Overcome Inactive Tuberculosis Now

Down in Jefferson county the health authorities are discovering an undue amount of tuberculosis among the school children of the public schools. That such a "discovery" was made just all of a sudden, in a community where all of the advantages of health practices are available, would bring home to less favored communities the lesson that eternal vigilance is the price of success.

If well developed cases of tuberculosis are to be discovered in the city schools, how about the community schools out over the state when all of the best practices and appliances necessary to combat the dread disease are not always at hand?

And this thought brings us home to our own county schools. It is true the State sent a visiting nurse into the county last year and her work was productive of splendid results. The most of Tyler county school patrons are wondering if this state will send in another visiting nurse this season.

There are certain things in connection with tuberculosis the public generally speaking does not know of and The Booster presents the following paragraph taken from one of the reliable medical journals, dealing on this dread disease, the findings whereof should be heeded by all—from the home and on up to human maturity.

"This disease, when inactive, may be outgrown under normal conditions of life. Living conditions are not normal now. One of the greatest dangers of an economic depression is that it may weaken the stamina of the people and make them more susceptible to disease, particularly tuberculosis."

TYLER GETS NEXT METHODIST SESSION; CANNON ATTENDS

NAVASOTA, Nov. 9.—Tyler was selected today by the Texas conference, Methodist Episcopal church, south, in session here for its 1933 meeting place.

The Rev. C. M. Raby of the Maury First Methodist church at Tyler, extended the invitation.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., will preach to the conference tomorrow night and assignment of pastors also will be announced at that time.

The delegates turned down a proposal for a collection to finance the radio broadcasting of Bishop Cannon's speech.

Reports followed one another today with the regularity of clockwork. Members of the budget committee said they were trying as much as possible to avoid retrenchment in conference work.

Bishop H. A. Boaz led the devotional service before opening the general session.

"We need men not only who can be a shepherd to the flocks, but we need men who can preach," Bishop Boaz said.

NO JURY IN FOURTH WEEK OF CIRCUIT COURT

His Honor, Thos B. Coe, announced in court Monday there would be no jury men needed for the fourth week of the present term of the District Court.

Readers of The Booster already know there is no court scheduled for the third week of the present term.

Wanted: A Night Clock Puncher

The firm of Davis Bros. thinks it is about time for the municipal corporation to install a clock punching system in Woodville and then hire a night watchman to keep these clocks punched all night and every night, rain or snow, all the year around.

It seems that when some geek wants an extra pair of shoes or pants, an overcoat or suit of clothes, he comes here, hangs around all day and when everything is quiet just naturally slips into the Davis Bros. store, loads up with whatever strikes his fancy and drives away. It's easy and up until this time no one has been able to catch in the act, and there seems to be no record of anybody serving time in the penitentiary for this kind of thing.

The look consists of one empty rack full of silk dresses, a variety of men's, women's, shoes and a quantity of women's silk underwear.

Delinquent Taxes; Pay Now: Save

The last Special Session of the legislature passed a bill remitting penalties and interest on ALL delinquent taxes provided they are paid before December 31, 1932.

If Tyler county is to receive full benefit of the bill providing for state payment of certain road bonds the past due interest, etc. on these bonds must be taken care of by the county. Other funds are equally behind. Some citizens have urged that all powers and steps be taken to collect back taxes especially in view of the fact that it is to the advantage of tax payers, to pay without interest or penalty at this time. We cannot say that attachment, suits, etc. will or will not be employed.

There is only a little over 60 days left to pay in and get these things left off of your tax bill. It takes three to four times as long to get up a delinquent tax statement or to write a delinquent tax receipt as the ordinary receipt so do not impose on your fellow citizens and on a small office force by waiting until the last few days if it is at all possible to see into these matters now.

FRANK C. HUGHES

News of the accidental shooting of his only son, Frank C. Hughes at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was received by B. F. Hughes on Monday, followed by announcement of his death on Thursday. Young Hughes in company with his business associate was preparing for an early morning duck hunt, and his friend in manipulating his gun accidentally discharged it, the full load taking effect in Mr. Hughes' leg above the knee.

He was immediately rushed to St. Luke's hospital, and after an effort to save the limb proved unavailing, amputation was resorted to. He never regained consciousness after the operation, and died at 3:45 Thursday morning.

Texas Returns to the Democratic Fold

Gov. Franklin Roosevelt breaks all existing records when he received 472 electoral votes in Tuesday's election. It will be remembered Hoover turned a like stunt when he received 444 electoral votes to beat the existing records up to that time. This shows the Democrats beat the G. O. P.s worse than when the G. O. P.s beat the Democrats in the famous Al Smith contest.

Texas seems to be basking in the sunlight of political publicity with its own favorite son, John Nance Garner, elected as vice president of these United States.

Very rarely does Texas do things in a half hearted manner. Four years ago Texas decided to side step the Smith ticket. It did and HOW.

This year Texas would have no more of Hoover and his cabinet of hand-picked political advisors, including Arthur Hyde, and the state turned in a vote of approximately 7 to 1 for the Democratic party victory.

And did Ma and Pa get to be declared victors. No, not declared, but rather elected victors. You tell 'em, and then if you feel sorry for all the things you said or did not say, why, send Pa and Ma and Ma and Pa a telegram of congratulations.

As the Booster goes to press—Thursday—it seems as though the Democratic party won everything, everywhere, worth having, except in six instances—these here 'stances' being Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and Vermont, and everybody who is not satisfied with the results had better try and pull a little election stunt of their own and see how far they'll get with it.

WARREN SCHOOL FAIR FRIDAY

Warren is to have a school fair Friday, Nov. 11. The vocational agricultural department of Warren will have an educational display. The ladies of evening schools in vocational agriculture will exhibit dresses they have made. The following merchants of Woodville have helped support this movement:

BUNA TACKLES EAGLES

Buna, the aggregation which fell before Jasper by a one touchdown margin, comes to Woodville tomorrow to engage the local eleven.

The scoreless tie to which Corrigan held Woodville has caused the team to spend many hours perfecting their attack and Buna should feel the result.

Lest We Forget—Armistice Day

We shall not sleep in Flanders' fields
In Flanders' fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below,
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders' fields.
Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch. Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break with us who die,
We shall not sleep though poppies grow
In Flanders' fields.
No poem of the World War was more widely read or used as inspiration than this poem.

How Red Cross 'Gets On the Job'

The expedition in forwarding the 5,000 barrels of Red Cross flour is an interesting story. Shortly after noon, Thursday, Sept. 29, the Washburn Crosby company of Chicago was advised of this rush shipment. Less than half an hour elapsed and the company's flour mill in Buffalo, N. Y., and two bag companies were turning out the order.

National headquarters at Washington was notified that the output would be available the next morning (Friday) before 10 o'clock. Haste was imperative, for the steamship Ponce was being held at New York until Saturday at which time the flour must be on board.

The mill at Buffalo and the bag companies deferred other operations to hurry this Red Cross flour order. The bags were made and stenciled, 30,000 of them, cut, sewn, printed and delivered to the mill at 6:30 p. m. on Thursday, demonstrating the spirit of co-operation which permeates the Percy Kent and Bemis Bag companies of Buffalo.

The flour mill, which was running on Red Cross orders, speeded up and produced at the rate of 2,100 bags an hour, so that this flour was loaded into freight cars before 7 o'clock Friday morning. It consisted of 3,000 barrels in 24 1/2-pound cotton bags, and 2,000 barrels in 140-lb. bags. The entire order was filled in precisely 17 hours after the milling company had been notified of the needs of the Red Cross.

Thirteen freight cars were by 9:30 a. m. speeding on passenger train schedule over the Lehigh Valley to the seaboard, the cars having been assembled on the Buffalo Creek railway at the Washburn Crosby mill. It is remarkable evidence of railroad efficiency to have assembled these cars from the mill belt line and made them up on the Lehigh Valley. Right of way through various terminals and yards was the order—so the Red Cross special moved forward to make the steamship by Saturday.

The flour was loaded on lighters and placed alongside the steamship Ponce at 7:30 Saturday morning. Just 41 hours after notification of the order reached the various agencies involved.

Visualize wheat in elevator bins, cotton cloth in rolls standing in bag company warehouses, printing presses working on other commitments; flour mills grinding wheat for commercial distribution, railroads busy at their accustomed tasks at 3 p. m. on Thursday—then, within 41 hours all these various materials and agencies had combined and completed the metamorphosis into flour for relief and delivered it, alongside ship 400 miles away—The Red Cross Courier.

Work Orders on Red Cross Drive 106 Now on File Well Organized

Work orders have at last been issued to Contractor Pender on No. 106 in Polk County, Trinity County line, to the Tyler County line.

Surveyors are swarming out all over that part of the road in Tyler county and up to and into Woodville, also on No. 106. It will be remembered that R. B. Smith of Dallas has this contract. The total mileage is 17.6. The working days time has been quoted at 150, and those who think they know are wagering a thin dime this end of the highway will be completed first.

Smith is now assembling his working apparatus, including a huge rock crusher, getting ready to go through with the work on schedule time.

At this time a rock bed not far from Chester is being uncovered to find out if the rock is suitable to meet the state's requirements.

In the event this rock does not prove up it may be necessary to use the rock originating in the Corrigan quarries for the entire distance through both Polk and Tyler counties.

Society

Mrs. John Lindsey entertained the Thursday Bridge club last week at three tables. As each table's high score was given a gift, Madame W. R. Jackson, T. C. Rock and Joe Workline were the fortunate guests. A delicious serving of pie and coffee was enjoyed.

Mrs. Fletcher Barclay of Chester entertained the Friday Bridge club for the third week at three tables. One of the high scores was given a gift, Madame W. R. Jackson, T. C. Rock and Joe Workline were the fortunate guests. A delicious serving of pie and coffee was enjoyed.

Wanted, 'p.d.q.' Squirrel Porkers

DOUCETTE, Nov. 10.—If your dog is no good, get yourself a hog. L. B. Harris, C. L. Williams, Steve Slocum and Vinson Best, all of this place, went squirrel hunting one day last week. After hunting for some time and being unable to locate any squirrels, they became discouraged and decided there was no such animal. About that time they spied a hog running through the woods. When the hog stopped at a big tree their curiosity was aroused to the extent that they went to investigate, and to their surprise, the hog had chased two squirrels up the tree. After killing the squirrels, the hunters returned home with the happy thought that a hog was good for something besides bacon.

They are now trying to trade their dogs for good squirrel hogs.

Prof. Knight and Mr. Dean of Rockland were county seat visitors Saturday.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the many kindnesses shown us during our recent sorrow, the death of our sister, Mrs. Ella Corral.

We appreciated the beautiful floral offerings and kind thoughts of all friends.

WOODVILLE LOCALS

All are glad that Prof. Monroe Taylor is at home again and is really happy. He is well on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Warren of near Warren were county seat visitors Friday.

Miss Olive Bamford is driving a new model Ford, and her friends are congratulating her.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Keith were in Beaumont part of last week.

Keeping the Records Straight

False impressions must needs be rectified. In recognition of this fact, the undersigned advises the citizens of Tyler county of the conditions incidental to his employment at the office of The Tyler County Booster.

No contract was entered into between myself and the Gibbs interests regarding my connection with The Optimist. Existing conditions would not permit serious consideration of a permanent connection with that publication.

After a temporary connection it developed that sufficient funds were not forthcoming from that association to pay living expenses for myself and my partner. Upon realization of this fact, it became evident that other arrangements would have to be made to take care of indebtedness already incurred.
