PAY YOUR DOCTOR
It is not true that an apple a day will keep you well and the Doctor away. The truth is just this: All work and no play. Dull's his ambition and drives him away. Your doctor and car need filling alike. When the tanks are empty they go on a strike. Neither can function alone up air. So fill up his tanks when needing his care. Your Doctor comes first attending your birth. And is last man with you when leaving this earth. He's your guardian of health all through life. Not only you but your children and wife.

It is not true that cash will credit bill. It is the delinquent who can't make a bill. Pay cash today and nothing you will owe. Then when you call a Doctor he will go. Now if you think a Doctor has to go. You've never made a greater mistake. He is no more bound to answer your call. Than to close his eyes and jump in a lake. Don't tell your Doctor you will pay next fall. For he may have answered that Last Roll Call. I feel quite assured these lines are in taste. So look up your Doctor and pay him in haste.
