

Wanted! High Pressure Sales Its Individual Signatures Tells It All Folks P. D. Q. Appertaining To The Bond Election

Dr. J. J. Shivers is in Jasper today, attending the district health unit meeting there. This district has the opportunity to have a physician for the district which is three or maybe four counties a resident nurse for each county and one or two assistants for each county, and the portion of the bill to be paid by Tyler County is $300.00. The Board of Health of the County is expected to assume some of the cost of this service. It is in many parts of the old U. S. A. to have a tractor or tractor of much more importance than children. What difference of some of them die? Plenty more come. What difference of a big snake as have hook worms? They'll get by somehow. Many others have lived to a ripe old age. What difference if new might suffer at child birth more than the needs for lack of knowledge the many things that would make it easier for her and a stronger baby? "Gosh," haven't babies been born by the hundreds in this county and what do nurses and doctors do for them? Oh, Hell, what's the use. But tractors bought on time at so much per cent, etc. etc. we go to have em. And incidentally, perhaps, mind you, the high pressure salesman has a day to go with machinery. How would it be to get a few high pressure sales people to get out over the county and sell a couple of nurses and doctors? Ask the County Board as we view it, quite enough to pay the county nurse by sending the official bill. It is all part of town to be equipped and printing firm, of course, pays taxes in Tyler County. In other words, Woodville is a big county. "Oh, yes," explain. Hell, no!

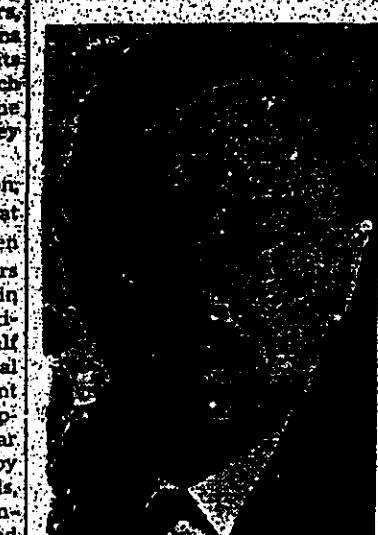

At a meeting of the school board Monday night an election was ordered for Tuesday, Feb. 23rd on a bond issue of $20,000. It was unanimously agreed that the proceeds be used for the following purposes: 1. To add and equip at least three classrooms to the present buildings. 2. To install a central heating plant for the entire system. 3. To equip and equip the present building and to work the grounds around the building for growth lights. There has been some discussion of the past of having people on individual land and the freedom of a separate building, but both of these ideas were abandoned. It was decided that the amount of bonds that can be issued does not justify either proposition. Therefore, the issue is held. However, the things that are most needed. In the past we might be able to get without the additional money but that would necessitate some kind of a mortgage back to the local districts from which they came. We feel that this would be a backward step and very poor business management. The bonds we will have to get, and it is only a matter of time until the same thing will have to be done with these installed later. The history is the individual income tax unsatisfactory for several reasons. They are unpopularity because they match the level of the property tax. The property tax, either too high or too low, and the interruption caused by the property tax during the school year. We feel that this is an antiquated and obsolete method, and we know of no other way to pay for children's education. The confusion in different schools. Furthermore, it is impossible to heat the gymnasium or furnish warm water for the showers with these heaters. All of these troubles can be avoided and probably at a saving in cost by the installation of a modern heating system. The need of the repairs and paint, especially for the Grammar school, is obvious, as well as the necessity of the electric lights. Each year for 16 years, this school has had a steady growth in attendance and a steady increase in the work that is being done for the pupils. With the cooperation that has been manifested during this time, we must continue to grow and improve. We shall not be satisfied until the children of this community have all the advantages that children have anywhere else. The growth of the district ought to increase the facilities, without any increase in the burden of the taxpayers. This increase in bonded indebtedness will not increase the taxes one iota. In fact, no increase could be made without a constitutional amendment voted by the entire state. This election as previous elections have done, only authorizes us to borrow money from the State Board, and paying the money back in annual installments with 4% interest. This money is paid back out of the 50 cent bond tax now being levied. We know of no other way that the buildings and equipment can be provided. In fact, there could be no better way if it would do so to take all of the cost of the building out of the school money for one year of the entire expense of the present taxpayers, and then let future generations and tax payers reap the benefits. By the method in use, each group of taxpayers pay for the buildings and equipment as they use them. And as a business proposition, aside from any desire to see that our children are properly taken care of, consider this: 16 years ago, the school money spent in this community was approximately $2,000 per year, one-half of which was paid by the local taxpayers. Now the amount spent in this community is approximately $40,000 per year and one-fourth of it is paid by local taxpayers. In other words, we have a net profit to the community of $30,000 per year. And we hope that the end of the growth and improvements is not reached. We are certain that it is not, if we have the support and co-operation in the future that we have had in the past. We are submitting this statement for a clearer and better understanding of all the issues and pleading our efforts in behalf of a better school and community. J. E. WHEAT, E. H. HOPSON, HILL C. DURHAM, H. F. DAVIS, T. S. MCGREW, K. W. LEE, W. Z. PARSONS, Trustees—Woodville, Independent School District.

The Social Security Act Is Commencing To Get Hot Around The Edges. Warning To All Those To Whom It Is Directed

TRIED BY SOVIET

A recent photograph of Gregory Sokolnikov, former ambassador to London, who with 16 other Russians, many of them internationally known, faced a military tribunal of the Soviet supreme court to answer charges of treason. The 17 were charged with participation in a plot against the Stalin regime. Leon Trotsky, now in exile in Mexico, was named as the genius behind the plot.

Texas laws for Social Security tax, should put a red circle on their calendars around the dates February 25, February 28 and March 31. With Texas employers facing three different deadlines for filing different returns under the Social Security law, collection agencies here in Austin are feeling that many will be penalized unless they familiarize themselves with the situation created by the recent granting of extensions for filing returns and making payments. R. B. Anderson, Chairman of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission and Frank Schofield, collector of Internal Revenue for the First Texas district, today joined in an appeal to taxpayers to acquaint themselves with the final filing dates. "The first thing I want made clear," Collector Schofield said, "is that the extension granted by the treasury department a few days ago applies only to taxes for unemployment compensation, or Title 9 of the Act. Therefore it applies only to those employing eight or more persons who are due to make returns on Form 940 covering the calendar year 1938. It does not apply to Title 3, the old age benefit section which is concerned with employers of one or more persons and who should file returns on Form SS-1. The old age benefits tax is payable monthly; the final date being the last day of the succeeding month. Thus, the return for the month of January, 1937, must be in my office on or before February 28. There has been no extension applying to this title and I am without power to grant one. The extension which was granted by the treasury department allowed an additional 60 days for filing returns under Title 9, thus making March 31 the final date for filing such returns. Under the law no further extensions can be granted for these returns. Chairman Anderson's chief concern is that Texas taxpayers forget to make this 60-day extension granted by the Texas commission. The new deadline for the payment of the Texas Unemployment Compensation tax for the calendar year of 1938 is 1% of the 1938 payroll.

February 25, while the Federal deadline on this tax is March 31. The Texas commission also has a series of monthly payments not affected by the extension. All employers of eight or more persons must make monthly returns during 1937. These monthly payments are due not later than the 25th day of the month following that for which payment is made. Thus, February 25 is the final date for payment of the Texas unemployment tax for January, 1937. "I want to urge all employers who come under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act to pay the state the required ninetenths on 1% on 1938 payrolls as soon as possible," Chairman Anderson said. "Such payments must actually have been made to our fund before credit can be granted on the Federal tax. In short, the total unemployment compensation tax for 1938, if paid on time, will be only 1%—9/10ths to the state and 1/10th to the Federal government. But if employers do not make their payments to the Texas Commission in time to get Federal credit, then they will be liable for the full amount of both state and Federal taxes, a total of 1% and 9/10ths, or their 1938 payrolls. The schedule for employers is as follows: February 25—All employers of eight or more must pay their unemployment compensation tax for the month of January, 1937, by this date. This tax, also to be paid to the State commission, is 1% and 8/10ths of the total payroll for January, 1937. February 28—Employers of one or more, must pay their old age benefits tax on Form SS-1 for the month of January, 1937, to the collector of internal revenue, March 31—Employers of eight or more persons must pay the Federal unemployment compensation tax of 1936 to the collector of internal revenue. This tax is 1.10% of 1% of the total 1936 payroll, provided 2/10th of 1% has been paid into the State fund and credit properly claimed, otherwise the Federal tax is 1% of the 1936 payroll.

Williams Tubb
The Booster announced last week that Sam Tubb has returned to Florida, and with other friends was very much surprised when the news came of his marriage with Miss Florrie Williams of Doucette, who was attending C. Miss Clayne Lee Shivers left Sunday for New Orleans to visit her friends, Floyd Getzinger and family and to attend Mardi Gras. Messrs. W. T. Ogden, Clyde Phillips and Marshall O'Brien were in Houston Monday night to attend a service school for mechanics and salesmen. The Misses Julia Belle Cruse and Marguerite Davis with P. L. Curle spent Sunday in Austin with Miss Kathryn Fuller. W. H. Head was moved Friday from the local hospital to Hotel Dieu in Beaumont. He is much nearer now to his children in Port Neches. Mrs. Lou Tucker and daughter spent the week end in Houston. Mayor Ezra Eaves is planning on a new six-room house on the lot just north of his residence. It seems that Woodville is still short of houses for those who have considerable demand for modern houses.

Telford in Pink Underthings? Yes?

Palestine, Tex., Feb. 26.—Husky P. M. Grier, East Texas basketball official, was embarrassed. It happened this way: He played his conventional striped shirt, knicker and basketball shoes in a leather bag boarded a bus and started for Geopland to officiate at a high school basketball game. He arrived on schedule, hurried to the men's dressing room and started to undress. He opened the bag and pulled out to his chagrin a varied assortment of women's pink underclothing. Game time neared and team coaches pushed Telford, but he declined to wear the feminine regalia. His bag, with the same equipment, exactly matched that of another, accidentally carried off the bus.—Times Picayune, Feb. 7.

Two hundred cases received 1001 garments and 18 cases received $188.50 cash according to Miss Lillian McBrayer, welfare case worker for the county.

It was the only man in the forward lock when there came a sudden blow, and the vessel began filling with water.

By WILLIAM HORNE
IT IS perhaps the "sandhog" of the human mole who goes about his death-defying trade of burrowing into the innards of the earth, constructing subways, tunnels and mammoth foundations who holds first place in a swiftly moving world of high adventure and glamorous drama. And well might his job be called the world's most dangerous game.

Unlike his brother, the miner, who works hundreds of feet below the surface in gloom and shadow, the sandhog must have starling light at his constant command. Work is by brotherly aid, he can work only in three-hour shifts at most and under certain conditions only one hour each day, but in the thirty-minute periods of rest.

Picture, if you can, a gigantic steel tube twenty feet in diameter being built through the bowels of the earth. The sandhog is the man who keeps the water out of the tunnel. An enormous cylinder with the front end open and protected only by a makeshift construction, pushed forward by heavy machinery that has a "damped" thrust of a million and a half pounds.

It was when this same tunnel was about half completed that it began to leak. The water began dripping in. Four men worked feverishly for half an hour to check the leak. During that time they attempted to hold it back with their hands. Suddenly with a terrific roar a flood of water came pouring into the hole.

It was a matter of minutes before the water had reached the men. They were in a desperate struggle to get out. The water was so hot that it was almost unbearable. They were in a desperate struggle to get out.

Always there is a certain danger of a "blow" in the most dangerous of all sandhog work. Many men have died because they were not properly equipped. The sandhog must be able to work in a very hot and very wet environment.

Richard Greason was one of the men and his death was sudden. He was working in the tunnel when a sudden blow struck him. He was killed instantly.

Compensation Case Lives
His breath came back to him as he was lifted up. He was taken to the hospital. He was given the best medical care available. He is now recovering.

It was just one of those things that happen in a mine. The sandhog's life is a constant struggle against the elements of nature.

Nations of World Allot Year 1939 To New York Fair

World Exposition Already Growing Up; Seeks Active Participation of State

NEW YORK (Special)—The New York World Fair, which every state in the nation must inevitably take small or prominent part in, is out of its infancy.

Preparatory committees have been set on a night and day at the Flushing Meadows site of 181 1/2 acres at the geographic center of New York City. A "city" of offices, and "land" of monuments emanates from the Fair Corporation headquarters on Four Elysian Fields.

The task of grading the site is about half completed. Sections of raw earth have been already covered with park grounds. Other battalions are shoveling out meadows that for use as fertile soil for the main stands.

The first of the structures which will house the exhibits for the 1939 Fair has been completed and is ready for occupancy. This is the headquarters building for the fair.

The most splendid and important part of the project is the "International Exposition" building. It is a masterpiece of modern architecture.

Starting next April, we plan to complete the design of our major buildings. Every day we are expected to design no less than 20 major buildings to house the exhibits from every part of the world.

Without doubt, the fair is a physical expression to the spirit and heart of the fair as announced and set down on paper in our headquarters. It is a masterpiece of modern architecture.

And then, on top of all this display of open interest comes the announcement that the International Convention Bureau meeting in Paris has allocated the year 1939 to the New York Fair. This means that the New York Fair has achieved ranking as the "new international exposition of 1939" and secures it of the active support of the 11 nations signatories to the agreement.

President Roosevelt has just signed the bill which authorizes the government to acquire the Flushing Meadows site. This is a great step forward for the fair.

I am your faithful admirer. I am your constant admirer. I am your constant admirer. I am your constant admirer.

Why not declare open season for all thoughtful men who do not take the home page? The Booster—home each week for the benefit of Friend Wife.
