

ALONG WITH the oil...
 The booster usually does not apply the word game to big business, but in the oil world, there appears to be so many angles of endeavor. But what The Booster has reference to at this time is the leasing game. The word has been coming to this writer of things in connection with leasing, and therefore suggests that every land owner in the county who has leased his land to oil lease holders, dig up the lease contracts, papers, the printed forms, etc., and if not perfectly satisfied with the wording, take the same to a lawyer and find out if the papers are sufficient leases or prove to be deeds to the property under consideration. It will be remembered a Dallas outfit had their leases invalidated by the court in a case at law because of crookedness and it would seem now is the time for lease holders to open their eyes.

OIL EXCITEMENT is still going strong in the county. Oil news and oil company's offices in Woodville are still in evidence. The average citizen of the county would like to know what the lid is going to pop off.

WOODVILLE AND vicinity has been more than fortunate the past fortnight. The community about has been blessed with showers, miscellaneous showers and showers of the wet variety. All are thankful for small favors.

STOP LIGHTS have been installed at the C. M. Davis Dr. Smith corner at the Main street corner, and at the Main street corner of the town square at the Stillings & Turner street corner. These lights are the center of the government and stop before turning either way on entering upon highway 40. It will be well to heed these lights.

MONEY SURE there's a dollar of it waiting to be put to work. A building association does not do a prospecter a favor by putting out money. Like a banking corporation, they have their money to make more money. A transaction with either a bank or building association is almost sure to be profitable. Some prospectors are not happy but without a dollar for each.

WELL, YOU Woodvillians, strange as it may seem, the oil production game in Tyler, county is now an assured fact. It has been a long tedious wait. It has taken a long time for oil producers to make-up their minds. It is hoped that sleepy day laid away dollars will be put to work and modern apartments, homes and rest properties will be produced to accommodate the men and their families who will soon be here.

BEATING THE BIG BASS DRUM

DR. T. M. HUNTER
 It was with sorrow that many in this community read of the death of Dr. T. M. Hunter, beloved pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Beaumont. A great character, a godly man and all who came in contact with him felt his kindly influence.

 The Woodville community is now an assured fact. It has been a long tedious wait. It has taken a long time for oil producers to make-up their minds. It is hoped that sleepy day laid away dollars will be put to work and modern apartments, homes and rest properties will be produced to accommodate the men and their families who will soon be here.

MYSTERIES THE WORLD HAS NEVER SOLVED

Who Was LOUIS PHILIPPE?

BY MADDO OWENS

ONE of the arch villains of the French reign of terror was Louis, Duc d'Orléans, a direct descendant of King Louis XIII. To save his neck during the revolution he carried water on both shoulders. Affecting sympathy with the people's cause, he renounced his titles, assumed the name of "Philippe Egalite" (Equality) and voted for the death of the unhappy Louis XVI, his kinsman.

But all of this while he was paying his way to escape the guillotine and after the revolution should have had a quiet life in his own land. He was, however, a Frenchman who was not content with his own land. He was a Frenchman who was not content with his own land.

He was a Frenchman who was not content with his own land. He was a Frenchman who was not content with his own land.

He was a Frenchman who was not content with his own land. He was a Frenchman who was not content with his own land.
