Big Double Circus Has Vast Program at Beaumont, Sept. 22

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Present More New Features Than Ever - Tribe of Monster-Mouthed Ubangi Savages Exhibited by Popular Demand

The colossus of all amusements, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus is definitely scheduled to exhibit in Beaumont, Thursday, Sept. 22, 1932.

The No. 1 advertising car, the first of three in advance of the Greatest Show on Earth, is now in this vicinity. Billposters, bannermen, lithographers, radio men and press agents are heralding the great event, and soon everybody will be planning for a gala visit to the world's largest "big top," the center of the biggest canvas city ever assembled to thrill entertainers and amuse a great and discriminating populace.

Traveling on four trains of double-length steel railcars, the giant of super-circuses will bring 1600 people, 1009 menagerie animals, 50 elephants, 700 horses and a herd of the largest and tallest giraffes ever exhibited.

Pre-eminent features are many. A tribe of monster-mouthed Ubangi Savages from the jungles of equatorial Africa, are presented this season by popular demand.

The Flying Codonas, featuring Alfredo, the world's only triple mid-air somersault to a hand-to-hand catch; the Concellos and Haroldis, sensational aerialists; Miss Tamara, Europe's greatest circus star; Luleita Leers, supreme aerial gymnast; The Wellendas, defying death in astounding feats on a steel wire in the peak of the big top; Al Powell, flying aerial contortionist; The Rubio Sisters, Yacopsis, Danvills and Hugony Sisters, amazing acrobats; The Riffenbach Troupe, heading the new five-continent congress of bareback stars; Maximo, beloved comedian of the slack wire—these are but a few of the stellar attractions.

There are 800 performers and 100 internationally celebrated and beloved clowns. The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey horse fair has become a feature amazing in its appeal throughout the North American continent.

THE CHESTER SCHOOLS OPEN WITH BIG ATTENDANCE

Supt. Rawlinson dropped in on The Booster folks Wednesday noon and was all worked up over the most successful opening and organization of the Chester-city schools.

He reports an attendance of 213 which is said to be larger than at any other opening date in the past. A large attendance of parents from not only Chester, but from Eton and Barnes.

Addresses were made by Rev. Lanier and Joe Feagin, a member of the Chester school board. The opening exercises also were favored with considerable of a musical program.

Prof. Rawlinson also stated that the organization of class work had proceeded with unusual dispatch and that all school assignments had been completed. He looks for a splendid school year, with cooperation of all concerned, including the school board as well as the patrons both in Chester and out over the district.

Profitable Use of Runoff Water

The Spur Experiment station reports the use of a simple and inexpensive system of diversion terraces for impounding the runoff water on June 30 from a two-inch rain resulting in the application of seven inches of water on a 120-acre tract of land. Sudan grass was planted on 35 acres of this land, and as a result of this irrigation 62 head of Hereford yearlings and 15 head of work stock and milk cows were grazed on the 35 acres from July 18 to August 15, the Hereford yearlings making a gain in a 56-day period of 3856 pounds worth 54¢ or $21.06, or $6 per acre, not including the cost of the 15 head of work stock and milk cows for the period. In addition to the grazing, a hay crop of 3000 tons was harvested, and at the same time the grazing on this land was considered better than at any other time, which illustrates the profitable use of runoff water on a small tract of land.

Compulsory School Law Observance

The following school law is published for the benefit of parents. Unless trustees have specified "one hundred certain" day all children who are not now going to school are violating the state law quoted below:

Section 305. (2892) ATTENDANCE REQUIREMENTS. — Every child in this state who is eight years and no more than fourteen years old shall be required to attend the public schools in the district of its residence or in some other district to which it may be transferred as provided by law for a period of not less than one hundred days during each scholastic year. The period of compulsory school attendance at each school shall begin at the opening of the school term unless otherwise authorized by the district trustees and notice given by the trustees prior to the beginning of such school term; provided that no child shall be required to attend school for a longer period than the maximum term of the public school in the district where such child resides.

TAX REMISSION ERROR HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

Austin, Sept. 14.—Discovery that the special session of the Texas legislature has freed corporations and others of thousands of dollars of penalties on delinquent taxes in its hurried attempt to give relief to home and farm owners was made here Tuesday. The error was in including all taxes in the penalty and interest remission, while only ad valorem taxes were intended.

It was not discovered until the bill had been signed by the governor and filed in the office of the secretary of state.

An effort to correct the bill was made just before the house closed Tuesday night when Representative Harry Graves of Williamson county and others offered a bill re-enacting the tax remission, but applying it only to ad valorem taxes.

As the penalty remission does not become effective until the delinquent tax is paid, it is believed the corrective bill will prevent a large part of the loss. Several days will be required to pass the new act, and until it is passed the remission is open to all who pay.

The error also is expected to delay adjournment of the session. It might pay Tyler County people pay taxes now when there is no penalty. This bill seems to exempt only ad valorem.

A HAPPY REUNION

J. H. Fain enjoyed a happy experience on Sunday of last week when he answered a knock at his door while eating his noon meal. The visitor asked if this was Mr. Fain, then if he was the Mr. Fain who lived at one time in Mooringsport, La. More than thirty years ago Mr. Fain had a brother there in business and he was associated with him for some time. Mr. Fain just thought it was his brother the visitor wanted to see and started to tell him so, when the other man laughed and they literally fell in each other's arms. Chums in young manhood, courted two sisters, they had been very near to each other. He had married one of these sisters, who was out in the car and another happy meeting took place. H. S. (Harry) Weston is now Traveling Freight and Passenger Agent for the L. & N. Railway. He is also Grand Commander Knight Templar and Past Potentate of Shrine Temple and had just returned from a trip to the West Coast and in Canada. His home and headquarters are in Shreveport. They stayed over until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Fain and the hours were not long enough to say all that is in the heart and many things have come to mind that Mr. Fain failed to think of then to ask about. Thirty-three years is a long time with many experiences to catch up with in just a few short hours. Mr. Fain feels that he better understands what Heaven will be, when you are face to face with loved ones, and he has an added incentive to make it his goal.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Martin and family of Fort Arthur were Sunday guests in the B. B. Martin home. Morris Johnson drove to Kirbyville Sunday and Mrs. Johnson and children returned home with him after a two weeks stay.

School Opened With Over 600

The Woodville City schools opened Monday morning with the largest enrollment ever had in Woodville. There were 600 in the grammar schools and 200 in the Kirby high. Before the end of next week there will be at least 1225 high school students.

There is considerable discussion among the patrons of the school from the rural districts as to the advisability of installing courses in vocational agriculture and domestic science. The school authorities will gladly install these courses as soon as the finances of the district will permit.

In discussing this matter with Supt. Hunter he said this to the Booster reporter: "Woodville is in a position to make vocational agriculture really worth while to those who take it. This subject is classified as a scientific subject. The basis of all scientific work is chemistry and physics. In fact it is difficult to see how any school can teach this course thor-

NEW DATE FOR BAPTIST CONVENTION

The executive board of the Baptist general convention of Texas meeting in Dallas, September 13, voted to change the date for the meeting of the Baptist convention from November 9 to November 16. The convention voted last year to meet in Abilene in 1932.

Plans were completed for the raising of $600,000 for missions and benevolences by means of the every-member canvass campaign now in progress among the 490,000 Baptists of Texas. Dr. Howard Williams, executive secretary of the board, was placed in charge of the campaign, and he has appointed 17 organizers in as many districts representing every portion of Texas.

The campaign will continue until October 30. The final week, October 23-24, is designated as pledge week, at which time every Baptist in the state will be solicited for a pledge to the $600,000 fund.

The money raised by this campaign is to be used by the Baptists for their work of missions and benevolences; every Baptist institution is to share in the funds, whether it is in Texas, in China or elsewhere. The proposition of the funds to go to each institution will be worked out at the meeting of the State Convention to be held in Abilene November 16.

Cordial Welcome to Teachers

To our local teachers as well as those out of Woodville, we extend a cordial welcome. May your work in the school room and your activities in the town and county be pleasant and profitable.

May our people appreciate each of you as they should, and lend every encouragement and cooperate with you in the fullest. In this manner,

Woodville Locals

Miss Luella Richardson was a Beaumont shopper Thursday.

Jay Richardson of Beaumont attended the funeral of Mrs. Roy Smith Monday and made a short visit with the Richardson sisters.

Miss Julia Belle Cruse returned Thursday from a visit in Jasper. Sunday she had as guests, Messrs. Tom Bunch and Kenzie Gibbs and Miss Dess Hart of Jasper.

Tom Sheffield, deputy county clerk of Jefferson county, wife and small son visited his brother, Andrew Sheffield and wife of the Harmony neighborhood last week. He was welcomed by many friends here in Woodville, for he belongs to Tyler County and was County Clerk for four years at one time.

Attorney B. C. Fuller was a business visitor in Kountze Tuesday.

If you are looking for a house or apartment, E. W. Mistrot has both. Five room house, $15, and five room furnished apartment with bath, $20. Both have running water.

Messrs. R. A. Cruse, B. B. Martin and T. A. Pitts attended the permanent pasture meeting at Enrypt Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Higgs of Sour Lake visited in the Judge W. A. Johnson home Sunday.

New Baptist Pastor Here Oct. 23rd

Rev. Ogden of Timpson preached Sunday at the Baptist church and at a meeting of the board in the afternoon accepted the call as pastor. He will take up his duties here the 23rd of October. In the meantime the plans are to build a home for him just south of the church.

Rev. and Mrs. Ogden have four boys who will enter school here in Woodville and the church members as well as friends sincerely hope they will like their new home.

Just a hint to the wise. Preachers and editors have a lot in common. Any town or community is always interested in the new comers. Of course, everyone knows when they arrive, and all about it. In this family there are just six of you all to get acquainted with, but they will need to learn all of Tyler County. Don't feel that because you went up Sunday and shook hands with Mr. Ogden that he should call you by name, when you shake hands next time mention your name again. It will soon register, and he will always know who you are. Such little things help the new comer, whether preacher or those of other walks of life, and each and every one of us expect and intend to help this new pastor to love his church, the people of Woodville and the County.

The more love he can cultivate the more good he can do. Another thing, if there are any little differences in town, among families or maybe in the church, keep it to your self. Nothing hamper and fetter a preacher as being told the situation. Let him meet it his own way when it stands in his way or hinders the church work. I wish every one in the world would read each morning the 5th and 2nd verses of the 3rd chapter of James, also the 10th verse of chapter 2, and I could and would be safe to wager my life that there would be fewer gray hairs, no broken hearts, more lasting friendships, happy homes and better churches.

Any church is wasting its money if the members of that church dare lay a straw in the way of the pastor leading the church to victory, unless he, himself, makes it impossible for his members to stand by his side, and stand for right, also.

Yes, I shall sign my name to this. I am perhaps taking advantage of my husband, for he says often that I fall to understand that this is a newspaper and not a religious publication, but you who read the Booster know that if The Booster stays in Woodville, and its going to, because of the business opportunities, the owners are poor business managers, but if The Booster can help make Tyler County a better place in which to live, bring a little cheer and happiness into homes it enters, I will feel well repaid for any sacrifice and heart ache that comes, because of my standing where, I feel the All Rolling Power has put me for a reason, and who am I to question that reason? MRS. J. H. WILLARD.

State Farm Need Put At $10,000,000

Dallas, Sept. 8.—Owen W. Sherrill has advised Jesse Jones, director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, that conditions in Texas justify a $10,000,000 capitalization instead of $3,000,000 for the State Agricultural Credit Bureau.

Sherrill who is regional manager for the corporation, said the need for government financial aid had not been eliminated by the recent rise in commodity prices because "three years strain has left available credit short of ability to carry out the necessary program."

He predicted that Congress would be forced to reauthorize farmer loans for 1933 in certain areas unless the Reconstruction Finance Corporation makes proper provision. In this connection he referred to current reports that the new credit organization would give relief only to livestock producers.

"Huddle" Brings Ramon Novarro to Crescent Theatre Sun., Mon., Tues.

Star's Characterization in Campus Romance Far Cry From All Previous Roles

Following his outstanding success in the role of the young officer in "Mata Hari," Ramon Novarro comes to the screen in an entirely new characterization in "Huddle" to be shown at the Crescent Theatre, Sun., Mon., Tues. He portrays the role of Tony Amatto, mill hand in a large steel plant, who wins a scholarship to Yale University. His efforts to adjust himself to a strange social environment by the right of brawn and athletic achievement are a stirring basis for the story.

Sam Wood, famous for "So This is College" and his recent filming of the entire U. S. C-Notre Dame game, directed the production with one of the strongest supporting casts of the year.

Madge Evans, who scored a distinct hit as the feminine lead in "Lovers Courageous," plays opposite Novarro for the second time in her career. Her first appearance with him was in "Son of India," which started this popular young player on the way to success as a talking-picture leading man.

Una Merkel, the girl with that old southern drawl, who made such a hit as the crying wife in "Private Lives," plays a Southern girl who stirs things up on the Yale campus.

As the fighting coach of the Varsity football team, Ralph Graves is given an opportunity at one of the virile type of roles that are his specialty. Prominent roles are also filled by John Arledge, Frank Albertson, Kane Richmond, Martha Sleeper, Henry Armetta, Ferike Boros, Rockcliffe Fellows and Joe Sauters. The picture is an adaptation of the Francis Wallace story.

Read "1 out of 100" Town Merchants

As I write this I have before me a big city newspaper having a circulation of 200,000. Here is the advertisement of a grocer in an outlying residential section. Not more than 10,000 families lives within trading range of his store. Because the pages are crowded with other ads, probably not more than one out of five of that 10,000 sees it.

Only one of every 100 readers of that big city paper is useful to that merchant! He pays for 99 others—99 out of every 100—which are wasted readers to him. And there are many such advertisements in the paper. Contrast this with your weekly newspaper. Everyone is a prospect. Everyone is within trading range. Everyone reads every page because on these pages is the most interesting news in all the world: news about people they know.

No city newspaper can compare on a basis of page-to-page readability. No city merchant has the advantage you have, Mr. Merchant, in the advertising columns of your home County Paper, The Booster.

I asked the city grocer mentioned above if his advertising is profitable at the high rate he has to pay. At first, he said, it was not, but after using it regularly he finds that it pays. I told him then of the opportunities small city merchants are passing up to use, at low rates,

Use of Post Cards As Duns Illegal

Postmaster Roy Nichols Wednesday issued the warning that postal cards which are used to "dun" persons for unpaid bills are illegal mail matter and the senders are liable for criminal prosecution. This habit of some collection agencies and individuals who seek to embarrass debtors by demanding payment through the medium of the open-faced postal card is considered a pernicious one by the post-office department. Mr. Nichols said, and a federal statute provides for the punishment of such violators.—The Houston Post.

What Are We Going to Do About Silver

It has been dramatically said that silver, as a money, is the poor man's gold.

The most populous nations of the world are on silver standard of coinage. They know no other medium of exchange. And when the price of silver is debased, as at present, it means that the purchasing power of those countries has been cut to sixty fifty or forty per cent of its former level. That, in turn, means that the gold standard countries have lost great—and vitally needed—foreign markets.

The whole future well-being of the world is intimately related to the question, "What are we going to do about silver?" The economic status of hundreds of millions of people is largely dependent on the answer. The monetary problem reaches into every community, every home—and touches every pocket book.—Industrial Review.

He cut loose with criticism of those merchants that was so vigorous and forceful I could not repeat it here without fear of wounding the sensitivities of the readers of this paper.—By Bruce B. Dr. Tate and family have made many warm friends in Colmesneil who extend to them their most heartfelt sympathies. Details of the funeral arrangements will be given next week.

Society

The Thursday Bridge Club met last week with Mrs. Johnnie Wakefield at two tables. Mrs. T. C. Rock held high score. Mrs. Carl Lem cut and Miss Mary Martin received guest prize. A delicious salad course and iced tea were served.

The monthly meeting of the W. M. U. was not as well attended last Wednesday as was hoped for, as it was annual election of officers. A very splendid program was put on by Circle No. 1 with home missions (love) as the topic. Mrs. M. C. Tatum was elected president for the ensuing year and Mrs. Sims was re-elected Secy-Treas. Instead of the circle being formed by drawing names, four neighborhood circles will in Woodville add one east of town. The ladies of the church feel a deep responsibility for the coming year's work and urge all members to attend these circle meetings. The larger number in attendance, the more interesting the lesson, and it will help and inspire you to get together and study, plan and work for the great Leader, who left the order to His followers to spread the gospel.

A very lovely and happy affair was given at the J. B. Best home Saturday night when the daughter, Miss Wilma Douglas, entertained some 30 of the young people in honor of her cousin, Wilson Harrison, who leaves today to enter State University. The rooms were more beautiful with a profusion of native flowers and at a late hour brick ice cream and cake were served. The Misses Lois Lee Feagin of Colmesneil, Martha Alams of Kountze and Jean Saunders from Nacogdoches were the out of town guests. The Misses Feagin and Alams were week end guests of Miss Best.

Monday of last week Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hargett and Mrs. J. C. Sanders and daughter, Miss Margaret Cecil, of Richards, drove over to help the 88th birthday. A wonderful dinner was enjoyed with a birthday cake that delighted the eye. Mrs. Donna Elizabeth Hargett returned home with them after a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Oakley and Mrs. Martha Hewitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Masterson and Mrs. Hershel Neel of Beaumont came up Sunday and Mrs. Masterson stayed over. The mother, Mrs. S. E. Masterson returned home with her Wednesday.

On Texas Farms

After saving $600 on grocery bills in the last year by cutting feed expenditures from $60 per month to $6, Mrs. R. C. McFarlane of Port Neches Demonstration club explains her system. "We have 58 varieties in our year round garden that cost us only $10, and I will have over 500 cans of food when the season is over. We buy only cereal, lard, bacon, sugar and flour from the store and raise the balance ourselves."

Twelve cars of tin cans sold in Coleman county this year, besides large quantities of glass jars, jar tops and tin lids, leads the home demonstration agent to estimate that a total of 884,000 containers of food will be put on farms there this year. Home demonstration club members report helping 486 women not club members with their food preservation.

With a total cost of $37.12 Van Vandt 4-H club girls have made their bedrooms attractive.

Double the sale price for his feed is what Ernest Bulloud, Hartley county farmer, says he made by selling his enormous feed crops through 261 steers under county agent direction. The first 50 sold topped the Kansas City market. He became interested in feeding through his 4-H son who has fed baby heaves three years.

Hogs on Camp county farms have increased 50% in number and 25% in quality since four years ago when 25 club boys began raising registered pigs, the county agent estimates.

It Takes Feed to Make the Fatted Calf

That they may really kill the fatted calf and not a tough and skinny one at butchering time next winter, Roy W. Snyder, meat specialist in the Extension Service at Texas A. & M. College, advises farmers and ranchers to start now to feed calves for home slaughter. "Tender, juicy, tasty meat comes only from high quality animals that weigh as slaughter calves from 500 to 900 pounds," he says, "and to get such a finish a calf should be fed at least 90 to 150 days. There is no magic in canning that can change a scrubby, immature rough and rangy calf into choice beef."

"A calf that has had milk and good grazing will be acceptable," he continues, "but can be much improved by feeding. A practical method is to feed calves oats, shelled corn or milo before weaning. To a weaned calf in a dry lot, supply all the hay it will eat, all the fattening feeds such as shelled corn, crushed ear or milo heads it will eat without scouring, and 1 to 1 1/2 pounds per day of cottonseed meal, or a limited amount of cottonseed, not to exceed 2 1/2 pounds daily. At the start a calf will consume about 2 pounds of grain per day, and this will gradually increase to 10 or 12 pounds per day."

"A beef-bred animal should be fattened if possible. It yields more choice, thick muscles than a dairy-bred animal; lays on fat through the lean muscles, thereby increasing tenderness; yields a superior white, crisp fat; and the lean muscles are a bright, attractive red color. Select a deep, thick, compactly built calf in preference to a rough and rangy one, because the former will carry more natural fleshing and will fatten more uniformly. Fatten the best animal available, regardless whether it is steer or heifer. Heifers fatten a little quicker, but few people can tell the difference in the carcasses. Always select for killing a thrifty animal and never one that is losing weight."

Mrs. Mary Reid Smith of Village Mills died in a local hospital yesterday morning after an illness of three months. She had been a teacher in the Village Mills schools the past two years.

Mrs. Smith was 37 years old and a daughter of the late Judge Andrew Reid, prominent members of the Tyler County bar. She is survived by her husband, Roy H. Smith of Village Mills, a son, Roy Smith, three brothers, Lloyd Reid of Fred, Texas; F. P. Reid of Houston and S. S. Reid of Beaumont; three sisters, Mrs. T. W. Weaver of San Antonio, Mrs. P. J. Robertson of Beaumont and Mrs. Jim Neely of Hicksburg, Texas.

Funeral services in charge of Rev. R. E. Connell of Port Neches Methodist church, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Broussard chapel. Burial will be at Woodville, where a brief service will be conducted by Rev. Taylor of Kountze at 3 o'clock this afternoon—Monday's Beaumont Enterprise, Sept. 12, 1932.

Tyler county friends gathered at the Magnolia cemetery Monday afternoon, with truly sorrowing hearts as the last sad rites were held for Mrs. Smith. Mary Lee, as she was known as a girl, and lovingly called among those who gathered at her grave, was undoubtedly a splendid christian character. Born and reared in this county, daughter of Judge and Mrs. A. G. (Andrew) Reid, she graduated from the Woodville high school later coming back to teach in her home town. Beloved by all who knew her for her sterling honesty and deep rooted belief in christianity, which she strove at all times to live up to. As the writer inquired about her, and was told of her sweetness, friendly ways, and christian life, the thought came oh, that she can hear these things and know that her life was worth while. Her bereaved husband and small son have the sincere sympathy of all who knew her. Her parents are not living, but were well known by all in Tyler County. It is said that Judge Reid held every office in Tyler County. A large crowd from Village Mills and Kountze attended the funeral and if it had been known out over the county many friends of other days would have been present. The Methodist pastor of Kountze and Baptist pastor at Village Mills were in charge.
