Vacation Over "On To School"

With summer vacations drawing to a close, pupils of our schools and parents should turn their minds to the important business of continuing their education.

The recent efforts of Roosevelt is an inspiring example of seeing the task through. Just as Roosevelt turns his thoughts toward the economic fibre of the American Commonwealth so must the student turn his thoughts toward our educational institutions with the determination "On to School."

We should employ as much determination, zeal and thoroughness in continuing this great educational adventure as Roosevelt has in his congressional recommendations. The happy partnership of the leaders of Congress with Roosevelt find parallel in our partnership with our school. We must unite the spirit of youth with the spirit of education just as Roosevelt and Senator Snell spoke to the youths of their respective parties.

Roosevelt is not making his supreme effort for personal gain but for service to the American people. Let us follow his example and, as he is doing, continue our efforts in education for the good of the nation and the cause of progress, as well as for the returns to youth. Though the impulse is unselfish its fruits are substantial, for out of such enterprise springs inspiration that generates creative power. A hundred plans in governmental affairs from all political sources are maturing because of Roosevelt's willpower of seeing the job through. A thousand advantages accrue from the achievements of education.

Pupils no less than statesmen must follow through to attain success. Roosevelt has not stopped yet on his gigantic economic, social and political undertakings—he has finished just one lap of the race. The same application can be made to promotions and graduations in our schools. These are but steps to higher services.

Parents are reminded that the school doors will open again September 9. The occasion should not be looked upon as an opportunity of getting away from work, but to prepare for it, not a finishing school, but a preparation training not an opportunity to white collar jobs, but an opportunity to discover self-interest and adaptability, not a chance against mediocrity, but opportunity to avoid it.

No school system or teaching force however efficient can do much if the child is unwilling. If the child is not willing, it can afford no opportunity and point out the way. The child in co-operation of the parents must do the best.

The school doors are wide open. These are the days when parents should not feel that they have been neglected. It is time to have been seen for the school children.

The school children of the state are expected to appear in Dallas through non-stop express trains. The express train will leave Dallas at 10:30 a. m. and arrive in Austin at 1:30 p. m. The school children of the state will be heard in chorus. It is expected that at least 10,000 will be present to witness the performance.

High school chorals and bands of the state will come to the Texas Centennial Exposition in October. These white high school chorals and bands will be followed a few days later by the same number of singers selected from Negro schools.

On October 1 bands and orchestras of Texas high schools will visit the Exposition. Three thousand musicians will perform in union at a grand concert. This will be one of the largest gatherings of high school musicians ever staged in all of America.

Three Amendments Carry in Tyler Co.

Complete returns from Tyler county showed that three amendments carried and four were defeated in Saturday's election. The old age pension and health insurance amendments got about 50 percent of the vote, but constitutional amendments, prohibition of defendants, abolishing the fee system and free text books were defeated.

The complete vote follows: Old age pensions, 621 for, 153 against; health insurance, 581 for, 342 against; repeal 478 for, 443 against; prohibition of defendants, 239 for, 477 against; prohibition of defendants, 334 for, 417 against; abolishing fee system, 338 for, 442 against; free text books, 228 for, 592 against.

OUT OF THE HICK CLASS

Didn't realize how good one could feel over such simple things as white paint marks on a pavement, but Tuesday a m. the Booster eagerly rolled into a chucked space this reporter stepped out, looked up and down the street, and believe it or not, swelled up with pride. And she felt she was not in a "hick town" and could look the world in the face with pride.

COW OVERTURNS TRAIN

If a cow can overturn a train pulled by a heavy locomotive and succeed in derailing several loads of logs, what possible chance has a family automobile loaded with its several passengers or even a heavily loaded truck, or passenger bus. Since there is a law about parking live stock on the highways, also, it is a fact there are several loggers now in this law which makes it unenforceable. Here is what happened to the train.

On August 28 an engine and three flat cars loaded with logs overturned and several members of the train crew were injured when the engine struck a cow stepping on the line about a mile east of Furlowville. About 100 feet of track were torn up by the accident.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO SING AT TEXAS CENTENNIAL

Massed by thousands, school children of the state will sing in chorus at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas next year. The first program will be Saturday afternoon, June 15, when 10,000 from the public schools of the state will give a recital in the Athletic stadium at Centennial park. These singers will be selected by contests conducted in every public school of the state. The winners will be sent to Dallas and all will receive special training. The singing of the chorals and the playing of the chorals are being arranged by J. A. Woods, of Austin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

On Saturday afternoon, June 15, 10,000 school children of the state will be heard in chorus. It is expected that at least 10,000 will be present to witness the performance.

High school chorals and bands of the state will come to the Texas Centennial Exposition in October. These white high school chorals and bands will be followed a few days later by the same number of singers selected from Negro schools.

On October 1 bands and orchestras of Texas high schools will visit the Exposition. Three thousand musicians will perform in union at a grand concert. This will be one of the largest gatherings of high school musicians ever staged in all of America.

JUST ANOTHER DRUNK

Mrs. Mattie Hewitt and John C. Talley are to be congratulated upon their escape from what might have been a serious accident. Enroute to Beaumont Sunday afternoon, near Long Station an elderly man was walking on road and not far away a couple of children were also walking. Nearing the man who suddenly staggered to the middle of the pavement. Mr. Talley wrenched the wheel to keep from hitting him and the car wheel broke. One was hurt, and the Studebaker was sent into Beaumont for repair and Mrs. Hewitt returned to Woodville. The child who had been walking, so once more lives were endangered by liquor. Texas was not to have so much drunkenness, it is believed, on Saturday, Oct. 12, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and the following week. Arrive, Double Usual, Week and Day, and overbooked, and by celebrating people's wine.

Touchdown, We Want a Touchdown

Football occupies the arena in every hamlet, town and city we hear the cheering of the fans rising out of each stadium is the refrain "touchdown, touchdown." Football games are won by scoring. Scoring follows team play—cooperation, concentration, the will to win and an inherent love for the sport.

Observation of a team at play gives us the exact measure of its teamwork and concentration; of its coaching efficiency; of its moral support of the student body.

One of the finest features of the game is the good sportsmanship of the fans. Enthusiastic in putting heart into their own team, they are prompt to give recognition to keen plays by the other side.

What a glad day when we can have this spirit carried over into school and community life. It will produce the equivalent of the touchdown in the classroom.

The schools have just entered on their yearly contest—a contest against pupil failures, a contest against public and political interference, against public indifference or apathy. It is a contest against the tendency to underestimate the importance of schooling; a contest against the temptation of a job with ready money; a contest against school apathy and discipline; against the tendency to neglect school matters; a contest against the tendency to neglect school matters; a contest against the tendency to neglect school matters.

As the outcome of a football game rests heavily on coaching efficiency, so the success of a school rests heavily on the efficiency of its teachers and school officials.

Tyler County people will recall that Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Barlow of Town Bluff had two sons who were lost in the woods. One of the boys was found in the woods and went on to Denver, Colo. Later the brothers separated and one returned here, married and in 1930 had a son. The other son had not been heard of since. There are rumors that this boy is now in the hands of the police in Denver, Colo. The boy is now in the hands of the police in Denver, Colo. ## WIFE OF SENATOR CONNALLY DIES IN SENATE BUILDING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Tom Connally, wife of the junior senator from Texas, died late today in the senate office building. Death was caused by a heart attack.

Mrs. Connally was stricken unexpectedly and her husband summoned during a brief recess in senate proceedings. They are set for a scoring year. It is worth while to stress the football game for its sports sake, it is worth while to stress schooling for the child's sake. If victory is desirable for the team, success in schooling is doubly worth while for the student body. If winning the game is gratifying to the school children, it is equally gratifying to taxpayers and parents.

A competent head coach, an able group of assistants, a cooperative group of pupils and a loyal public will produce the most successful and victorious school year.

C. W. COMPTON
Superintendent Woodville Public Schools.

Electric Juice to the Booster Charged At the Rate of 61c-Plus, per Kilowatt

This writer has had a very revealing experience in mathematics this morning. It is a fact that the electric company is charging us for electricity at the rate of 61c per kilowatt. This is a very high rate and it is time that we should do something about it. We should try to get the rate lowered to a more reasonable level.

A HOPEFUL ECONOMIC SIGN

In these times no one can be blamed for economizing. In fact, this is commendable. The reckless spending of the speculative era has led to a depression. It is time that we should be more careful in our spending.

BOTTLE CAPS PAY MISSOURI SALES TAX

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—Millions of cardboard bottle caps pour out of two-roaring machines last night. For bulk bottles? No. For pocket books.

Missouri's shoppers will start paying the new 1 cent sales tax with them Aug. 27. They will add to the bulge of a man's pocket. That will share a place along side Milled powder puff and compact.

What's more important—they are expected to yield between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 a year for old age pensions, unemployment relief, and other purposes.

An order for 15,000,000 of the cardboard discs, one and five-mill denominations, is being filled here. The company has had ten machines going since Saturday. The State pays $300 a million.

Inconvenient? Yes. Gov. Guy B. Parks, however, at Jefferson City, says the tax and inconvenience of the collection system are incidental compared with the good to be accomplished.

This tax will be stamped with the State seal and will be used to pay the State's debts and to fund the State's public works program.
