ARCHITECTS EXPLAIN "REIMBURSABLES"-Representatives of the Architectural firm of AID. of Lufkin, explain willingness to forgo "reimbursable" costs submitted after agreements had opparently already been reached with Commissioners that there would be no more such claims.

By Invitation
Grand Jury Advises Court In Marathon Session

Tyler County commissioners met Monday in a marathon session covering some 28 items ranging from topping courthouse trees to hearing a grand jury report which "suggested" needed reforms in county transaction of routine but detailed financial and fiscal activities.

District attorney Pat Hardy received a "chide" from the Grand Jury asking that "The District Attorney's office devote more of it's time to investigation and procecution and less time to criminal apprehension."

The full text of the grand jury "investigation" can be found in an adjacent article.

The meeting focused on a misunderstanding between the county's architect AID, of Lufkin, Dennis Ultican and reguests from his office for "reimbursable" items which Commissioners had understood earlier would not be applied for against the cost of the jail project. AID officials said at the Monday meeting they "Would be willing to forgo the reimbursables in question stating "As a point of compromise...lets get on with things. In order to compromise and be reasonable." The court agreed to pay some $1,349.79 in other costs on a motion by Commissioner Bo Jordan. All voted "Yes." County Judge Josiah Wheat said the balance of the bill would be "deferred" until a later date. Commissioners and AID officials agreed that a modification to the existing contract was necessary. AID had submitted some $8,498.93 in "reimbursable" items which has already been paid.

In other business the court released Mark L. Sax, hired originally to collect delinquent taxes for the county, because "He has not filed any suits and has never been in Tyler County and I don't feel like we're getting the service that we should," said Tyler County Tax Assessor Collector, Barbara Tolbert. Commissioners Willis Graham and Carroll Connor combined in initiating votes to terminate the contract with Sax effective July 1, 1987.

The court acted to consider hiring Chester E. Young as Delinquent Tax collector but tabled vote action until the next regular meeting. In consideration also for the job are Russell Graham and the Houston firm of Calame, Linebarger & Austin.

In other business the court opened sale bids on a 1983 Ford Car which was offered for sale by the Sheriff's office and awarded the purchase to Danny Self for $2,200. Bids were rejected on a 1982 Chevrolet Pickup for which some seven individual bids. Purchases proposals for the vehicle ranged from $2,203 to $3,620. County Judge Wheat suggested that all bids be rejected. Sheriff Fowler said he would rather give the vehicle to Commissioners or to "to a needy cause" rather than see it sold at such a low price. John Morrison, member of the Tyler County Youth Development Center, Inc. asked to be placed on the next agenda of the court to ask for "considered sale" from the Sheriffs office to the Tyler County Youth Development Center to benefit the program and the kids involved. Fowler indicated his encouragement for that purchase of which Morrison offered $1 to transfer the vehicle to the Youth Center. County Judge Wheat said Tuesday the item would be placed on the courts next regular Monthly meeting in July.

In other business the court:

-approved the county extension agents monthly report;

-approved the county treasurers report;

-approved the probation department monthly report;

-approved the Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 Monthly report;

-approved the county auditors monthly report;

-approved allowances and accounts payable from the county auditors office;

-approved the purchase of a typewriter for the County extension agents office;

-set a tax exemption of some 30 percent for Tyler County Homesteads for 1987;

-set the over 65 age tax exemption value at $11,400;

-will request Certified Public Accountants Proposals for bids for one to three years services for an annual Audit beginning in FY 1987;

-asked Woodville Insurance Agent Malcolm Collier to work up coverage amounts for liability coverage for all county vehicles and to work up a coverage amount to limit damages against the county for "premisis defect under the Texas Tort Claims Act." Collier said the County has a "An exceptionally good claims experience rate over the years. This speaks highly of the county," he added.

-the court approved payments to Charles Williamson, of Woodville, for contract labor from June 1 to June 4 and agreed to pay a $100 fee for tree limb removal on the courthouse square;

In other court action the commissioners agreed to:

-advertise for bids on a new motor grade for Precinct 4;

-approved the increase in bond for the county clerk;

-appointed David Enloe, Alan Sturrock and John B. (Brad) Smith to the Veterans Land Board County Committee;

-approved Tom Dick Mann buying time for county retirement benefits with the county having already approved three county employees with similar action;

-approved a road easement as applied for by Varnay Durham for 7/10 of a mile on FM 1350;

-appointed as Deputy constable David Davis in Precinct 3;

-tabeled a dedication proposal of roadway extending from U.S. Highway 190 across the Jerimiah Survey Abstract No. 276 until properly dedicated;

-in other court action the commissioners decided to lease purchase telephone equipment at a cost of $58.66 per month for the county clerks office. Southwestern Bell representative, Russ Moses also told the court that a new touchtone facility will be installed in Woodville in the next few months.

Late afternoon budget hearing workshop discussions ended a long day for the county court.

City Council Busy With Water Woes

Woodville City Fathers met Monday and covered a wide range of business including the approval of a final $29,000 payment to Craig, Sheffield and Austin, of Houston, for construction of the new Woodville Sewer Plant. Total construction cost of the project is $1,800,000.

In other action the council voted to hire Woodville Certified Public accountant Robbie Barnett to audit the city's books. Barnett follows Tommy Weaver, C.P.A. for the city audit responsibility as Weaver has accepted a position with the Woodville Independent School District Business offices.

The council voted to "let the voters decide" on a one-half cent sales tax hike which, according to City Manager Walt Davis would provide $125,000 of revenue to the city. The earliest date the council could hold such an election is on August according to City Manager Walt Davis. The City of Beaumont passed a similar measure at their council meeting held also on Monday.

The City directed its 'feeling' toward appraisal district representative for the City and Councilman Dr. Malcom Radford regarding current valuation practices by the Central Appraisal District offices regarding small parcel landowner tracts inside the city limits of Woodville and poor and unorganized productivity calculating systems the council agreed were currently in use. Radford was asked by Woodville Mayor Tom Knapp to report the cities dissatisfaction to the central appraisal district.

Councilman Doug Tolbert said "we're going to kill the goose that laid the golden egg" referring to current timber values in East Texas and "If I have to I'll bring suit...I'm protesting the usage and I'll be first in line to tell them so."

City Attorney Josiah Wheat said: "A class action suit against that appraisal district would probably be a healthy thing."

The appraisal methods questions centered around city property owner lands reportedly being claimed for agricultural and/or timber usage. Councilman Dr. Brian Babin asked about his inability to "Get fair comparable value examples for property valuations. You ask them where the comparable properties are and they can't tell you," Babin told the council.

In other action the City Council heard a "good news and bad news" report from City Engineer David Perrell of Charles Haille and Associates regarding a recent Texas Water Commission enforcement order which forces the city to conform to stringent waste water treatment rules designed according to Perrell to create more jobs and hold the Environmental Protection Agency line.

According to the City Engineer the city will be forced to:

-create a waste water treatment operations and maintenance manual;

-develope a sludge management program, and;

-create a progressive infiltration inflow study;

-the city will also, according to water code requirements, be required to design wastewater treatment expansion plans when the cities waste water capacities reach 75 percent than when the cities capacities are at a 90 percent level the city would have to enter "construction phase" activities.

Perrell reported further that "all city permits would have these inclusions on all permits in the future.

Perrell recommended that the city develop a five year plan to set aside money for meeting each of the requirements imposed by the Texas Water Commission. He said the evaluation criteria would be based on "project performance" and "How well the city managed its wastewater treatment."

Currently the city delivers it's weekly loads of sludge from both plants to the Tyler County sanitary landfill.

The only good news that came from the Water Commission according to City Manager Walt Davis was that "No fines" were leavied.

City Manager Walt Davis told the council in other pressing city sewer matters that "He needed help from outside contractors to complete the sewer line to the proposed Force subdivision on Hwy 69 South. "We don't have the time and we don't have the people," Davis said.

Council said that until a need was demonstrated and that proper plats were filed and approved "they "Would wait till they had a demand." City attorney Joe Wheat said "That until we have an indication of need there is nothing we can do." Davis had suggested earlier in the meeting that the city issue $100,000 in time warrants and contract the project to an outside

GRAND JURY REPORT

INVESTIGATION

During our investigation of the alleged allocation of criminal Activities by County Officials no indictments were handed down and we see no [illegible] for further investigation by the Grand Jury or the Attorney General's Office, but we do recommend the consideration of the following suggestions.

1. That [illegible] contracts entered into by the County be reviewed and approved by a competent contract attorney prior to execution. All Commissioners, Judge, District and County Attorney be required to give signature of approval on all contracts and that they be dated.

2. That all commissioners be required to attend Annual Schooling to assist them in Job responsibilities and County Law, and this should be paid for at County Expense.

3. That County Purchasing Act be strictly adhered to and that a copy of this act be furnished to each elected County Official. That each bill presented for approval by the Commissioner's Court be present and be reviewed in detail prior to approval rather than approving bills by mere "line-item" approval.

4. That no time warrants be issued except as specifically authorized by Statue.

5. That co-ordinated central purchasing be utilized wherever possible, in order to save the taxpayer's money and in order to avoid allegations of kick-backs or other favored treatment by favored suppliers. The present practice of allowing Commissioner and Department Heads to purchase certain supplies and materials from whomever they choose is inefficient and susceptible of abuse. The anticipated needs of the various departments should be aggregated and bids solicited and awarded on a best-bid basis. If this chore proves to be too burdensome for our elected officials, they should consider employing a Purchasing Agent to handle the details.

6. That all County Officials act together harmoniously for the good of the County in a professional behavior.

7. Our Commissioners should keep in mind that no equipment "belongs" to a particular Precinct - - it is all property that is purchased by and belongs to the taxpayers of Tyler County. Every effort should be made to avoid needless duplication of equipment. It makes no good business sense for each of the four precincts to own a back-hoe if each of the four back-hoes is used only one-fourth of the time - - one back-hoe would do. Every effort should be made by the Commissioners to cooperate with each other in sharing equipment in order to prevent needless duplication - - If this is not possible, then serious consideration should be given to changing from the Commissioners system of road and bridge maintenance to a Road and Bridge Superintendent or County Engineer system.

8. That the County is not in the business of renting or leasing out equipment.

9. That the District Attorney's Office keep records and receipts on it's Ho[illegible] Check Fund in order to account for all proceeds should questions about same arise, but not in a manner that would devulge sources or names of informants.

10. That the District Attorney's Office devote more of it's time to investigation and prosecution and less time to "hands-on" criminal apprehension.

11. That the County employ the services of Ex-Judge Sturrock with the Commissioners and the District Attorney to attempt to renegotiate the contract with the Architectural firm on construction of the jail to the benefit of both parties.

June Dairy Month has been celebrated since 1937 when it was launched with the theme, "Keep Young – Drink Milk." Every year this month-long salute to the dairy industry is observed in homes and restaurants, in supermarkets and stores and wherever dairy foods are sold. It has become the accepted time of the year to extend a special "thanks" to the dairy families of America who produce the milk we drink and consume in dairy products.

At a time when Americans are more concerned than ever about health and fitness, dairy foods are especially important to consumers. They fit well with today's busy lifestyles because they're convenient, nutritious and a good buy, when the cost of other food items is considered.

Whether you're slow to diet or don't need to worry, cottage cheese and vegetables with a delicious dressing may just be your idea of good eating. A snowy mound of cottage cheese spiked with herbs and marinated vegetables are tasty foods. Assembled on a platter they make a pretty dish to set before anyone whose appetite has been jaded by hot, humid weather and heavy foods.

This lovely vegetable platter goes together in a few, short steps. Just open a carton of cottage cheese and add some herbs. Cook the vegetables just until tender-crisp, so their garden fresh color won't be left behind. Their own natural flavors will come through best, too, and be enriched by the marinade, a tangy blend of tomato juice, vinegar, lemon juice, green onion and seasonings.

Serve with crisp triangles of pita bread, buttered and toasted. Add a tall glass of milk and you can credit yourself for turning out a cooling, well-balanced meal for a hot, summer day.

AFTER ITS KIND

Don't plant watermelon seed in your garden and expect to grow cantaloupe. It will always grow watermelon. The same thing is true concerning the word of God; that God's seed produces God's plant and nothing else. The simple principle by which God establishes the reproduction of every seed after its own kind is the basis of all scientific investigation and experimentation. Without it, there would be no science. Without it, there would be no agriculture. Without it, there would be no medicine. Without it, there would be no industry. Without it, there would be no progress. Without it, there would be no civilization. Without it, there would be no life. Without it, there would be no world. Without it, there would be no universe. Without it, there would be no God. Without it, there would be no Christ. Without it, there would be no Christianity. Without it, there would be no church. Without it, there would be no Bible. Without it, there would be no salvation. Without it, there would be no heaven. Without it, there would be no hell. Without it, there would be no eternity. Without it, there would be no time. Without it, there would be no space. Without it, there would be no matter. Without it, there would be no energy. Without it, there would be no light. Without it, there would be no darkness. Without it, there would be no good. Without it, there would be no evil. Without it, there would be no right. Without it, there would be no wrong. Without it, there would be no truth. Without it, there would be no falsehood. Without it, there would be no love. Without it, there would be no hate. Without it, there would be no peace. Without it, there would be no war. Without it, there would be no joy. Without it, there would be no sorrow. Without it, there would be no happiness. Without it, there would be no misery. Without it, there would be no pleasure. Without it, there would be no pain. Without it, there would be no life. Without it, there would be no death. Without it, there would be no resurrection. Without it, there would be no judgment. Without it, there would be no heaven. Without it, there would be no hell. Without it, there would be no eternity. Without it, there would be no time. Without it, there would be no space. Without it, there would be no matter. Without it, there would be no energy. Without it, there would be no light. Without it, there would be no darkness. Without it, there would be no good. Without it, there would be no evil. Without it, there would be no right. Without it, there would be no wrong. Without it, there would be no truth. Without it, there would be no falsehood. Without it, there would be no love. Without it, there would be no hate. Without it, there would be no peace. Without it, there would be no war. Without it, there would be no joy. Without it, there would be no sorrow. Without it, there would be no happiness. Without it, there would be no misery. Without it, there would be no pleasure. Without it, there would be no pain.

will not happen because it cannot happen. denominationalism will produce a denominational Christ. Christ makes the same plain in Mt. 7:15-23, when he applies the same principle that God established in Gen. concerning every seed reproducing after its own kind. Note the power of God's word to produce by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

Christ deals with the workers of "iniquity," or lawlessness, as the word is literally translated. The fruits of denominational doctrines appear "righteous" on authority and they are rejected as not being of the same seed as Christ. (Jn. 15:1-8). Consequently, God's seed planted with man's seed, man's creed, denomination, church, etc., cannot produce a Christian. Christ says, "Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up." (Mt. 15:13). Christ's seed planted in the heart of man will produce a Christian. Christ says, "The seed is the word of God." (Lk. 8:11). Christ's seed planted in the heart of man will produce a Christian. Christ says, "The seed is the word of God." (Lk. 8:11). Bethel Baptist Adds New Staff

Bethel Baptist Church in Warren has two new staff members, Jeff Pelley, both are teenagers.

Jeff is a Senior at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene. He is the Summer Youth and Music Director. Rev. Don Richey, Sr., a Southern Baptist Minister for more than 45 years, is the Interim Pastor.

Cary is the son of Bill and Lela Tolar of Nederland and the Grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. Monroe Tolar and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Duff. Both sets of grandparents are long time residents of Warren.

Cary, extremely talented musically, has been attending and performing in singing events since early childhood when he would go with his paternal grandparents to area singing events. He plays the guitar proficiently, sings with a deep, deep bass voice, and even writes songs for special occasions.

In Abilene, he served as Music Director for the College Career Sunday School Class at Elmwood Baptist Church and he is a member of the TSU Chorale. At Hardin Simmons, he serves as a Resident Dorm Assistant. Although his majors are Biology and English, Cary is leaning toward full time Christian Service.

In addition to his summer job at the Church, Cary is taking two full credit-courses at Lamar University in Beaumont.

Cary has already made some exciting plans for the Bethel Youth this summer. Among them are trips to the beach, to Astroworld and to Dallas for the Youth Evangelism Conference scheduled for June 26 and 27.

In addition to the extravaganza trips, there will be the Friday Night Youth Outings and Studies.

Cary is also looking forward to time and the Youth Co-Ed Camp at the East Texas Baptist Encampment near Newton.

But that's not all Cary will be doing this summer. He will also be directing the music for the Church on Wednesday nights and both services on Sunday. He will be working with the Choir in preparing several special musical renditions for presentation on Sunday morning. The Youth Choir will be singing special numbers on Sunday night.

Rev. Don Richey, Sr. has retired from the ministry twice and twice has "un-retired" because of special needs that call for some of the special talents he possesses.

After graduating from Baylor University and Southwestern Theological Seminary and getting a Doctorate from Luther Rice Theological Seminary in Florida, and after pastoring a church for 17 years in Waco and one for 16 years in Corpus Christi, Bro. Richey re tired for the first time, almost 12 years ago. But a man with his strong leadership ability was needed to re-build a church in Port Arthur. So he sold his retirement home and took up the leadership reins at Procter Baptist Church and he guided the membership through eleven years of growth and then he retired again; but this retirement was even shorter than his first one. Two weeks after his retirement from Procter Baptist Church, he preached his first sermon as Interim Pastor at Bethel! And what a message it was!

In welcoming these two to the staff, E. Werner, Chairman of Deacons, said, "The members of Bethel are extremely fortunate to have two such dedicated men to lead and guide them through the summer." And he urged all members to be faithful in attendance because "truly, the Lord led the two men to us."

Alan Miller's T-WHEELER

Susie couldn't wait to get on our case the other night.

Wondered what we thought about the state legislature.

Said about all we had read about what went on in Austin was that our state representative Billy Clemons had lost his job.

Susie wondered if that had anything to do with the Speaker of the House or Governor being mad at him.

We said we didn't think so. From what we had read, Billy got caught up in one of those whiz bangs corporate folks like to call restructuring.

Seems the Southern Pacific had come to Billy with one of those Godfather propositions. He could either move to Houston or resign. Billy fooled'em. He resigned. Said he thought he could do more for his home folks in the legislature than he could as an employee of the railroad working out of Houston. That he liked his job in Austin, and living in the Pineywoods.

Susie said she always had a hard time understanding that. How could anybody like a job that paid $600 a month? And on any given day, half the people you worked for were mad at you. And the other half were always out to lunch when you needed campaign money.

We just said Billy was like a lot of people. Trying to do a job the best way he knew how. Knowing that folks wanted a bunch more things done for them than they were willing to pay for.

Susie wondered why they hadn't accomplished much in the session just ended. We allowed as how the Speaker had said hundreds of bills were passed. The only one they didn't put to a vote was the one that authorized any money to run the state for the next two years.

They stayed on the right side of sin: Said there weren't going to be any lotteries in the state to pick up the slack. Shouldn't have tried that anyhow. The two bills were numbered seven and eleven. Any crap shooter would have known they didn't stand a chance.

Sin taxes aren't raising much anymore. Susie said that was sure true at our house. Since everybody had quit smoking, her lungs had cleared up. She could finally taste her dog foof again.

We said that was enough lip out of her.

Susie wondered if we knew what would happen in the special session.

We said we sure didn't know. All the temporary taxes ex-Governor White got passed had been legislated permanent. And we should have known that. That the best we could figure out, more items and services would end up under sales tax. Fees would probably go up.

Susie said maybe all the legislators should pray for $40 a barrel oil.

Told her not to make funny jokes. That if we didn't see $40 oil sometime in the next five years, the Arabs were missing a real bet.

Mentioned that we had listened to a magazine publisher fella a few days ago who said that $40 oil and 1991 would arrive at approximately the same time. And if we thought the oil crunch of the 70's was hard on folks, this one was really going to smart.

We said there didn't seem to be much chance that we could head off that problem. That the folks who stick pins in maps back there in the Pentagon and the folks who write White Papers in the State Department can't seem to get together to even talk about the problem.

That the only action we had seen to date was a few Senators spending a weekend in the Middle East and coming back home instant experts. Thay was almost as dangerous as the professional bureaucrats sitting on their hands.

Susie said it was sure getting tough to find any good news in the papers these days.

We said not really. Any headline that mentions the Los Angeles Lakers is fun reading. Any headline that mentions Tammy, Jim, Oliver North, Gary Hart or Afghanistan will make you throw up.

Don't watch any network news on television. Whell of Fortune is all right.

Getting to be the only safe thing we can do anymore is sit on the porch swing and watch the grass grow.

Or you might give Billy Clemons a call. Like we said. Railroadin' ain't what it used to be either.

In other business the Council heard a request from Southwestern Bell Community Relation Representative Ken Wood, for Woodville, asking the council to "bring reform in equity in taxing" which he said would allow the city to tax for long distance services here and which would provide a small amount of revenue to the city. Ken Wood told the council that the bill is needed because of the recent divestiture. The council agree all voting for the resolution and agreed to write a new ordinacnce favoring HB 1949.

Wood also reported that Southwestern Bell will install by October or November "tel-tone" equipment in our current offices which will provide touch tone service to the Woodville exchange. Woods said the company was removing a digital switch out of a Port Arthur office and putting it in the Woodville office.

In other business the council decided after lengthy discussion, to table a resolution on whether to support a group of cities in South east Texas which are challenging, through "Consultants," anticipated Gulf States Utilities rate increases. Council decided at the request of City Attorney Wheat to consider if they were just buying consulting services or if they were buying legal services.

"I'd rather pay a Lawyer $50,000 for legal services than pay a consultant. There are consultants and there are consultants," Wheat said. "They can't tell you anything we don't already know and besides it seems like an awfully high cost. The council withdrew the motion initiated by Doug Tolbert "for further study."

Spirit Of Aloha Continues In Warren

The "Spirit of Aloha" which began for the Warren High School Band last summer in Hawaii continued in a special way at their Band Banquet held May 21, 1987. Honored guests at the Banquet were Errol Michimoto and Keith Lancette, two men who worked at Gateway House where the Band stayed during their teip to Oahu, Hawaii, last summer. These two men became special friends of the Band during that time, and their surprise appearance at the Banquet made it truly a night to remember. Errol, who was born handicapped and is confined to a wheelchair was greeted with lots of hugs and kisses and tears of joy.

It was Errol's first visit to Texas, and the Warren folks did their best to make it a memorable one. The day after the Banquet, he and Keith were treated to one of Billy Burk's famous rib eye steaks at Little Ace Grocery. After lunch, they spent the afternoon at the High School Band Hall remembering Hawaii and learning about Warren. A dinner at the Boondocks was provided Friday evening, complete with feeding the alligators before the catfish and shrimp dinner. On Saturday, there was a Bar-B-Que and swim party at Wildwood, then Mexican food and fried ice cream for supper. Sunday brought a trip along the coast through Galveston and a baseball game at the Astrodome. Many things were a "first" for Errol and his comment about Texas was that everything is "BIG!"

Errol and Keith both had many good things to say about the Warren High School Band. They were still talking about the exemplary behavior of the students last summer, and Keith said that our school is now used as the model of how they would hope all visiting groups would behave. Both men made donations toward the Warren High School Band Trip to Disneyworld and the Caribbean during the summer of 1988.

Errol said about Texas hospitality, "You treated us like kings and we don't know why...we never did anything special for you." But if you asked a Warren Band student, they would tell you, "To us you are royalty because you shared with us the "Spirit of Aloha" not only while we were in Hawaii but, by caring enough about us to come to Texas just to say "We love you."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Ladies of Tyler County:

As the new President of our Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary, one of my first privileges is to invite you to come join us Auxilians at our local hospital. The only requirement you need to meet to join is to have a willing smile and a few extra hours a month to give to help someone else.

Up until this year we have only been able to serve the hospital in the roll of a "Pink Lady". (For those who have never met a "Pink Lady," we are the ones who go around to the patient's rooms and offer them juice or coffee, one of us in the morning and another in the afternoon). We are called Pink Ladies because of the pink jackets we wear while on duty.

Now, after several meetings with our new adminstrator, Mr. Molsbee, we have been able to compile a list of many areas where we could be helpful. We now have many more areas of serviceability than we have servers.

So, my plea is open to each and every woman who may be able to find a few hours each month to share with those who need us. We are also in need of willing workers to help with the various fund raisers we have planned for this comming year.

Stop in and see or call Pat Collier (283-7606) at the hospital, anytime Monday through Friday between 8:00 and 5:00. She will have an application for you and would be happy to answer any questions as to the various areas available to you. Or feel free to call me at 283-5531. I am most anxious to meet you and make you a member of our happy group.

Most Sincerely,
Jane MacEllven

DEAR EDITOR:

I wanted to let your readers know June 3, 1987 marked the 4th anniversary of the AARP/Tyler County Senior Citizens Picnic. It was held at the Tyler County Rodeo Arena at the Fair Grounds.

Heading the leadership of the AARP organization, Don Calhoon our chapter President, proved his worth in this endeavor. Chair Person Ann Bowen was the Coordinator and driving force that made the whole thing come together and be carried out in a truly professional manner.

In attendance, were in ecess of 300 people, including a very good representation from the Holiday Pines Manor and Woodville Convolescent Center and the Jasper Convolescent Center.

Four area AARP chapers were represented from Woodville Jasper, Onalaska and Corrigan.

Nearly everyone brought food. To the extend of a 50 foot x 3 foot table, being filled to overflowing with almost every kind of dish imaginable.

Entertainment was furnished by the C. C. Haygood Country Music Band from Warren. It was very well received and appreciated.

Many thanks to the following merchants that furnished prizes for the drawings after the picnic.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

National, State and local attention has lately been focused on various public officials for alleged derellction of duty and/or violations of public trust.

On Friday, 22, May, 1987, I filed for record 12 instruments with the County Clerk, Tyler County. In less than one week, including Labor Day holiday weekend, I received the instrument, duly recorded from the Clerk.

Donece Gregory and her staff are commended for the courteous, prompt, and efficient attention to duty. They are a credity to Tyler County and exemplify the highest standrards we expect of our public servants.

Yours truly,
Nathan M. Barrier III

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to inform your readers in Tyler County about a new service our hospital has incorporated. It's called "sick bay" and is for children who are ill. It's hard as a working parent to always be able to be home with sick children. My child was sick all nite long one day last week. I had heard of this service, but knew nothing about it. I called the Tyler County Hospital at 6:00 in the morning, and was able to go to work on time. It was wonderful! She had qualified, wonderfuly caring people with her. As a matter of fact, she was spoilled rotton when I picked her up. All for a nominal charge. I hope the people of Tyler County will consider this when needed. I think we are fortunate to have this service.

Thanks again to Tyler County Hospital.

Sincerely,
Katrina Davis

A TEXAS WELCOME-was given to Errol Michimoto by Warren Band Students. Errol and Keith Lancette were special surprise guests at the Warren Band Banquet.

SANTA COMES EARLY-Santa Claus, in the form of Southwestern Bell Telephone, came early for the White Tall Ridge Volunteer Fire Department. The department needed office furniture but couldn't afford to purchase what they required. The telephone company happened to have surplus furniture they were willing to donate to the fire department. Billy Rose, a customer services supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone, said the company looks for opportunities to help worthwhile community activities because the telephone company cares about the communities in which it operates. Members of the fire department were on hand to accept delivery of the furniture from Rose. From left are Guy Lafoy, Rose and Walter Johnson. Lafoy and Johnson are fire department members.

Fred Group Meets

The Fred Extension Homemakers Club met June 4th at the Lions club. The TEHA Club is open to all who wish to Join regarless of race, creed or color. Our club is small and we would welcome any new members. Club meets 1st Thursday of the month.

The members enjoyed a informative program on "Pre-arranged Funeral" by Pat Riley of Woodville. He would highly recommend this progrm to other clubs.

The Club elected Jessie Yawn as delegate and Hester Gibson as alternate to the State TEHA meeting in Fort Work in Sept.

Seven members of TEHA, in May 18-20, recently enjoyed a cultural & Historical trip to Eureka Springs. The Ladies raised their own money for this trip, three yard sales, flea markets & crafts. The ladies are in the process of planning and working toward a trip for next year!

Program To Serve Widowed Developing

Efforts are underway in Woodville to develop a program to serve the newly widowed.

The American Association of Retired Persons has formed a steering committee, chaired by Bill Whigham, to begin formulation of Widowed Person Service. The first meeting is to be Thursday, June 17, 1987 at 10 a.m. in the Community Room of the Citizens State Bank.

We have had many inquires about establishing such a program.

The program will be designed to bring a volunteer into contact with widowed men and women soon after the loss of the spouse and continue work with them on a one to one basis.

GSU Gulf States Utilities

Who says GSU has been making good management decisions? You might be surprised.

Factories, farms, offices, schools, hospitals and homes...there are over a million and a half people who know they can count on GSU. No matter what time of year, no matter what hour of the night, the men and women of GSU have made sure that when you need it, electricity is there.

The high level of service provided by GSU has long been recognized by people within its own service area. What you might find interesting is that outside observers – consulting firms, governmental agencies, professional advisors, to name a few, after studying various aspects of the management picture at GSU, have been making a series of very positive reports as well.

Pickard, Lowe and Garrick, Incorporated

In 1985 and 1986 a nationally-known engineering and management consulting firm conducted an independent analysis of the River Bend project for GSU.

The 255 page report, prepared by Pickard, Lowe and Garrick, Inc. of Washington, D.C. and Newport Beach, California, contained several notable observations:

• "We have found that River Bend is one of the more successful nuclear plant projects undertaken by the domestic electric power industry in the last two decades. When compared with contemporary plants, the River Bend construction schedule was 21 months shorter than the next shortest project schedule. This success may be attributed directly to the actions of Gulf States Utilities Company in controlling Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation and their efforts to establish and effectively use highly organized and structured management controls to achieve optimal project schedule and quality."

• "The fact that the River Bend project has been successful is especially impressive when one considers the environment in which the project was planned and constructed."

• "Since the inception of the project, GSU management has adhered to a philosophy of active participation in the management and control of all facets of the project. The project was prudently managed from the onset."

Knapp Ford Gets 'Quality Care' Plaudit

Tom Knapp of Knapp Ford Sales In Woodville has received the Ford Motor Company 1986 Quality Care Dealer Award which recognizes excellence in customer satisfaction. This award is presented each year to the top 15 percent of Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers with the highest customer satisfaction ratings.

The award is based on responses to surveys sent to dealership customers rating their satisfaction with the dealership...in both sales and service. In speaking of the award, Harold A. "Red" Poling, President of Ford Motor Company, has said, "Keeping the customer satisfied is the reason we're in business. As for as I'm concerned, there is no higher achievement."

The Quality Care Dealer Award is particularly significant in that judging of the winners is made by the dealerships' customers themselves. Included on the surveys are questions concerning treatment in the sales department, courtesy, the quality of work performed in the service department, and overall satisfaction with the dealership.

Knapp has been a Ford Dealer for eight years and previously worked for Ford Motor Company for eleven years in Houston, Texas. Knapp Ford Sales succeeded Jack Lane Ford in 1979 which served Tyler County for over sixteen years. The dealership is located in Woodville at the intersection of Highways 69 and 287.

Ford also recognized [illegible] David Davis, Sales Manager of Knapp Ford Sales and Joe Rhodes, the dealership's service manager, for their treatment of customers. Davis was honored with the 1986 Sales Manager Quality Care Award and Rhodes won the 1986 [illegible] Quality Care Award. These awards are presented to the top 15 percent of sales and service managers at Ford or Lincoln-Mercury dealerships. As with the Quality Care Dealer Award, the deal[illegible] selected the 1986 Quality Care Sales Manager and Service Manager winners by their responses to survey questions rating customer satisfaction in the areas of sales and service.

This award recognizes the dealership's Motto "Where Service Makes The Difference." Knapp concluded.

Marriage Tips Given For SSI Benefits

June is the traditional month for marriage. This may be an appropriate time to discuss how marriage may affect a person's rights and responsibilities under the Social Security program, stated David Bennett, Manager of the Lufkin Social Security Office.

The first reminder is to change your name with Social Security in order that we may keep your records current. Failure to do so could cause a mix-up in the earnings credited on your Social Security record.

In recent years, a number of private firms have offered to perform this service for a fee. However, changing your name with Social Security is both free and simple. All it takes is a contact with the nearest Social Security office. You will need evidence of both your old and new name.

Many people don't stop to think about how marriage will affect their Social Security protection. If they did, they would be less likely to forget to change their names with Social Security when they get married.

Marriage means that a person's work under Social Security may be more important. The program pays benefits to the dependent spouse and children when either worker retires, or if he or she becomes disabled, or dies. Although women are more likely to receive dependent spouse benefits, they are also payable to men.

The benefits include payments to mothers or fathers under 65 with children under 16 or children disabled before 22 in their care; widowers, or divorced surviving spouse at age 60, and to disabled widows, widowers, and divorced surviving spouse between age 50-59. Children 18 and under or disabled before age 22 may receive benefits after the retirement, death or disability of either parent. A dependent parent age 62 or over may also qualify for benefits on a deceased son's or daughter's earnings if certain support requirements are met.

Bennett further states that under a recent change in the law, retirement benefits may be paid to a divorced spouse at age 62 whether or not the former spouse has retired, if the divorce has been in effect for at least 2 years following a marriage or at least 10 years.

People who are already receiving benefits as the dependent of a retired, deceased or disabled worker should note that marriage or remarriage may cause his or her benefits to be reduced or stopped. However, this is not true for widows and widowers or divorced surviving spouses age 60 or older, or disabled between age 50 and 59. They may marry or remarry without affecting their right to benefits.

For further information call the Lufkin Social Security Office at 639-8600.

INSTALLMENT BUYING

Many of us buy on installment because we're short of cash. This could be the most expensive money one ever borrows.

Let's suppose that one of your insurance policies has an annual premium of $100. You are given the option of paying $100 at the inception of the policy or of adding 6% to the total premium and paying in two installments. [illegible]
