Organized Labor and Big Business To Boost Work

LABOR AND EMPLOYING MANUFACTURERS COULD, IT IS TIME FOR CAPITALISTS TO COME ALIVE AND JOIN IN THE PROCESSION TO BEAT THE SO-CALLED DEPRESSION.

Five million men on a point that zigzagged thousands of miles up and down and crosswise over the whole country went "over the top" on Saturday. G. H. Q. waited breathlessly for the word. How were things going? We win? No! Never before was such an army! Never before was such a war! Never before such a will to win! Never before such a war as this—the "war against depression."

Presently telegrams began trickling into general headquarters in the Hotel Biltmore, in New York. Resistance was nil. Job after job was being taken by direct assault on factory walls, office. Doubt and fear were crumbling under the attack of veterans old in experience.

A messenger hurried into headquarters and flung down a telegram in front of Carl Byoir and Mark T. McKee. It was from Howard Rowton, on the front at Palatka, Florida. It read:

"The Senden Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of garden and lawn furniture, of this city, placed 60 additional men to work this morning, and the president, Howard Gardner, assures the Legion of his utmost cooperation."

"This is my town big boy, and 60 men to work means one hell of a lot in a small town. I will appreciate your wiring Mr. Gardner, thanking him. This is steady employment, too. Soldiers will understand the fight profanely. Any word when one goes 'over the top.'"

"Then came the big push sketched above. The Commander-in-chief called into the breach the American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary, the American Federation of Labor, and the Associational Advertiser. They were put under orders to aid a recovery of jobs by finding a million jobs. "Zero hour" was set for 8 o'clock in the morning of February 15. That's what all the excitement was about; explains why employers were waylaid at the breakfast table, on the street, or in their offices. That is why so many men today are wearing smiles above their tatters."

"The battle is to go on until the objective is gained. From coast to coast and from Lakes to Gulf the campaign to put a million workers back on the pay rolls is on. "The battle-line against depression" is complete," runs the statement issued after a conference at the White House of President Hoover, Henry L. Stevens, Jr., national commander of the American Legion.

'Old Iron Sides,' Eagle of the Seas, Will Receive Homage of Beaumont and Surrounding Territory This Week

By Dean Tevis of the Beaumont Enterprise. "Old Ironsides," the historic U. S. frigate constitution, conveyed by the U. S. S. Grebe, crossed the Sabine bar shortly after dawn Tuesday morning. She slowly negotiated the channel of the jetties and at 6 a. m. passed the spot where Dick Dowling and his Forty Fighting Irishmen, in a makeshift fort just below Sabine Pass, sank the U. S. S. Clifton, flagship, and the U. S. S. Sachem of the invading federal sea forces during the Civil war. On board was Keith Hotchkiss, chairman of Mayor Emmett A. Fletcher's welcoming committee and four Boy Scouts.

The Constitution, launched in 1797, when all of Texas was a dim, unknown quality in the then far, far west, passed Fort Arthur at 7 o'clock, and reached the municipal harbor of Beaumont at about noon.

Cherished Relic The rebuilt, old veteran, most cherished relic of American sea history often called the "Eagle of the Sea," was welcomed by thousands here, and at many points up the Sabine-Neches waterway from the Gulf of Mexico. The Constitution comes here from Galveston to remain the greater part of five days. An elaborate program has been prepared.

While the Constitution was booked to reach Beaumont Tuesday afternoon, thousands of visitors were on hand ready to be admitted on the boat.

Coming was Assured One fact was certain that the Constitution was coming to Beaumont. The high mark of the Neches pined for the promised event, a question mark which, however, was erased by engineers and officials of the Gulf States Utilities company. Crossing the Neches just below Beaumont is a high power line. Arrangements were made to lower the high spars of the old vessel if necessary to allow safe passage. This news was welcomed not only in Beaumont and Sabine territory, but in 10 to 12 counties of east Texas, where the school children, more than 700 school children and adults here by motor and special train. The greater part of the out-of-town crowd will be here on Friday and Saturday. And as well, many thousands in southeastern Louisiana will send large representations.

Special Train The Southern Pacific will run a special train south from Jacksonville on Saturday morning, March 12, bringing crowds from Jacksonville, Nacogdoches, Woodville, Houston, and other points. Seven hundred school children will come from Silsbee, A. D. Rawlinson, superintendent, announces. Buna, Jasper, Newton, Baton, Hull, Daisetta, Nome, China and many other points will swell the thousands from out of town. At least 75,000 people will board the east Texas grown yellow pine decking of the revered Constitution while she is here.

Commanded by the Constitution is addressed as Captain Gulliver, informed P. F. Lawson, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Hotchkiss that his plan was to leave the Island City Monday in time to reach the Sabine bar just before dawn Tuesday. In command of the vessel are seven officers and a large crew. The U. S. S. Grebe, it is said, was a mine sweeper during the World War.

A tug from the Sabine district will meet the two vessels at the bar and assist in negotiating the channel to Beaumont. The pilots picked from the Sabine Pilot association, will board the Constitution also at the bar and they will be responsible for her safe voyage up the waterway.

Colonial Play The program for the Constitution will continue with the colonial play at the city auditorium under direction of the D. A. R. Officers from the ship will be special guests. The event occurred Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. At 10, there will be a dance for the officers at Hotel Beaumont. The colonial play at the city auditorium will be given at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. At 7:30 Wednesday afternoon the officers will be tendered a sight-seeing trip by the Sabine-Neches Automobile Association. A similar trip will be given at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

At 8:00 Friday evening, there will be a smoker at the city club for the personnel of the Constitution and the D. A. R. Officers. A dinner-dance on the Hotel Beaumont will be given for the personnel of the Constitution and the D. A. R. Officers. A dinner-dance on the Hotel Beaumont will be given for the personnel of the Constitution and the D. A. R. Officers.

That was three years before Texas won her independence, a critical time in the history of the republic and state-to-be. Her history is a long, gripping one. From 1793 to 1855 the Constitution made numerous voyages, one being her cruise around the world in 1844-45. She covered more than 52,000 miles. With the progress of shipbuilding during the Civil war, with the sailing frigates giving way to the steam monitor type, the oak-ribbed, white-painted Constitution became a relic of the past. For some years she was used by the naval academy as a training ship. In 1871, she was rebuilt at Philadelphia and in 1878, went on her last voyage abroad, carrying goods sent by citizens of the United States to the Universal Exposition at Paris. She was conveyed from Paris to New York by the steamer "New York."

Summary of Fire Protection Work During Year 1931

THE GREAT WORK OF THE U. S. FORESTRY PROTECTION IS OFFERED TO BOOSTER READERS AS EVIDENCE OF A GREAT WORK PERFORMED FOR THE BENEFIT OF TEXANS.

During the year 1931 the Division of Forest Protection, Texas, Forest Service, employed a field force of 42 patrolmen, 10 lookouts and 17 smoke chasers, in addition to which 96 resident forest guards were employed on an annual retainer basis. The average number of hours on duty per man-day was 9.25. In carrying out of all protective activities, the distribution of the hours of service fell into the following classes of work, with the percentage of time spent on each:

|---------------------|-------|
| Fire prevention | 32.2% |
| Fire suppression | 60.0% |
| Improvement | 4.0% |
| Clerical work | 3.7% |
| Sunday and holidays | 4.3% |
| Miscellaneous | 4.2% |
| Total | 100% |

The force travelled a total of 251,688 miles, posted 15,200 fire notices, visited 735 schools, and gave talks on forest protection to 51,596 pupils, distributed 57,786 copies of forestry literature, and held 10,000 personal interviews.

Through out the East Texas commercial timber region, where 12,624,000 acres of forest land is in need of protection, the Texas Forest Service is protecting 8,010,000 acres. The fire hazard was extremely high during part of 1931, when there occurred 4,385 fires, against 3,048 for 1930. Yet the area burned over per fire was reduced from 82.3 acres in 1931 to 46.6 acres. In 1931 the total area burned was 204,754 acres, compared to 244,536 acres in 1930. Losses occurring from forest fires amounted to $252,188 in 1930 and $180,705 in 1931. The two chief causes of forest fires during the past year was from incendiaryism and smokers, of which the former caused 31.2% and the latter 38.2%.

Owing to the lack of available funds that would permit year long employment, the field forces is not employed during portions of the summer and winter, when the fire hazard is low. During the past few days, however, the dry northerners have made the high grasses and forest floor highly inflammable, and the entire fire has again started to work protecting Texas timber for Texas citizens.

Another Fine Home Burned Saturday No Fire Protection

ANOTHER LAND MARK DESTROYED IN THE SATURDAY NIGHT BLAZE, HAVING TROUBLE IN SECURING SUITABLE LIVING QUARTERS. MORE FIRES WILL RESULT IN "CAMPING OUT."

Many people made the remark Saturday that it would be terrible if a fire started here for with the wind it would be impossible to put it out. About 9 o'clock that night Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lion were visiting at the John T. Lindsay home and taking a freshly roasted batch of peanuts they were settled around the fire place enjoying them and visiting, when the fire burst through into the room.

They escaped, carrying out a cedar chest and the bundle of clean clothes that had been washed that day. Some of the crowd that gathered saved some of the canned goods that Mrs. Lindsay had put up, but the fire was almost a total loss. An old colored man who was asleep in a back room was aroused and hurried out, but was discovered back in the room trying to save his few belongings, and was forced out of the burning house the second time.

The house and furnishings were partly covered by insurance. The family has the sincere sympathy of all who know them.

Of Interest to Farmers Wishing Loans

Two weeks ago the Booster carried a letter from Martin Dies about the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act. Since then the matter has taken on considerable activity, and all states have established headquarters, Dallas for Texas.

From Dallas came Fieldman Fritts to Woodville to meet the local committee, D. P. Mann, E. H. Hopson and Tom Crews. Fritts is the fieldman, and will be here Thursday, March 10, to aid in the work of making applications for loans. Loans can be secured for seed, feed and fertilizer, and all farmers who want loans should be here Thursday. In this matter of loans, however, there are certain instructions which all farmers will have to be able to meet. Farmers making a loan must agree (Number 2—Continued on Page 4)

BLONDE STAR IS BACK AGAIN

Gretna Nissen, with blue eyes, her hair like a spun gold blue, and the fairest complexion in pictures, is in Hollywood for the third time—this time to stay. Her romantic life is that of a famous Swedish dancer in "Trans-Atlantic." Fox' romantic drama which will come to the Crescent Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

She played on the European stage from early childhood, and came to New York for the Broadway production of "Bogart On Horseback."

Next, she was signed to appear in pictures, and portrayed a leading role in "The Wanderer." She continued playing in motion pictures for more than a year in Hollywood, but finally returned to the stage.

Then Fox persuaded her to play with Charles Farrell in "Fate," after which she again returned to the New York stage. Fox Films, however, persuaded her to come back to play Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe in "Women of All Nations." She scored a success, and was given a long-time contract. Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran head the cast of "Transatlantic," which William K. Howard directed.

The issue of February 25, 1932, Booster carried a story that Judge Sturrock had been called to Austin before the Texas State Highway Commission on a four-way road bridge over the Highway No. 40 bridge to Colman, and that he had been asked to advertise for bids on the bridge to Colman. The request was granted.

The following minute was received by Judge Sturrock Monday, which will show how successfully he presented his arguments to the board. Offered to Booster readers, just to keep the records straight, and published by request.

Son: "No, all the others are taken."

Teacher: "When was Rome built?"

Percy: "At night."

Teacher: "Who told you that?"

Easter Date, 1932

This is the season of the year when many persons begin wondering why Easter will occur on March 27 this year and on April 16 next year, and how the date for this church celebration is fixed. Modern determination of this movable holy day, to the date of which all other church feasts are related, is based on the Decree of Nice, held some 1,200 years ago.

Easter occurs on the first Sunday after the full moon or on next after March 21, and if the moon matures on Sunday, the feast is observed the following Sunday.

The dates of all other movable feasts depend on Easter.

The maturity of the moon is ascertained according to certain calendar rules and may differ from the actual (astronomical) full moon. These rules include as preliminaries the finding of the golden number, the epoch and the dominical letter of letters. The golden number for this year is 14, the epoch 22 and the dominical letters are C, B.

The epoch is the moon's age at the beginning of the calendar year; thus, when 1932 began, the moon was 22 years old. The golden number for any year of the Christian era is obtained by adding one to the number of the year and dividing by nineteen, the remainder being the number sought. For this year, 1932 plus one equals 1933, divided by nineteen equals 1011 and fourteen over, the golden number then being fourteen.

The dominical letter is the letter which, in almanacs, denotes Sunday, or the Lord's day. The first seven letters of the alphabet are used to designate the first seven days of the year, and are repeated throughout the year, the same letter standing for Sunday, except in a leap year when it differs after February 29 because of the intercalary or extra day. The dominical letter for any year is the letter preceding that of the year before, unless it is leap year, when the letter for January and February is the first one and that for the rest of the year is the second one. Thus, for January and February this year Sunday occurred on the dominical letter C, and for the rest of the year it will occur on the dominical letter B.—Platdealer, Corrigan.

Society

The Wedding Ring Club met Friday with Mrs. William Gordon with eleven members present. A very pleasant and interesting afternoon is reported and the club meets next week with Mrs. E. A. Pedigo. Refreshments of strawberry ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Cordell Collier of Hillster entertained at Bridge Monday afternoon, and Mesdames A. R. Jackson, Dave Mann, Wallace Shular, Carlton Young, John Hunter, C. H. Hightower and Bennie Dismuke from here enjoyed the hospitality. Mrs. Hightower won high honors and Mrs. Dismuke cut consolation. A delicious serving of peach pie and coffee finished a very pleasant afternoon and Mrs. Collier's friends are sincerely glad she has moved back from Longview.

Mrs. Alban W. Harrison entertained the Thursday Bridge club last week at three tables. Thoughts of good old Saint Patrick were brought to mind by the green and white decorations, cards and flowers with mint cup of coekey little green hats, and in the lovely frozen salad, wafers and need drink served. Mrs. W. O. Harrison won honors for high score. Mr. Mattie Healy cut consolation and Mrs. Frank Pain received the most prize.

A decidedly pleasing affair was enjoyed Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Carlton Young assisted by her mother, Mrs. G. C. Lowe entertained the Junior Bridge Club and a few guests at the latter's home at five tables of bridge. The spring season motif was carried out in daintily flowered table cards and score pads and clusters of sweet peas, roses and fern added beauty to the rooms. Glowing fires placed only made the scene more festive. The old King Card descended to that day and feast. Best Texas wonder if the fruit and gardens and strawberries, which are about to market here, were to be killed. A delicious two-course serving of strawberry pie, strawberry angel food cake and coffee, each table tray bearing a centerpiece of sweet peas, roses and fern. Mrs. C. W. Richards carried off honors for high score, Miss Myrtle Petty cut consolation and Mrs. R. E. Pennington received guest prize. One out of town guest was present, Mrs. Cordell Collier of Hillster.

NUMBER TWO

Those wishing loans should see either the county agent or call at the Woodville bank and ask for Dave Mann. Those who do not get here Thursday, however, will not be excluded from procuring loans, as the committee named above will receive applications and see to putting them through to conclusion of negotiations.

Next week the Booster will publish an exhaustive set of rules that must be followed in any and all instances where loans are desired. There are some 20 of these rules, and there is also a bunch of red tape to wade on through in order to secure a loan for those who can come up and across for the several specifications. There are several clauses that make it possible for tenants to secure aid.

The government is going to be safeguarded in these loans. In this connection we print paragraph No. 9 as follows: "What is a Note—The note is a promissory note, supplied by the Secretary of the Agriculture, executed in the amount of the application and not to exceed $400, maturing Nov. 30, 1932, and BEARING INTEREST at the rate of 5% per annum. But paragraph 20 states: "The notes are due and payable Nov. 20, 1932, or sooner if the crops covered by the mortgages are sold prior to that date. Full instructions as to the methods of payment will be sent to each borrower before Nov. 30, 1932."

Right here the Booster wants to say the government intends to get its loan back plus interest—when due.

The Booster's advice to farmers in Tyler County is to ask for no loans, if it is humanly possible to get by ANY OTHER WAY. Do not mis-understand we are NOT KNOCKING, but it may cause considerable inconvenience, if for some good and sufficient reason the note and mortgage can not be redeemed at payment time.

If Mr. Hyde was the daddy of all this loan, note, mortgage, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, we would and could write a newspaper full. Hyde was Missouri's governor when we owned and operated a newspaper plant in the "Show Me State." Fortunately, however, Hyde is only secretary of Agriculture in President Hoover's cabinet.

oil cans and rags, indicating that Monget had been cleaning the weapon.

An investigation into the death was made by L. S. McGuire, Justice of the Peace. He said this afternoon that his verdict would not be ready until the following day. Shock and grief of the members of the family prevented continuance of the investigation today.

He admitted, however, that indications were that Monget came to his death either as a suicide or through accidental discharge of the gun.

So far as could be learned, no one was in the house at the time the fatal shot was fired. Mrs. Monget was at the home of a friend who was sick, while Mrs. Page was visiting a neighbor.

Neither did anyone hear the shot fired. McGuire said that the sound of the discharge was not loud as the gun is of small calibre.

No notes of any kind were found about the house or in the man's clothing that might point to a suicide.

An investigation of the death was also made by J. I. Hebert and I. Kider, city detectives; A. R. Bradley, fingerprint officer, and C. J. Prohl, motorcycle officer. They also said it was a case of either suicide or accidental death.

Mr. Monget is a brother-in-law of J. P. Gardner of this county. Mr. Gardner hurried to Port Arthur as soon as the sad message came, and friends and neighbors are in deep sympathy with him and the stricken family.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

The word was passed on the Booster Tuesday that the city is ready at this time to gravel all sidewalk curbs where the owners of the property will grade and otherwise prepare the sidewalk locations for a topping. This should be good news to many property owners who would appreciate assistance in improving their holdings. Just get the ground ready and notify either of the City Commissioners.

PORT ATHURIAN IS FOUND SLAIN

Port Arthur, Tex., Mar. 3—The lifeless body of N. Gayle Monget, about 48, Gulf Refining company employee, was found lying on the floor of the kitchen of his daughter, Mrs. Audrey Pace, 2329 11th street, at 3:30 this afternoon. He lived at 2529 11th street. A .32 rifle with one bullet discharged, lay a few inches from the man's head.

The bullet entered the man's body between the third and fourth ribs on the left side, about an inch from the breast bone, probably causing instant death. The ball went through the body and buried itself in the wood of a chair in which the man had apparently been sitting.

The body was slumped on the floor in front of the chair. Alongside the gun were two cleaning rods, several

MANN, SANDLIN, KELLEY WIN IN PRIMARY

The Primary election held last Saturday with George McAllister and Charlie Smith as judges, clerks and statisticians of election resulted in a bit of scratching, but in the election of Dave Mann, mayor, Commissioners, Jay Kelley and Marlin Sandlin, which was the ticket as printed.

There was not very much excitement and the day was a regular exposition of the good old-fashion love feast—the kind that the country at large, apparently, will have none of at the primaries that are in the making here, there and yonder.
