperance.

What could you include that would really "blow someone's mind" a hundred years from now.

How about a book of S&H Green Stamps? Imagine the consternation of a housewife in 2076, even if she knew what they were, wondering where the "redemption center" was.

For the academicians and mathematicians of that day, we could leave the 1975 editions of Internal Revenue Service Form 1040. One look at that and our 21st century brethern would be sure our generation was the intellectual marvel of the ages.

For the kids, we could leave a frisbie and a skateboard, with no instructions on how to use either one.

Copies of Playboy and Playgirl with the centerfolds removed would test their literary bent, and the latest in hard rock would convince them how much we had elevated our music culture since Bach, Beethoven and Bachrach.

On the political scene, our time capsule could include "All The President's Men" and Elizabeth Ray's "The Washington Fringe Benefit". Just by way of pointing out, you understand, that Grover Cleveland, General Grant and Harding weren't the only Presidents to go astray.

To test their mechanical aptitude, how about including one of the latest aspirin bottles. You know, the kind that has a top engineered in such a way that a gorilla couldn't get it open.

Or maybe our offspring a hundred years hence, will find out as I have, that a five year old can open that same bottle faster than you can blink an eye.

It would only be fair to include examples of our eating habits in 1976. Bubble gum, Frito's, Big Mac's, Hostess Twinkies, Moon pies and RC Cola.

Great athletic events of 1976 could include newspaper clippings of the Ali - Inoki "fight" in Tokyo, and the Oklahoma Rattlesnake Roundup.

One word of caution. Let's keep the language simple and the letters in large type. After all, a recent survey indicated today's high school graduates are reading at the fifth grade level. Who knows how literate anybody will be a hundred years from now.

You can't control the weather, but you can control your electric bill.

Next month, your electric bill will probably be higher than it was this month. Mainly due to the weather.

Our typical home customer uses much more electricity during the summer months. That's because the hotter it gets outside, the harder your air conditioning works to keep you cool inside. In fact, as much as 50% of the electricity used for a typical home could go for air conditioning.

So it will pay you to be sure you've made your home as energy efficient as you can.

To help, we've come up with a package of energy efficient ideas you can finance on your monthly electric bill. We call it our care package. It's designed to help you make the least of your electric bill.

We can finance the insulation in your attic, walls and under your floors. We can finance solar screens, wiring, attic ventilators and weather stripping. We can even finance a heat pump to replace your present cooling and heating system if it's needed.

Our Care Package. Energy efficient ideas you can finance on your monthly bill.

The top 10 types of attic insulation. Thickness should be increased to insure proper home insulation.

The Energy Checked sign means the home has energy efficient features to help cut down on energy use.

Remember, the hotter it gets outside, the more energy efficient your home should be inside.

We think it's important for you to get answers about your electric service. So if you have a question, just ask us.

'TSI' Offers Aid For Forest Programs

WOODVILLE–"Forest landowners don't have to spend a fortune to make their forest land productive," said James Vaughn, Forester with the Texas Forest Service in Woodville. "A majority of the time, valuable trees only need space to grow."

"Trees are like any other crop," he said. "If someone does not get rid of the weeds, the whole crop will probably fail."

According to Vaughn, growing room can be obtained by removing scrubby hardwood trees to give the more valuable trees growing room. This provides additional sunlight and root space to increase tree growth. The removal of scrubby hardwoods, called Timber Stand Improvement "TSI", he added, can help increase the value of a forest. The improvements will be in the form of substantially increased pine seedling growth and regeneration.

"The hardwoods are injected with the growth harmones, 2,4-D or Tordon," said Mr. Vaughn. "These cause the tree to literally grow itself to death."

He went on to say that many people are under the false impression all hardwoods are injected. But, he stated that only the worthless hardwoods were killed leaving the valuable hardwoods to reproduce and grow.

"The Forestry Incentives Program can assist qualified landowners with up to 75% of their TSI cost. This reduces the cost for the landowner from $30 to $40 per acre to $8-$15 per acre," said Mr. Vaughn. "When you consider the low cost per acre investment against the potential return, TSI is a practical solution to improving an existing forest."

Landowners needing assistance concerning TSI or any aspect of forestry should contact the Texas Forest Service at 283-3785 or drop by the Woodville office located just off the Beaumont highway.

Washington Report

By Congressman Charles Wilson

WASHINGTON, D.C.–Those who live along the lower reaches of the Trinity River understand its vast power-the power to enchant by its beauty and the power to destroy by its strength.

Flowing 715 miles through much of Texas, from Fort Worth to the Gulf, the Trinity River has for many years been the center of emotional debates and extended studies to determine what to do with the River-how to restore and maintain its beauty, how to control its destructive flooding, and how to make use of its extensive water supply.

Congress, in the River and Harbor Act of 1945, authorized the construction of the first program for the development of the Trinity River Basin. Since then, those first projects have more than paid for themselves, and Congress has moved to establish a more ambitious program for the River.

In 1965, the Trinity River Project was authorized to work towards developing the River for flood control, water supply, soil conservation, water transportation, recreation, and the preservation of scenic beauties. Most of the allocated funds have been used for extensive studies of various alternatives and proposed projects, the most ambitious of which includes the building of a multi-purpose channel for flood control and navigation throughout the length of the River.

Since 10 of the 17 counties through which the Trinity flows are in the Second District, the whole project is crucial to the economy and future of East Texas. The Tennessee Colony Lake Project is of particular importance, since it is in many ways the key element to the basin's future flood control capabilities.

By creating a lake and dam in the area, 24 miles west of Palestine, the serious floodings of past years could become a thing of the past, farming could stabilize, enough water could be supplied to help Houston, and new industries could be attracted to the area. Sufficient studies have been conducted to confirm the feasibility of the project; now is the time to begin the actual work on it.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee, I requested that $1 million for land acquisition of the Tennessee Colony Lake be included in the Public Works 1977 appropriation bill in addition to the $200,000 requested by the Administration for further studies.

Some of the Congressmen who represent our big city neighbors tried, as they have in the past, to cut funds for the whole project. But the additional funds were accepted by the Committee, by the House of Representatives, and by the conference committee of the House and Senate. The bill is now awaiting the President's signature, and when signed, will mean an important realization of the Tennessee Colony Project and of the needs of the people of East Texas.

May Bond Sales Reported

May sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds amounting to $3,743 in Tyler County were reported today by Savings Bond Chairman David A. Pergin. Sales for the five-month period totaled $27,446 or 34% of the 1976 sales goal of $80,000.

Sales in Texas during the month were $23,323,639–while the year-to-date sales totaled $118,408,815 with 44% of the $272.4 million 1976 sales goal achieved.

4-H Congress To Be July 27-30 In Austin

Four-H youth from throughout the state who will be participating in the Texas 4-H Congress July 27-30 in Austin will have an opportunity to get involved in the law-making process. The youth will actually take part in the process of presenting a bill before the Texas Legislature, points out a state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Congress will be headquartered at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel. This year's theme is "We the People..." 4-Hers will hear from a number of key government officials and will also elect members to the Texas 4-H Council for 1976-1977.

New 4-H Leader Named

Dr. John T. Pelham became state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service on July 1. Pelham served as an assistant county Extension agent in Bexar County for three years, was a state 4-H and youth specialist for two years, and for the past four years has been studies and training specialist for the Extension Service.

Pelham holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas A&M University and has a Ph. D. from Mississippi State University. He was reared on a farm near Whitney in Hill County.

THE LIGHT

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

The bible. God's word, has often been compared to a light, for it penetrates the darkness and reveals God to man. It is the light that leads man down life's pathway. For those who study it, it reveals not only the past, but also the future.

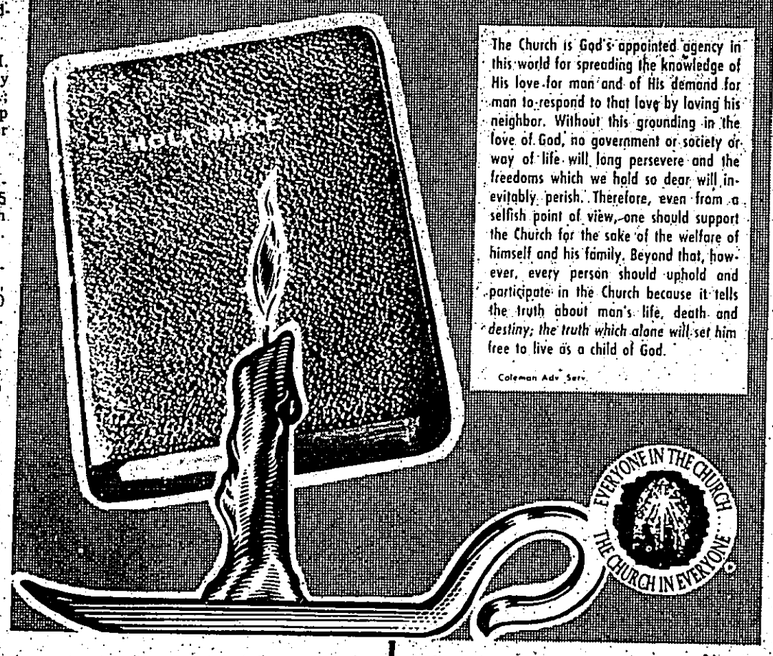
Attend church and hear God's leaders expound on His word.



The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
