First of Recess Appointments

GOV. FERGUSON NAMES ONE OF STAFF TO THE COVETED POST

Austin, Texas, June 6.—Gov. Ferguson today named John Wood of Timpson, Shelby county, to be chairman of the Texas highway commission. Wood has been one of the governor's secretaries since her inauguration on January 17.

Wood will take the place that the courts said Denison of Temple was ineligible to fill because the Texas senate refused to give him a two-thirds majority vote for confirmation.

Wood said he would assume his new duties tomorrow. He said he probably would call a special session of the highway commission within the next few days.

Mark Winginton, recently appointed secretary of the commission, announced the commission would meet on June 19 and 20 to award $500,000 in maintenance contracts and confer with delegations from counties seeking designations and asking other favors. Wood said he would call the commission before that date.

Denison had been named to the place occupied by the late Cone Johnson of Tyler whose term expired February 15, last.

The other commissioners are W. R. Ely of Abilene and D. K. Martin of San Antonio, appointees of former Govs. Dan Moody and R. S. Sterling, respectively. Ely has been chairman for several years. The governor has the privilege of making her appointee chairman.

The senate refused to confirm Denison's appointment, but the governor sent his name to it a second time in hope of receiving its approval. Each time she was notified Denison had "failed of confirmation" by the senate.

Wood was brought up on a farm in Georgia. He came to Texas in 1902. He covered Texas as a traveling salesman for about five years. Since 1913 he had resided in Shelby county. He has been a close personal and political friend of the Ferguson since 1914, when Mr. Ferguson first ran for governor.

FIVE CARS TOMATOES SHIPPED FROM CHESTER

Three cars of tomatoes were shipped from Chester last week, making a total of five cars to date. Monday morning of this week indicates that a steady shipment will continue for the week.

Chester growers, having had some of the earliest tomatoes in this section, have received the benefit of several days selling when the market was at its height, according to M. J. Fields, teacher of vocational agriculture. Four cars of the season were loaded at a price of from 3 to 4 cents, and all the fifth car except 204 jugs brought the farmers from 2 cents to 3 cents.

L. H. Bridges, manager of the shed, and Buck Veal, who keeps the books, report that things are running very smoothly at the shed, but that dry weather has caused an unusual amount of puffs.

Inspector C. J. Davis is still on the job to see that only quality tomatoes are shipped.

Another Score for 'Barnum Is Right'

Would you believe it? President Roosevelt has a representative in Dallas—paying your old gold—to melt it and make into money—and put it in circulation. Arouse your patriotism—give up your old gold bracelets, necklaces, rings and brooches to the government. Sacrifice for the President's sake, says the Dallas News.

That is the line of chatter which peddlers are using as a hook, line and sinker to snare the suckers of their "old gold," said William Collier, manager of the Better Business Bureau. They have been receiving many inquiries from citizens of Dallas, especially from those who are being called upon to give up more than they seem to be getting for the entire city going from house to house, posing as President Roosevelt's representative.

Woodville citizens, when anything like this happens at your home, let the bull out and get your gun and shoot the sucker through the ear.

Crop Production Loan Mortgages

WORD FROM THE CROP PRODUCTION LOAN OFFICE

Dallas, Texas, June 3.—To all Field Inspectors and Community Committees, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona:

This office has been advised that some truck crops are now moving from many sections in Texas.

Reasonable necessary marketing expense will be allowed in needed cases when marketing these truck crops, however, a strict accounting of any sale made by the borrowers must be shown. Notice is hereby given that the Government has a blanket first mortgage on all the crops grown and sold by any and all borrowers.

You may give this full publicity so no one may endanger himself or cause extra expense and that it will not be necessary to call upon the buyer for second reimbursement to the Government since a strict accounting will be expected in all cases covering all sales until accounts are paid in full. Immediate remittance should be made to the Dallas office covering any sales made by all borrowers. It is the borrower's responsibility to repay not the Government's to collect.

There have been some requests for lists. Such records are available at the County Clerk's office in every county and is a notice to all buyers. The field men, committee and county agents have a knowledge of borrowers in addition to the County Clerk's records. Due to the transfer of this organization from the Secretary of Agriculture to the Farm Credit Administration, it will perhaps be ten days before lists are compiled, but these will be furnished to those needing same as soon as possible.

This letter will serve to notify the public generally and we ask the united cooperation of the borrowers and buyers in order to eliminate future questions, controversy and expense. All remittance should be made payable to The Treasurer of the United States, and mailed to The Crop Production Loan Office, Dallas, Texas.

REMEMBER—The Government Loan was made in a time of need. It has aided continued programs. It must be repaid. Borrower's future credit ratings are now being made.

(Signed) OWEN W. SHIRRELL,

Regional Manager.

MRS. WALTON NELSON

It was with sincere sympathy that The Booster family learned of the death of Mrs. Walton Nelson, sister of Mrs. E. J. Riley of Chester. Mrs. Riley visited her some three weeks ago, and Mrs. Nelson was in her usual good health, not ill but not at all well but on Friday the 19th of May she was suddenly stricken and passed away two hours later. Mrs. Riley and one brother at Liberty are all that are now left of the family. They have the sincere sympathy of all who know them.

Left out of the breakfast given Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at Love Field by Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, and Mrs. Carter, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, left the airport Monday morning as the meal started and did not remain to bid the First Lady good-bye as she started her air journey to the coast.

The Fergusons denied that they had been rebuffed or that they felt slighted, but Jim Ferguson was very angry as he and his wife departed for downtown to eat their breakfast at the Baker Hotel.

Failure to include the Fergusons in the list of breakfast guests was due to the long-standing feud between Jim Ferguson and Carter, who was the host at the breakfast party.

This enmity also balked the efforts of newspaper men to arrange a photograph of Mrs. Roosevelt with the woman governor and her husband. Jim Ferguson explained that the picture was not possible because Mrs. Ferguson did not want to pose in a group.

The First Lady, when asked if she had been requested to pose with the Fergusons, said that "something was said about a picture with the Fergusons, but I don't know who mentioned it." She added that she thought she had had enough pictures taken.

Mr. Carter made no effort to hide the fact that he purposely had not invited the Fergusons to the breakfast.

"It was my breakfast," he told newspaper men. "I arranged and paid for it, and I had a right to invite whom I pleased. The Fergusons have never invited me to anything."

"When I arrived here I shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and introduced them to Mrs. Roosevelt. All was very pleasant between us."

The Fergusons were left with a group of their friends in the office of C. R. Smith, American Airways manager, when Mrs. Roosevelt was taken to another room in the building, directly across second floor lobby, to breakfast.

Previously newspaper men noticed Alvin M. Owsley, a staunch Fergusonite, in close conference with Mr. Smith and Mr. Carter. It was thought at the time they were discussing the newspaper request for a picture of Mrs. Roosevelt with the Fergusons.

As the breakfast started, Mr. Owsley and Mr. Smith went to the Fergusons, spoke to them briefly, and the four walked down stairs and out to Owsley's automobile. This was about 9 a. m.

Questioned about the breakfast by newspaper men as he sat in the car with Mrs. Ferguson, Jim Ferguson tersely replied:

"Ask Amos Carter."

The exgovernor stated that no picture was to be made with Mrs. Roosevelt because the first lady did not want to appear in any group photographs.

Mr. Owsley told newspapermen to ask C. R. Smith, who talked to Mrs. Roosevelt about it. Mr. Owsley asked newspaper men to inform Mr. Smith that the Fergusons were going to the Baker Hotel and would have breakfast there.

All parties concerned were anxious to point out that Mrs. Roosevelt was an innocent victim of the Carter-Ferguson row. J. Ben Critz, general manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, one of the guests at the Roosevelt breakfast said:

"I regret very much that this row between Jim Ferguson and Amos Carter broke out again in Dallas while the wife of the President was our guest."

The Fergusons emphatically denied they had been rebuffed in a statement to newspaper men at the rooms in the Baker Hotel following their hasty departure from Love Field.

Participation in the breakfast for Mrs. Roosevelt had not been planned. Mrs. Ferguson said, and nothing in any way unpleasant happened at the field.

"I met both Mr. and Mrs. Carter, and everything was as pleasant as it could be," the Governor said. "Mr. Carter was just as cordial as he could be. He still has sense enough to be a gentleman. Mrs. Carter was pleasant, too. I talked a few minutes to both of them, and there was nothing wrong. All that about us leaving in a huff is untrue."

"I knew they would write something, because when we were leaving those old newspaper men started asking questions. We were in a hurry and I said, 'Go away' and then we drove off. I told Jim they would print something about it."

"We were not in the picture for the breakfast," the Governor's husband said, seconding his wife's denial of any trouble at the airport. "The breakfast was just for Mrs. Roosevelt and her relatives as I understood it. Everything was very cordial and we (Number 3—Continued on Last Page)

Diking of Neches River Proposed

A large allotment of the $200,000,000 Texas likely will receive from the immense federal appropriations will be available for east Texas projects. C. W. Howth, Beaumont attorney, reported Saturday on his return from Austin, where he conferred with Gov. Ferguson.

Suggested projects for this section included construction of a gate in the lower neck of Sabine lake to keep out salt water from the Neches and Sabine rivers, diking of Neches river lowlands and construction of a dam in the river at Rockland. Mr. Howth said.

The attorney explained these proposals were merely mentioned as suggestions and added that other worthy projects presented by county commissioners' courts and civic groups. One of the main objects of the program is to furnish employment, he said.

Mr. Howth said he was advised commissioners' court is the proper official body through which requests for federal aid on projects should be made.

If approved by the court, loan applications then will be submitted to the Texas relief commission and those not eliminated by this body will be presented to federal authorities in Washington.

The $200,000,000 represents part of the $3,300,000,000 available in federal appropriations.

CHARLES E. PALMER, DALLAS READER TO BE HERE JUNE 15, AT SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

A splendid entertainment has been arranged by the Methodist Episcopal church to be given at the Woodville school auditorium, Thursday evening, June 15, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Charles E. Palmer of Dallas, reader of unusual ability and "Entertainer Unique" will be the feature attraction. Mr. Palmer is recommended very highly as an entertainer; he is an impersonator and humorist entertainer. He offers a wide range of themes, including character studies, juvenile impersonations, and bits of pantomime. He is equally at home in all. He is equally entertaining in the church or on the ranch. He has presented his programs at both places. The Methodist Episcopal church is proud to present this entertainment. Admission will be only 10 cents. Adv.

1,175 TEXAS VETERANS ELIGIBLE FOR CAMPS

Washington, June 4.—Texas war veterans to the number of 1,175 are eligible for enrollment in the emergency conservation work camps to which a total of 25,000 veterans are to be offered work. The Dallas regional office of the veterans' administration will enroll 655 from the counties under its jurisdiction and the San Antonio regional office will enroll 520 from South Texas counties. Seven per cent are to be selected from among veterans of wars prior to the World War and 93 per cent from World War veterans. Selection of the men will begin July 12 and enrollment by the army will begin June 26. These selections will increase the total in the conservation corps to 300,000 which is 50,000 more than originally planned.

Oil Field Haywire Out of Control

The recently discovered Livingston oil field of Polk County got its second producer Monday when Dick Schwab completed his Graig No. 1, offset to the Shell Petroleum corporation's Davis-Holmes No. 1, discovery well for that area.

The Schwab well came in from a sand bottomed at 4328 feet, and was flowing into storage tanks. No gauge had been made on the well late Monday.

The Shell well, which opened the Livingston area as an oil producing territory, came in several weeks ago and is now connected with the Shell's pipe line to their refinery on the Houston Ship Channel.

The foregoing is a news story sent out from Livingston Monday of this week. The only true statement in connection with this is the location of the well and the number.

It will be noticed that a statement is made that the Shell well was the discovery well for the Livingston field. Nothing could be further from the truth. The discovery well is and was and always will be in spite of the luke warm disseminators of news dispatches from there, the Chase No. 2. Get this. That well was a better well than the Joiner Discovery well in the great East Texas oil field.

Chase No. 1 well after being rained in the process of drilling or bringing in, will still flow eight minutes every three minutes, and that was the first well brought in in that field, and yet a lot of disgruntled, afraid of the big companies who did not want the field to come in, talk about the Shell well being the discovery well. The Chase No. 2 was brought in before the East Texas field was discovered and it crooks—we don't know who or what they were or who they represented—had been caught and strung upon the ground the Livingston field would have been brought in at that time and it would have been worth just about $10,000,000 to the County of Polk.

Some influence has done its level best to keep the field down, to discourage publicity, and to attract attention to ANY place but Livingston. There have been more lies sent out to the farmers of North and South Dakota and Nebraska about the doings of that field than most people know anything of.

You ask why No. and So. Dakota and Nebraska farmers are mentioned here, well, just this, reader, those farmers were the stockholders to a great extent of the Sunshine Oil company who have put down four or five holes and have found nothing (?).

There seems to be nobody in Livingston who has had the intestinal fortitude to run down and threaten to lynch the parties responsible for the exploiting of the farmers who put their money into the field.

There is a record of a telegram being sent to the farmers of Dakota when the Chase No. 2 came in with all difficulty imaginable that a 10,000 barrel well was brought in, and how the stock did hike. In fact this writer could have sold a 100 shares at better than 4 to 1, but we did not care to take blood money.

Anyway there happened to be two sets of drillers on the last two wells who did the best they knew in the art of bringing in oil wells, and folks, if there are any in Tyler county that think that oil field isn't a cracker jack in spite of all the big companies could do, just step into your John Henry and go over and see for your self.

Tyler County to Have Forestry Camp

The Booster's advance information has been proven to be correct, although shortly after the announcement was made in this paper giving certain counties that would be provided with reforestation camps wise ones wondered how "we got that way."

The following news dispatch from Washington clarifies the situation and Tyler County will have one of these camps.

Washington, May 31.—Eight additional reforestation camps for Texas have been approved by President Roosevelt.

bringing the total so approved up to 22. Each camp will be allotted 200 men from the Texas quota in the civilian conservation corps.

The camps will be located on state lands in Cherokee and Montgomery counties and on private lands in San Augustine, Sabine, Tyler, Houston, San Jacinto and Hardin counties.

The projects on private lands will be of a nature that the public will benefit, it was explained.

The projects on private lands will be that camps have been recommended for Lake Dallas, Lake Worth and Lake...

JUST THINKIN'

by Charles S. Kinnison.

To My Boy

As on the Road of Life you start,
There's one thing you should learn—
And that is Life will not impart
Each thing you feel you earn.
A lot of times you'll struggle hard
And find when you are through,
That small, indeed, is your reward—
Far less than seems your due.

But still, my lad, don't ever think
That Life is all unfair.
And do not let your courage shrink,
When you don't get your share
Of all those things you try to get.
But keep your courage high,
And cast again your empty net—
And neither whine nor sigh!

For when it's all been said and done,
The man most apt to win
Is he who'll face each rising sun
With strong, uplifted chin!
And as your goal you try to make,
And care and strife you meet,
Don't quit—but know that all must take
The bitter with the sweet!

THE POSITION of the railroads in relation to their competitors is a subject which has been discussed for many years. The railroads have been the backbone of the American economy, and they have played a major role in the development of the country. However, in recent years, they have been faced with increasing competition from other modes of transportation, such as automobiles and airplanes. This has led to a decline in their market share, and they are now struggling to remain profitable.

THE TEXAS RAILROADS are in a difficult position. They are facing a decline in their market share, and they are struggling to remain profitable. This is due to a number of factors, including increasing competition from other modes of transportation, and a decline in the demand for their services. The railroads are now being forced to re-evaluate their business model, and they are looking for ways to improve their efficiency and reduce their costs.

A good manager is able to see the big picture, and he is able to make decisions that will benefit the company in the long run. He is also able to motivate his employees, and he is able to create a positive work environment. Without a good manager, a business is unlikely to succeed.

THE HIGH humanitarian purpose of safety campaigns against accidents is to reduce the thousands of deaths and hundreds of thousands of injuries each year. In itself, it should awaken entire communities to action. However, there is another side, too often overlooked, that appeals to the pocketbook and has thrust, for foundation, the fact that the loss of life is a loss of money. It is the loss of money that is the real tragedy of an accident.

June, Anniversary of American Hero

ANNIVERSARY OF NATHAN HALE'S DEATH RECALLED BY UNITED STATES WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION

Of the many heroes of the American Revolution, there are none who stand out more romantically than Nathan Hale, who went to his death in the performance of his duty with the immortal words: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

June 6, 1932, will mark the 177th anniversary of the birth of this hero. His spirit and character were reflected in thousands of his countrymen and helped them to triumph over the despotism of a misguided king, according to the Division of Information and Publication of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

The young hero was only 21 years old at the time of his execution at the hands of the British in New York City, on September 22, 1776. Nathan Hale was born in Coventry, Connecticut, June 6, 1755. In 1770, at the age of 15, he entered Yale College and graduated with some distinction.

Nerves NERVES NERVES
"Did the work"
Miss Glivar
WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?
After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.
If you suffer from "Nerves," if you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.
Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.
Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

PART OF THE GREAT YELLOW STONE TRIP

Along Famous Cody Road

The Wonderful scenic Cody Road is one of the many beauty scenes of a trip to Yellowstone Park. It begins at Cody, Wyoming, and ends at the Loop road in the Park. As you leave Cody one is on a great plain which was once the camp of the warring Crow and Blackfoot Indians, and the Great Bronze Buffalo Bill Statue bears silent honor to the famous scout, guide, hunter, plainsman and Indian Fighter, which was erected in 1924. You soon enter a lengthy Canyon where the road looks down on the raging waters of the Shoshone River, and after an up grade of some five miles a stop is made at the dam and one views the great Shoshone Reservoir which furnishes water for irrigating thousands of acres of Wyoming land. This dam is taller than the New York Flat Iron Building and is 108 feet thick at its base, 200 feet in length at the top but is only 80 feet across at the bottom.

Still going up we are in a great gorge formed by the Rattlesnake and Cedar mountains and the road has been blasted and chiselled in and through solid rock passing thought as many as five tunnels in a single mile. Entering another valley one views snow-capped mountain peaks and one is thankful to button up over coats, and we are about to cross the Great Yellowstone Bridge, where, in the clear crystal water, to great depths one can see thousands of Game Lake Trout. This road is ninety miles long from Cody to Yellowstone loop and is a thrilling trip, wonders on all sides, above and below.

Journed Saturday. The Record of Achievement Sets No Woods on Fire

SESSION IN SEPTEMBER TAX PURPOSES PREDICTED LEGISLATORS DEPORTING THEIR SEVERAL HOMES

Session, June 1.—Members of the forty-third Legislature in asking good-bye to each other today coupled with the expression:

"See you again in September."

It was almost universal, this formality of parting after nearly five months of session. But more significant, various members close to the Ferguson say they are on the "inside" and that a special session will be called in September, only three months away.

A called session will be required, it was pointed out by many members, to issue $20,000,000 in state bonds for unemployment and to match federal aid should the constitutional amendment be adopted authorizing such issue. There will be need of legislation to repeal, suspend or modify the anti-trust laws so as to fit in with the recovery program of President Roosevelt. As a third cause members believe a special session will be needed to raise new revenues.

Not all members agree with this latter proposition, but it is known that Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, were disappointed in the defeat of the general sales tax. If a session is called, sales levy is certain to be submitted, and Representative Herold Kayton of San Antonio today declared he will offer his own sales tax measure at any special session.

"And it is pretty much of a cinch there will be one," he added.

The Constitution was amended several years ago just after the Forty-first session to provide a four-month regular session and a day for members in order to eliminate all special sessions. The Forty-second was the first to operate under this constitutional provision, but it, too, held several special sessions.

Speaker Coke Stevenson of Junction, regarded as gubernatorial time, before leaving for home today, declared the Forty-third had made an unusual record, but did not refer to any proposed special session.

"The Forty-third served the people of Texas," he said. "It added no burdens to industry, passed no new tax laws, and yet it certainly made a deep cut in cost of government besides enacting some relief measures."

Another unusual record, one unexpected when the session began, was the liberalizing acts, legalizing race horse betting, prize fighting and 32 percent beer, the latter to be sold under rationing if the State adopts a constitutional amendment in August specifically providing for 32 percent beer.

"For the first three months of this session members agreed there would be little chance for any special session, declaring the Ferguson were emphatically opposed to them, but in the last few weeks there has been a change of sentiment. The belief now is that the Ferguson want such a session, which would consider only those subjects the Governor submits."

Just how much additional money in the form of corrective tax bills the Forty-third provided for will not be known for several months, but estimates credit the oil tax increase with $8,000,000 additional, cigarette tax with $2,000,000 more, gasoline evasion tax bill with $3,000,000 more, inheritance-deferred tax bill with $5,000,000 more. Beer, boxing and horse racing will yield an additional sum to the state.

And the Legislature looked after the schools, for it gave them all of the piggy bank, although under the Constitutional one-fourth only is required. At three-fourths of the oil tax for a period of two years. Besides, it increased the appropriations for rural schools, all by $1,500,000.

The Governor could, at any special session, submit other subjects or special bills, but members the last few years have declared that sending up tax measure opens the entire session, and the courts are back of it.

When Ross Sterling was Governor he submitted an oil conservation bill, but that special session also enacted an oil acreage reduction bill as a conservation agency. The courts later struck this out as unconstitutional. The Maker Tax Bill enacted through the Legislature cut government costs 25 percent. It failed, however, to Governor Sherman A. Ferguson, to provide sufficient revenue to pay the bills and place the state on a sound financial basis.

Much legislation was rushed in on through in the closing hours. Both houses adopted a free conference report to combine the offices of tax assessor and tax collector, the change having been authorized by a constitutional amendment adopted last November.

A conference report on a bill to pay miscellaneous claims was adopted after an appropriation of $500,000 to reimburse West Texas farmers for losses incurred in pink bollworm eradication another $500,000 to pay East Texas counties for money expended in cattle tick eradication and $122,000 to pay farmers in Galveston, Harris and Chambers Counties had been eliminated.

Conference reports on bills to increase tuition fees at state institutions of higher education and to permit the institutions to retain their local funds also were adopted.

Only one major piece of tax legislation was passed. This levied a tax of 2 cents per barrel on the production of oil and placed oil pipe lines under the intangible assets tax law. It was estimated the law would yield between $12,000,000 and $14,000,000.

Relief legislation played a prominent part in the session. Banks, insurance companies and mortgaged property owners were the recipients of moratoria legislation.

Adjournment of the session left Mrs. Ferguson free to appoint a chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, without submitting her appointment to the Senate for confirmation unless a special session is called. Her appointment of Frank L. Denison of Temple as chairman was twice rejected by the Senate.

The case was appealed to the courts and the Supreme Court decided Denison had no right to the office.

Sales Tax Rejected
The Legislature rejected the administration's proposal to levy a sales tax.

The Legislature also declined to pass bills to establish an elective Highway Commission, and to establish a Natural Resources Commission to relieve the Texas Railroad Commission of its duties in that respect.

In addition to the questions that will be submitted June 23, the Legislature approved eight other proposed constitutional amendments to be decided on at the general election in 1924.

Relief legislation played a prominent part in the session. Banks, insurance companies and mortgaged property owners were the recipients of moratoria legislation.

Adjournment of the session left Mrs. Ferguson free to appoint a chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, without submitting her appointment to the Senate for confirmation unless a special session is called. Her appointment of Frank L. Denison of Temple as chairman was twice rejected by the Senate.

The case was appealed to the courts and the Supreme Court decided Denison had no right to the office.

BUFFETS SAY 'HAPPY DAYS'

WHEN THE STEIN'S ON THE TABLE

The proper cheese is bound to be there with it!

For beer and cheese—the buffet supper in all its glory—are classic and inseparable food combinations.

The very thought of the smooth and amber-flowing liquid conjures up in the masculine breast thoughts of generous slices of nut-sweet Swiss cheese, scoopsful of pungent Old English, wedges of ruddy American. From free lunch to political caucus, the joys of the foaming stein and the buffet supper are endeared to memory the world round.

Americans will have to learn the joys of the proper thirst-inducing, appetite-satisfying cheeses which properly belong with the foaming beverage, according to the educational department of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation. There are more than 400 different varieties of cheese—and all of them will enjoy renewed popularity now that buffet suppers are the thing, according to the cheese company.

Swiss, full-flavored American, Limburger, sharp and ruddy Old English—these are some of the cheeses which are expected to enjoy unparalleled popularity on the buffet tables of the nation now that beer is back.

NOTICE TO ALL VACATIONISTS

As the summer season approaches, a word of warning is timely to prospective campers. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, summer vacationists, fishermen, and others who enjoy getting out into the open, relative to the possible dangers that may be encountered from the standpoint of contracting infection under the changed environment. This is especially true of diseases that may be transmitted through food and water supplies.

Typhoid fever is a disease the amount of which is greatest, as a rule, where there is the least sanitation. It is an unnecessary and preventable disease. It is spread from person to person by milk, water, fingers, flies, and food. Every case is contracted by taking into the mouth some substance contaminated with typhoid organisms, and these occur only in nature in the bowel and bladder discharges of persons sick with typhoid or from carriers, persons who have had typhoid and who after recovery still harbor the germs in their systems.

She was dismised from a hospital last night after examination showed she received only slight bruises. It appeared the child hung onto the bumpers.

A TREE TOAD VETOED

A tree toad loved a she toad that lived up in a tree.

She was a three-toed tree toad, but a two-toed toad was he. The two-toed tree toad tried to win the she toad's friendly nod. For the two-toed tree toad loved the ground that the three-toed tree toad trod.

But vainly the two-toed tree toad tried; he couldn't please her whim. In her tree toad bower, with her veto power, that the tree toad vetoed him.

were treated very courteously by everyone there.

The feud between Jim Ferguson and Carter first came to public attention six years ago at the annual University of Texas-A. & M. College football game at College Station.

Carter accepted a box directly in front of the Fergusons at the game. Carter's football cheers were mingled with cries of "Hurrah for Dan Moody." At the time Moody was the standard bearer for the anti-Ferguson faction.

Carter was asked to leave the stadium. He protested, declaring he had paid his admission and could yell for whom he chose.

Subsequently, Mrs. Ferguson, then Governor, asked Carter's resignation from the Board of Regents of Texas Technological College. Carter refused.

Mrs. Roosevelt's failure to evince a spirit of camaraderie toward the Fergusons Monday was attributed by most political observers to the influence of Carter, an ardent supporter of the Roosevelt regime.

OHIO MAN'S DOLLAR BILL RUG ATTRACTS MUCH INTEREST ALTHOUGH PAYING NONE

Akron, Ohio, June 2.—Mr. Seldon Lord's "dollar bill rug" has come home, says the Christian Science Monitor. In fact Mr. Lord has disclosed, he got it back more than a year ago, but he hasn't been in any hurry to tell about it.

It's a three-by-six-foot woven copy of a dollar bill, and for more than eight years it was in the hands of the Federal Government because "it looked a little too much like a $39.05 'counterfeit' of the Government's promise to pay $1.

Back in November, 1923, Mr. Lord, a rug buyer for a local department store, had the rug made and exhibited in a store window. One day, while he was

The money owner wrote to Mr. William Harper, head of the secret service division in Cleveland, about it. Mr. Harper replied that the rug's existence violated Section 150 of the United States penal code.

Section 150, Mr. Lord discovered, is one aimed at counterfeiters. In vain Mr. Lord protested that since the rug cost him $39.05 he scarcely could be expected to put it into circulation as a one dollar bill. Besides, he maintained, it was too large to fool anyone.

Finally he interested Mr. Martin L. Dovey, the congressman, in the case. Mr. Dovey learned the rug had been shipped to Washington and prevailed upon W. H. Moran, chief of the United States Secret Service, to return it to the owner. It was sent back to Cleveland and was to have

GOV. FERGUSON SIGNS SCHOOL AID BILL

Austin, Texas, June 6.—Gov. Ferguson today signed the rural school aid bill carrying an appropriation of $6,000,000 for the two years beginning on September 1.

He also approved a resolution submitting to the electorate a proposed amendment to the constitution that would authorize the taxing of lands belonging to the University of Texas for county and school district purposes. The amendment would be submitted in the general election of 1934.

and Mr. Lord, who is in Cleveland, when he claim his rug. E. A. Bernier, District Attorney, informed "dollar bill rug" has been sent to Washington.

The years rolled by. One day Lord appealed to Francis B. Selden, then congressman, for aid, and again the Government was prevailed upon to return the rug.

On March 19, 1932, eight years, ten months and two days after it was confiscated, Mr. Lord once more was in possession of his "dollar bill rug," but until today he kept very quiet about it all.

Our Bounteous Table

WHEN Uncle Sam sits down to dinner in a New York hotel, he can eat corn grown in Illinois, and he can eat Boston baked beans when he dines in Denver. This wide choice of foods is not possible in most countries, however. When Benito Mussolini promulgated his edict that the agricultural population of Italy must remain on its farms, he took into account the fact that in Italy the canning business is small and most of the canned food is exported.

Canning Saves Lives

The same condition would exist here if canning were suddenly to cease. There would be a rush from the city to the farm. How adequately, however, modern canning methods preserve the fundamentals found in fresh foods is explained by Dr. Daniel E. Hodgdon, D.Sc., LL.D. in the following statement:

"We have discovered that canned vegetables and fruits contain many of the rich and useful mineral salts which are fundamental in the life processes. Canned vegetables and fruits retain much of their vitamin content, and, in fact, some of them are quite as rich in this respect as fresh vegetables and fruits. This has been so well recognized by men of science and by medical men that recommendation has been made by them for the use of certain fruit juices from canned vegetables as a means of supplying babies with the vitamin C and the vitamin E. This is especially true of the canned tomato."
