Maiden Efforts Bloom in Court

Court opened Monday and things began to happen immediately. His Honor, Thos. B. Coe, charged the grand jury and Uncle Tom Crews was appointed foreman for the session.

Court then opened and the following cases have been on trial as The Booster goes to press.

Olaf Oxford plead guilty and received a penitentiary sentence on a liquor charge. Jodie Oxford, received a 2-year suspended sentence on a like charge.

Tuesday Keeler Fee and J. B. Calloway, both up on cattle charges, plead guilty. Fee was assessed a 4-year suspended sentence, while Calloway received a suspended sentence.

Phonie Wright, colored, up on a bootlegging charge, had a sure enough jury trial, and both defense lawyers and prosecuting Attorney Smith went to the mat in trial.

The trial took up most of the afternoon and the jury received the case about 4:30 p. m., immediately going into "executive" session up in "Nigger Heaven." They entertained only two interruptions—one for supper and the other at about 1:10 a. m., when they agreed to disagree.

It was quite a treat for the sideline fans to take in the battle between two cuts, Sturrock and Sandlin, and the battle scarred veteran, Clyde Smith. It must be said the cuts conducted themselves with credit and their dearest enemy, Prosecutor Smith, wasn't bearing down as hard as he's been known to, in fact when Smith really gets warmed up he can tell any of 'em several things which sort of echo through the court room and reverberate down through the chambers of accredited legal canyons. Smith was, to say the least, charitable.

The sidelines were predicting a verdict for the defendant. Others were wondering how many years in duranceville would Phonie Wright exist while pondering the advisability of being careless in the little matter of citizenship.

Well, the cuts won a jury disagreement, and they do say Phonie ran all the way from the county jail to Judge Sturrock's home to spread the glad tidings, before departing for his humble abode in the Warren neighborhood.

Wednesday another cattle case is being tried in which there is a very considerable interest—sort of a hold-over case from a previous term, account of which will be published in next week's Booster.

Woodville Locals

Mrs. J. R. McCombs went on from Grand Chapter to Stephenville to visit her son, Robert. She also will visit her mother, Mrs. McCoy at Somerville.

Mrs. E. W. Mistrof spent part of last week with her son and family in Nacogdoches.

A. N. Starr and son were Beaumont visitors Saturday.

Miss Madge Dean returned Sunday from a three weeks' stay in Jasper. While there she underwent a minor operation at the hospital and her many friends are sincerely glad she is feeling so splendidly.

Society

Saturday night the spacious home of C. M. Davis was opened to the football boys and their friends, with Miss Marguerite as hostess. Some fifty of the younger set was present and the early hours of the night was spent in music, dancing and bridge. At a late hour sandwiches and orange punch also chocolate candy were served.

Mrs. Marlin Sandlin entertained the Friday bridge club last week at three tables. Out of town guests were Miss Mary Emerson Sparger and Mrs. John Reid. Mrs. Fletcher Barclay carried off honors for high score and Mrs. Edwin Thompson received cut gift. A delicious salad course with coffee was served and enjoyed.

The Study club met Tuesday with Mrs. Martha Hewitt. Eight members were present and a great deal of joking was felt and expressed that Mrs. Henry Evans was again able to be present. Blake and Burns as members among the English pre-formations were discussed; led by the

Kirby High Wins Conference Game

The Woodville Eagles have come across with another win in a conference game. Up to now the team has gone on without a defeat—that is to say games played outside of the conference are not charged against the team average.

As in two previous games, after the Eagles had shown enough class to satisfy Coach Telford and had made a touchdown, second and third string men were substituted for regulars, and those subs gave the opposition plenty of amusement.

Some of these youngsters are getting some great experience and not a few of them can be used with the first string in case of emergency.

The Eagles journey to Corrigan this week to take on a team which on paper looks tough, but which has not been burning up much this season. They have the reputation, however, of making the opposition go some to get the winner's end of the spoils.

The next conference game has been slated as with Buna, and with the Eagles working right The Booster's guess is a count of 36-0 for Kirby High.

The attendance at the games at home has been fairly good, and the team's sponsors hope the number of paid admittances will be stepped up during the remainder of the schedule. The final score in the Kirbyville game gave Woodville a 26-2 margin.

ONLY AMATEURS PAST 70 ALLOWED IN LIARS CLUB

Only amateurs past 70 years of age can compete this year for the title of champion liar of the United States.

To keep the contest clean, the committee of the Burlington Liars Club, of Burlington, Wis., which annually conducts the competition, has ruled that professionalism shall not be permitted. Politicians are barred.

Entries already have been received from 14 states. Judging will take place New Year's Eve and the winning letter announced immediately. Orlin Butts, Bay City, Mich., is the present champion.

The yarn that won for Butts last year ran something like this:

"Several years ago I worked for a farmer who was attacked by a bull. The poor fellow was torn open and badly mangled. There being no doctor in the vicinity, I killed a sheep and transplanted the vital organs to the farmer. Strangely enough, the man lived, but he developed strange characteristics. He refused to sleep in the house and moved to the barn. He ate only cornstalks and grew a fine set of horns. Last year they took 40 pounds of wool off him."

PAVEMENT ON HIGHWAY THIRTY-ONE COMPLETED

The last unpaved gap on Highway 31 between Athens and Tyler has been finished with pouring of asphalt topping last week by the McClung Construction Co. The road will be opened immediately for traffic and will give a completely paved highway from Tyler to Dallas via Athens. Inasmuch as the Dixie highway will be under construction all winter practically all the traffic from East Texas to Dallas should be routed that way.

The eight mile stretch between Brownshoro and Chandler which will be completed immediately was started just a few days less than a year ago. Only a short strip in Kickapoo bottom remains untopped and this will be heavily graded and allowed to set until next spring when it will be given an asphalt topping.

The above is from the Athens Review and should be read by all motorists who plan to visit Dallas.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this opportunity of thanking each and everyone of our relatives and friends for their kindness and words of comfort to us during our great loss, the going of our little Gloria. Red Cross Roll Call Membership Drive

It is a fact, the local chapter of the Red Cross is thoroughly alive and the several committees are all functioning.

Mrs. P. H. Powell, chairman of the committee which was to ascertain who were in need of clothes, has completed her work and the chapter's request for government aid in this matter will soon be considered.

The Red Cross Drive which starts on Armistice Day and continues until Thanksgiving Day is soon to commence functioning. Mrs. J. H. Willard is chairman of the membership drive and will within a few days visit Chester, Rockland, Colmesneil, Doucette, Emilee, Fairview, Spurger, Fred, Hillister, Warren and Hicksburgh.

So there will be no misunderstanding as to how Red Cross funds are used. The Booster hereby states it is a strictly 50-50 proposition. One-half of

DEATH OF TYLER COUNTY PIONEER

Robert Dean, son of Jessie and Ann Dean, was born on July 15, 1871, in Georgia, the family moving to East Texas when Mr. Dean was a small boy. In 1897 he married Miss Laura Barclay of near Chester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hensbrow Barclay. To this home came three children, Bergen and Mrs. Betty Hicks of Emilee and Mrs. Kirby Griffith of Woodville, who with the bereaved wife and mother are left to grieve over his going. Some sixteen years ago Mr. Dean suffered with abscess on his lungs. A number of times since he has had pneumonia and some four years ago an abscess, again formed, but he rallied and the doctors assured him that his lungs were not affected. Some two weeks ago the abscess again formed and he passed away on Wednesday of last week.

Rev. Rich Huff of Village Mills and Rev. A. T. Nash at Emilee had charge of the funeral services at the Hopewell cemetery the following day, Thursday.

A consecrated member of the Baptist church for many years, he lived in a church organized at Emilee just a few weeks ago. It will be remembered that Raul Norton had planned to take a part in this organization the day of his unexpected death. Mr. Dean will be sadly missed in his home community. Though quiet and unassuming, his kindness and integrity is outstanding in his life and it will be hard to fill his place in many ways.

He also leaves four brothers, Ed and Joe Dean of Emilee, Oscar Dean of Port Neches and Dr. Nathan Dean of Houston, and two half sisters, Mrs. Mattie Ivy of Huntington and Mrs. Mary Springfield of Bessmay. Among those attending the funeral from out of the county were the brother from Houston, the sister from Huntington, the family of Oscar Dean of Port Neches, he was unable to come, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Barclay and Mrs. Ruth King of Ludkin, Mrs. Milton Crow of Bullard, Mesdames Walter Lybarger and Gladys Hendrix of Beaumont and a niece from Long Beach, Calif.

A PRECIOUS WIFE AND MOTHER PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Sam Chambliss, nee Miss Violet Douglas Hair, died October 12, 1932 after an illness of almost nine weeks. Miss Hair was born January 14, 1879, near Camp Ground. She lived there almost all the time until she married. She was united in marriage with Sam Chambliss on December 23, 1898. To their union were born eight children, five girls and three boys, all of whom are living except one boy.

She was a precious wife and mother, also a friend and neighbor to everyone. She was not only a mother to her children, but to everyone she knew.

She left to mourn her death, her husband, Sam Chambliss, seven children, Misses Myrtle, Kittie, Rosa Belle, and Jessie V. Chambliss and Mrs. S. D. Turner and Willie and Charlie Chambliss and six grand children and her step-father, J. D. Ward of Doucette, four sisters, Mrs. G. C. Meadors of Brookland, Mrs. R. O. Chesson of Beaumont, Mrs. Jack Barbin also of Beaumont, and Mrs. Claude Kersh of Cheek; and two brothers, Harry Hair of Devers and Bonnie Ward of Doucette. Also a host of relatives and friends mourn her passing.

Written by a daughter,

the dollar remains with the local chapter and the balance goes to the parent organization.

The Red Cross is, as has been stated millions of times, "America's Greatest Mother," and contributions through membership is one of the ways the Red Cross finances itself.

During the World War everybody knew all about the Red Cross. National and international disasters since the signing of the Armistice have again proven in actual relief work faithfully performed, that no other agency—not even excepting the government—can do the work of the Red Cross.

When the membership drive commences do your best to give your bit.

The Booster has not been able to run down the several other committees of the local chapter, but will publish the outcome of the several drives as soon as reports are available.

NEWTON AND KIRBYVILLE MEN NARROWLY ESCAPE BURNING

Two men were in the Hardy Hancock hospital at Jasper Sunday night, T. J. Hicks, horse dealer of Kirbyville, and A. M. Sharrer of Newton, former sheriff of Newton county, were hurt when their automobile collided with a gasoline truck six miles north of Kirbyville.

The presence of mind of Jim Ferguson of Kirbyville, driver of the gasoline truck, saved the lives of the two men. The gasoline in a 2500-gallon tank was ignited and the truck and automobile crushed and Sharrer sustained injuries to his neck and shoulders.

The two men had started from Kirbyville for Fort Worth to buy horses. A yearling in the road caused Sharrer, who was driving, to swerve his automobile to avoid hitting it, and he drove head on into the truck, which was coming from the opposite direction.

Although sustaining injuries to his arms and body, Ferguson crawled out from the overturned cab and pulled Hicks and Sharrer to safety.

Mr. Sharrer was a contractor on Highway 106, also 40 in Tyler county, and friends he made here will be sorry to learn of this accident. It was indeed fortunate that Mr. Ferguson was not also knocked unconscious for in that case all three men no doubt would have burned to death.

Spurger Gas Field To Test for Oil

The Spurger oil well situation grows more interesting from week to week. There seems to be a slight change from original plans as to allowing the big gasser to remain as such. In fact, the crew is now working on No. 1 attempting to deepen and finally bring it in as an oil producer.

Gas from this well, however, is being used in another well now drilling and in two more wells which are being prepared with derricks, slush pits, etc. Contrary to reports no salt water has been encountered in this field.

Three other wells will be drilled at this time and the field will be thoroughly exploited.

Leasing continues unabated and the natives are all greatly interested. Bringing in the huge gasser has also had a heap to do with creating interest among oil men from Beaumont and Houston as well as operators in proven fields.

The abstract business in Woodville has taken on new life after several false starts during the past 18 months.

DOLLAR OF SCHOOL FUND TO BE PAID

An additional payment of $1 per capita of the public school apportionment will be made Nov. 1, L. W. Rogers, superintendent of public instruction, announced recently. This will represent $1,567,704, and the payment should reach all depositories by Nov. 10.

Based on the Comptroller's estimates of the per capita funds, Rogers said the balance of the 1931-32 apportionment of $17.50, amounting to $150, will be paid by Jan. 1, 1933. Definite information, he said, can not be given now as to the dates and amounts of additional remittances. One dollar, possibly $150, of the 1932-33 apportionment also, probably will be paid by Jan. 1, Rogers said.

A FINE TRIBUTE TO R. A. LONG

There is bound to be widespread satisfaction in the refusal of the federal court to grant a receivership for the Long-Bell Lumber Company. This notable concern, which Judge Otis described as having been built into the greatest of its kind in the world, is to go on under the direction of those who created and expanded it and who have faced the reverses incident to general depression and the particular vicissitudes of the lumber business.

After a thorough examination of the facts presented, the court held they did not warrant a receivership. It was added that even if they admitted of receivership action the court would go far in the exercise of judicial discretion to prevent a receivership in such a case.

The court's reason to support this attitude went into the history of the Long-Bell company, its founding by Mr. Long's development from small beginnings, its honorable career and its notable magnitude. It was the opinion of the court that the interests of all concerned lie in the conservation of the company's assets and the continuation of the business under the direction of Mr. Long and his associates.

The victory in this case, reflecting the broad constructive views of Judge Otis, is a special tribute to Mr. Long. It vindicates his business policies. It confirms the high reputation he has achieved as a business man and a public-spirited citizen. It is especially welcome to the city that knows him and that is proud to claim him as one of its most distinguished sons.—Kansas City Times.

Hi School Carnival A Huge Success

Once again the annual school carnival has come and gone, and again people are saying that they enjoyed it. About 2:30 o'clock Friday the Mam Drag was crowded with cars and people to watch the parade. And such a parade. A gallant horse and rider in the colors of Uncle Sam headed it with the big flag held aloft.

The local high school band followed and "maded music" for all to march by. The floats, showing hours of work, the horsemen, bicycle riders, clowns, animals, children on foot, gaily dressed in Halloween colors, we would name each individually, and the writer as one of the three judges with the other two found it difficult to name winners for it all was good.

Miss Alva Lee Cobb, who bore the flag, was named first in horsemanship riding, Harold Allen Anglin as second. The Juniors received first on float and the pep squad second. The covered wagon, 7th grade, was named the most original. Best bicycle, Earl J. Gardner, second Robert Walton F. V. Smith, Jr. was adjudged best on foot and second honors went to Billy Gordon.

The camel was conceded as best in the animal display and the cat second. These all received a pass to the minstrel given that night. On the school ground you found a hot dog stand also serving chili cakes and cookies and coffee. At another you could buy home made candy and it was good, as was the popcorn. There was a car stand, a grab bar, novelty booth, a house of horrors, and a fortune teller.

At 8 o'clock the orchestra was ready for work, so were the 16 colored gentlemen who tied to the platform and grouped around Prof. J. D. Brown. The hearty laughs that provoked helped digest the many hot dogs devoured, so the night was not a continuation, though expected by many.

A total of $128.00 was taken in during the day and those who had worked so hard and willingly are hoping that even though they don't take any land bank that they at least will have money left over in a coin case.

AGED LOCAL NEGRO DIED LAST WEEK

Last week Uncle Jonce Gilder passed away at the age of 116 years as near as can be ascertained by events of his life.

Uncle Jonce was left on the plantation in Georgia to care for the white women, while his brother, O. P., went to war with a son of the house, an uncle of Mrs. K. W. Lee. The Gilder plantation was a large one and many slaves belonged to it. After the war Jonce and his immediate family came with old Marze and Misses to Texas and only a short time ago a brother died who was past a hundred years of age.

The only one now left is Milly, a sister-in-law of Jonce, who lives at Moss Hill.

WARREN FUTURE FARMERS ENTERTAIN FATHERS AT FEED

The agriculture students of Warren high school will hold their Father and Son banquet Thursday night, Nov. 3, at 7:30 in the Baptist church building.

A most wonderful dinner of three courses will be served to about 125 fathers and sons and honorary guests and speakers.

The room and table will be carefully decorated. Gold and blue will be the dominant colors. Nut cake, nuts in the form of flowers and in the form of fruit. Every program will bear the motto "F. F. A. combines with P. F. F. to make a better world." The table cloths will be navy blue with stripes of gold and blue every 20 inches. The program will be beautiful and arranged in the most suitable to the occasion.

The lights will be faded with large red roses tied with blue streamers to match the cut cup. The room will be most appropriately arranged and decorated.

The opening and closing ceremony of the F. F. A. chapter will constitute part of the students' program.

A. D. Carson, vocational agriculture teacher, is sponsor of the banquet. Mr. Fratts is to act as toastmaster.

B. B. Martin, T. Crews, S. B. Owens and others from Woodville are expected to give short but interesting talks to the boys and fathers.

Mr. Worley of Huntsville is expected as the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Carson has asked the P. T. A. of Warren to assist with the banquet. The whole district seems to be very enthusiastic over the fact that they are going to have the banquet. It will be the first of its kind to be in Warren, as this is the first year to have vocational agriculture.

A most enjoyable, inspiring and profitable time is anticipated by those who attend.

FUTURE FARMERS TO SOUTH TEXAS FAIR

The Future Farmers of the Colmesneil high school will attend the South Texas state fair on Saturday of the week. They are now under way for every member of the club and every object necessary for the fair.

COLMESNEIL FARMERS PLANT PERMANENT PASTURES

Vocational Agriculture training school members of the Colmesneil school have been busy planting permanent pastures this week. Fifteen different farmers have planted over 75 acres. All planting pastures are those that have attended the evening schools conducted at the high school, Egypt community, Sunny Dell, and Steel Grove. The unusual interest in planting permanent pastures was brought about by the co-operation of the local department of vocational agriculture with County Agent B. B. Martin and R. A. Cruse of Woodville, who have seen fit to discuss this topic on four occasions in these schools.

Mr. Cruse has one of the best permanent pastures in Texas and his story of success, and how he has managed his pasture for the past three years has been of paramount interest and a real inspiration to those hearing him on the subject.

The sizes of the pastures planted range from one to 20 acres and from 10 to 30 pounds of seed per acre. The following grasses and clovers have been planted: Italian Rye Grass, (American grown), Southern Spotted, Leaf Bur Clover, California Bur Clover, Annual Yellow Sweet clover, and Lespedeza. Most farmers are planting 16 1/2 pounds of the clover and 10 pounds of the rye grass per acre.

Next spring the spring grasses and clovers will be planted. The object of planting these permanent pastures is to afford grass grazing for the livestock the year around. Cover and soil improvement crops of oats and hairy vetch and Aviran Winter peas are being planted also, according to O. O. Miller, director of the agricultural work.

COLMESNEIL SCHOOL NEWS

The Civics club has completed its list of officers to include the following: Chairman, Claude Gray, president, Innocent Polk, vice-president; Rex Bell, secretary-treasurer; and Floy Sturrock, reporter. The motto is "Build for character, not for fame." Current events were the subject of the meeting held September 21st. The talks were interesting because the subjects were of present day issues.

Sophomores Entertain in Chapel

The sophomores presented a program in chapel last Thursday. President Lloyd Kirkland had charge of the program. Rev. Tom Campbell gave a talk to the high school. Freshmen will try their luck at entertaining in chapel next Thursday, November 3rd.

Seniors Catch Spirit

The seniors of the Colmesneil high school at a recent meeting adopted a motto, selected class colors and a class flower. The motto chosen is "Life is a picture, paint it well." Class colors, pink and gray; class flower selected was the pink rose. It is just about time the seniors decided to do something.

Recently, to our surprise, Lucille Davis, a senior, tied a nuptial knot, becoming the wife of John Crews. After a week of honeymooning, Lucille has again entered school and hopes to stay with us to the end. The Mrs. degree conferred, we are not predicting as to what kind of degree or diploma Lucille is now seeking—no doubt a Ph.D. Good luck is the wish of all in her new capacity.

Basketball Tourney Marches On

The pre-season basketball tournament being played each Friday evening at Taylor gymnasium, Colmesneil, is marching on in fine fashion and interest is growing. The largest crowd yet entered the doors last Friday evening when Baird barely lucked out on Big Sandy, 19-17; Colmesneil Bull Dogs barely showed strength enough to beat the Chester Yellow Jackets, 14-11, the score being neck and neck throughout the game. Zavalla ran away with Warren's delegation, playing a great number of players, the second and third strings played most of the game. It appears to the sports editor Zavalla is going to land far in the lead, Colmesneil trailing closely with the other teams tossing for places except Warren and it seems they will ride the lower berth all the way.

The team standings are as follows:

Team	GP	W	L	Pct
Zavalla	4	4	0	1000
Colmesneil	4	3	1	750
Big Sandy	4	2	2	500
Baird	4	2	2	500
Chester	4	1	3	225
Warren	4	0	4	000

The above listed teams will meet in Taylor gymnasium again Friday evening.

Dramatic Club To Present First Stage Play of Year

The Dramatic club of the Colmesneil high, under the direction of Miss Wilma Polk, will present its first performance next Wednesday evening, November 9th, 8 p. m. The humorous play, "The Little Clod Hopper," will be staged. Fun and love is in store for every one present. There's a laugh in every line, in every scene for both young and old. It's a corker from beginning to end. You'll miss it if you miss it.

Some of the characters follow: Epizotic Gump from Splintersville, Septimus Green, the book agent, Sissy Georgia, then Juliette Bean's boarding house is not left out. There are clod hoppers in Tyler county—but you should see these from Hickory county, Missouri.

Don't miss "The Little Clod Hopper" next Wednesday night in Colmesneil.

More Terracing Done With County Grader and Tractor

S. M. (Marvin) Barnes was the second member of the Enon evening school group to employ the county equipment to terrace a portion of his farm. Last Thursday and Friday 12 terraces were built at a cost, for the equipment, of $2.68 per hour, or a total of 15 hours for $40.20 on 20 acres. This makes a cost of $2.01 per acre. About 3,000 yards of terraces were required to protect this 20 acre field. The work was done by Commissioner J. E. Riley, with Mr. Seamans and Mr. Goolsbee operating the machinery.

This work was the result of a terracing campaign started through the evening school now in progress at Enon and conducted by M. J. Fields, teacher of vocational agriculture at Chester. Some of the lines were run on this farm by E. B. Martin, county agent, about a year ago, but were not built at that time.

In preparing the land for terracing Mr. Barnes dynamited quite a number of stumps and had the land in good shape for the machinery. Because of the removal of these stumps some very excellent work was done and the terraces meet the best recommendations for the proper height and width.

Mr. Barnes plans to eventually terrace the remainder of his farm. He has some choice land and he wishes to keep it highly productive, rather than to be forced to restore the fertility after it has been depleted by erosion.

The bride wore a gown of brown crepe with accessories in black, while the groom was dressed in blue serge. They drove back to her home late in the afternoon and enjoyed a wonderful wedding supper. The plans of the young couple have not been discovered. Their many friends wish them a long and happy married life.

Let All Texans

Do Their Duty On November 8

Voting is a solemn duty that should never be shirked. Remember when you vote for a candidate for Governor that you know takes state funds in wholesale quantities for his private use you become A PARTNER TO HIS CRIME. We had rather take our shot gun and force the treasurer into the vaults demanding the State's Funds than to vote on Nov. 8 for one whom we know will use the Governor's office to defraud the

PEOPLE OF THEIR MONEY

We will not be a party to wholesale crimes by voting for those we know practice wholesale crime when in a position of high trust.

Following our duty we can but vote for that princely gentleman
