Woodville Schools receive funds for achievements

A total of nearly $12,000 will be dispursed between two Woodville campuses soon for high performance in the area of "sustained gains" in performance levels on the TAAS exam during the year 1993-94.

"Sustained gains by the Woodville Intermediate students have qualified that campus to receive the money, said school official Mary Nell Rainey. Intermediate won $5,961, Rainey also said that Woodville Wheat Elementary will be receiving a total of $6,004, "Which can be attributed to both campuses in quality teaching in the individual classroom and campus improvement plans, and," she added," students who show continuous improvement."

Woodville Intermediate School was also a high performance school during the years 1992-93 and earned a whopping $38,000 out of a state pool of $20 million which was dispursed in order to recognize school districts that are advancing and sustaining their gains.

According to Rainey, "The Wheat Elementary School (also known as a feeder school) provides the foundation skills for the students as they move to Woodvillee Intermediate."

Dangerous Spurger intersection to get flashing beacons soon

Persistance on the part of County Commissioner Precinct 4 Henry Earl Sawyer paid off this week as an announcement was made that red and yellow flashing beacons will be installed at the intersection of FM 92 and FM 1013.

According to David Bernsen, Texas Transportation Commissioner, of Beaumont, "Work to install overhead intersectional beacons in Warren and Spurger will begin soon.

Bernsen said the Department of Transportation will position a beacon also at the intersection of U. S. 69 and FM 1943 in WArren. "Work on that project shpould begin in about a week." The department says d the beacon will flash ornage fascing U.S. 69 and will flasg red facing FM 1943.

The Spurger beacon placement will begin on Nov. 4 and will flash yellow on FM 92 and red on FM 1013.

Both intersections have histories of fatal auto and truck accidents, prompting Sawyer to petition the Transportation for assistance in obtaining the beacons.

Cost for installing both beacons will be approximately $25,000, Bernsen said.

Winner to be announced

Be sure to check next week's Tyler County Booster for the announcement of the winner in the current Booster subscription contest.

The winner will receive a stay at the Houston Greenspoint Marriott Hotel.

Dallas Cowboy's talk show host Ray Stone is banquet speaker

Famed talk show host and spokesman for the Dallas Cowboys, Ray Stone, will be the featured speaker for the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce sponsored "Shop at Home" banquet set for Tuesday, Nov. 1, at the Woodville Inn, beginning at 7 p.m.

Stone has produced the "Dallas Cowboys Football Report" which is a syndicated daily talk/interview show airing in five states on 186 radio stations. He also produces the nationally syndicated "Inside the NFL" hosted by Roger Staubach which aires coast to coast on 740 radio stations.

According to Chamber executives the popular media personality is being invited to speak at the same time an official Dallas Cowboys football will be offered for donations and a drawing. The ball is signed by the entire Dallas Cowboys team.

According to Gene Koci, tickets for the drawing are offered at $2 each or 3 for $5.

Cost of the banquet is $10 in advance and/or $12 at the door.

7th Annual Heritage Festival 'a success' despite rain

"This seventh Annual Heritage Festival proves the toughness and pioneer spirit of the people of Tyler County", said U.S. Representative Charles Wilson, (D), of Lufkin, Saturday at special dedication ceremonies of the Village Videtta, a two-story-typical turn-of-the-century newspaper office. Wilson was referring to the heavy rains that did not deter locals from putting on, "An important historical event that a few rain drops couldn't stop."

Angelina and Neches River Authority teams with university to address environment issues

The Angelina and Neches River Authority announced today it has entered into an agreement with the East Texas Regional Laboratory, located in the Chemistry Department at Stephen F. Austin State University, to cooperatively address environmental issues for the East Texas area.

The two laboratories will collaborate on testing services, common research projects, student training internships, and foster graduate education in environmental chemistry.

Dr. Roger S. Case will manage the inter-laboratory interaction, teach several upper level courses, direct the research efforts of some students, and serve as manager of the Water Quality Laboratory at ANRA.

Dr. Case received his doctorate from the University of Texas and has over 33 years experience in teaching and research for industry. He is completing an Environmental Protection Agency toxicology study on the Rio Grande River through the University of Texas at El Paso.

Gary Neighbors, general managers at ANRA, said ANRA's role in the agreement will be to serve the public and industry on water related matters. "This agreement will provide improved water testing, education and research for the region and assist the public and industries in addressing their environmental issues," he said.

Dr. Wayne Boring, chairman of the Chemistry Department at SFASU, said the interagency collaboration will provide SFA students with on-the-job training in environmental chemistry as they analyze samples provided by ANRA. "This experience will allow them to enter the work force with little or no additional training," he said.

"With the concerted effort of two state agencies working on environmental issues, the taxpayers of Texas will pay less for solutions to their environmental problems. For this reason the Department of Chemistry at SFASU is aggressively seeking collaborations with other government agencies and industries in the East Texas area," said Dr. Boring.

Dr. Tom Atchison, Dean of Science and Mathematics at Stephen F. Austin, hopes that the agreement will grow to become a regional institution to provide water quality for the East Texas area. "As an educational institution, the training of students in the use of equipment used by agencies like the river authority is very important," he said.

The agreement will allow the added strengths of the two state agencies to improve research efforts in obtaining funding from government agencies, private foundations and industries.

Fees for services will be assessed and an established schedule will soon be available to private and government agencies.

Drug Alcohol Awareness Red Ribbon Week Oct. 22-31

Woodville Police Chief Scott Yosko wants to remind the Woodville community to be sure and turn out to support the Red Ribbon Drug Awareness Week Parade scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 25, beginning at 8 a.m. when "Anyone who wants to join in with a parade entry can do so, to help raise awareness of this important issue."

The Parade will begin at the Police Department where entrants can fix up their vehicles, Yosko said. The Parade will then go through the schools campuses, then on to the downtown area, then to Wal-Mart for coffee and doughnuts.

The police chief said over 800 red ribbons are available to be picked up at the Police Department by persons interested in helping.

Yosko said he wants to gets parents tolking to their kids.

"Ages 12-20 is the time when kids come into the greatest contact with drugs and alcohol. The most common killer of kids is drugs and alcohol. The number two killer is suicide," Yosko said, and drugs and alcohol, are usually found in that environment.

Yosko said he encourages all parents to sit down and talk with their children about the problem.

At the Village

By Dottie Johnson

After the ball is over, festival memories linger on

It's not over 'til it's over.

How few of us remember that. Especially on a soggy Sunday afternoon, when it's obvious no more festival goers are going to arrive, and it seems expedient to pack up and head for home and forget the whole thing 'til next year.

Oh, we clean up our space as best we can, leaving as little as possible to the Village staff. Marjorie Schultz said her Monday morning reconnaissance proved what she had always found true. Folk life festival people are accustomed to leaving a clean slate behind. They want to come back next year.

"We shall return," they all say. "We love this place. We wouldn't miss it for the world." You'd be surprised how many of our demonstrators have become members of the Heritage Society.

But, the fact remains, there are aftermaths that we seldom think about, such as what happens to the vans that shuttled folks back and forth from the fairgrounds to the Village all day Saturday and Sunday. Our drivers, all professionals, had to be in Lufkin for their regular runs Monday morning. And so, it was Marjorie and Ofelm and Paula, our Village staffers, who struck out at 6 o'clock Monday morning, each driving a van to Lufkin, followed by Village volunteer Gloria Newsome who brought them home again.

And you know what a volunteer is. It's a person who is on standby for any or all duties from sweeping out Village buildings, as we found Gloria doing last Thursday and Friday, squiring Charlie Wilson around on Saturday, being everywhere and anywhere from gate to hospitality on Sunday to driving the getaway car on Monday.

As always, there were lots of interesting little stories involving our folk life festival people who are an extremely flexible lot. A little rain never stays them from their appointed reason for coming. They just move in or over or whatever seems right.

Music to stitch by

A case in point was one of our proposed staging areas, just inside the new Festival gate next to the Pickett House. This gate brought our visitors into the Village on the upper level, past the old Cottage Rose, where Erlene Melancon was doing her beautiful folk art, and on to the Pole Barn, which covered a fabulous gathering of needlecrafts, spinning and weaving and Nelda Wagner's natural dyeing process.

This area was a festival within itself, more than you would expect to find in a festival as varied as ours.

Just to the north of the Pole Barn was to be the first of our many entertainment stages, where Preston Woodrome and his Christian Heirs planned to offer a program of gospel music. Big rain. No cover. So our needlecrafters moved over and made room in the barn. Soon Jim Knecht, who sings in the St. Paul's choir, left his llamas and joined in. And when Charlie Schultz, our master blacksmith, saw they were missing a base, he sat in for a while. It was that kind of a day, that kind of a weekend.

Asleep in the Collier Store

Something happened on the way to our Texas Army Encampment, which has been a mainstay of our festival for a number of years. First of all, the group that makes up this reenactment group had to split up to cover two occasions. Meanwhile, Jim and Debbie Mann, who usually come to the Village and Al and Rosa Meyer of Sugarland, were transferred to Harlingen, and the other two couples of their group were helping them build a new house. That left only Al to participate, and being alone he brought only a pup tent in addition to some of the tools of the re-enactment trade.

Now, Al doesn't mind camping out. In fact, he prefers it. But, after one night in a pup tent in the rain and trying to do his demonstrations in the rain all day, it was growing a bit much, until he had an idea.

Sure. Go ahead, Marjorie assured him, and Saturday night Al camped out in the Collier Store. It was real cozy, he reported, and dry. On Sunday, he moved his candle dipping etc., and bullet making into one of our log cabin cribs on the hill, built a camp fire, and was in business. Our visitors loved it.

The history of popcorn

I don't know that I ever thought about the history of popcorn. But, then, I didn't know Chuck and Linda Barnett of Marshall before this weekend.

The Barnetts make kettle corn, popping it in a big 150 year old hand hammered copper kettle, using a secret recipe that came from France.

As Linda tells the story, French explorers in the New World were intrigued with the corn grown by the Indians. While the kernels were quite large, the cobs were small, and the Indians popped the corn right on the cob.

Back home, the French started to experiment, developing a recipe for a product that became quite popular across southern France in the late 1700's. Those who had the recipe would go from farm to farm, carrying their kettle. At each stop they would butcher a hog, then use a portion of the renderings, in which the recipe was dissolved, to pop the corn they brought with them or that which the farmer had learned to grow himself.

The Barnetts discovered this process when visiting the descendants of some of these Frenchmen, now living in Missouri. These latter day poppers had developed a machine in which first wood and now propane was used to heat the pot, which swung in a heavy iron housing.

Because of their intense interest in all things historical, the Barnetts pressed the French descendents to share that secret recipe, a mixture of sugar products, which they dissolve in soy bean oil heated to 1,100 degrees. The popping process itself only takes about two minutes, during which time the corn is stirred with a paddle. No butter or salt is used, and the finished product is cholesterol free. Properly stored, their popcorn will stay fresh up to a year.

Both retired, the Barnetts split their time between restoring an old house in Marshall and taking their copper kettles to events of historical interest such as our Harvest Festival.

Happily ever after

And then, right in the midst of it all on Sunday morning, there was a wedding in the Cherokee Church followed by a reception in the Hamm House.

Both the bride and the groom are members of the Hole-In-The-Wall-Gang from Houston, a group who teaches safety as they perform their colorful shoot-em-ups in the streets of the Village. Organized to help raise funds for kids and their special needs, the Gang performs only at events they deem to be of educational value. And they have fallen in love with Heritage Village and the programs we present.

And so, we will soon be able to count Dan Douglas Dulin, retired from the Harris County Sheriff's Office, and his new bride, Nancy Martin Dulin, an accountant, as new members of the Tyler County Heritage Society and regulars on our Festival rolls.

Dedication in the rain

There was such a neighborly feeling as we found a seat next to the Lloyd Shells of Beaumont, who moved over to make room on the bench in front of the Physician's Office. We were among the many who gathered on the covered boardwalk along the west side of the Village's Main Street to witness the official dedication of the Village Vidette Newspaper Office across the way.

Someone had told me that tourists aren't interested in something like that, that advertising the fact would be a turn-off. Our Saturday morning visitors proved him wrong, but then, our Festival doesn't attract tourists per se. It attracts people interested in historical presentations of real value.

And so we gathered in a scene right off the big screen, only it was real. The setting was real. The people were real. And they were interested in what was about to happen.

Fred Sullivan did the honors as master of ceremonies, introducing Christine Sanders, who called for the unveiling of a plaque bearing the names of those whose generosity seven years ago made the Heritage Society's purchase of the Village possible; print historian Cy Stapleton, who mounted an interesting exhibit of old newspapers inside the Vidette building; Congressman Charles Wilson, who saluted the 20th Anniversary of the Big Thicket and Ma Thicket, whose early writings helped stir it into being; and Village Director Marjorie Schultz, a "without whom" none of this would take place. Presented on the second floor balcony of the Vidette, it was a gala introduction to another chapter in the progress of our Village and to a festival, whose light was not diminished by the rain.

And the show goes on

And while our demonstrators have departed for the time, our food vendors and dancers and musicians and story tellers, the Village lives on and so does the display in our Exhibit Hall, which pays lasting tribute to the Big Thicket National Preserve and to the life and times of Ma Thicket, Ethel Osborn Hill.

Which brings about one last but hardly least memory, and that was of the visit of Linda Cliett of Houston and Carol LaBure of Port Arthur, two of the four granddaughters of Ethel Osborn Hill, without whom our exhibit could not have taken place. We thank them for their contributions, their loans, their memories and most of all, for being there.

It was really the first time the cousins had had the opportunity to get together since the days when they "went to camp" at Grandma Hill's Dogwood Den hideaway in Tyler County, where they learned that everything is something.

Dear Editor:

Gubernatorial Candidate Bush proposes that Texas adopt a no-fault automobile insurance plan. It is important that your readers understand several things about such a plan.

"No-fault" can also be interpreted as "no responsibility". The person at fault in an accident would no longer be responsible for paying the damages of the injured victim. The injured person's own insurance company would pay certain limited medical expenses and loss of wages, but the person responsible for the accident would escape scot-free.

As parents, we try to teach our children responsibility for their actions, as that is recognized as a basic tenet of our society. This no-fault insurance plan being proposed by Candidate Bush and strongly supported by the insurance industry, who would directly benefit from such a plan, is exactly the opposite of "responsibility for one's actions". It takes the fault and responsibility out of driving accidents.

Yours truly,
Ray Hensarling

Football winner

Dear Editor:

How are you doing? I would like to thank you for the Tyler County Booster. We really enjoy reading it and guessing the football teams and scores.

I, Travis Crookes, would like to say thank you for my winning check.

Thank you so much,
Ms. Stittem and Travis Crookes

Was it for numbers?

Dear Editor:

After reading the letters of Oct. 12 about the Power Team, I felt to write this. I know not of the article talked about.

Mainly, the point is, was the show for the glory of God, or to exalt man? Was it for the money received, or to reach souls? Was it for numbers?

Many of the Bible verses quoted were pulled out of context. Also, Arles, I went through my Bible concordance. I can find the verses on salvation, but where are the ones for re-dedication and other decisions for Christ?

It's like these people on TV in this so-called new Christian movement. The main theme is money. People are still falling for the lines: Like: 'Need something from the Lord, then give to receive'. Or 'give to us and it will be returned 2-4-6 fold'. 'Give your tithe to your church but send us your offering'.

This is not Bible. You're not to give to receive. You don't have to support such a group to get healing, or whatever your needs be. I think one of the biggest scams was the 'book' one. On a telethon, give a dollar a day and they send you a $5 book. To me this adds up to $365. If you think money is not their main theme, explain how they can connect Gal. 6:7-8 to money.

So, people, get into the Word, take no man's word. The Word clearly states this.

I notice many quotes were from someone else. I wonder did you all check them out with the Word, or just write them?

In closing, many are getting into this new movement, mainly because they are following man. And man says they can have the world and Jesus, and this is what they want. Not caring that the Word says "Come out and be separated."

David Hartgle
Jasper, TX

P.S. I would like a copy of the article mentioned. Yes, Cassandra, we must reach the youth, but with truth and something different from the worldly system.

Possibilities

Dear Editor:

With the vacating of the Brookshire's store, I think this would be a good time to investigate the possibility of the city and/or the county utilizing this building for a multitude of activities, such as: something for the young people to do (this should be a high priority), Dogwood activities (including the preparation for flower making), various Civic organization meetings. The list of possibilities is endless.

I sincerely hope someone in authority will check into this. Our young people desperately need a place to go with good, wholesome activities and entertainment.

Sincerely,
Ann Fondren

'95 Seniors say 'Thanks!'

Dear Editor:

The Woodville High School Student Council and the Senior Class of '95 would like to thank the community for participating and helping with this year's Homecoming activities.

We would like to thank the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department, the Woodville Police Department, Grady Holderman, Scott Yosko and all of the local businesses and individuals who contributed to Homecoming Week with their donations, assistance and support. Their help was much appreciated.

The parade was canceled due to rain and will be rescheduled in November.

Thanks again.

Sincerely,
Karen Collier
Student Council Secretary

Points of Light

By Darby Kethan

The tears in the eyes of the woman sitting near me mirrored the tears in my own. Tears of joy? beauty? loss? nostalgia? Certainly they were a spontaneous emotional response to a beautiful ceremony. We . . . the participants and the audience . . . were by no means a thousand points of light yet the impact of seeing so many candles glowing like stars in the dark football stadium was magical.

Like my neighbor, I thought of the young adults, high school students, who were choosing a candlelight ceremony to celebrate homecoming. Soon-to-be-graduates, they will be moving on to college, marriage, jobs and the challenges and changes, the joys and jobs, the problems and possibilities that lie ahead. They had coped very well with this change. A response generated because bonfires, once a traditional activity for homecoming, are no longer safe for students, the candlelight ceremony is an example of youthful resilience in action. With adult support, these students had generated an alternate way of making their homecoming theme and the students had prepared a beautiful ceremony.

As the candles were lighted, first one, then a few, then quickly spreading, as each one sparked another, each person saw how true it is that many small points of light can illuminate even the greatest darkness. Each lighted candle represented only one but together provided a glowing reminder of what working together can achieve. How rapidly the candles glowed as each person with a light shared with several others.

So can it be with our time and talents, each sharing with others so that all can be greater than any individual part. One person with knowledge can share that with others; one person with a talent sharing that may enable others to develop similar skills; supporting young people in their activities by our presence and participation encourages them and lets them know how valuable they are to us.

We have no way of seeing into the future but we can predict, from the problems we face today, that these young people will have many difficulties and problems to solve as they become the adults who will be taking over where we must leave off. With the participation of those of us who came to watch and the guidance of those in the school, these students saw a shining example of what working together can mean, an enriching of all our lives through sharing our own "light" with others. The lesson to be learned was wonderfully taught in an imaginative and moving way.

Homemaker Hints

As America's population ages, eye health is a special concern because millions are affected by this problem.

In 1990, about 1.4 million people underwent cataract surgery, resulting in a health care bill of $3.2 billion. Now, growing evidence shows that maintaining good nutritional status can reduce the incidence of cataract formation.

Many people already know that vitamin A is critical to healthy night vision. If we don't get enough vitamin A, we are susceptible to night blindness. The major symptom of night blindness is the inability of the eyes to adjust to dim light. All of us have experienced this to some extent since it takes a little time for our eyes to adjust when we go from bright light to a dimly lit area. This may have happened to us when we were driving on a bright sunny day, and then entered a dark tunnel. Or, we may have gone into a movie theater that was dimly lit, and had trouble finding seats.

When a person isn't getting enough vitamin A, it takes a much longer time for their eyes to adjust to this change in light intensity. If a person has been getting enough vitamin A, eyes will adjust within a minute or so.

Recent research indicates that other nutrients are also important in maintaining healthy eyesight. High levels of vitamin C are found in eye tissue. A number of researchers are investigating the function of this nutrient. The major theory is that vitamin C protects the eye against light-induced oxidative damage.

Another nutrient which may protect the eye from oxidative damage is vitamin E. The minerals, zinc and selenium, also appear to be involved in eye health, although the role they play is not well understood.

What can people do as they age to reduce their risk of getting cataracts? At this point in time, the best advice is to eat a variety of nourishing foods including bread, rice, and cereals, fruits and vegetables, low-fat or non-fat milk and milk products, and servings of meat, poultry, fish, eggs and beans.

If you have old copies of THE TYLER COUNTY BOOSTER from 1945 to 1960 we would like to invite you to participate in a microfilming project to preserve these historic records. Call 409-283-2516 for more information.

PROfessions

By David Rust

If "The Booster" keeps printing this column and you keep reading it, you are going to hear about my garden. Like a lot of folks who never had to do it for a living, I get passionate about growing stuff to eat. We got here too late for a fall garden this year, but come next March, look out. After fighting the gumbo they call soil in Houston, it is going to be pure pleasure working this sandy hill.

Some of our neighbors are still watching things grow. Jesse Brenizer has a front yard full of watermelon vine. It's an accidental, but has a couple of half-grown melons that just could make it all the way. I wouldn't know what to do with a watermelon in November, but wouldn't it be fun?

I learned my watermelon eating in the country. We used to spend summers on my grandparents' ranch in northwest Louisiana. Papa always had a big melon patch, enough for us and lots left over to sell. One of my first chores was to go out early with the old wooden wheelbarrow and pick five or six melons to get us through the day. You had to pick them early, before sun got on them, so they would stay cool through the day. Refrigeration? That was years in the future for most farmers. I'd stash the melons under the porch steps, where they'd be in shade. Then in the heat of the afternoon we'd gather round the porch, our tongues figuratively hanging out a foot. Somebody would bring the big kitchen knife. Out would come the melons. None of this foolishness about slicing 'em 24 ways. One melon for four people was about right, or even for two if they weren't that big.

The first cut must always be lengthwise. If the melon is properly fresh and ripe, a crack will run ahead of the knife, and you'll hear a popping. And oh! That first indescribable mouthful! What city folks don't know about watermelons is that they are mainly for thirst, not hunger. To my mind, using them for desserts or relishes is misappropriation of God's good gifts. But every melon eater to his own last.

How to tell they are ripe? I learned it at the age of eight. If I told you, it wouldn't be my secret any more. Maybe I'll show you next year, if I can raise any melons. And don't ever think I'm not going to try. I tried in western Wyoming. I tried in Connecticut. I even tried in Houston. But now at last I'm in natural watermelon country. Next Fourth of July, drop around and see how the Lord and I made out.

It's about time for you to get acquainted with the rest of our family. Pride and Joy are fine young cats. They have lived with us for nearly all their 14 months. We don't always do it like they want, but most of the time we get along well. After a month in the country they are getting settled in, though you should have seen them the first time they spotted Jesse Brenizer's Brahma bull across the fence. You could almost hear Pride calling Joy: "Come look, you won't believe that squirrel!"

Shalom . . .

Woman's Study Club marks 70th anniversary

The Louise Anthony Youth Center of Woodville United Methodist Church was the setting Tuesday afternoon October 11, for a celebration of TFWC Woman's Study Club of Woodville's 70th Anniversary of its founding and federation.

Organized in 1924 by Mrs. J.E. Wheat, Mrs. D.P. Rock, Mrs. J.B. Lewis, Mrs. J.H. Evans, Mrs. B.F. Hughes, Mrs. E.W. Tubb, Mrs. T.C. Rock, Mrs. J.G. Burlow, and Mrs. S.P. Sims, the club became a member of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs that same year, and met weekly. The 1924-1925 yearbook indicates that the club's first course of study was Modern Drama.

Although the present Woman's Study Club meets only once a month and no longer has a course of study for a year, the club continues to pursue programs of higher education, personal improvement, and social progress. Following guidelines set by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Washington, D.C., the local club's programs emphasize conservation, education, the arts, international affairs, Texas heritage, public affairs and home life.

Woman's Study Club of Woodville is in the Magnolia District of the Texas Federation.

Attending Tuesday's celebration were Magnolia District president Beautah Grimmet of Cleveland, first vice-president Neomia Abbott of Beaumont, second vice-president of TFWC Mary Beth Guy of Kirbyville, GFWC's Outreach for Children committee member Zelma Jinnette of Kirbyville, and Magnolia District's Chaplain Jo Helen Stringer, also of Kirbyville.

President Aline Swift of the local club recognized four long-time members, two of whom came into the club in the 1930's: Quaidie Sullivan and Doug Kenesson. In 1946, Julie Archer became a member, and holds the record for the longest continuous membership in Woman's Study Club. Blanche Risinger joined the club in 1951. Also recognized was vice-president Carol Phillips, who has the distinction of being a fourth generation member.

With background music from the 1930's and 1940's, guests enjoyed refreshments prepared by Mary Frances Hickman, Rosemary Bunch, Dixie Jarrott, Norma Peterson and Lorraine Yearwood. A table of memorabilia held yearbooks, photographs, news stories, scrapbooks and awards covering seven decades. Of particular interest were several stories from The Booster dated in the 1950's and 1960's. Bookmarks were given to departing guests as mementos of the anniversary celebration.

Spurger elementary receives award

SPURGER — A letter officially confirming that Spurger Elementary has again qualified and will be receiving a Texas Successful Schools (TSSAS) Award has been recently received by Spurger ISD officials.

This award recognizes Spurger Elementary in the Significant Gains in Academic Achievement area.

Of 6,152 campuses eligible for consideration statewide, only 391 campuses met the standards under the 1993-94 TSSAS and accountability systems for the Significant Gain Award.

Spurger ISD is proud of this recognition and congratulates the students, teachers, board and community for their efforts toward academic improvement.

Shop at home kick-off banquet set Nov. 1

It's a boy!

Brad and Becca (George) Uhr of Dallas have announced the arrival of their son, David Kenneth, who was born at 3 a.m. Friday, Sept. 30, 1994.

The child weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces and was 20 3/4 inches long.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Berry Uhr and Mrs. Kenneth George, all of Dallas.

Debborah Coleman and Clifton Thomas

To be wed

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Thomas of Warren have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their son, Clifton Lee, to Deborrah Coleman of Port Arthur. The couple are scheduled to be married on November 12, 1994 during ceremonies at Harvest Time Church in Port Arthur. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Leatha Coleman and the late Albert Coleman of Port Arthur. She attended Thomas Jefferson High School and earned her associate degree in applied science at Lamar University. The prospective groom attended Warren High School and earned his associate degree in applied science at Lamar University. Both are employed at Methodist Hospital in Houston.

Howell, Baily represent hospital at district TAHA meeting

The Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary was represented at the TAHA district meeting on Sept. 15 by Mrs. Marie Howell and Mrs. Marjorie Bailey.

Thirteen cities were represented, and 137 members attended the meeting which was hosted by the Jasper Memorial Auxiliary. Members reported on their year's projects and activities. Speakers were Ernie Domesech and Jeanine Sweet. Lunch was served, and a style show followed.

The regular business meeting of the Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary was held Sept. 11 with president, Mrs. Mildred Sundin, presiding. The auxiliary donated $949.40 to the hospital for the purchase of a chart system.

Steven Shane Watts, pharmacist at the hospital, was the guest speaker.

FBC Warren plans revival

A Fall Revival at First Baptist Church, Warren, will begin on Sunday, Oct. 23, and continue through Wednesday, Oct. 26, with both morning and evening services scheduled.

Bro. Russell Fite, pastor of First Baptist Church of Lumberton will be the evangelist. A graduate of Houston Baptist University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Forth, Fite served churches in Lufkin, Baytown and Crosby before coming to Lumberton.

Prior to his conversion and call to the ministry he was in the plumbing profession. He and his wife have two daughters.

Leading the revival music will be Bro. Skipper Schexsnayder, Minister of Music at First Baptist Church of Newton. Schexsnayder is a graduate of East Texas Baptist University in Marshall, has served in the music ministry in Buffalo, Tx, and has been in Newton for the past six years. He is a member of the Newton Volunteer Fire Department and the Emergency Medical Department.

Morning services will begin at 11 a.m., Sunday through Wednesday, with the evening services beginning at 7 p.m. A covered dish lunch will be served each day.

A cordial invitation is extended to all area residents. A nursery is provided for small children through age three.

Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies team up with American Lung Association for National Flu Campaign

During a 12-month period, this illness resulted in 249.6 million bed days, with an estimated cost to our nation of $11.5 billion - and contributed to nearly 80,000 deaths. No, this is not a newly discovered illness. It's influenza, or flu, and it can be prevented in most cases with a low cost shot.

That's why The Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies like the one in Woodville, run by Rodney DeRouen, R. Ph., around the country are offering a flu education event, co-sponsored by the American Lung Association.

Beginning Oct. 17, free flu education materials will be available at participating Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies, including an explanation of the importance of getting a flu shot, the difference between the cold and flu, and flu treatment suggestions. Also, flu shots will be administered by health care professionals in nearly 600 Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies, for an average cost of $8 to $10. A portion of the proceeds from each shot will go to benefit the American Lung Association.

"This national program with Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies is part of the ALA's annual flu campaign," explains John R. Garrison, Managing Directors of the American Lung Association.

"Since most Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies are located in neighborhood strip centers, this event will offer a convenient and affordable way for people to get a flu shot, and/or flu information, at the right time - before the peak influenza season begins."

The American Lung Association specifically recommends flu shots for people 65 years or older and people with chronic health conditions such as lung disease, heart disease or diabetes, who are considered at high risk for the flu. However, many physicians today recommend a flu shot for anyone who wants to avoid the illness.

"We see this flu event as an appropriate new addition to our health care screening and wellness program," says Nancy Schwartz, Director of Marketing for Medicine Shoppe International, Inc. "Our pharmacist-owners joined The Medicine Shoppe system so they could specialize in health care products and services to help their customers maintain their health. And flu shots and flu education are another way they can do this."

A yearly influenza vaccine is about 75 percent effective in preventing the flu and reducing the severity of the illness. However, the American Lung Association estimates that only 40 percent of older adults receive an influenza shot every year.

For additional information about influenza and pneumonia, call the American Lung Association at 1-800-LUNG-USA.

NOTE: Medicare recipients can receive a free flu shot at the majority of Medicine Shoppe flu events. (Recipient must show Medicare part B card.).

Breast cancer checkups available

Women 50 or older may be eligible for free breast cancer checkups at the clinic located at 109 West Livcoak in Woodville.

October is National Breast Health Awareness Month, and women age 50 or older who cannot afford preventive health care can get a physical, including a breast cancer checkup and Pap test, at no cost.

These services are available through the Texas Department of Health. Over 3,000 women have been served since the Texas Department of Health began offering free check-ups in 1991.

Physical exams are free for women who meet age and income limits. To receive services at no cost, a woman must be age 50 or older and meet income limits. For example, a single woman can make up to $14,646 a year and receive services at no cost; a woman in a family of two can make up to $19,582 a year and receive free services.

As women get older, their chance of developing breast cancer increases. However, if breast cancer is found early (before you feel sick), a woman has the best chance for successful treatment.

As part of her regular check-up, every woman age 50 or older should have a mammogram and a breast check-up by a qualified health professional every year. A mammogram is an x-ray of the breast that can find lumps too small to feel by hand.

Unfortunately, many women either don't know that aging puts them at risk, don't get breast cancer check-ups because they don't feel sick, or can't afford preventive health care services.

Families of women age 50 or older can play a major role in finding breast cancer before it spreads. Families should encourage a breast check-up for mothers, grandmothers and aunts. Some women are more likely to get a check-up if it is suggested by a family member.

The free breast cancer check-ups are offered by the Texas Department of Health and are available throughout the year, not just October.

School playground donation

$500 DONATION — In continuing their commitment to improve the environment, the Woodville Wal-Mart store has presented a $500 check to Wheat Elementary school for playground equipment. Shown accepting the check from store manager James P. Hanson, (L.), is Wheat Elementary Principal Sherry Kenner. "The associates of the Woodville Wal-Mart are proud to present this check on behalf of Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as a demonstration of our commitment to the land, air and water in our community," said Hanson. "We believe environmental education is an important issue. By continuing to learn more about our environment, we can make it a safer, healthier and overall better place to live."

NOTICE OF APPEALS AND INQUIRIES CONCERNING REDUCTION OF RATES

In March 1994 approximately thirty-one cities (Cities) in Gulf States Utilities Company's (Gulf States) service area adopted ordinances initiating inquiries under the Public Utility Regulatory Act (PURA) to determine whether Gulf States' rates are fair and reasonable for customers residing within the Cities. The ordinances scheduled hearings in August 1994 at which the Cities planned to make determinations on the [illegible]

In March 1994 the Office of Public Utility Counsel (OPC) also filed an inquiry with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) under Section 42 of PURA to determine the reasonableness of Gulf States' rates. OPC's inquiry, which was assigned Docket No. 12852, was initiated to ensure that any rate reduction the Cities might make in their inquiries could also be made applicable to the remainder of Gulf States' customers.

Following hearings held as scheduled in August 1994, twelve cities to date have passed ordinances reducing Gulf States' rates in Texas by $45.9 million on an annual Texas System Basis. Other cities are expected to pass similar ordinances. Gulf States has filed appeals with the twelve ordinances asking the Commission to review the Cities' ordinances and determine that the Cities should not have reduced Gulf States' rates. These appeals were assigned Docket No. 13450.

The Commission has now consolidated Gulf States' appeals in Docket No. 13450 with OPC's Section 42 inquiry in Docket No. 12852 and has scheduled a hearing in the case. The issues in this hearing will include whether Gulf States' existing rates are reasonable or whether a rate reduction of $45.9 million, as contained in the Cities' ordinances, or of some different amount, should be ordered. In this proceeding Gulf States does not seek to change its base rates but only to have the current base rates, as last approved by the Commission, remain in effect. Gulf States has agreed that the final rates found just and reasonable will relate back for service rendered on and after March 31, 1994. Any overcollection of rates finally determined by the Commission will be subject to refund with interest. The hearing in the consolidated case, which will proceed as Docket No. 12852 will begin on Monday, November 21 at 8:30 a.m. at the Commission's offices.

The deadline for intervening in the case is Monday, November 7, 1994. Persons who wish to intervene in this proceeding or comment upon actions sought in it should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757, or call the Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 (telecommunications device for the deaf).

Obituaries

William "Bill" Walker Nesbitt

TRINITY — Memorial services for William "Bill" Walker Nesbitt, 70, editor of The Trinity Standard newspaper, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14, 1994, from the Calvary Baptist Church in Trinity with the Rev. Dan Alexander officiating.

Mr. Nesbitt died Oct. 11 at Woodland Heights Medical Center in Lufkin as a result of congestive heart failure.

Born Feb. 6, 1924 in Trinity, he first joined The Trinity Standard as editor on Jan. 18, 1989, a position he held until August 1991 when he resigned to accept a teaching position at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi. He returned as editor of the Trinity newspaper in February 1993 and remained in the post until his death last week.

The Trinity Standard is part of the Polk County Publishing Co. group, which also includes The Lake Livingston Progress, The Polk County Enterprise, The San Jacinto News-Times and The Tyler County Booster.

Mr. Nesbitt attended public school in Trinity, playing baritone in the school band. After graduating from Trinity High School in 1941, Nesbitt joined the U.S. Navy for a four-year stint and spent most of World War II as a weather observer on Catin Island, Alaska.

He was awarded a bachelor of science degree in journalism from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville in 1948.

Following his college graduation, Nesbitt began his career with the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. He subsequently served as a sports reporter, city reporter, copy editor, news editor and Sunday editor for daily newspapers in Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Louisville, Ky. Nesbitt also worked for the U.S. Information Agency in Washington, D.C., where he wrote for the Voice of America Radio Network.

In the early 1960's, Nesbitt decided to return to school and work toward a master's degree. In 1965, he graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a master of science degree in journalism. He then accepted a job teaching at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi, where he remained for 21 years. During his tenure at Del Mar, Nesbitt taught courses in basic reporting, editing and advertising. His duties also included editing the campus newspaper, The Fog Horn, and the campus magazine, The Voyager.

Nesbitt retired from teaching in 1986 but continued his association with Del Mar for another year and a half by working in the college's public information office. When a staff emergency arose at the college shortly before the beginning of the Fall 1991 semester, Nesbitt returned to Del Mar's journalism department where he taught for one semester.

He also was a member and elder of the Trinity First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Rita Albrecht Simpson Nesbitt of Trinity; two sons and daughters-in-law, Stephen and Janice Nesbitt of Clear Lake, and David and Nancy Nesbitt of Corpus Christi; a step-daughter, Candace Oatman of Corpus Christi; two stepsons, Mark Oatman of Los Angeles, Calif., and Aubrey Simpson of Sheldon Springs, Vt.; a brother and sister-in-law, Jack Kirkland and Ann Nesbitt of Trinity; four grandchildren; one great-grandchild; and a number of nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in Mr. Nesbitt's name to the Trinity First Presbyterian Church's Improvement Fund; the Blanche K. Werner Library in Trinity; the Dorcas Wills Memorial Baptist Church Building Fund; the Head Start Program; or a favorite charity.

Waller-Thornton Funeral Home of Trinity directed the arrangements.

Willie Mae Braziel

Services for Willie Mae Braziel, 80, of Town Bluff, were held at 10 a.m. Friday, Oct. 14, 1994 from the Stringer & Griffin Funeral Home Chapel in Woodville with Brother C.A. Bevil officiating.

Burial followed at Brookside Cemetery in Houston.

Mrs. Braziel died Oct. 11 at her residence.

A native of Merryville, LA and coming from Houston, she had lived at Town Bluff for the past 12 years.

Survivors include two sons, Arland Atkinson of Porter and Garland Atkinson of Hooks; five sisters, Ruth Simmons of Silsbee, Essie Procell of Winnie, Bernice Davis of Lumberton, Louise Hollier of Town Bluff and Sybil Lindsey of Port Neches; five grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services were under the direction of Stringer & Griffin Funeral Home of Woodville.

Thank you

Thank you, members of Faith Lutheran Church, residents of Woodville and surrounding areas. God called my father James Dodrill to His side October 4th. I came from California to be with him. I met several folks who knew and loved my father. I thank you all for your support and love during this time. My father was a lucky man to live in such a wonderful community with such loving people. It gives me strength to know this, and I will remember it always.

Eagles again soar to victory

By Cathy Allen
Sports Writer

BUNA -- The Woodville Eagles proved they are serious contenders for the playoffs last Friday night in this District game against the Buna Cougars as they dominated throughout the night, soaring to a 36 to 12 victory.

Play-action saw the Eagles coming together like never before, according to Woodville Head Coach Craig McGallion.

"We've got quality kids stepping up and taking leadership roles. The boys are really pulling together. These kids are demonstrating that they are learning alot more on the field than football... throughout life, when things get tough, people need to pull together, and individuals need to rise up. That's what these boys are doing. It really makes a coach feel good to see this happening on his team."

Next week the Eagles will face SFA at home. The Warren Warriors were blown out against this team last Friday night, by a whalloping 54-7. The SFA team is rated in the top ten in the state. They have lost two games so far this year, with seven turnovers contributing to one, while the other was a loss to Liberty early in the year.

"This is really the 'Big Game' of the year," remarked McGallion. "They have some outstanding defensive linemen, and some really quality ball players on their team, but so do we. If we can come on the field with the same intensity level that we did last week, we'll do well."

The Eagles intensity showed on both sides of play last Friday night. Juan Mitchell had an outstanding night of play offensively, with play-action seeing him soar five feet over a defender head in the second quarter to snag a touchdown pass from Aubrey Jackson, the second of Mitchell's three touchdowns during the game.

Larry Thomas needed to complete only two passes to finish the night with 104 passing yards. Frank Sylestine was credited with 11 tackles, a sack, and a fumble recovery early in the first quarter that put momentum in favor of the Eagles, setting up their first scoring drive.

Charlie McCullough had nine tackles in the game, and is really showing improvement, according to McGallion. Michael Kethan threw some great blocks and was credited for a sack, while Edmond Lewis and James Ivy also had outstanding nights blocking on both sides of play.

Justin Sturrock with nine tackles, Craig Lewis, and Kevin Adams were also at the Cougars all night, making them sweat for every yard they gained, while Dale Tinsley and Jason Tolbert were effective in putting the pressure on Joey Marse, the Cougar Quarterback.

Scoring action began with Sylestine recovering a Cougar fumble at the 50 yard mark early on in the first quarter. On first down Darth Battise and Michael Kethan opened a hole on a counter dive play, allowing Aubrey Jackson to scramble for 43 yards, bringing play in to the Cougars seven yard line.

On second down from there, Jackson again found an opening, this time due to key blockers Gerrod Betts and Ivy, breaking through for the first Eagle touchdown. Showing their dominance early on, the Eagles scored two more on a fake kick, with Sturrock (who's usually the holder for the Eagles) passing to Betts in the end zone, successfully converting for the extra points.

The Cougars ate 10 minutes off the game clock on their next possession, trudging out 90 yards in 15 plays. Heath Garace finally finished it off with a hard-earned touchdown. The Eagles succeeded in breaking up the conversion attempt.

The Woodville team didn't waste any time responding. They fielded the kick-off on their twenty, and on second down, a play-action pass from Thomas to Mitchell went 65 yards. Mitchell snagged the pass, then scrambled for 15 more, to bring in another Eagle score, with 11:47 left in the first half. Tolbert kicked for the extra point, bringing the score to 15-6, Eagles.

The Eagles and the Cougars then exchanged punts, with the Eagles fielding the Cougars second punt at their 41.

Thomas, Jackson and Adams rushed for the Eagles, bringing play to the Cougars 25. Thomas then put one up to Mitchell who jumped five feet in the air, over a Cougar defender to make the reception, then scrambled for the remaining three yards, to bring in another Eagle touchdown just before the half, Tolbert's kick for the extra point was good.

The Eagles began the third quarter with the same intensity they played with in the first half. Fielding the kick-off on his own 25 yard line, Mitchell scrambled for another thirty yards, setting the Eagles on the Cougars 45.

Jackson picked up six yards on first down, and Adams picked up a first down with six more on the second. On the third play of the second half the Eagles again scored, with Brandon Prevost and Kendrick Beaty throwing the blocks that set the stage for Jackson to scamper for 35 yards and another Eagle touchdown. The kick by Tolbert was again good, bringing the score to 29-6, Eagles.

The Cougars were shut down after their first three plays in the third quarter, and had no option but to put the ball back in the hands of the 'Fighting Eagles'.

The Eagles fielded the punt on the 29. On first down, Thomas pitched over to Jackson on the right, who scrambled and put a sweet pass up in the air to the 25, where Mitchell was on the mark to make the reception, and scramble for yet another Eagle touchdown. Prevost, Lewis and Trevor Odom were the key blockers for the Eagles on this beautifully executed scoring play.

Tolbert's kick went right between the uprights as it had all night, adding one more point to the Eagles tally.

The Eagles fumbled at their own ten in the fourth quarter, and Michael Brawley helped 'save face' a bit for the Cougars, bringing in the final score of the game with 8:22 left on the clock, a Cougar touchdown from the five.

Woodville J.V. flies over Buna 21-14

By Josh Perlitz

WOODVILLE -- The Woodville Junior Varsity Eagles, coming off a shutout by the Kountze Lions, won their fifth game this season against Buna last Thursday by a score of 21-14.

In the first quarter, Woodville's own Armond Gregory ran in a touch down after a 25-yard rush. Later in the quarter, Woodville's Tremayne Odom, Chris 'Rudy' Worthen, and Adam Walker took turns sacking Buna's quarterback, BJ Spell.

Midway through the second quarter, Buna's Rusty Fry recovered a fumble on Woodville's 35 yard line, setting up a Buna touchdown by John Hernandez. After a successful two-point conversion by T.J. Burnett, Buna had the lead by one.

John Mark Lane received five passes in the first half from relief quarterback, Lucas Babin who was also took some heat, being sacked by Buna team player Tyson Dennard.

After a strong drive by Buna, Aaron Burt received a 12 yard pass, bringing in a Buna touchdown.

Late in the second quarter, Woodville's Chris Worthen caught a 37 yard pass over three of Buna's defenders, setting the stage for Lucas Babin to score on a 13 yard touchdown run. Everett Broussard kicked his second extra point of the game.

The Eagle's first kick-off opening the second half on the 47 yard line. Babin then handed-off to Robert Adams who scrambled 23 yards, bringing play in to Buna's 30 yard line. Buna answered this run on the next play, when Jason Denmon intercepted a pass on their own 11 yard line.

Howard Nix of Woodville blocked a punt on Buna's 13 yard line, and ran it in for a touchdown. Chris Avery kicked the extra point successfully, and Woodville had regained the lead, 21-14.

Defensive stand-outs for Woodville were Everett Broussard who was able to recover a fumble, and Ryan Weaver who snagged an interception.

The J.V. Woodville team, with a record of 5-1, will play Stephen F. Austin on Thursday.

Colmesneil Bulldogs defeat Chester Yellowjackets, 21-12

By Cathy Allen
Sports Writer

COLMESNEIL - The Hatfield's and McCoy's 'ain't got nothing' on Friday night football action in Tyler County, Texas. The Colmesneil Bulldog's won the feud against the neighboring Chester Yellowjackets Friday night in a game where the fight was closer than the final score of 21-12 reflects.

"It's always a good game when these two teams come together, but this game was a little too close!", remarked Colmesneil's Head Coach Mike Jacobs, immediately following the game last Friday night.

The score stayed within a two-point spread through most of the night until the middle of the fourth quarter, when Greg Bean ran 65 yards for a Bulldog touchdown, clinching the win for the Colmesneil home team.

The 6-0-1 Colmesneil team will travel to High Island Friday night where the High Island Cardinals scraped out a 24-20 victory over the Chester team two weeks ago.

The Chester Yellow Jackets will again be looking for the big plays that have been evading their team and holding them to a 1-6 record despite their competitiveness as they meet Evadale next week for their home-coming show.

The Chester team has stayed in every match they've fought this season, losing most of their games by only a slim margin. They are hoping to turn that around next week, before their home-coming fans in Chester, according to Chester's Head Coach Steve Park.

The rivalry between the Bulldog's and the Yellow Jackets showed early last week, according to both teams coaches, as the boys were showing up early for practices, and working out hard in preparation for the feud that would be fought last Friday night. The action on the field reflected their efforts, as both teams executed well and played a great game.

Jack Jacobs, Marcus Allen, and Ronnie Douglas played exceptionally well for the Bulldog's offense, opening up the field for Greg Bean and Lee Van Brewer to combine for 534 rushing yards during the game.

Serious play-action began with the Jackets shutting down the Bulldog's on their first possession in the first quarter, taking control of the ball after the Bulldog's attempt to 'go for it' failed on fourth and eight.

On first down, the Jackets almost lost it right back to the Bulldog's when a hand-off was miffed, but the Chester team recovered. On second down the Jackets play was foiled by Allen Adams, who shut them down for no gain. But on third down, DeSarrah Wyatt forced his way through the defensive line up to the 47, picking up a crucial first down for the Jackets.

Kevin Harris and Cody Widner shut down the next play, allowing no gain. Dimpsey Paire was up next for the Jackets, carrying the ball through defenders out to the 30, picking up another Jacket first down. Kevin Sheffield and Lee Van Brewer made the stop.

Jewell on a sneak was only able to pick up one on first down. He then took to the air with a pass to Wyatt. Wyatt was brought down by JR Pittman, after picking up another Jacket first down, and moving play in to the Bulldog's 15.

Dimpsey Paire was looking for a hole in the backfield on the next play, when Cody Widner hit him before he could make the turn. No gain. A penalty followed on second down, pushing the Jackets back to the 21.

Wyatt carried the ball again on second down, but Marcus Allen and Greg Bean stopped him before he could get going, for a loss of four more.

Looking at third and twenty, and needing to convert, the Chester quarterback Bob Jewell kept the ball on an option play, and scrambled in to the nine, before JR Pittman brought him down.

It was now fourth and five. A pair of penalties followed, but countered each other and nothing changed. The Jackets were still looking at fourth and five from the nine.

After yet another penalty on this fourth down, (without which the Bulldog's would have succeeded in stopping the Jackets on the six), Jewell dropped back to pass, then scrambled in to the end zone from the sideline for this hard fought for first touchdown of the night.

The Jackets went for two with Wyatt carrying the ball, but Bo Bendy and Cody Widner combined to stop him before he could pick up the extra points. The Jackets were now leading 6-0.

Wyatt, Billy Sturrock, Jehan Jefferson, Jacob Conner and Jeremiah Barnes for the Jackets managed to shut down the Bulldog's retaliation effort. The Bulldog's had made it into mid-field but failed to convert on fourth down, giving the Jackets possession.

The Jackets then moved the ball in to the Bulldog's one yard line, where they were stopped on fourth down. JR Pittman, Marcus Allen, Greg Bean and Kevin Harris, were the key defensive players during this series.

The Bulldog's took over on their own one, and on third down, after a few short gains, Bean carried the ball out to the 25 before he was stopped by Steven and Bob Jewell.

Jeff Allen then pitched off to Van Brewer as he was being brought down in the backfield, Van Brewer then passed to Bean for a gain of nine yards. Jake And and Billy Sturrock made the hit on Bean, holding him from picking up another first down, but not for long.

On second down and one to go, Marcus Allen threw a block that opened up a hole for Van Brewer who scrambled to the Jackets 23 yard line before he was taken down.

A hand-off to Bean followed for no gain. Then on second down Bean was left wide open to bring in the first score for the Bulldog's on a 23 yard run, with 4:37 left in the first half. Van Brewer kicked to pick up the extra point for the Bulldog's, giving them a one point lead over the Jackets.

The Jackets opted to punt when they were faced with a fourth and one from their own 45 on their following possession. A tough defensive effort from Joey Brown, Herman Allen, Ronnie Douglas, Kevin Sheffield, and of course, Widner and Bendy held the Jackets back on this possession and their next one, which came after the Bulldog's fumbled in mid-field.

The second half opened alive with action. Wyatt fielded the opening kick-off at the twenty and made it out to the 32 before Brown, Sheffield, and John Von Esson were able to pull him down.

Jewell handed-off to Dimpsey Paire on first down, but Cody Widner hit him in the backfield for a loss of two. Jewell went to Wyatt next, but he was only able to take it back to the original line of scrimmage before he was stopped by the Bulldog's offensive line.

Third and ten, Jewell went back to pass then scrambled up field for a tough gain of two. Looking at fourth and eight, the Jackets again opted to punt.

Van Brewer let the punt roll until the Jewell brothers were all over the ball, recovering the punt for the Jackets. Apparently the ball had come into contact with Van Brewer, as the officials confirmed that the Jackets had regained, or maintained possession at the Bulldog's forty yard line.

Jewell picked up two yards on the next play, before he was stopped by Dobbins, Bendy and Widner for the Bulldog's.

Paire picked up a first down on the next play, carrying the ball in to the 29, Wyatt then took the ball on first down, carrying five defenders on his back for yet another Jacket first down.

Jewell picked up four yards on a sneak on first down, then Jacobs, Sheffield, and Bean stopped Matt Standley for a loss, bringing up third and ten.

Jewell put one in the air and connected with Steven Jewell who was wide open in the end zone, for another Jacket score, giving the Chester team the lead for the second time in the game. The conversion attempt went to Paire who tried to scramble for two, but Herman Allen and Widner stopped him cold.

The Jackets with Ard, Jefferson, Conner, Toby Toler and Wyatt being the key defensive leaders, again managed to stop the Bulldog's retaliation effort.

The Jackets were fixing to punt again after the Bulldog's had shut them down on their next possession, but Paire mishandled the ball, dropped it and recovered it on the run, scrambling to pick up another first down for the Jackets, reviving the drive.

This effort turned out to be in vain, as a clipping penalty recalled the play, forcing the Jackets to punt again.

The punt took a Jacket roll to the 22. On first down, Bean scrambled to the left and picked up nine yards, bringing up second and one.

Allen handed off to Lee Van Brewer. Ronnie Douglas threw a beautiful block that opened up a hole for Van Brewer to turn up field. He was going strong when a Jacket defender started closing in on him. Ray Dobbins saw it and took him out, leaving the field wide open for Van Brewer to go all the way, putting six more points up for the Bulldog's who regained the lead with 1:39 left in the third quarter. Van Brewer's kick for the extra point was good, bringing the score to 14-12, Bulldog's.

The feud between these two teams remained intense, through the remainder of the game. Play went back and forth with both teams being forced to punt on each of their next possessions.

Zeb Barnes and Paul Johnson played with intensity during this fourth quarter of play for the Jackets along with Standley and Jeremiah Barnes, while Bo Bendy, Jack Jacobs, Greg Bean and Luke Wilkinson were working hard for the Colmesneil defense.

After the official time-out in the fourth quarter, the Bulldog's began their final scoring drive. Van Brewer picked up four yards on first down, before Wyatt stopped him at the 35 yard line. On second and six, the play went to Bean, who was going, going, gone!

On a sixty-five yard touchdown run, the Bulldog's clinched their victory over the Jackets, with 1:42 left in the game. Van Brewer's kick was good for one more point, bringing the score to 21-12, with the Bulldog's defeating the Chester Yellowjackets after a close matched feuding session.

Defensively for the Bulldog's, Cody Widner pounded out 22 tackles, while Bo Bendy was credited with 20. Marcus Allen was also a defensive force with 15 tackles. Ray Dobbins and Greg Bean each had ten. Jack Jacobs and Herman Allen were also effective in stopping the Jackets on 17 different plays, with Jacobs also credited for sacking Chester's quarterback Bob Jewell twice.

Eagle eighth grade wins

WOODVILLE — The Woodville Eagle eighth grade football team posted an impressive Homecoming win over the Kountze Cubs 35-61 last week.

The Eagles scored early when Quinton Moye scampered 35 yards for a touchdown. At the end of the first quarter the Eagles led 6-0.

In the second quarter Kevin Mitchell had a 45 yard touchdown run. The Eagles were successful on a two-point conversion when Mitchell tossed a three yard pass to Daniel Battise. At the half the Eagles led 14-0.

In the second half the Eagles exploded for 21 points. Mitchell scored on runs of 40, 55, and three yards. Quinton Moye kicked three extra points for the Eagles to complete the scoring.

The offensive linemen did a good job blocking, and they include Michael Mahan, Jason Abernathy, Jimmy Scott, Duey Stuart, Will McClusky and Nathan Pilgrim.

Defensively the Eagles were "ruthless". They were flying around the football and making big plays. Defensive stand-outs for the Eagles include Lane Weaver, Quinton Moye, Kevin Mitchell, Duey Stuart, Jared Odom, Daniel Battise, Jeremiah Greenwood, Cody Spells, Chris Loftin and Shelton Thomas.

The Eagles record is 1-2 in District and 2-3 overall.

Seventh grade beats Kountze

WOODVILLE— The Woodville seventh grade football team defeated the Kountze Cubs 30-0 for a homecoming victory.

The Eagles were led offensively by Tory Foster and Tee Washington. Foster scored three touchdowns and Washington scored one touchdown and three two-point conversions.

The offensive line for the Eagles opened some big holes for Foster and Washington to run through. The offensive line includes Tom Wood, Justin Scott, Josh Byron, Earl Foster, Jon Sowarby and Michael Debner.

Defensively the Eagles shut the Cubs offense down. Defensive stand-outs for the Eagles include Jeremy Luce, Jeremy Hall, Justin Scott, Kenneth Russell, Earl Foster, Tee Washington, Tory Foster and Trey Scales.

The Eagles improve their district record to 2-1 and their overall to 4-1. The Eagles next game is at Buna.

State Senate Voters' Guide

Should Trial Lawyers Get Rich At Your Expense?

Curtis Soileau (Pronounced: "Sue-you"?) — Beaumont Trial Lawyer — YES

Drew Nixon — East Texas CPA, Graduate SFA Univ. — NO

Some people call it "Ambulance Chasing" Curtis Soileau calls it yellow page advertising and he has four pages of personal injury trial lawyer ads in the Beaumont phone book. In 1989 and 1991, Soileau was the only East Texas State Senate Dist# 3 State Rep who voted against all general liability lawsuit reforms (HB1,SB1/HB 5, HB 8). He even voted to make sure his criminal defense lawyer buddies were paid before restitution was paid to the victims of crime! (SB 1407) Soileau also voted against "no-fault" auto insurance which would have reduced your auto insurance costs (HB 583). And he voted against lawyer-legislator ethics reform because his own law firm profitted from him representing their clients before the same state agencies he regulated as a legislator (SB1). Soileau is also a member of the Texas Trial Lawyers Association, as are most of his rich contributors.

Drew Nixon joins Senate Dist#3 East Texas legislators like Billy Clemons, Elton Bomer, Jerry Johnson, Clyde Alexander, and Bob Rabuck in strongly supporting meaningful tort reforms against runaway lawsuits and unlimited jury awards. Specifically, Nixon supports limiting jury awards on noneconomic damages. Nixon also supports ethics reform to stop lawyer-legislators from representing clients of their law firms or contributors before state agencies like the Workers Comp Board or Parole Board. Nixon also supports requiring legislators to write laws which everyday folks can understand.

Warriors look ahead to Homecoming after being 'out-gunned' at Stephen F.

By Cathy Allen
Sports Writer

S.F.AUSTIN - - The Warren Warriors are putting last weeks defeat to SFA of 54-7 behind them and are looking forward to their Homecoming game against Orangefield this Friday night in Warren. As usual they are anticipating a 'standing room only' crowd to turn out and show their support for this young team.

Super-Bowl veterans John Elliot, and Jesse and James Wolf, who are also veterans of Warren High, will be on hand to present the game ball, and will also participate in pre-game festivities, including the coin toss.

The Wolf brothers played for Miami in the Super Bowl, and John Elliot was one of the Joe Namath period Jets. Jesse Wolf is now a Tyler County Sheriff's deputy, while his brother James and family reside in Victoria.

"We were just outgunned last week, but we came out in good shape, with no serious injuries, we'll be in good shape for the game Friday against Orangefield." said Warren Head Coach Steve DuBose.

Warren and Orangefield are tied in-district, both teams with an 0-4 record. Orangefield lost to Newton 1 st Friday night, by a score of 22-6

The Warriors were "outgunned" for sure, but this team has got heart unmatched in the District.

John Ferguson was the leading ball carrier for the Warriors against SFA., scrambling for 63 yards, with Heath Simms leading in offensive tackles in the nose guard position. Chris Renfroe was outstanding in his efforts for the defense.

"Their speed was just too much" reported Coach DuBose. "Their special teams had us spread out"

The Warriors are playing this year with only six letterman returning from last year. Next year they will have 20 returning who will be seasoned, and hungry for a winning season.

Warriorettes are 'setting up' for play-offs

WARREN - - The Warren Warriorettes are on a roll with 28 wins this and a District tally of 8-1. Taking one game at a time, working hard, and playing together have been the hallmarks that have made this Warren team so successful, according to Cindy Ard, the Warriorettes Head Coach.

She went on to note that there will be "No Stopping" the Warriorettes when they take on Kountze October 25.

The Kountze players are the first place contenders in the 3A District, and the Warriorettes say they are ready for the challenge.

The Varsity Warriorette roster consists of Seniors Christie Boggess, Carrie Read, Trudi Hatton, and 'Pee Wee' Jeanes, also Kristin Duke, Leigh Ann Neal, Mandy Bell, and Danyelle Foxworth.

The Seniors are preparing for their last home game which will be played against Woodville on October 28th.

Registration still open for annual CIS scramble golf tournament

WOODVILLE - - Golfers still interested in playing in the Caring Is Sharing 8th Annual Golf Tournament scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 22, may do so by contacting the Wildwood Golf Course.

Seaman Bell completes deployment

Navy Seaman Allen W. Bell, a 1992 graduate of Warren High, recently completed a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian Oceans with the amphibious assault ship USS Peleliu.

Bell was one of 2,000 sailors in the four-ship USS Peleliu Amphibious Ready Group, which included the 11th marine Expeditionary Unit. During the deployment, Bell and fellow crew members served three months off the coast of Somalia and helped in the evacuation of U.S. citizens from Rwanda and Burundi. The Sailors and Marines provided valuable assistance to on-scene embassy personnel, offering medical help and command and control support. The American citizens and other foreign nationals were evacuated to Nairobi, Kenya. The Navy and Marine Corps team is designed to operate overseas and respond quickly when needed. He joined the Navy in July 1992.

Evangelist Bill Tisdale

Music Minister Dick Baker

First Baptist Church revival set for Oct. 23-26

First Baptist Church of Woodville will be in revival Sunday through Wednesday, Oct. 23-26 with services that will begin at 8:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, and 7:00 p.m. nightly Monday through Wednesday.

The guest evangelist will be Bill Tisdale, who has served Baptists in many capacities in the United States and in other countries over the years. Tisdale and his wife have been missionaries serving in the Philippines, and pastored in Dallas. From 1982 until his recent retirement, he was pastor at First Baptist Church in Henderson. He is also a trustee of East Texas Baptist University.

Leading the music for the revival will be Richard (Dick) Baker, known for composing "All to Thee", "Longing for Jesus", "His Way Mine" and many other well known gospel songs. Baker has had an international ministry of concerts and crusades since 1956. Billy Graham has included Baker in his crusades as song director and soloist. In 1992 he was commissioned as Minister of Music at Large by Prestonwood Baptist Church in Dallas, where he served as Minister of Music for 12 years. Baker now serves throughout the world.

Volunteers needed for VITA

BEAUMONT — The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Program, sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service, offers free tax help to people who cannot afford professional assistance. Volunteers help prepare basic tax returns for older, handicapped and non-English-speaking taxpayers. Assistance is provided in the community at libraries, schools, shopping malls and other convenient locations. Persons or organizations interested in participating in the VITA Program or wanting more information should call (409) 833-4249.

Revival at Hilltop Baptist Church

Hilltop Baptist Church of Dam B will hold its annual fall revival services beginning Wednesday, Oct. 26 and concluding on Sunday morning, Oct. 30. Services will begin at 7 p.m. each evening, and 10 a.m. on Sunday.

Guest evangelist will be Bro. Robert Cheek of Jasper, well known in this area for his ministry at the Jasper First Baptist Church. The music director will be Bro. Woody Wade, director of music for First Baptist Church of Jasper.

There will be a special attendance emphasis each night: Wednesday, persons attending services are asked to bring a staple food item to be used in Thanksgiving baskets for the needy; Thursday, Sunday School classes will sit together; Friday, persons attending are to dress in old-fashioned costume; Saturday is Youth Night. The Sunday service will conclude with a fellowship dinner at noon. Those attending are asked to bring a favorite dish. The public is invited to attend.

Caney Head revival

Caney Head Assembly of God in Silsbee will begin revival services with Evangelist Danny Stevenson and his wife, of Quitman, LA, at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 30. All other services will be at 7 p.m.

The Stevensons, who are both musicians and singers, are also veteran evangelists with a Background of 16 years in the evangelistic field.

An altar call for the unsaved will be given during each service, with special music provided by the evangelists throughout the revival. The public is invited to attend each revival service. The church is located on FM 2937, Old Spurger Road, in Silsbee. For further information, please phone Caney Head Assembly Pastor D.A. Calvin at 385-3807.

Woodville Schools receive funds for achievements

A total of nearly $12,000 will be dispursed between two Woodville campuses soon for high performance in the area of "sustained gains" in performance levels on the TAAS exam during the year 1993-94.

"Sustained gains by the Woodville Intermediate students have qualified that campus to receive the money, said school official Mary Nell Rainey. Intermediate won $5,961. Rainey also said that Woodville Wheat Elementary will be receiving a total of $6,004, "Which can be attributed to both campuses in quality teaching in the individual classroom and campus improvement plans, and," she added," students who show continuous improvement."

Woodville Intermediate School was also a high performance school during the years 1992-93 and earned a whopping $38,000 out of a state pool of $20 million which was dispursed in order to recognize school districts that are advancing and sustaining their gains.

According to Rainey, "The Wheat Elementary School (also known as a feeder school) provides the foundation skills for the students as they move to Woodvillee Intermediate."

Dangerous Spurger intersection to get flashing beacons soon

Persistance on the part of County Commissioner Precinct 4 Henry Earl Sawyer paid off this week as an announcement was made that red and yellow flashing beacons will be installed at the intersection of FM 92 and FM 1013.

According to David Bernsen, Texas Transportation Commissioner, of Beaumont, "Work to install overhead intersectional beacons in Warren and Spurger will begin soon.

Bernsen said the Departmet of Transportation will position a beacon also at the intersection of U. S. 69 and FM 1943 in Warren. "Work on that project shpould begin in about a week." The department says d the beacon will flash ornage fascing U.S. 69 and will flasg red facing FM 1943.

The Spurger beacon placement will begin on Nov. 4 and will flash yellow on FM 92 and red on FM 1013.

Both intersections have histories of fatal auto and truck accidents, prompting Sawyer to petition the Transportation for assistance in obtaining the beacons.

Cost for installing both beacons will be approximately $25,000, Bernsen said.

Winner to be announced

Be sure to check next week's Tyler County Booster for the announcement of the winner in the current Booster subscription contest.

The winner will receive a stay at the Houston Greenspoint Marriott Hotel.

7th Annual Heritage Festival 'a success' despite rain

"This seventh Annual Heritage Festival proves the toughness and pioneer spirit of the people of Tyler County", said U.S. Representative Charles Wilson, (D), of Lufkin, Saturday at special dedication ceremonies of the Village Vidette, a two-story-typical turn-of-the-century newspaper office. Wilson was referring to the heavy rains that did not deter locals from putting on, "An important historical event that a few rain drops couldn't stop."

Angelina and Neches River Authority teams with university to address environment issues

The Angelina and Neches River Authority announced today it has entered into an agreement with the East Texas Regional Laboratory, located in the Chemistry Department at Stephen F. Austin State University, to cooperatively address environmental issues for the East Texas area.

The two laboratories will collaborate on testing services, common research projects, student training internships, and for graduate education in environmental chemistry.

Dr. Roger S. Case will manage the inter-laboratory interaction, teach several chemistry courses, direct the research efforts of some students, and serve as manager of the Water Quality Laboratory at ANRA.

Dr. Case received his doctorate from the University of Texas and has over 33 years experience in teaching and research for industry. He is completing an Environmental Protection Agency toxicology study on the Rio Grande River through the University of Texas at El Paso.

Gary Neighbors, general managers at ANRA, said ANRA's role in the agreement will be to serve the public and industry on water related matters. "This agreement will provide improved water testing, education and research for the region and assist the public and industries in addressing their environmental issues," he said.

Dr. Wayne Boring, chairman of the Chemistry Department at SFASU, said the interagency collaboration will provide SFA students with on-the-job training in environmental chemistry as they analyze samples provided by ANRA. "This experience will allow them to enter the work force with little or no additional training," he said.

"With the concerted effort of two state agencies working on environmental issues, the taxpayers of Texas will pay less for solutions to their environmental problems. For this reason the Department of Chemistry at SFASU is aggressively seeking collaborations with other government agencies and industries in the East Texas area," said Dr. Boring.

Dr. Tom Atchison, Dean of Science and Mathematics at Stephen F. Austin, hopes that the agreement will grow to become a regional institution to provide water quality for the East Texas area. "As an educational institution, the training of students in the use of equipment used by agencies like the river authority is very important," he said.

The agreement will allow the added strengths of the two state agencies to improve research efforts in obtaining funding from government agencies, private foundations and industries.

Fees for services will be assessed and an established schedule will soon be available to private and government agencies.

Drug Alcohol Awareness Red Ribbon Week Oct. 22-31

Woodville Police Chief Scott Yosko wants to remind the Woodville community to be sure and turn out to support the Red Ribbon Drug Awareness Week Parade scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 25, beginning at 8 a.m. when "Anyone who wants to join in with a parade entry can do so, to help raise awareness of this important issue."

The Parade will begin at the Police Department where entrants can fix up their vehicles, Yosko said. The Parade will then go through the schools campuses, then on to the downtown area, then to Wal-Mart for coffee and doughnuts.

The police chief said over 800 red ribbons are available to be picked up at the Police Department by persons interested in helping.

Yosko said he wants to gets parents talking to their kids.

"Ages 12-20 is the time when kids come into the greatest contact with drugs and alcohol. The most common killer of kid's is drugs and alcohol. The number two killer is suicide," Yosko said, and drugs and alcohol, are usually found in that environment.

Yosko said he encourages all parents to sit down and talk with their children about the problem.

At the Village

By Dottie Johnson

After the ball is over, festival memories linger on

It's not over 'til it's over.

How few of us remember that. Especially on a soggy Sunday afternoon, when it's obvious no more festival goers are going to arrive, and it seems expedient to pack up and head for home and forget the whole thing 'til next year.

Oh, we clean up our space as best we can, leaving as little as possible to the Village staff. Marjorie Schultz said her Monday morning reconnaissance proved what she had always found true. Folk life festival people are accustomed to leaving a clean slate behind. They want to come back next year.

"We shall return," they all say. "We love this place. We wouldn't miss it for the world." You'd be surprised how many of our demonstrators have become members of the Heritage Society.

But, the fact remains, there are aftermaths that we seldom think about, such as what happens to the vans that shuttled folks back and forth from the fairgrounds to the Village all day Saturday and Sunday. Our drivers, all professionals, had to be in Lufkin for their regular runs Monday morning. And so, it was Marjorie and Oferira and Paula, our Village staffers, who struck out at 6:o'clock Monday morning, each driving a van to Lufkin, followed by Village volunteer Gloria Newsome who brought them home again.

And you know what a volunteer is. It's a person who is on standby for any or all duties from sweeping out Village buildings, as we found Gloria doing last Thursday and Friday, squiring Charlie Wilson around on Saturday, being everywhere and anywhere from gate to hospitality on Sunday to driving the getaway car on Monday.

As always, there were lots of interesting little stories involving our folk life festival people who are an extremely flexible lot. A little rain never stays them from their appointed reason for coming. They just move in or over or whatever seems right.

Music to stitch by

A case in point was one of our proposed staging areas, just inside the new Festival gate next to the Pickett House. This gate brought our visitors into the Village on the upper level, past the old Cottage Rose, where Erlene Melancon was doing her beautiful folk art, and on to the Pole Barn, which covered a fabulous gathering of needlecrafts, spinning and weaving and Nelda Wagner's natural dyeing process.

This area was a festival within itself, more than you would expect to find in a festival as varied as ours.

Just to the north of the Pole Barn was to be the first of our many entertainment stages, where Preston Woodrome and his Christian Heirs planned to offer a program of gospel music. Big rain. No cover. So our needlecrafters moved over and made room in the barn. Soon Jim Knecht, who sings in the St. Paul's choir, left his llamas and joined in. And when Charlie Schultz, our master blacksmith, saw they were missing a base, he sat in for a while. It was that kind of a day, that kind of a weekend.

Asleep in the Collier Store

Something happened on the way to our Texas Army Encampment, which has been a mainstay of our festival for a number of years. First of all, the group that makes up this reenactment group had to split up to cover two occasions. Meanwhile, Jim and Debbie Mann, who usually come to the Village and Al and Rosa Meyer of Sugarland, were transferred to Harlingen, and the other two couples of their group were helping them build a new house. That left only Al to participate, and being alone he brought only a pup tent in addition to some of the tools of the re-enactment trade.

Now, Al doesn't mind camping out. In fact, he prefers it. But, after one night in a pup tent in the rain and trying to do his demonstrations in the rain all day, it was growing a bit much, until he had an idea.

Sure. Go ahead, Marjorie assured him, and Saturday night Al camped out in the Collier Store. It was real cozy, he reported, and dry. On Sunday, he moved his candle dipping etc., and bullet making into one of our log cabin cribs on the hill, built a camp fire, and was in business. Our visitors loved it.

The history of popcorn

I don't know that I ever thought about the history of popcorn. But, then, I didn't know Chuck and Linda Barnett of Marshall before this weekend.

The Barnetts make kettle corn, popping it in a big 150 year old hand hammered copper kettle, using a secret recipe that came from France.

As Linda tells the story, French explorers in the New World were intrigued with the corn grown by the Indians. While the kernels were quite large, the cobs were small, and the Indians popped the corn right on the cob.

Back home, the French started to experiment, developing a recipe for a product that became quite popular across southern France in the late 1700's. Those who had the recipe would go from farm to farm, carrying their kettle. At each stop they would butcher a hog, then use a portion of the renderings, in which the recipe was dissolved, to pop the corn they brought with them or that which the farmer had learned to grow himself.

The Barnetts discovered this process when visiting the descendants of some of these Frenchmen, now living in Missouri. These latter day poppers had developed a machine in which first wood and now propane was used to heat the pot, which swung in a heavy iron housing.

Because of their intense interest in all things historical, the Barnetts pressed the French descendents to share that secret recipe, a mixture of sugar products, which they dissolve in soy bean oil heated to 1,100 degrees. The popping process itself only takes about two minutes, during which time the corn is stirred with a paddle. No butter or salt is used, and the finished product is cholesterol free. Properly stored, their popcorn will stay fresh up to a year.

Both retired, the Barnetts split their time between restoring an old house in Marshall and taking their copper kettles to events of historical interest such as our Harvest Festival.

Happily ever after

And then, right in the midst of it all on Sunday morning, there was a wedding in the Cherokee Church followed by a reception in the Hamm House.

Both the bride and the groom are members of the Hole-In-The-Wall Gang from Houston, a group who teaches safety as they perform their colorful shoot-em-ups in the streets of the Village. Organized to help raise funds for kids and their special needs, the Gang performs only at events they deem to be of educational value. And they have fallen in love with Heritage Village and the programs we present.

And so, we will soon be able to count Dan Douglas Dulin, retired from the Harris County Sheriff's Office, and his new bride, Nancy Martin Dulin, an accountant, as new members of the Tyler County Heritage Society and regulars on our Festival rolls.

Dedication in the rain

There was such a neighborly feeling as we found a seat next to the Lloyd Shells of Beaumont, who moved over to make room on the bench in front of the Physician's Office. We were among the many who gathered on the covered boardwalk along the west side of the Village's Main Street to witness the official dedication of the Village Vidette Newspaper Office across the way.

Someone had told me that tourists aren't interested in something like that, that advertising the fact would be a turn-off. Our Saturday morning visitors proved him wrong, but then, our Festival doesn't attract tourists per se. It attracts people interested in historical presentations of real value.

And so we gathered in a scene right off the big screen, only it was real. The setting was real. The people were real. And they were interested in what was about to happen.

Fred Sullivan did the honors as master of ceremonies, introducing Christine Sanders, who called for the unveiling of a plaque bearing the names of those whose generosity seven years ago made the Heritage Society's purchase of the Village possible; print historian Cy Stapleton, who mounted an interesting exhibit of old newspapers inside the Vidette building; Congressman Charles Wilson, who salluted the 20th Anniversary of the Big Thicket and Ma Thicket, whose early writings helped stir it into being; and Village Director Marjorie Schultz, a "without whom" none of this would take place. Presented on the second floor balcony of the Vidette, it was a gala introduction to another chapter in the progress of our Village and to a festival, whose light was not diminished by the rain.

And the show goes on

And while our demonstrators have departed for the time, our food vendors and dancers and musicians and story tellers, the Village lives on and so does the display in our Exhibit Hall, which pays lasting tribute to the Big Thicket National Preserve and to the life and times of Ma Thicket, Ethel Osborn Hill.

Which brings about one last but hardly least memory, and that was of the visit of Linda Cliett of Houston and Carol LaBure of Port Arthur, two of the four granddaughters of Ethel Osborn Hill, without whom our exhibit could not have taken place. We thank them for their contributions, their loans, their memories and most of all, for being there.

It was really the first time the cousins had had the opportunity to get together since the days when they "went to camp" at Grandma Hill's Dogwood Den hideaway in Tyler County, where they learned that everything is something.

Readers Write

Basic tenet

Dear Editor:

Gubernatorial Candidate Bush proposes that Texas adopt a no-fault automobile insurance plan. It is important that your readers understand several things about such a plan:

"No-fault" can also be interpreted as "no responsibility". The person at fault in an accident would no longer be responsible for paying the damages of the injured victim. The injured person's own insurance company would pay certain limited medical expenses and loss of wages, but the person responsible for the accident would escape scot-free.

As parents, we try to teach our children responsibility for their actions, as that is recognized as a basic tenet of our society. This no-fault insurance plan being proposed by Candidate Bush and strongly supported by the insurance industry, who would directly benefit from such a plan, is exactly the opposite of "responsibility for one's actions". It takes the fault and responsibility out of driving accidents.

Yours truly,
Ray Hensarling
Woodville, TX

Football winner

Dear Editor:

How are you doing? I would like to thank you for the Tyler County Booster. We really enjoy reading it and guessing the football teams and scores.

I, Travis Crookes, would like to say thank you for my winning check.

Thank you so much,
Ms. Stittem and Travis Crookes

Was it for numbers?

Dear Editor:

After reading the letters of Oct. 12 about the Power Team, I felt to write this. I know not of the article talked about.

Mainly, the point is, was the show for the glory of God, or to exalt man? Was it for the money received, or to reach souls? Was it for numbers?

Many of the Bible verses quoted were pulled out of context. Also, Arles. I went through my Bible concordance. I can find the verses on salvation, but where are the ones for re-dedication and other decisions for Christ?

It's like these people on TV in this so-called new Christian movement. The main theme is money. People are still falling for the lines. Like: 'Need something from the Lord, then give to receive'. Or 'give to us and it will be returned 2-4-6 fold'. 'Give your tithe to your church but send us your offering'.

This is not Bible. You're not to give to receive. You don't have to support such a group to get healing, or whatever your needs be. I think one of the biggest scams was the 'book' one. On a telethon, give a dollar a day and they send you a $5 book. To me this adds to to $365. If you think money is not their main theme, explain how they can connect Gal. 6:7-8 to money.

So, people, get into the Word, take no man's word. The Word clearly states this.

I notice many quotes were from someone else. I wonder did you all check them out with the Word, or just write them?

In closing, many are getting into this new movement, mainly because they are following man. And man says they can have the world and Jesus, and this is what they want. Not caring that the Word says "Come out and be separated."

David Hargle
Jasper, TX

P.S. I would like a copy of the article mentioned. Yes, Cassandra, we must reach the youth, but with truth and something different from the worldly system.

Possibilities

Dear Editor:

With the vacating of the Brookshire's store, I think this would be a good time to investigate the possibility of the city and/or the county utilizing this building for a multitude of activities, such as: something for the young people to do (this should be a high priority), Dogwood activities (including the preparation for flower making), various Civic organization meetings. The list of possibilities is endless.

I sincerely hope someone in authority will check into this. Our young people desperately need a place to go with good, wholesome activities and entertainment.

Sincerely,
Ann Fondren

'95 Seniors say 'Thanks!'

Dear Editor:

The Woodville High School Student Council and the Senior Class of '95 would like to thank the community for participating and helping with this year's Homecoming activities.

We would like to thank the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department, the Woodville Police Department, Grady Holderman, Scott Yosko and all of the local businesses and individuals who contributed to Homecoming Week with their donations, assistance and support. Their help was much appreciated.

The parade was canceled due to rain and will be rescheduled in November.

Thanks again.

Sincerely,
Karen Collier
Student Council Secretary

Points of Light

By Darby Kethan

The tears in the eyes of the woman sitting near me mirrored the tears in my own. Tears of joy? beauty? loss? nostalgia? Certainly they were a spontaneous emotional response to a beautiful ceremony. We . . . the participants and the audience . . . were by no means a thousand points of light yet the impact of seeing so many candles glowing like stars in the dark football stadium was magical.

Like my neighbor, I thought of the young adults, high school students, who were choosing a candlelight ceremony to celebrate homecoming. Soon-to-be-graduates, they will be moving on to college, marriage, jobs and the challenges and changes, the joys and jobs, the problems and possibilities that lie ahead. They had coped very well with this change. A response generated because bonfires, once a traditional activity for homecoming, are no longer safe for students, the candlelight ceremony is an example of youthful resilience in action. With adult support, these students had generated an alternate way of making their homecoming special and the students had prepared a beautiful ceremony.

As the candles were lighted, first one, then a few, then quickly spreading as each one sparked another, each person saw how true it is that many small points of light can illuminate even the greatest darkness. Each lighted candle represented only one but together provided a glowing reminder of what working together can achieve. How rapidly the candles glowed as each person with a light shared with several others.

So can it be with our time and talents, each sharing with others so that all can be greater than any individual part. One person with knowledge can share that with others; one person with a talent sharing that may enable others to develop similar skills; supporting young people in their activities by our presence and participation encourages them and lets them know how valuable they are to us.

We have no way of seeing into the future but we can predict, from the problems we face today, that these young people will have many difficulties and problems to solve as they become the adults who will be taking over where we must leave off. With the participation of those of us who came to watch and the guidance of those in the school, these students saw a shining example of what working together can mean, an enriching of all our lives through sharing our own "light" with others. The lesson to be learned was wonderfully taught in an imaginative and moving way.

Homemaker Hints

As America's population ages, eye health is a special concern because millions are affected by this problem.

In 1990, about 1.4 million people underwent cataract surgery, resulting in a health care bill of $3.2 billion. Now, growing evidence shows that maintaining good nutritional status can reduce the incidence of cataract formation.

Many people already know that vitamin A is critical to healthy night vision. If we don't get enough vitamin A, we are susceptible to night blindness. The major symptom of night blindness is the inability of the eyes to adjust to dim light. All of us have experienced this to some extent since it takes a little time for our eyes to adjust when we go from bright light to a dimly lit area. This may have happened to us when we were driving on a bright sunny day, and then entered a dark tunnel. Or, we may have gone into a movie theater that was dimly lit, and had trouble finding seats.

When a person isn't getting enough vitamin A, it takes a much longer time for their eyes to adjust to this change in light intensity. If a person has been getting enough vitamin A, eyes will adjust within a minute or so.

Recent research indicates that other nutrients are also important in maintaining healthy eyesight. High levels of vitamin C are found in eye tissue. A number of researchers are investigating the function of this nutrient. The major theory is that vitamin C protects the eye against light-induced oxidative damage.

Another nutrient which may protect the eye from oxidative damage is vitamin E. The minerals, zinc and selenium, also appear to be involved in eye health, although the role they play is not well understood.

What can people do as they age to reduce their risk of getting cataracts? At this point in time, the best advice is to eat a variety of nourishing foods including bread, rice, and cereals, fruits and vegetables, low-fat or non-fat milk and milk products, and servings of meat, poultry, fish, eggs and beans.

If you have old copies of THE TYLER COUNTY BOOSTER from 1945 to 1960 we would like to invite you to participate in a microfilming project to preserve these historic records. Call 409-283-2516 for more information.

If "The Booster" keeps printing this column and you keep reading it, you are going to hear about my garden. Like a lot of folks who never had to do it for a living, I get passionate about growing stuff to eat. We got here too late for a fall garden this year, but come next March, look out. After fighting the gumbo they call soil in Houston, it is going to be pure pleasure working this sandy hill.

Some of our neighbors are still watching things grow. Jesse Brenizer has a front yard full of watermelon vine. It's an accidental, but has a couple of half-grown melons that just could make it all the way. I wouldn't know what to do with a watermelon in November, but wouldn't it be fun?

I learned my watermelon eating in the country. We used to spend summers on my grandparents' ranch in northwest Louisiana. Papa always had a big melon patch, enough for us and lots left over to sell. One of my first chores was to go out early with the old wooden wheelbarrow and pick five or six melons to get us through the day.

You had to pick them early, before the sun got on them, so they would stay cool through the day. Refrigeration? That was years in the future for most farmers. I'd stash the melons under the porch steps, where they'd be in shade. Then in the heat of the afternoon we'd gather round the porch, our tongues figuratively hanging out a foot. Somebody would bring the big kitchen knife. Out would come the melons. None of this foolishness about slicing 'em 24 ways. One melon for four people was about right, or even for two if they weren't that big.

The first cut must always be lengthwise. If the melon is properly fresh and ripe, a crack will run ahead of the knife, and you'll hear a popping. And oh! That first indescribable mouthful! What city folks don't know about watermelons is that they are mainly for thirst, not hunger. To my mind, using them for desserts or relishes is misappropriation of God's good gifts. But every melon eater to his own fast.

How to tell they are ripe? I learned it at the age of eight. If I told you, it wouldn't be my secret any more. Maybe I'll show you next year, if I can raise any melons. And don't ever think I'm not going to try. I tried in western Wyoming. I tried in Connecticut. I even tried in Houston. But now at last I'm in natural watermelon country. Next Fourth of July, drop around and see how the Lord and I made out.

It's about time for you to get acquainted with the rest of our family. Pride and Joy are fine young cats. They have lived with us for nearly all their 14 months. We don't always do it like they want, but most of the time we get along well. After a month in the country they are getting settled in, though you should have seen them the first time they spotted Jesse Brenizer's Brahma bull across the fence. You could almost hear Pride calling Joy: "Come look, you won't believe that squirrel!"

Shalom . . .

Letters to the Editor Policy

It is the policy of The Tyler County Booster to publish in its Readers Write column letters to the editor regarding items of local interest. The Booster reserves the right to edit the letters and to withhold publication of libelous material.

Opinions expressed in the Readers Write column are those of the authors of the letters and are not necessarily those of the newspaper or its staff.

No anonymous letters will be published and the names of the authors will not be withheld. All letters submitted MUST be signed by the author in his or her own normal handwriting. Letters containing only a type written signature will not be published.

In addition, letters also should contain a daytime telephone number to allow the editor to contact the author in the event confirmation of the signature or any information contained in the letter is needed.

Woman's Study Club marks 70th anniversary

The Louise Anthony Youth Center of Woodville United Methodist Church was the setting Tuesday afternoon October 11, for a celebration of TFWC Woman's Study Club of Woodville's 70th Anniversary of its founding and federation.

Organized in 1924 by Mrs. J.E. Wheat, Mrs. D.P. Rock, Mrs. J.B. Lewis, Mrs. J.H. Evans, Mrs. B.F. Hughes, Mrs. E.W. Tubb, Mrs. T.C.Rock, Mrs. J.G. Burlow, and Mrs. S.P. Sims, the club became a member of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs that same year, and met weekly. The 1924-1925 yearbook indicates that the club's first course of study was Modern Drama.

Although the present Woman's Study Club meets only once a month and no longer has a course of study for a year, the club continues to pursue programs of higher education, personal improvement, and social progress. Following guidelines set by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Washington, D.C., the local club's programs emphasize conservation, education, the arts, international affairs, Texas heritage, public affairs and home life.

Woman's Study Club of Woodville is in the Magnolia District of the Texas Federation.

Attending Tuesday's celebration were Magnolia District president Beaulah Grimmet of Cleveland, first vice-president Neomia Abbott of Beaumont, second vice-president of TFWC Mary Beth Guy of Kirbyville, GFWC's Outreach for Children committee member Zelma Jinnette of Kirbyville, and Magnolia District's Chaplain Jo Helen Stringer, also of Kirbyville.

President Aline Swift of the local club recognized four long-time members, two of whom came into the club in the 1930's: Quaidie Sullivan and Doug Kenesson. In 1946, Julie Archer became a member, and holds the record for the longest continuous membership in Woman's Study Club. Blanche Risinger joined the club in 1951. Also recognized was vice-president Carol Phillips, who has the distinction of being a fourth generation member.

With background music from the 1930's and 1940's, guests enjoyed refreshments prepared by Mary Frances Hickman, Rosemary Bunch, Dixie Jarrott, Norma Peterson and Lorraine Yearwood. A table of memorabilia held yearbooks, photographs, news stories, scrapbooks and awards covering seven decades. Of particular interest were several stories from The Booster dated in the 1950's and 1960's. Bookmarks were given to departing guests as mementos of the anniversary celebration.

Spurger elementary receives award

SPURGER — A letter officially confirming that Spurger Elementary has again qualified and will be receiving a Texas Successful Schools (TSSAS) Award has been recently received by Spurger ISD officials.

This award recognizes Spurger Elementary in the Significant Gains in Academic Achievement area.

Of 6,152 campuses eligible for consideration statewide, only 391 campuses met the standards under the 1993-94 TSSAS and accountability systems for the Significant Gain Award.

Spurger ISD is proud of this recognition and congratulates the students, teachers, board and community for their efforts toward academic improvement.

Shop at home kick-off banquet set Nov. 1

The Tyler County Chamber of Commerce is anxious to let folks know about the "Shop At Home Kick-off Banquet" to be held at the Woodville Inn Ballroom on Tuesday, Nov. 1, beginning at 7 p.m. $10 advance or $12 at the door. Shown (at left) are Chamber Executives (L. to R.): Gene Koci, Don Cowart, Bob Belt, Missy Ogden and Larry Phillips, DVM. The group is huddled around an official autographed Dallas Cowboys Football signed by the entire team. Persons may enter the drawing at the Chamber office for a donation of $2 each or 3 for $5. Dallas Cowboy Talk show host Ray Stone will be ther guest speaker at the event. According to Chamber officials the promotion is coming in order to let Tyler County shoppers know the importance of "Shopping at Home" this holiday season.

It's a boy!

Brad and Becca (George) Uhr of Dallas have announced the arrival of their son, David Kenneth, who was born at 3 a.m. Friday, Sept. 30, 1994.

The child weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces and was 20 3/4 inches long.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Berry Uhr and Mrs. Kenneth George, all of Dallas.

Debborah Coleman and Clifton Thomas

To be wed

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Thomas of Warren have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their son, Clifton Lee, to Deborrah Coleman of Port Arthur. The couple are scheduled to be married on November 12, 1994 during ceremonies at Harvest Time Church in Port Arthur. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Leatha Coleman and the late Albert Coleman of Port Arthur. She attended Thomas Jefferson High School and earned her associate degree in applied science at Lamar University. The prospective groom attended Warren High School and earned his associate degree in applied science at Lamar University. Both are employed at Methodist Hospital in Houston.

Howell, Baily represent hospital at district TAHA meeting

The Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary was represented at the TAHA district meeting on Sept. 15 by Mrs. Marie Howell and Mrs. Marjorie Bailey.

Thirteen cities were represented, and 137 members attended the meeting which was hosted by the Jasper Memorial Auxiliary. Members reported on their year's projects and activities. Speakers were Ernie Domesech and Jeanine Sweet. Lunch was served, and a style show followed.

The regular business meeting of the Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary was held Sept. 11 with president, Mrs. Mildred Sundin, presiding. The auxiliary donated $949.40 to the hospital for the purchase of a chart system.

Steven Shane Watts, pharmacist at the hospital, was the guest speaker.

FBC Warren plans revival

A Fall Revival at First Baptist Church, Warren, will begin on Sunday, Oct. 23, and continue through Wednesday, Oct. 26, with both morning and evening services scheduled.

Bro. Russell Fite, pastor of First Baptist Church of Lumberton will be the evangelist. A graduate of Houston Baptist University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Forth, Fite served churches in Lufkin, Baytown and Crosby before coming to Lumberton.

Prior to his conversion and call to the ministry he was in the plumbing profession. He and his wife have two daughters.

Leading the revival music will be Bro. Skipper Schexsnayder, Minister of Music at First Baptist Church of Newton. Schexsnayder is a graduate of East Texas Baptist University in Marshall, has served in the music ministry in Buffalo, Tx, and has been in Newton for the past six years. He is a member of the Newton Volunteer Fire Department and the Emergency Medical Department.

Morning services will begin at 11 a.m., Sunday through Wednesday; with the evening services beginning at 7 p.m. A covered dish lunch will be served each day.

A cordial invitation is extended to all area residents. A nursery is provided for small children through age three.

Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies team up with American Lung Association for National Flu Campaign

During a 12-month period, this illness resulted in 249.6 million bed days, with an estimated cost to our nation of $11.5 billion - and contributed to nearly 80,000 deaths. No, this is not a newly discovered illness. It's influenza, or flu, and it can be prevented in most cases with a low cost shot.

That's why The Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies like the one in Woodville, run by Rodney DeRouen, R. Ph., around the country are offering a flu education event, co-sponsored by the American Lung Association.

Beginning Oct. 17, free flu education materials will be available at participating Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies, including an explanation of the importance of getting a flu shot, the difference between the cold and flu, and flu treatment suggestions. Also, flu shots will be administered by health care professionals in nearly 600 Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies, for an average cost of $8 to $10. A portion of the proceeds from each shot will go to benefit the American Lung Association.

"This national program with Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies is part of the ALA's annual flu campaign," explains John R. Garrison, Managing Directors of the American Lung Association.

"Since most Medicine Shoppe Pharmacies are located in neighborhood strip centers, this event will offer a convenient and affordable way for people to get a flu shot, and/or flu information, at the right time - before the peak influenza season begins."

The American Lung Association specifically recommends flu shots for people 65 years or older and people with chronic health conditions such as lung disease, heart disease or diabetes, who are considered at high risk for the flu. However, many physicians today recommend a flu shot for anyone who wants to avoid the illness.

"We see this flu event as an appropriate new addition to our health care screening and wellness program," says Nancy Schwartz, Director of Marketing for Medicine Shoppe International, Inc. "Our pharmacist-owners joined The Medicine Shoppe system so they could specialize in health care products and services to help their customers maintain their health. And flu shots and flu education are another way they can do this."

A yearly influenza vaccine is about 75 percent effective in preventing the flu and reducing the severity of the illness. However, the American Lung Association estimates that only 40 percent of older adults receive an influenza shot every year.

For additional information about influenza and pneumonia, call the American Lung Association at 1-800-LUNG-USA.

NOTE: Medicare recipients can receive a free flu shot at the majority of Medicine Shoppe flu events. (Recipient must show Medicare part B card.).

Breast cancer checkups available

Women 50 or older may be eligible for free breast cancer checkups at the clinic located at 109 West Livecoak in Woodville.

October is National Breast Health Awareness Month, and women age 50 or older who cannot afford preventive health care can get a physical, including a breast cancer checkup and Pap test, at no cost.

These services are available through the Texas Department of Health. Over 3,000 women have been served since the Texas Department of Health began offering free check-ups in 1991.

Physical exams are free for women who meet age and income limits. To receive services at no cost, a woman must be age 50 or older and meet income limits. For example, a single woman can make up to $14,646 a year and receive services at no cost; a woman in a family of two can make up to $19,582 a year and receive free services.

As women get older, their chance of developing breast cancer increases. However, if breast cancer is found early (before you feel sick), a woman has the best chance for successful treatment.

As part of her regular check-up, every woman age 50 or older should have a mammogram and a breast check-up by a qualified health professional every year. A mammogram is an x-ray of the breast that can find lumps too small to feel by hand.

Unfortunately, many women either don't know that aging puts them at risk, don't get breast cancer check-ups because they don't feel sick, or can't afford preventive health care services.

Families of women age 50 or older can play a major role in finding breast cancer before it spreads. Families should encourage a breast check-up for mothers, grandmothers and aunts. Some women are more likely to get a check-up if it is suggested by a family member.

The free breast cancer check-ups are offered by the Texas Department of Health and are available throughout the year, not just October.

For more information call 283-2929.

Obituaries

William "Bill" Walker Nesbitt

TRINITY — Memorial services for William "Bill" Walker Nesbitt, 70, editor of The Trinity Standard newspaper, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14, 1994, from the Calvary Baptist Church in Trinity with the Rev. Dan Alexander officiating.

Mr. Nesbitt died Oct. 11 at Woodland Heights Medical Center in Lufkin as a result of congestive heart failure.

Born Feb. 6, 1924 in Trinity, he first joined The Trinity Standard as editor on Jan. 18, 1989, a position he held until August 1991 when he resigned to accept a teaching position at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi. He returned as editor of the Trinity newspaper in February 1993 and remained in the post until his death last week.

The Trinity Standard is part of the Polk County Publishing Co. group, which also includes The Lake Livingston Progress, The Polk County Enterprise, The San Jacinto News-Times and The Tyler County Booster.

Mr. Nesbitt attended public school in Trinity, playing baritone in the school band. After graduating from Trinity High School in 1941, Nesbitt joined the U.S. Navy for a four-year stint and spent most of World War II as a weather observer on Catin Island, Alaska.

He was awarded a bachelor of science degree in journalism from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville in 1948.

Following his college graduation, Nesbitt began his career with the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. He subsequently served as a sports reporter, city reporter, copy editor, news editor and Sunday editor for daily newspapers in Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Louisville, Ky. Nesbitt also worked for the U.S. Information Agency in Washington, D.C., where he wrote for the Voice of America Radio Network.

In the early 1960's, Nesbitt decided to return to school and work toward a master's degree. In 1965, he graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a master of science degree in journalism. He then accepted a job teaching at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi, where he remained for 21 years. During his tenure at Del Mar, Nesbitt taught courses in basic reporting, editing and advertising. His duties also included editing the campus newspaper, The Fog Horn, and the campus magazine, The Voyager.

Nesbitt retired from teaching in 1986 but continued his association with Del Mar for another year and a half by working in the college's public information office. When a staff emergency arose at the college shortly before the beginning of the Fall 1991 semester, Nesbitt returned to Del Mar's journalism department where he taught for one semester.

He also was a member and elder of the Trinity First Presbyterian Church.

Thank you

Thank you, members of Faith Lutheran Church, residents of Woodville and surrounding areas. God called my father James Dodrill to His side October 4th. I came from California to be with him. I met several folks who knew and loved my father. I thank you all for your support and love during this time. My father was a lucky man to live in such a wonderful community with such loving people. It gives me strength to know this, and I will remember it always.

Eagles again soar to victory

By Cathy Allen
Sports Writer

BUNA -- The Woodville Eagles proved they are serious contenders for the play-offs last Friday night in this District game against the Buna Cougars as they dominated throughout the night, soaring to a 36 to 12 victory.

Play-action saw the Eagles coming together like never before, according to Woodville Head Coach Craig McGallion.

"We've got quality kids stepping up and taking leadership roles. The boys are really pulling together. These kids are demonstrating that they are learning alot more on the field than football... throughout life, when things get tough, people need to pull together, and individuals need to rise up. That's what these boys are doing. It really makes a coach feel good to see this happening on his team."

Next week the Eagles will face SFA at home. The Warren Warriors were blown out against this team last Friday night, by a whallloping 54-7. The SFA team is rated in the top ten in the state. They have lost two games so far this year, with seven turnovers contributing to one, while the other was a loss to Liberty early in the year.

"This is really the 'Big Game' of the year," remarked McGallion, "They have some outstanding defensive linemen, and some really quality ball players on their team, but so do we. If we can come on the field with the same intensity level that we did last week, we'll do well."

The Eagles intensity showed on both sides of play last Friday night. Juan Mitchell had an outstanding night of play offensively, with play-action seeing him soar five feet over a defender head in the second quarter to snag a touchdown pass from Aubrey Jackson, the second of Mitchell's three touchdowns during the game.

Larry Thomas needed to complete only two passes to finish the night with 104 passing yards. Frank Sylestine was credited with 11 tackles, a sack, and a fumble recovery early in the first quarter that put momentum in favor of the Eagles, setting up their first scoring drive.

Charlie McCullough had nine tackles in the game, and is really showing improvement, according to McGallion. Michael Kethan threw some great blocks and was credited for a sack, while Edmond Lewis and James Ivy also had outstanding nights blocking on both sides of play.

Justin Sturrock with nine tackles, Craig Lewis, and Kevin Adams were also at the Cougars all night, making them sweat for every yard they gained, while Dale Tinsley and Jason Tolbert were effective in putting the pressure on Joey Marse, the Cougar Quarterback.

Scoring action began with Sylestine recovering a Cougar fumble at the 50 yard mark early on in the first quarter. On first down Darth Battise and Michael Kethan opened a hole on a counter dive play, allowing Aubrey Jackson to scramble for 43 yards, bringing play in to the Cougars seven yard line.

On second down from there, Jackson again found an opening, this time due to key blockers Gerrod Betts and Ivy, breaking through for the first Eagle touchdown. Showing their dominance early on, the Eagles scored two more on a fake kick, with Sturrock (who's usually the holder for the Eagles) passing to Betts in the end zone, successfully converting for the extra points.

The Cougars ate 10 minutes off the game clock on their next possession, trudging out 90 yards in 15 plays. Heath Garsee finally finished it off with a hard-earned touchdown. The Eagles succeeded in breaking up the conversion attempt.

The Woodville team didn't waste any time responding. They fielded the kick-off on their twenty, and on second down, a play-action pass from Thomas to Mitchell went 65 yards. Mitchell snagged the pass, then scrambled for 15 more, to bring in another Eagle score, with 11:47 left in the first half. Tolbert kicked for the extra point, bringing the score to 15-6, Eagles.

The Eagles and the Cougars then exchanged punts, with the Eagles fielding the Cougars second punt at their 41.

Thomas, Jackson and Adams rushed for the Eagles, bringing play to the Cougars 25. Thomas then put one up to Mitchell who jumped five feet in the air, over a Cougar defender to make the reception, then scrambled for the remaining three yards, to bring in another Eagle touchdown just before the half. Tolbert's kick for the extra point was good.

The Eagles began the third quarter with the same intensity they played with in the first half. Fielding the kick-off on his own 25 yard line, Mitchell scrambled for another thirty yards, setting the Eagles on the Cougars 45.

Jackson picked up six yards on first down; and Adams picked up a first down with six more on the second. On the third play of the second half the Eagles again scored, with Brandon Prevost and Kendrick Beaty throwing the blocks that set the stage for Jackson to scamper for 35 yards and another Eagle touchdown. The kick by Tolbert was again good, bringing the score to 29-6, Eagles.

The Cougars were shut down after their first three plays in the third quarter, and had no option but to put the ball back in the hands of the 'Fighting Eagles'.

The Eagles fielded the punt on the 29. On first down, Thomas pitched over to Jackson on the right, who scrambled and put a sweet pass up in the air to the 25, where Mitchell was on the mark to make the reception, and scramble for yet another Eagle touchdown. Prevost, Lewis and Trevor Odom were the key blockers for the Eagles on this beautifully executed scoring play.

Tolbert's kick went right between the uprights as it had all night, adding one more point to the Eagles tally.

The Eagles fumbled at their own ten in the fourth quarter, and Michael Brawley helped 'save face' a bit for the Cougars, bringing in the final score of the game with 8:22 left on the clock, a Cougar touchdown from the five.

Woodville J.V. flies over Buna 21-14

By Josh Perlitz

WOODVILLE -- The Woodville Junior Varsity Eagles, coming off a shutout by the Kountze Lions, won their fifth game this season against Buna last Thursday by a score of 21-14.

In the first quarter, Woodville's own Armond Gregory ran in a touch down after a 25-yard rush. Later in the quarter, Woodville's Tremayne Odom, Chris 'Rudy' Worthen, and Adam Walker took turns sacking Buna's quarterback, BJ Spell.

Midway through the second quarter, Buna's Rusty Fry recovered a fumble on Woodville's 35 yard line, setting up a Buna touchdown by John Hernandez. After a successful two-point conversion by T.J. Burnett, Buna had the lead by one.

John Mark Lane received five passes in the first half from relief quarterback, Lucas Babin who was also took some heat, being sacked by Buna team player Tyson Dennard.

After a strong drive by Buna, Aaron Burt received a 12 yard pass, bringing in a Buna touchdown.

Late in the second quarter, Woodville's Chris Worthen caught a 37 yard pass over three of Buna's defenders, setting the stage for Lucas Babin to score on a 13 yard touchdown run. Everett Broussard kicked his second extra point of the game.

The Eagle's third time kick-off opening the second half on the 47 yard line, Babin then handed-off to Robert Adams who scrambled 23 yards, bringing play in to Buna's 30 yard line. Buna answered this run on the next play, when Jason Dennron intercepted a pass on their own 11 yard line.

Howard Nix of Woodville blocked a punt on Buna's 13 yard line, and ran it in for a touchdown. Chris Avery kicked the extra point successfully, and Woodville had regained the lead, 21-14.

Defensive stand-outs for Woodville were Everett Broussard who was able to recover a fumble, and Ryan Weaver who snagged an interception.

The J.V. Woodville team, with a record of 5-1, will play Stephen F. Austin on Thursday.

Colmesneil Bulldogs defeat Chester Yellowjackets, 21-12

By Cathy Allen
Sports Writer

COLMESNEIL - The Hatfield's and McCoy's 'ain't got nothing' on Friday night football action in Tyler County, Texas. The Colmesneil Bulldog's won the feud against the neighboring Chester Yellowjackets Friday night in a game where the fight was closer than the final score of 21-12 reflects.

"It's always a good game when these two teams come together, but this game was a little too close!", remarked Colmesneil's Head Coach Mike Jacobs, immediately following the game last Friday night.

The score stayed within a two-point spread through most of the night until the middle of the fourth quarter, when Greg Bean ran 65 yards for a Bulldog touchdown, clinching the win for the Colmesneil home team.

The 6-0-1 Colmesneil team will travel to High Island Friday night where the High Island Cardinals scraped out a 24-20 victory over the Chester team two weeks ago.

The Chester Yellow Jackets will again be looking for the big plays that have been evading their team and holding them to a 1-6 record despite their competitiveness as they meet Evadale next week for their home-coming show.

The Chester team has stayed in every match they've fought this season, losing most of their games by only a slim margin. They are hoping to turn that around next week, before their home-coming fans in Chester, according to Chester's Head Coach Steve Park.

The rivalry between the Bulldog's and the Yellow Jackets showed early last week, according to both teams coaches, as the boys were showing up early for practices, and working out hard in preparation for the feud that would be fought last Friday night. The action on the field reflected their efforts, as both teams executed well and played a great game.

Jack Jacobs, Marcus Allen, and Ronnie Douglas played exceptionally well for the Bulldog's offense, opening up the field for Greg Bean and Lee Van Brewer to combine for 534 rushing yards during the game.

Serious play-action began with the Jackets shutting down the Bulldog's on their first possession in the first quarter, taking control of the ball after the Bulldog's attempt to 'go for it' failed on fourth and eight.

On first down, the Jackets almost lost it right back to the Bulldog's when a hand-off was miffed, but the Chester team recovered. On second down the Jackets play was foiled by Allen Adams, who shut them down for no gain. But on third down, DeEarrah Wyatt forced his way through the defensive line up to the 47, picking up a crucial first down for the Jackets.

Kevin Harris and Cody Widner shut down the next play, allowing no gain. Dimpsey Paire was up next for the Jackets, carrying the ball through defenders out to the 30, picking up another Jacket first down. Kevin Sheffield and Lee Van Brewer made the stop.

Jewell on a sneak was only able to pick up one on first down. He then took to the air with a pass to Wyatt. Wyatt was brought down by JR Pittman, after picking up another Jacket first down, and moving play in to the Bulldog's 15.

Dimpsey Paire was looking for a hole in the backfield on the next play, when Cody Widner hit him before he could make the turn. No gain. A penalty followed on second down, pushing the Jackets back to the 21.

Wyatt carried the ball again on second down, but Marcus Allen and Greg Bean stopped him before he could get going, for a loss of four more.

Looking at third and twenty, and needing to convert, the Chester quarterback Bob Jewell kept the ball on an option play, and scrambled in to the nine, before JR Pittman brought him down.

It was now fourth and five. A pair of penalties followed, but countered each other and nothing changed. The Jackets were still looking at fourth and five from the nine.

After yet another penalty on this fourth down, (without which the Bulldog's would have succeeded in stopping the Jackets on the six), Jewell dropped back to pass, then scrambled in to the end zone from the sideline for this hard fought for first touchdown of the night.

The Jackets went for two with Wyatt carrying the ball, but Bo Bendy and Cody Widner combined to stop him before he could pick up the extra points. The Jackets were now leading 6-0.

Wyatt, Billy Sturrock, Jehan Jefferson, Jacob Conner and Jeremiah Barnes for the Jackets managed to shut down the Bulldog's retaliation effort. The Bulldog's had made it into mid-field but failed to convert on fourth down, giving the Jackets possession.

The Jackets then moved the ball in to the Bulldog's one yard line, where they were stopped on fourth down. JR Pittman, Marcus Allen, Greg Bean and Kevin Harris, were the key defensive players during this series.

The Bulldog's took over on their own one, and on third down, after a few short gains, Bean carried the ball out to the 25 before he was stopped by Steven and Bob Jewell.

Jeff Allen then pitched off to Van Brewer as he was being brought down in the backfield, Van Brewer then passed to Bean for a gain of nine yards. Jake Ard and Billy Sturrock made the hit on Bean, holding him from picking up another first down, but not for long.

On second down and one to go, Marcus Allen threw a block that opened up a hole for Van Brewer who scrambled to the Jackets 23 yard line before he was taken down.

A hand-off to Bean followed for no gain. Then on second down Bean was left wide open to bring in the first score for the Bulldog's on a 23 yard run, with 4:37 left in the first half. Van Brewer kicked to pick up the extra point for the Bulldog's, giving them a one point lead over the Jackets.

The Jackets opted to punt when they were faced with a fourth and one from their own 45 on their following possession. A tough defensive effort from Joey Brown, Herman Allen, Ronnie Douglas, Kevin Sheffield, and of course, Widner and Bendy held the Jackets back on this possession and their next one, which came after the Bulldog's fumbled in mid-field.

The second half opened alive with action. Wyatt fielded the opening kick-off at the twenty and made it out to the 32 before Brown, Sheffield, and John Von Esson were able to pull him down.

Jewell handed-off to Dimpsey Paire on first down, but Cody Widner hit him in the backfield for a loss of two. Jewell went to Wyatt next, but he was only able to take it back to the original line of scrimmage before he was stopped by the Bulldog's offensive line.

Third and ten, Jewell went back to pass then scrambled up-field for a tough gain of two. Looking at fourth and eight, the Jackets again opted to punt.

Van Brewer let the punt roll until the Jewell brothers were all over the ball, recovering the punt for the Jackets. Apparently the ball had come into contact with Van Brewer, as the officials confirmed that the Jackets had regained, or maintained possession at the Bulldog's forty yard line.

Jewell picked up two yards on the next play, before he was stopped by Dobbins, Bendy and Widner for the Bulldog's.

Paire picked up a first down on the next play, carrying the ball in to the 29. Wyatt then took the ball on first down, carrying five defenders on his back for yet another Jacket first down.

Jewell picked up four yards on a sneak on first down, then Jacobs, Sheffield, and Bean stopped Matt Standley for a loss, bringing up third and ten.

Jewell put one in the air and connected with Steven Jewell who was wide open in the end zone, for another Jacket score, giving the Chester team the lead for the second time in the game. The conversion attempt went to Paire who tried to scramble for two, but Herman Allen and Widner stopped him cold.

The Jackets with Ard, Jefferson, Conner, Toby Toler and Wyatt being the key defensive leaders, again managed to stop the Bulldog's retaliation effort

The Jackets were fixing to punt again after the Bulldog's had shut them down on their next possession, but Paire mishandled the ball, dropped it and recovered it on the run, scrambling to pick up another first down for the Jackets, reviving the drive.

This effort turned out to be in vain, as a clipping penalty recalled the play, forcing the Jackets to punt again.

The punt took a Jacket roll to the 22. On first down, Bean scrambled to the left and picked up nine yards, bringing up second and one.

Allen handed off to Lee Van Brewer. Ronnie Douglas threw a beautiful block that opened up a hole for Van Brewer to turn upfield. He was going strong when a Jacket defender started closing in on him. Ray Dobbins saw it and took him out, leaving the field wide open for Van Brewer to go all the way, putting six more points up for the Bulldog's who regained the lead with 1:39 left in the third quarter. Van Brewer's kick for the extra point was good, bringing the score to 14-12, Bulldog's.

The feud between these two teams remained intense, through the remainder of the game. Play went back and forth with both teams being forced to punt on each of their next possessions.

Zeb Barnes and Paul Johnson played with intensity during this fourth quarter of play for the Jackets along with Standley and Jeremiah Barnes, while Bo Bendy, Jack Jacobs, Greg Bean and Luke Wilkinson were working hard for the Colmesneil defense.

After the official time-out in the fourth quarter, the Bulldog's began their final scoring drive. Van Brewer picked up four yards on first down, before Wyatt stopped him at the 35 yard line. On second and six, the play went to Bean, who was going, going, gone!

On a sixty-five yard touchdown run, the Bulldog's clinched their victory over the Jackets, with 1:42 left in the game. Van Brewer's kick was good for one more point, bringing the score to 21-12, with the Bulldog's defeating the Chester Yellowjackets after a close matched feuding session.

Defensively for the Bulldog's, Cody Widner pounded out 22 tackles, while Bo Bendy was credited with 20. Marcus Allen was also a defensive force with 15 tackles. Ray Dobbins and Greg Bean each had ten. Jack Jacobs and Herman Allen were also effective in stopping the Jackets on 17 different plays, with Jacobs also credited for sacking Chester's quarterback Bob Jewell twice.

Eagle eighth grade wins

WOODVILLE — The Woodville Eagle eighth grade football team posted an impressive Homecoming win over the Kountze Cubs 35-61 last week.

The Eagles scored early when Quinton Moye scampered 35 yards for a touchdown. At the end of the first quarter the Eagles led 6-0.

In the second quarter Kevin Mitchell had a 45 yard touchdown run. The Eagles were successful on a two-point conversion when Mitchell tossed a three yard pass to Daniel Battise. At the half the Eagles led 14-0.

In the second half the Eagles exploded for 21 points. Mitchell scored on runs of 40, 55, and three yards. Quinton Moye kicked three extra points for the Eagles to complete the scoring.

The offensive linemen did a good job blocking, and they include Michael Mahan, Jason Abernathy, Jimmy Scott, Duey Stuart, Will McClusky and Nathan Pilgrim.

Defensively the Eagles were "ruthless". They were flying around the football and making big plays. Defensive stand-outs for the Eagles include Lane Weaver, Quinton Moye, Kevin Mitchell, Duey Stuart, Jared Odom, Daniel Battise, Jeremiah Greenwood, Cody Spells, Chris Loftin and Shelton Thomas.

The Eagles record is 1-2 in District and 2-3 overall.

Seventh grade beats Kountze

WOODVILLE— The Woodville seventh grade football team defeated the Kountze Cubs 30-0 for a homecoming victory.

The Eagles were led offensively by Tory Foster and Tee Washington. Foster scored three touchdowns and Washington scored one touchdown and three two-point conversions.

The offensive line for the Eagles opened some big holes for Foster and Washington to run through. The offensive line includes Tom Wood, Justin Scott, Josh Byron, Earl Foster, Jon Sowarby and Michael Debner.

Defensively the Eagles shut the Cubs offense down. Defensive stand-outs for the Eagles include Jeremy Luce, Jeremy Hall, Justin Scott, Kenneth Russell, Earl Foster, Tee Washington, Tory Foster and Trey Scales.

The Eagles improve their district record to 2-1 and their overall to 4-1. The Eagles next game is at Buna.

Warriors look ahead to Homecoming after being 'out-gunned' at Stephen F.

By Cathy Allen
Sports Writer

S.F.AUSTIN - - The Warren Warriors are putting last weeks defeat to SFA of 54-7 behind them and are looking forward to their Homecoming game against Orangefield this Friday night in Warren. As usual they are anticipating a 'standing room only' crowd to turn out and show their support for this young team.

Super-Bowl veterans John Elliot, and Jesse and James Wolf, who are also veterans of Warren High, will be on hand to present the game ball, and also participate in pre-game festivities, including the coin toss.

The Wolf brothers played for Miami in the Super Bowl, and John Elliot was one of the Joe Namath period Jets. Jesse Wolf is now a Tyler County Sheriff's deputy, while his brother James and family reside in Victoria.

"We were just outgunned last week, but we came out in good shape, with no serious injuries, we'll be in good shape for the game Friday against Orangefield," said Warren Head Coach Steve DuBose.

Warren and Orangefield are tied in-district, both teams with an 0-4 record. Orangefield lost to Newton last Friday night, by a score of 22-6

The Warriors were "outgunned" for sure, but this team has got heart unmatched in the District.

John Ferguson was the leading ball carrier for the Warriors against SFA., scrambling for 63 yards, with Heath Simms leading in offensive tackles in the nose guard position. Chris Renfroe was outstanding in his efforts for the defense.

"Their speed was just too much" reported Coach DuBose. "Their special teams had us spread out"

The Warriors are playing this year with only six lettermen returning from last year. Next year they will have 20 returning who will be seasoned, and hungry for a winning season.

Warriorettes are 'setting up' for play-offs

WARREN - - The Warren Warriorettes are on a roll with 28 wins thia and a District tally of 8-1. Taking one game at a time, working hard, and playing together have been the hallmarks that have made this Warren team so successful, according to Cindy Ard, the Warriorettes Head Coach.

She went on to note that there will be "No Stopping" the Warriorettes when they take on Kountze October 25.

The Kountze players are the first place contenders in the 3A District, and the Warriorettes say they are ready for the challenge.

The Varsity Warriorette roster consists of Seniors Christie Boggess, Carrie Read, Trudi Hatton, and 'Pee Wee' Jeanes, also Kristin Duke, Leigh Ann Neal, Mandy Bell, and Danyelle Foxworth.

The Seniors are preparing for their last home game which will be played against Woodville on October 28th.

Registration still open for annual CIS scramble golf tournament

WOODVILLE - - Golfers still interested in playing in the Caring Is Sharing 8th Annual Golf Tournament scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 22, may do so by contacting the Wildwood Golf Course.

The event will be a Florida mixed scramble format and will be limited to the first 60 teams.

Entry fee is $30 per player and includes food, beverage and cart usage. Company sponsorships are available for $20 and include a drawing for a four person golf package.

Prizes include a first place team trophy and a variety of items to be given away at each hole.

Tee times are 7:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

For more information, contact Wildwood Pro-Shop manager Jim Hurly at 834-2940 or tournament chairman Ted Borowski at 283-2913.

Caring Is Sharing is a non-denominational Christian mission providing emergency aid to the needy of Tyler County.

Seaman Bell completes deployment

Navy Seaman Allen W. Bell, a 1992 graduate of Warren High, recently completed a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian Oceans with the amphibious assault ship USS Peleliu.

Bell was one of 2,000 sailors in the four-ship USS Peleliu Amphibious Ready Group, which included the 11th marine Expeditionary Unit. During the deployment, Bell and fellow crew members served three months off the coast of Somalia and helped in the evacuation of U.S. citizens from Rwanda and Burundi. The Sailors and Marines provided valuable assistance to on-scene embassy personnel, offering medical help and command and control support. The American citizens and other foreign nationals were evacuated to Nairobi, Kenya. The Navy and Marine Corps team is designed to operate overseas and respond quickly when needed. He joined the Navy in July 1992.

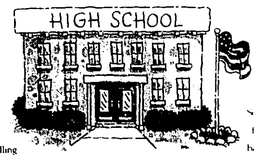
When you add a Southwestern Bell service to your phone, this becomes the receiver.



One of Southwestern Bell's favorite subjects is high schools. To prove it, we've created the School Bell Program. For every Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling or 1+SAVER™ service you buy between now and May 31, 1995, we'll make a $2 donation to the board of trustees of the high school listed below nearest you.

Help your school earn up to $1,500 from Southwestern Bell Telephone to purchase anything from fine arts programs to computer software to band uniforms. Call 1-800-234-BELL and order one of our Easy Options™ phone services today. The sooner you pick up your receiver, the sooner your high school becomes one.

Our first mission: high quality care and low costs for your family.

IT'S A CARING COMMUNITY, THIS PLACE WE CALL DEEP EAST TEXAS. A PLACE WITH NEIGHBORS YOU CAN DEPEND ON. AND SINCE 1949, WHEN WE WERE BUILT BY OUR NEIGHBORS, WE'VE TRIED TO KEEP IN MIND THE MISSION THEY GAVE US IN THE BEGINNING: TO PROVIDE HIGH QUALITY, LOW-COST HEALTHCARE SERVICES IN A HOSPITAL SYSTEM OWNED BY DEEP EAST TEXANS AND OPERATED BY DEEP EAST TEXANS.

Evangelist Bill Tisdale

Music Minister Dick Baker

First Baptist Church revival set for Oct. 23-26

First Baptist Church of Woodville will be in revival Sunday through Wednesday, Oct. 23-26 with services that will begin at 8:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, and 7:00 p.m. nightly Monday through Wednesday.

The guest evangelist will be Bill Tisdale, who has served Baptists in many capacities in the United States and in other countries over the years. Tisdale and his wife have been missionaries serving in the Philippines, and pastored in Dallas. From 1982 until his recent retirement, he was pastor at First Baptist Church in Henderson. He is also a trustee of East Texas Baptist University.

Leading the music for the revival will be Richard (Dick) Baker, known for composing "All to Thee", "Longing for Jesus", "His Way Mine" and many other well known gospel songs. Baker has had an international ministry of concerts and crusades since 1956. Billy Graham has included Baker in his crusades as song director and soloist. In 1992 he was commissioned as Minister of Music at Large by Prestonwood Baptist Church in Dallas, where he served as Minister of Music for 12 years. Baker now serves throughout the world.

Volunteers needed for VITA

BEAUMONT — The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Program, sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service, offers free tax help to people who cannot afford professional assistance. Volunteers help prepare basic tax returns for older, handicapped and non-English-speaking taxpayers. Assistance is provided in the community at libraries, schools, shopping malls and other convenient locations. Persons or organizations interested in participating in the VITA Program or wanting more information should call (409) 833-4249.

Revival at Hilltop Baptist Church

Hilltop Baptist Church of Dam B will hold its annual fall revival services beginning Wednesday, Oct. 26 and concluding on Sunday morning, Oct. 30. Services will begin at 7 p.m. each evening, and 10 a.m. on Sunday.

Guest evangelist will be Bro. Robert Cheek of Jasper, well known in this area for his ministry at the Jasper First Baptist Church. The music director will be Bro. Woody Wade, director of music for First Baptist Church of Jasper.

There will be a special attendance emphasis each night: Wednesday, persons attending services are asked to bring a staple food item to be used in Thanksgiving baskets for the needy; Thursday, Sunday School classes will sit together; Friday, persons attending are to dress in old-fashioned costume; Saturday is Youth Night. The Sunday service will conclude with a fellowship dinner at noon. Those attending are asked to bring a favorite dish. The public is invited to attend.

Caney Head revival

Caney Head Assembly of God in Silsbee will begin revival services with Evangelist Danny Stevenson and his wife, of Quitman, LA, at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 30. All other services will be at 7 p.m.

The Stevensons, who are both musicians and singers, are also veteran evangelists with a background of 16 years in the evangelistic field.

An altar call for the unsaved will be given during each service, with special music provided by the evangelists throughout the revival. The public is invited to attend each revival service. The church is located on FM 2937, Old Spurger Road, in Silsbee. For further information, please phone Caney Head Assembly Pastor D.A. Calvin at 385-3807.
