Connecticut Sweat Shop Curse Made Possible by Laws of the State

Ten cents is the pitiful weekly wage of a girl apprentice in a Connecticut sweat shop.

For a dime she works fifty-five hours.

At the end of three weeks, when she has earned thirty cents for 160 hours of work, she may get a regular job—at $3 to $5 a week.

Or she may be discharged. Revelation of these shocking conditions sends a wave of indignation across the State. Governor Cross and a number of papers unite in a demand that the evil be stamped out.

But how? Under the present State laws, the Labor Commissioner says he is helpless to act. Until the Legislature meets to change them, officials are trying to hit upon some temporary remedy.

Disclosure of the conditions was made in a dispatch by Boyd Lewis, New Haven correspondent of the United Press, who quotes Joseph M. Tone, Commissioner of Labor and Factory Inspector.

Connecticut girls work fifty-five hours a week for as little as $1.97, to avoid starvation or the streets, the Commissioner said. They labor in shirt factories or needle-lofts. Learners get ten cents.

"New York's rigid labor laws and Connecticut's lax statutes have brought a swarm of fly-by-night manufacturers into the State during the past five years," Mr. Tone said. "We are helpless to act under the present laws."

It is estimated that there are between 100 and 150 sweatshops in the state, "at least fifty or sixty located in New Haven."

This "unique distinction" comes as "a distinct shock" to the New Haven Times, which says that Tone's revelations—

"Are a challenge to our smugness, and it is our sincere hope that they will jar the legislature into prompt action."

"That sweat-shop wages and hours are rampant in Connecticut is sad commentary on this day and age," asserts the New Britain Record, and the Waterbury Republican adds that "it goes without saying that the next legislature should enact laws to nip this growing industrial evil in the bud."

Vigorous language is used by the New Britain Herald—

"What is strongly necessary is to kick them out of the State. The work they give to defenseless women and children is degrading to those who allow themselves to be exploited—even in times like these—and degrading to the communities and the State."

As an immediate remedy, the Hartford Times suggests the weapon of publicity since "no man likes to be published as a gouger" and "few firms can afford to have the reputation of wickedly cheating their help."

"Private initiative can accomplish something," says the Hartford Current, by "publicity and adequate employment relief." Literary Digest, June 11, 1932.

We especially invite all ministers and their congregations to come and be with us. May all directions be set in the Holy Spirit to pray earnestly for a real revival.

Gov. Ross S. Sterling Gives Platform for 3rd Term Running On Record of Achievement

Austin, Texas.—Governor Ross S. Sterling Saturday made public an outline of the platform on which he will seek re-election. He also asked for an expression of public sentiment concerning a special session of the Legislature next fall to divert part of the gasoline tax income to the payment of county and district road bonds used in building State highways.

Revelation of these shocking conditions sends a wave of indignation across the State. Governor Cross and a number of papers unite in a demand that the evil be stamped out.

Budget Balanced Up to Now and Here Is What We Can Expect to Pay

AVERAGE U. S. CITY DWELLER OWES $114 ON MUNICIPAL DEBT SURVEY OF BONDING ACTIVITIES DISCLOSES AFTER A SURVEY

New York, June 11.—The average American citizen in 219 leading cities must eventually pay $114 to eliminate the debt of his local government.

This is $4.96 more than his obligation was in 1931, and $9.88 more than it was in 1930.

His obligation increased 4.3 per cent this year over last year, and 8.7 per cent over 1930.

And for 33 large cities net bonded indebtedness has increased from $2,608,000,000 10 years ago to $4,633,000,000 this year, an increase of 77 per cent. The population of these cities increased from 21,873,778 to 26,204,901, or 20 percent. The per capita net debt increase was from $119.27 to $176.82 for the period.

These figures are drawn from the report on city debts of C. E. Rightor of the Detroit bureau of governmental research in the national municipal review, and cover with 54 cities for which only late figures are available, more than half of all municipal indebtedness.

Atlantic City, N. J., has the highest per capita debt at $375.61. The low record was held by Springfield, Ill., with only $6.07 per head.

Other high per capita debts included Wichita Falls, Texas, $192.26.

JUDGE J. E. STURROCK IN LUFKIN HOSPITAL

Friends of Judge J. E. Sturrock will be gratified to learn that he successfully passed through the ordeal of an appendicitis operation last Friday night at a Lufkin hospital.

This was an unfortunate occurrence just at this time as the Judge is making a race to be elected as representative from the 12th Legislative District in the November election. He was hospitalized at Lufkin for several days, but is now recovering rapidly.

United States Comes to Rescue of the Valley Citrus Fruit Growers

Hartlingen, June 11.—An offer of $50,000 worth of a new bait poison, free of charge, to valley citrus growers if this section will use the poison in a thorough campaign to eradicate the Mexican fruit worm was made by the United States department of agriculture to 100 or more citrus growers assembled here Friday evening.

The offer was transmitted by State Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald, who has just returned from a trip to Washington, where he conferred with federal officials on behalf of the valley. He was accompanied here by J. M. Del Curto, state entomologist, and both addressed the valley men.

The Mexican fruit worm first appeared in the valley about five years ago but has been under control fairly well until the past season. A general infestation then broke out, and finally resulted in the federal government stopping shipments of citrus fruits out of the valley.

The federal government in its plan to aid the valley has purchased $50,000 worth of a new bait spray which it developed, in the fruit worm laboratory in Cuernavaca, Mexico. The federal government also loan the sprayers to the valley.

The growers at the meeting took immediate action requesting all mayors, city commissioners, chambers of commerce, counties and organizations to petition the federal government at once, expressing determination of the valley to carry out the campaign. At the same time plans were made to name committees in each community to see that the spraying is done 100 per cent.

Both McDonald and Del Curto explained that success of the campaign depends entirely on the general use of the spray, which will be made available immediately if the valley shows the proper interest and will be kept on hand until July 1, when the campaign will end.

TEXAS FLOUR MILL PURCHASED BY MINNESOTA FIRM

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—Purchase of the C. V. R. Smith Milling company, Sherman, Texas, by the Commander-Larabee corporation, one of the largest flour millers in the world, was announced Saturday by Guy A. Thomas, chairman of the board. The acquisition followed decision to construct a new one million bushel wheat storage terminal at Wellington, Kan.

Purchase of the Texas mill gives the Commander-Larabee organization an increase of 2,000 bushels daily flour production and 1,000,000 bushels of additional wheat storage capacity. It gives the corporation a total of 14 mills in both the North and South with a daily capacity of 40,000 barrels and a total wheat storage capacity of approximately 30,000,000 bushels.

Thomas says the corporation plans to increase the capacity of the Texas mill to more than 4,000 barrels daily.

CITY BLANKETED BY HAIL SHOWER AND HEAVY RAIN

Hail fell furiously in Houston for a few minutes shortly after 7 p. m. Saturday as the first thunder shower of the season struck many parts of the city.

The hail was accompanied by rain but fell in sufficient quantities to almost cover the ground. The stones, most of them smaller than average marble, melted within a few minutes after striking the ground.

United States Weatherman Lawrence Hite Daingerfield said that more storms of similar nature are expected and that the hail of Saturday afternoon was not unusual for this time of the year.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ode Keith will be sorry to know that he is in the Jasper hospital where he underwent an appendicitis operation last Friday night.

This was an unfortunate occurrence just at this time as the Judge is making a race to be elected as representative from the 12th Legislative District in the November election. He was hospitalized at Lufkin for several days, but is now recovering rapidly.

Some time ago Mr. Hammett suffered a very slight stroke and on Saturday another one overtook him and he passed away Sunday.

The funeral was held at the Magnolia cemetery Monday afternoon with Rev. W. F. Nash officiating.

Mr. Hammett was born March 1, 1868, and he enjoyed his life to the full.

WANTED—HOME MADE JUICE

Tuesday afternoon that high line went out of commission, the trouble originating at or near Koutuze. The message came in over the wires, "we don't know how long we'll be off." It was then that Big Cole got busy and believe it or not, in exactly one hour and six minutes the local plant was sending out juice to us "Jow down Woodvillians." All this is just another reason why there should be no modification of the 18th amendment. If they do give us beer and wines and such like—if they do succeed in putting the bootleggers out of business—if all the auto drivers in all of America can have all the drink they want—that is the kind of drink they seem to want—how in the world will The Booster be able to come out on time? You see the tipsy drivers will all be trying to see how close to the high line power poles they can drive without hitting 'em and putting 'em out of business, and occasionally one of 'em—the drivers—will turn out to let one of the post go by and then we'll all be out of juice and too, that will probably be a regular every day occurrence and the only way to protect Woodville and other towns everywhere will be to run the municipal plants. Most Woodville people are thoroughly dissatisfied with the high line proposition here and as there is a perfectly good plant located right here in Woodville, it seems the plant should be used, thereby doing away with these cases of interrupted service. Anyway folks in Woodville were glad Old Man Cole was on the job Tuesday afternoon. He got the plant going in record time.
