It woke this apparition and opened its eyes. It peeped through the window at the beautiful day. The bright sun covered the ground in a golden glow. The birds were singing and the flowers were blooming. It was a beautiful day, but it was also a day of sadness. The apparition was looking for someone, someone who had been there before. It was looking for a friend, a friend who had been there before. It was looking for a friend, a friend who had been there before.

New Silencer Puts a Permanent Cap On the Well Known Old Man Star

Having Jan. 27's article in mind, which effectively copes with the man-made electrical interference to either broadcast or short-wave listening, provides a new "silent era" to radio enthusiasts now hampered in their enjoyment by these various forms of interference.

The silencer available either to the circuit of an all-wave set in construction or as an adaptor on "old sets" was perfected by James J. Lamb, technical editor of QST, official magazine of the American Radio Relay League, the radio amateurs group.

Mr. Lamb's device, virtually eliminates the "static" discharge changes their characteristics and uses the resulting product to control the radio-frequency amplifier of a set by blocking out static noises automatically and instantaneously. Each charge of static interrupts the radio frequency amplifier momentarily. But since each one of these interruptions is but a hundredth of a second, the amplifier is not noticeably affected by the interruptions.

Attaching the product to existing tubes types of sets as well as to the less common types of sets set out to bring out of the electrical circuit the low the desired frequency his set by introducing the circuit before the signal receiver. This circuit also the noise (static) above the desired frequency and used the product to control the gain of subsequent radio stages.

This device is available wherever the usual radio parts store or the radio store. It is priced at $1.00 per set.

January 31 is the LAST day to pay poll taxes. If you want to vote in any of the 1934 elections.

IF YOU were a woman and married, and a highway judge sentenced you in the following words, what would you say: "Go home, cook and quit complaining."

OH WELL, there are things you'll live with, and begin to live at 85. If you don't know what you mean, you'll find out Old Age Pension time. If this doesn't mean anything to you, let me suggest that you search through the issue of The Booster and find the poem we lifted out of the Staff Week Austin.

THE TEXAS Centennial commission is going to check on the Alabama Indians with the proper regularity to represent the real Texas Indians, and says that Bon Brainerd, who was shot by a young man, is the only one who stayed in the Hall, and of the great Centennial Exposition.

AUSTIN AND Dallas newspapers have been told the fact that the counties have lost hundreds of dollars because of the going away of the marble machines. With the going away of these machines in those cities, it has been found school children are now sent to purchase and sell the lion tamar for which their parents are held in the cash. The dollar sign, however, was all the big reporter saw in the paper which is explaining.

THE CONGRESS of the United States will do nothing to create a central for American Chief Executive in the President. Within the past few months, it has passed the press of the nation, and will do nothing to create a central for American Chief Executive in the President. IT SEEMS that next November Texas are expected to vote one way or the other on the question of the State going into the liquor business. Citizens are supposed to express themselves on the question which will read substantially as follows: "Shall the State have a monopoly on the liquor trade?" which would mean that wholesalers of booze would be out of luck in Texas. If you should ask the Booster about this, we'd have to plead ignorance on the subject of whether the State should peddle liquor to the liquor stores all over the State. Right off the bat, however, we'd courts could convict liquor dealers and make it stick through all the intricate appeals to higher courts, etc., that could be raised, were the State to be pulled into court, as alleged infractions of the law of distribution of booze.

AFTER TEXAS voted yet the booster was propositioned to advertisement coverage will you accept his offer. The booster, while admitting the seriousness of the governmental control of the booster.
