m Jones for Representative

Sam Jones of Lufkin is announcing his candidacy for the office of representative from the 12th district, comprising Angelina and Tyler counties. Mr. Jones, 22, is a native son of Angelina county, coming from one of the pioneer families of East Texas and is popularly and well known throughout the county of his residence. He has never before aspired to public office.

Mr. Jones is well educated and thoroughly capable of performing the duties of this office. He is now preparing himself for the profession of law, having taken two years of college work at Baylor university after graduating from the Lufkin high school in 1932. Mr. Jones is an industrious, capable and intelligent young man. He is a man of high ideals and superb moral character. He plans to make a thorough campaign throughout the district and deliver a number of addresses during the campaign upon which he will seek this office. At an early date he will announce his platform and launch an active campaign.

Was Your Radio Registering OK?

Did you hear that booming of cannon, the discharge of small fire arms, fire crackers—the deafening cheers of a nation Saturday-Sunday-Monday?... Did it in any way alarm you? Did you recognize what it was all about? It was the Italian nation's celebration over winning the war (?) (or rather massacre) in Ethiopia. To all the nations perched upon the side lines, Italy, whipping the Ethiopians ranked perfectly with a scrap between old Bob Fitzsimmons and an eighth-grade pupil. Ah! Hasn't Italy great cause for commendation of their modern army that won the skirmish, and, too, the fact she bluffed the balance of the old world nations. Great stuff.

WOODVILLE CCC WINS OVER BEAUMONT 21-3

The Woodville CCC baseball team won its straight fifth game last Saturday by defeating the Beaumont CCC club, 21-3, on the Beaumont diamond. C. Collegs and Lloyd Sweeney banked out home runs for the winners behin effective hurling of Lester Miller.

Glasse Runs In State Race

"K. P. Glasse announces his candidacy in The Booster this week for the office of State Representative from the 12th district, subject to the action of the democratic primary.

Mr. Glasse, born and reared in Angelina county is well known throughout the district and has campaigned twice before for the office. In 1932 he was defeated by a single majority, and John Laird was the successful candidate. In 1934, again by a slender margin, he was defeated and J. T. (Doc) Roach was elected. Mr. Glasse called attention to the fact that his support has not dwindled and in each case was barely defeated. This year his friends insisted that he again try for the office and he decided to make the race.

Mr. Glasse is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin college at Nacogdoches, and has taught school in that county for seven years. For four years he was principal at the Diboll schools, and was later superintendent at Huntington. He was made an orphan at the age of three years and has made his progress despite those attendant handicaps. He has a widowed mother to support in addition to his family, a wife and two children.

He stated he was making this race on a policy of fair and cautious taxation, support of education and the old age pension law, impartial legislation for capital and labor and especially the development of East Texas. His statement in full follows:

"After a very careful study of the conditions of state and local matters, and much solicitation from the people of Angelina and Tyler counties, I announce my candidacy for state representative.

"I have never had the pleasure or misfortune to hold an office of trust or honor, and may not realize the many responsibilities with which our public servants are confronted, but I have certainly experienced and given grave thought to our economic conditions.

"My platform may be summed up in a few short principles, namely:

1. Pursue a cautious and fair policy of taxation.

2. Enactment of laws that will be fair to labor and capital.

3. Direct support of free education and the old age pension.

4. Work earnestly for the development of and betterment of East Texas, and more especially for Angelina and Tyler counties.

5. Work toward improvement of farming conditions, and a progressive agricultural program.

"In conclusion, I make this candid statement with all sincerity, that if I fail to render a real service to the people I will resign, and give the power to delegate to me, back to the people.

"After a careful consideration if you feel I am worthy of your vote and influence I will endeavor to do my best to warrant your support.

Texas Election Laws by McCraw

Attorney General William McCraw Saturday published a book on "Texas Election Laws," the result of pursuing a hobby for several years. The book was a compilation of Texas statutes relating to elections and pertinent facts of which McCraw was the author. He paid the cost of publishing it and gave copies to county judges, county chairmen and State officials. Oddities in Texas election laws revealed by the book included:

It is possible to elect a dead man to office!

An unmarried man's legal residence is "where he usually sleeps at night."

A convict is liable for payment of the poll tax even though his right to vote has been forfeited.

It is not legal to mark a ballot with red ink. Black ink or a pencil must be used.

To be legal an election booth must be exactly 22 inches wide, 32 inches deep, six feet and four inches high; contain a shelf for the voter's elbow, and be constructed with hinges so it can be folded for storage.

Election judges may arrest men for drunkenness or disorderly conduct, but they must allow them to vote before going to jail.

Failure to pay your city poll tax cannot deprive you of the right to vote in a city election. The reason: The levy of a city poll tax against women has never been authorized, therefore to force men to pay it as a prerequisite to voting would be in violation of the 19th amendment to the constitution.

Texas has a six-year-old statute authorizing use of voting machines—but it HAS NEVER BEEN REVOKED.

Surprise Wedding Story Welcomed

Prof. J. W. Knight of Spurger was in Woodville Tuesday. He reports that a lovely affair was held at the H. E. Mayo home one night last week honoring Mrs. T. K. Lee, nee Miss Maxine Lamkin with a miscellaneous shower. The Spurger school faculty will all return next year except Mrs. Lee who resigned some two weeks ago. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. D. Lamkin of Huntsville and has made a host of friends in this county since coming here as head of business administration in the Spurger school. Before her fathers death the family lived in Beaumont where he was associated with the Jusey Miller Co. Mr. Lee and Miss Lamkin were married March 8, in Cold Springs. The groom is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Lee and is one of the promising young business men of this county. "Knocky" has a host of friends, and The Booster family with others, sincerely wish for these splendid young people the best life has to offer in prosperity and happiness. Mrs. Lee expects to attend school in Huntsville for a few weeks then return to Woodville.

COLMESNEIL F. F. A.'s SHOW GOOD IN CONTEST

The Colmesneil F. F. A. boys made a good showing in the State judging contest at Texas A. & M. at College Station on April 27 for Vocational Agriculture boys from all parts of the state. Three teams were entered from Colmesneil, poultry judging, plant production and soil conservation tests were participated in.

In the poultry and egg judging contest the Colmesneil team placed 5th with 103 teams from all parts of the state. Clinton Sturrock, Allen Sturrock and Junius McMullen composed the team.

In the plant production contest Basil Goodrum placed in a tie with several boys from various schools for first in judging cotton.

No detailed reports other than the ones mentioned have been received by the boys as only the five high teams were announced at the contests. The Colmesneil team was the only one in the Huntsville district to place high enough to have their name called out in the winners at A. & M.

Allen Turrentine, Woodrow Myers and James Worthey entered the soil conservation contest. Basil Goodrum, Joe Thomas Barnes, Jr. and Lee Cramer took part in the plant production contest.

Lou Cruse Out For Re-Election

TO THE VOTERS OF COMMISSIONER'S PRECINCT No. 2, TYLER COUNTY:

In the proper column of this week's Booster you will find my announcement for re-election to the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, Tyler County.

Since my election I have worked faithfully and hard to accomplish something for our County and precinct. I feel that the two years of service have better fitted me for the work should you again elect me as your commissioner.

In the road work I have endeavored to divide the work in a way that each part of the precinct would be benefitted. I have not yet been able to work every road as I should, but I am making a special effort to do so before the end of the year.

I feel a deep interest in making our school bus roads all-weather roads just as quickly as our finances will permit.

If elected again I promise you the very best service that I am capable of rendering. Assuring you of my sincerest appreciation for your co-operation during these two years of service and hoping you will see fit to again elect me to the office, I am

Yours truly LOU CRUSE.

CANDY SALE SATURDAY

The W. M. S. will sell candy and cakes in front of the H. & H. store Saturday afternoon. Every one be sure and buy some.

DR. J. F. HALEY

Tyler county was shocked when the news of the death of Dr. J. F. Haley reached here. Recently he left Warren to go to the CCC Camp at Begotia, Sickened with pneumonia he passed away at Paris Saturday, April 18, after less than a week's illness. Dr. Haley was born in Shelby county and was 60 years of age. He was carried back to his home neighborhood for burial. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Oliva Chapman Haley, the little daughter, Betty Jean, three brothers and one sister. One brother, C. T. Haley lives at Hillister. He with other sorrowing members of the family have the sincere sympathy of all who know the doctor and his family.

Look for the opening of the Fred Matthews store next week Saturday, May 16.

The Misses Frankie Prescott and Esma Guthuw spent Sunday with Miss Ruth Wallace in Kountze.

JAMES AND MARY GRISSOM

It is with sincere sympathy that this reporter writes the news of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Grissom of near Spurger. Mrs. Grissom passed away Friday after just a few days fight with pneumonia and his wife followed him Tuesday. Mrs. Grissom has not been well for months and when pneumonia struck she had no strength to fight the losing battle. Rev. W. W. DuBose of Kirbyville conducted services for both funerals and they are now resting side by side in the Turner Branch cemetery. Both were splendid people of that community and will be greatly missed. Mr. Grissom was 63 years of age she was 58. They are survived by four sons and three daughters, Britton, Aubrey Otis and Edgar of Spurger, and Mesdames Edna Phelps, Cora Bingham of Spurger, Jessie Word of Silsbee, Misses Argent and Alma Grissom of the home. Mrs. Grissom is survived by a brother, Walsh Grissom of Kirbyville, Mesdames Ella McClaine and Mary Yawn of Spurger, Jessie Postick of Groveton and Miss Lena Grissom of Riverside California. Mrs. Grissom leaves the brother, James Levings of Frerd, Mesdames Anna McClaim of Spurger, Donnie Hutto of Fred, Addie Williams, Hillister, Vona Willis of Silsbee.

CRICKET THERMOMETERS

If you have a watch and there are tree crickets around, you can tell the temperature just as surely as if you had the best thermometer made. That is, unless it is colder than 50 degrees Fahrenheit, at which temperature they cease making any sound. Nearly everyone knows that the warmer it is the faster the crickets chirp. Just count the chirps per second and add 40 to this number. The resulting number is the degree of temperature, says a contributor to Our Dumb Animals.

J. B. Faircloth of Spurger was in Woodville Monday.

The Woodville Seniors drove to Huntsville Friday where Sam Houston College held open house to all Texas graduates. A number of older ladies made the trip with them but the reporter did not get the names.

How Y... Get Baby...

Washington.—Postmaster... report that machinery is set up to ensure quick... of bonus money to veterans... want to cash their "baby... after they are distributed... June.

Following is the procedure outlined by officials:

A veteran applies for payment of his bonus certificate to get bonds by sending an application blank with his fingerprints and other data to the nearest office of the veterans' administration.

After it has checked over the application the veterans' administration certifies the application to the treasury department.

The treasury department then makes out an order for the proper number of $50 bonds, plus a check to cover any odd amount. These are sent to the federal reserve bank in the veteran's district.

The federal reserve bank makes up a bundle for each veteran, containing as many $50 bonus "baby bands" as the veteran is owed, plus the check to cover the odd amount.

On June 15, these packages will start to move to veterans through the registered letter service of the postal department. Postmasters have been instructed to deliver these packages only to the veteran named on the package, even though the package may be addressed in "care of" another person, firm, hotel or company. If the veteran has died or moved out of the post-office's jurisdiction, the package will be returned to the reserve bank to await a new claim for it.

If a veteran chooses to hold his bonds as an investment, he may draw interest at 3 per cent a year until 1945. He may, if he chooses, hold the bonds, drawing interest for a few years, and then cash them at a date earlier than 1945. But no interest will be paid a veteran who cashes his bonds before the end of the first year, and no interest will be paid after 1945.

SPECIAL TODAY: CHAT WITH CHIEF LOANING OFFICER FOR ONLY 39 CENTS

Chicago, April 30.—The joke was on them, but members of the Chicago Financial Advertisers Association chuckled Wednesday as three visitors from Milwaukee put on a skit travestying changes in banking practices since the boom days.

They portrayed the bank lobby of today as flanked by ticket offices bearing signs, Admission 10 Cents, Children 5 Cents.

Large placards set forth:

Service Charges

Deposit slips, 1 cent.

Checks cashed, 15 cents, two for 25 cents.

Conference with president, 2 cents per minute.

Vice president's handshake, 5 cents.

Fountain pens filled, 8 cents.

Statements of condition, 10 cents each, by subscription 20 cents a year.

Another sign offered this bargain:

Special Today

Chat with your chief loaning officer, 50 cents value, today only 39 cents. You save 11 cents.

Free Adult Home Making Class

Can you interpret and use a commercial dress pattern as successfully as you would like to? can you make button holes, pluckets, set in Caps, use the practical attachments to a machine? Would you like to be able to do these things?

Are you tired after preparing a meal in your kitchen? How large is your kitchen and do you have the equipment arranged conveniently? Is your kitchen as attractive and well furnished as the other rooms of your house?

Is your living room livable? Is it as attractive as you would like for it to be? Can you shop intelligently for rugs? Should you use figured paper, curtains, rugs and furniture in your living room? It May I help you learn to successfully solve these problems?

Do you have unwearable clothes of good quality hanging in your closet? Do you have as many clothes as you would like to have? If not, why not learn to make attractive, wearable garments out of these clothes you have that can't be worn?

A free adult class in some phase of Home Making Education is going to be organized on Wednesday night, May 13 at 7:30 in the Woodville High School Home Making department. This class will be taught at convenient evenings each week, through June 9. You and any of your friends who are interested are invited to attend this first meeting and help make and decide on plans for a most pleasant and successful class.

Respectfully yours,

SOIL CONSERVATION CALLED MEETINGS

Applications under the new farm program for Tyler county are now being taken by the County Agent and his assistants this week and at the following places next week.

Fred, Monday	May 11
Colmesneil, Tuesday	May 12
and May 13th until 2 p. m.
Chester, Thursday	May 14
Woodville,	May 8 and 15

All owners, cash renters and third and fourth renters operating entire farms may sign the application, which is necessary to participate in the program.

Most farmers in the county are carrying the farm practice recommended by the Soil Conservation program and find it very easy to co-operate.

It will be necessary that the application be signed by May 15. The office will be closed while we are out over the county taking applications. M. S. HYDE, County Agricultural Agent.

SEEKING TO AFFILIATE

The Colored school of Woodville has been doing some work in Home Economics and getting along splendidly with very little equipment. Certain requirements are listed, to affiliate with the State and so Supt. C. V. Compton and the school board have asked that the State appoint Miss Lola Marie Drew supervisor over the plans for room equipment, built in features and colorings of room.

Instead of two smaller rooms now used, one large room will be given over to the Home Economics work and when the school opens in September it is hoped all conditions can be met and State aid be given this work.

MOTHERS OF MEN

Mothers of Men today we salute you
And humbly before you we pledge you our love
On earth and in heaven ye Mothers now hear us
And accept our proffers both here and above.

Mothers of Men, has there ever been hero
Among the creation of God's mighty hand
Who near you could stand and say, I'm an equal
In the strife and the stress of this battle-scarred land?"

Mothers of Men, to you has been given
An honor untold by tongue or by pen;
For next to the army of God's consecrated
March valiantly on the Mother's of Men.

Mothers of Men if the army moves onward,
If the heart and word bring solace renowned;
If the wisdom of Ages brings light to the nighted;
Then, Mothers of Men, to you goes the crown.

Mothers of Men, the world has seen progress
Since first from the hand of the Maker, it came.
The sons and the daughters of earth's first transgression
Find smoother the path, and the rough ways more plain.

Mothers of Men, to you must be given
The pain and the glory of the good there has been;
For earth since creation has never yet boasted
Of heroes so valiant as Mothers of Men.

THE BOOSTER BOOSTS FOR

A GREATER WOODVILLE.
BETTER SCHOOLS.
MORE GOOD ROADS.
MORE CIVIC PRIDE.
DIVERSIFIED FARMING.
A NEW COUNTY BUILDING.
TAX REDUCTION.
SUCCESS IN TAX PAYMENT.
NEW BUSINESS BUILDINGS.
BETTER HOME EBIFICES.
HELP MAKE WOODVILLE A BETTER PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE.

SUNDAY, MAY 10—Mother's day. You, who have mothers still alive—DO NOT FORGET. Thanks, that's all.

IT IS said America is a peaceful nation and most folks are glad it is so. But, if this is a fact, what is the idea in building a plane that is capable of carrying 12 tons of bombs?

IT APPEARS that Woodville is becoming the largest and liveliest small city in all of East Texas. And, too all, this in spite of the fact there is no special boom of any kind in evidence.

FRIDAY, MAY 1. Friday, December 25, How many recall the fact that whatever day May 1 comes on Christmas will also come the same day in spite of the difference in the date of the month.

SOMEONE IN a thoughtful moment the other day suggested a reason why the government is better than any other government is because it is not more O. K.'s but sometimes the thought seems a bit too deep for words.

IF SEVERAL of the foreign governments across the pond were as anxious to settle their bills with the United States as they are to settle their individual grudges against each other, Uncle Sam would be better off, and that's that.

THE BOOSTER'S big subscription list is showing great results throughout the county. H. Ram Doolittle, general merchandise, reports sales from the rear room south and Cades corner at Jenks. Most sales were the result of advertising in The Booster because none of my circulars were distributed in the south end." This makes The Booster regime mighty because we are working to make The Booster of real benefit to Tyler county citizens.

AREN'T THE speed laws a joke on the highways? How come? You know, it looks cost your way would bar you from the use of the highways, if you are a careful driver, you'd be a n. l., which everybody knows means singularly out, or lack. Again, how come? Brother, just go out on some highway where speed laws are supposed to govern. Obey the law and notice right out of every 10 cars going your way pass you, and observe the nasty looks cast at you for "obstructing the highway as they whiz past. That's how come!

SCHOOL WILL be out before we realize it and it is a fact a few dozens of boys and girls will have graduated from the Woodville high school. Also there'll be crowds of youngsters passing from the Grammar department to the high school. After all, school work is just a case of advancement—an endless procession, and can you imagine this county of ours without its schools? The best wishes of all will accompany each boy and each girl as a more pronounced step is taken in their lives through graduation.

THE BOOSTER failed to mention the splendid 24-page cooking demonstration edition of Corrigan press under date of [illegible] Brother Gilbert was a Lindsey's man and would say he has broken for newspaper [illegible] County past year. [illegible] The Booster [illegible]

[illegible] Gilbert with his 24-page [illegible] It appears to those perched upon the side lines he's got an all time record for this part of East Texas for a one-man shop. Any man who thinks differently, just let him get out and try to turn a bigger and better stunt. There may be bigger papers published at some time in the future, but we'll tell the world there'll be more than one man doing the production work.

THE SPACE grafters are becoming more and more troublesome. Each day the mail renders from one to a dozen letters—mostly typewritten. The writers of these sheets of dope imagine editors are having a hard time to get material with which TO FILL UP WITH. In going over our accumulation Saturday morning we found eight of these quarters. They expected a Democratic paper to use G.O.P. stuff, and one is like a free paper—if we fall for, um. One letter from an oil company, ditto car manufacturer, one from W. N. U. offering free plate matter to aid in the spread of somebody's propoganda. A letter from a candidate who wants to be the new Texas governor. Heavens knows how many columns of dope about about the Centennial. Then a most interesting (?) story, something about air plane service. Proofs of a 4-column Washington flip-flop, treating on taxes on to and through alphabetical power and government, whatever that all means. A list of Texas Centennial celebrations—the first date of which is now obsolete was April 27 and the last, Dec. 11-12, and a blue bonnet song, and somebody would like to have the list published in The Booster. And still another letter from another car manufacturer. And if we'd print all this junk we'd have about eight extra pages this week. And then, too there is a raft load of agricultural stuff from College Station. The only free stuff this editor is interested in. If the mails do not quit delivering this free stuff to us we'll have to employ an extra clerk just at the postoffice.

BONUS PAYMENTS TO BE MAILED

Veterans who have properly filed their claims, certificates and other necessary papers, will have no trouble whatever in getting their bonus money and bonds. They will be no waiting in line this time. The Treasury has announced complete plans to expedite the payment of the bonus with the least possible inconvenience to veterans and for the greatest protection to the Treasury. On June 15 two million veterans will receive their bonus bonds and three per cent bonds in full payment of their soldiers' bonds. According to Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans Administration, 2,700,000 claims for bonus payments have been filed with the Veterans Administration, but about 700,000 have not yet been vouched for certification to the Treasury. Every effort is being made to verify these before mailing time. The three per cent bonds are in $50 denominations. For any amount under $50 the veteran will receive a check. Secretary Mongenthau insists that these bonds are a good investment and has expressed the hope that as many veterans as possible will retain them until maturity in 1945.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day has assumed such a deep significance in American life that no formal action is necessary to bring about its observance on May 12 this year, said President Roosevelt in putting aside a Senate resolution calling for a Mother's Day proclamation. "I prefer to think, he added, "that the tributes which will be paid to mothers will come simply and spontaneously from our hearts."

Since the idea of a Mother's Day observance was first conceived by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, in 1906, the second Sunday in May has become indelibly associated with the spirit of the Mosaic commandment, "Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee." But the influence of the celebration has been felt through all the other 364 days of the year.

This year the Golden Rule Foundation of New York is urging that individuals extend the scope of the observance to include tangible expressions of appreciation for other mothers less fortunate than their own, perhaps. It hopes that the day will be marked by many gifts bestowed personally or through local charitable organizations to the poor [illegible]

Interest in observance of the day spread quickly after its first celebration. In 1913 it was made a state holiday in Pennsylvania and in the same year it began to be observed in England. On May 9, 1914, President Wilson, in response to a joint resolution of the Congress, issued a proclamation directing Government officials to display the United States flag on all Government buildings and inviting the people of the nation to display the flag at their homes and other suitable places on each second Sunday in May as an expression of love and reverence for the nation's mothers.—Christian Science Monitor, 1934.

COMMENCEMENE TIME

I remember, I remember the day
that I quit school,
I got a nice diploma for minding every rule,
I was the wisest martial who ever left the place;
There was no person like me in all the human race.
I had Old Homer faded and Solomon as well,
The real reach of my knowledge would take too long to tell.
And I was downright sorry it really was a shame
That I should have to go out and teach the world its game.
For I was tender-hearted and could not bear to see
The looks of jealous anger when people heard of me.

The teacher, to assure me, was kind enough to say
The other folks would manage in get along some way.
I couldn't quite believe him. You see that was before
I'd taken my first toddle outside the college door.
Then I set forth to conquer the poor old, easy world,
With wind and weather chasing and every sail unfurled.
'Twas several long years ago, how many I forget;
But still I don't mind owning the world ain't conquered yet.
I remember, I remember the day that I quit school,
Since then I have been learning how not to be a fool.

BANK CHARTERING POLICY REVIEWED

State Official Declares Sound Principles in Licensing Banks Are Essential

PHILADELPHIA—Sound public policy in chartering banks was discussed by Carl R. Withers, Commissioner of Banking and Insurance of the State of New Jersey, before the Eastern Conference on Banking Service, held here recently under the auspices of the American Bankers Association. He declared that "few questions bearing on the future stability and security of our banking systems loom as more important than that of a sound policy to be pursued in bank chartering."

Alluding to competitive policies of both state and national banking authorities to charter the most banks in the past, he said that "this country was over-banked, and that aside from any other consideration, economic or otherwise, this condition was brought about largely through an unwise, unsafe and unthinking charter policy, alternating between the state and national systems, which has marked and hampered banking progress in this country since its very inception."

Political Influence

He decried political considerations in connection with the chartering of banks saying: "Political influence has no more place in banking (that it has in the deliberations of our highest tribunal—The Supreme Court of the United States. Until this is recognized and brought into being within both our state and national systems, we may never feel safe against the shifting winds of political expedience and favor."

As to the element of sometimes ridiculous competition heretofore existing between the state and national systems, he said that much may be said in favor of the progress made in recent years. In many states there exists a practical working agreement between local supervising authorities and the federal authorities whereby all charter applications are mutually considered on a basis of community need rather than competitive advantage as between systems. In some states this arrangement goes even further in the refusal of the one authority to even consider a charter while pending with the other.

Aside from the competitive and political aspects of our future charter policy, he continued, there are several others more individual and local which merit consideration. Among these he mentioned honesty of purpose, community need, the character of management and adequacy of capital.

"Most state laws make reference to the character, responsibility and fitness of the incorporators of a new bank," he said, continuing:

"So important do I conceive this factor to be, that I place it first among those for consideration, for unless the motive is sound, honest and sincere, there is little likelihood that the resultant institution in its service to the community will reflect other than the spirit of its founders.

The Lessons of the Past

"Too often in the past have charters been granted to promoters pure and simple—not always pure, and by no means simple. The country was dotted with such. The experience has been costly and, it is to be hoped, the lesson well learned, not only by charter-granting authorities, but by the general public as well."

Other factors to be considered as among the most important in granting new bank charters, he said, are the number of institutions already serving the area, the record of earnings of existing institutions, the number of failures since 1930, and the reasons therefor, public convenience and advantage, the reasonable prospects for growth of the community, expectation of profitable operation and whether a branch of an existing institution could serve as well.

"Sound public policy demands that no new banks be chartered unless there is a definite, necessitous and permanent need," he declared. "Sound mergers, consolidations and the sensible extension of branch banking are much to be preferred to any general movement toward a flood of new charters. But here again we must guard carefully against monopoly or unbridled branch competition, either of which might become as dangerous as the organization of new banks."

Public Confidence

Challenging a recently published statement that there is an "apparent loss of public confidence in banks," William A. Boyd of Ithaca, N. Y. asks why, if this were true, bank deposits are constantly increasing. "I maintain that any banking institution which has continued to serve its community since the trying days of 1929 must be enjoying the respect and confidence of that community, and I am sure that the very large majority of banking institutions which have come through this depression have never had to regain public confidence," he says.

MOTHER SHIPTON'S FAMOUS PROPHECY.

"Mother Shipton" was a real character. She lived in England in the time of Henry VIII. Charles Hendley, a smart Englishman, in 1862 composed a poem which he claimed was written by this Mother Shipton in 1485. For many years people all over the world believed that the old fortune teller had actually made the "prophecy." In fact some people still think it was genuine. When we remember that in 1862, when Hendley wrote it, all the wonders which were included in the prophecy had already come to pass, we can see that there is nothing remarkable about the matter except as evidence of the gullibility of the human race. This is the way the poem went:

Carriages without horses will go
And accidents fill the world with woe
Around the world thought will fly
In the twinkling of an eye
Waters shall yet more wonders do
Now strange, yet shall be true
The world upside down shall be
And gold found at the root of a tree
Through hills man shall ride
And no horse or ass be as his side
Under water man shall walk
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk
In the air men shall be seen
In white, in black, in green
Iron in water shall float
As easy as a wooden boat
Fire and water shall wonders do
England at last shall admit a Jew
And this world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

...rabbits that were snared. But ...ate his fair share and more of ...delicious fish.

...Before the sunburn, Garth ...thereof black curlings and bits ...ies and mysterious. More fish ...caught than could be eaten. ...A number were dried on the ...rack along with racks and ...s. For the present, all necessities ...re the question of food and ...ep met.

A cold steady rain storm depressed ...ing. It brought only ...discomfort, for Garth kept the ...alive under a slanted heap of ...ruce boughs. Some the less the ...storm spurred him to redoubled ...ivity. He knew it to be the fore...runner of the autumn blizzards that ...ight now howl down on the snow...land Selwyns at this time.

While Mr. Rundle's weight ...ained, he said little and became ...ake everything as a matter of ...orse. He had fully recovered ...m the effects of shock, even be...re the fifth day when the toilet ...found through his singed chest be...gan to heal. But the rainstorm ...ing of his feverish condition for ...tritability or commonsense pushed ...him out of his placid contentment.

"Why are you loafing around ...here, Garth?" he roared. "Instead ...of wasting all this time piling up ...food you could have made a canoe ...and run me down across to that ...trading post days ago."

Garth swept his right hand edge...wise and across his muffled ears. ...Jeff palm. Nelson no-bites. Dead ...birch—no help. No-blisters—bark, ...no canoe.

"Huh! Do you suppose my wife ...love to stick here and freeze in ...your g—d Arctic night?"

"Grab crawl, sir," Garth ap...proved. "Solomon Kopp. I swear ...you'll soon be so stoned he—not ...log. As for your question, perhaps ...you imagine Miss Hamill and I have ...been hearthing it up in a harbor near ...the pink just for sport?"

The millionaire staggered to his ...feet upright for the first time since ...Hiddy had shot him down a week! ...How the devil did you make out ...if you—you're a native? Or ...rhyme or rhythm there's no tie ...between the two."

Garth suppressed his wrath through the spruce thicket to the deepest of the bush. The sudden pungent ...odor of wood smoke brought him to ...his knees. Like a hunted animal he ...shudder across his back. He looked up ...with intense relief and gratitude to ...the Lilith.

Mr. Rundle's face passed over the ...with its wet nose as the animal ...take the contour of the ground over ...the water was covered with ice. ...whipped up by the chill north...ly wind.

"Garth—Ugh! It's cold—Ugh! ...Hamill, the poor, dear creature ...ing for us all to dinner at Seven ...ring. Let's make it. Ugh! ...This wind would blow an elephant ...We'll have to run for a drift. ...only other thing. I don't like the ...leave us in coming out."

"Notice?"

SOCIETY NOTES

On Tuesday, April 28, Mrs. S. P. Simms was hostess to the Woman's Study club at the home of Mrs. J. R. Willis. After a brief business session the meeting was given over to a program which proved of closest interest to every member, a discussion of the history of Tyler county. Mrs. Simms had prepared a paper tracing the developments of most of the settlements in the county, recounting adventures of the early settlers, and sketching the lives of the ancestors of many present-day Woodville families. Reading of the paper was interspersed with lively group discussion, to which almost every member added something of interest. In conclusion Mrs. J. E. Anderson read a poem entitled "The San Antonio River," and Mrs. J. H. Evans read several poems from "Sketches of the Texas Prairie."

LAST MEETING OF STUDY CLUB FOR THE YEAR

On Tuesday evening, May 5, in one of the season's outstanding entertainments, the Woman's Study Club brought to a close its year's study of Texas history. Mesdames D. P. Rock, J. E. Wheat and T. C. Rock were hostesses for the delightful occasion, with Mrs. Wallace Sholars assisting. Husbands of club members were guests of the evening. A part of the high school gymnasium was converted into a parlor of long ago complete with marble-topped table, kerosene lamps, and even the old family organ. Here the hostesses, dressed in charming costumes of grandmother's days, served their guests. A perfect supper of old Southern dishes was served in the style of Civil war days. Chicken pie, Ye Beginners biscuits and puffy biscuits, pies, cakes, coffee, these were only a few of the dishes which graced the table.

Prior to the guest program this part of the program, and which followed was quite as interesting in its fashion. The hostesses had gone to great pains to collect little-known facts about the early days of Woodville and their papers, containing much material never before put in print. The papers were as follows:

Early Days of Our Town—Mrs. D. P. Rock. Some Early Figures of Interest—Mrs. Wallace Sholars. History of Woodville schools—Mrs. J. E. Wheat. History of Music in Woodville—Mrs. T. C. Rock. History of our Club in Rhyme—Mrs. J. H. Evans. Other numbers on the program included a solo by Mrs. T. C. Rock with Mrs. D. P. Rock at the organ, a hymn lined out by Mrs. D. P. Rock and sung by the audience, and group singing of Auld Lang Syne and organ accompaniment.

One of the most interesting features was the museum, a collection of mirth-provoking old photographs, faded newspapers and documents, and relics and heirlooms many of which dated back more than a century. As Mrs. Sholars exhibited these objects, giving bits of history connected with each, the audience came to feel that this was a worthy nucleus of a real museum. And as the program came to a close they felt that the authors of this worth-while entertainment might well become the founders of a wide-spread movement to collect and preserve facts and relics, while they are yet available which would be in days to come priceless additions to the history of Woodville.

GET UP NIGHTS?
Make this 25c Test

If irritated or weak bladder causes getting up nights, frequent desire, scanty flow, burning or backache, drink lots of boiled or distilled water. You know what hard water does to a teakettle. Also help flush out excess acids, waste and deposits, with little green Buchets, a diuretic laxative. Two of the 6 time-tested ingredients are buchu leaves and juniper oil. If you are not pleased in four days, your druggist will refund your 25c. Tyler County Drug Co., Woodville; Best's Pharmacy, Colmesneil, Tex. Adv. 22-

Why Gulf is the Gas for May

Birds are nesting. It's Spring . . . and it's the time of year to use Spring gas. The average temperature is several degrees higher than it was in April, and unless you're using a gas specially refined for Spring driving you're throwing dimes and dollars away. Get That Good Gulf Gasoline. Because it's "Kept in Step with the Calendar"—all of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste. Pull up at the Sign of the Orange Disc and try a tankful—today.
