

Campfire Boogie
Steps Taboo
 A check will be taken immediately by the Highway Commission to prevent a repetition of last year's wide-spread frauds in the registration of motor vehicles, Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, said recently, following a conference with Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, and representatives of the Texas Good Roads Association.
 The Highway Commission already faces a serious curtailment of its federal aid funds and the road program of Texas needs a dollar available for construction and maintenance. It would be a serious blow to our plan should any substantial amount be lost through these corrupt practices. It should be the concern of every honest citizen and of honest county officials to assist us in stamping out these frauds.
 Unconfirmed reports have reached the Highway Commission to the effect that owners are being offered discounts from the regular fee as an inducement to register their vehicles outside the counties of their residence. The initial report stated that a 20% reduction was being offered to residents of Harris county. Last year discounts ranging from 20 to 45% were offered as a small group of counties engaged in cut-throat competition for motor vehicle registration fees.
 It is our intention to take drastic steps if necessary to curb this vicious practice. It is planned to go the full limit of the law in seeing that the interests of a large majority of the counties and the citizens of the state are protected from these illegal operations.
 The general law is specific in stating that motor vehicles must be registered in the county of the owner's residence. It also provides that vehicles not registered in the county of the owners residence are, in fact, not registered and their owners, if apprehended, will be required to re-register their cars and pay the regular fee. They also will be subject to a fine of $200 for operating an unregistered vehicle. It is our present intention to investigate fully all the reports coming to our attention and take whatever action is required. Vehicles found to be illegally registered will be reported to the Highway patrol and be required to re-register. The Highway Patrol also has the authority to file complaints charging operation of illegally registered cars.
 Last year the highway fund was robbed of several hundred thousands of dollars through this form of racketeering. We found on investigation that a small proportion of the counties were issuing plates at fees below those prescribed by law. We also found instances where the counties had issued script to machinery and supply companies in payment for goods with the understanding that the script would be accepted in payment of registration fees. To induce motorists to violate the law, the holders of this scrip discounted it as much as 35%.
 Bobbitt recalled that the legislature at its regular session last year refused to amend the law to permit a wide latitude in the registration of motor vehicles. In addition to this the legislature passed a provision that authorizes the highway department to take over or super-

The J. B. Best Building Started
 Ground is being leveled this week just north of the Clyde E. Smith office, and J. B. Best is fulfilling a dream of many years to build a business home. A 40x76-foot brick is planned, and its not quite decided yet whether it will be one or two stories. Mr. Best has been in business 18 years this June in the location where he now is, and friends are sincerely glad to know he will (he hopes by June) be moved into the new spacious and up-to-date building.
Have You Your Banquet Ticket
 Next Tuesday night the football banquet will be held in the gym. You are urged to buy a ticket for the larger part of it will be used for the boys' sweaters. The P. T. It is not raised this way, it will be solicited over the town and why not enjoy the banquet while helping raise the money that is needed.

South Farmers 3% of Tung Oil
 Pensacola, Fla. (Gulf Coast Farmers) this year will produce only 5,000,000 pounds of tung oil, just a drop in the bucket, for the 185,000,000 needed by tung-oil using industries. J. J. Adair, president of the Tung Oil Association of America, points out. Only 120,000 acres of tung trees are now planted, but this is expected to be increased to 180,000 before the end of 1936, Adair said. About half this total is of commercial production age.
 Adair said a British syndicate had recently purchased 6,000 on the Gulf Coast and started a tung oil plantation. A large paint industry in the East has just bought 10,000 acres for similar cultivation.
 At the rate of progress in the South, he added, it will be 30 more years before farmers in the mild region produce even the minimum requirements for the automobile, paint, lacquer and varnish industries.
 During the first nine months of 1937 imports of tung from China exceeded 150,000,000 pounds, greatest in history. Stock is now very low in this country because of the Japanese war. Paint, varnish and lacquer industries consume 75% of the supply.
 The association is appealing to the Federal Government to finance Southern farmers—now in debt because of overproduction of cotton at low prices—in the planting of tung trees to supplement their income. The average farmer cannot finance himself over the four-year period required before the trees reach commercial production stages Adair concluded.

ANNOUNCING FOR HIS FOURTH TERM
 The announcement column will be found in the "Booster" in the political announcement for the benefit of voters in Precinct No. 1. He will have his platform before "Booster" readers as soon as possible.
JOHN F. RENFEO FOR REPRESENTATIVE
 John F. Renfear has not written his political announcement in writing for the "Booster" but he will have a story of interest to all. However, he wished The Booster to say: "I hope to see all the voters before election, but, in any event, I'll give them the issue through your paper sometime before election."
TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 1
 Subject to the action of the Democratic July Primaries, I take this method of announcing my candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Tyler County. I understand the responsibility of this office and feel capable of taking care of same. I promise, if elected, to handle all business to the best advantage of my precinct and to the county as a whole.
 It is my intention to see each voter in my precinct before the Primary in July. However, if I should fail, I will appreciate your vote and influence.
 Very truly yours,
JOE W. PATE.
TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 75th JUDICIAL DISTRICT
 In announcing my candidacy for re-election as your District Attorney, I wish to assure you that I am grateful and thankful to you for the honor you bestowed upon me when you elected me to this office.
 This office, like any other public one, is the people's office, and I feel that I am simply your representative. Since I have been your District Attorney, I have diligently tried to represent you to the best of my ability. I have done my best to treat all alike, the rich—the poor—the high—the low have received, as nearly as possible, the same fair and impartial treatment.

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF TYLER COUNTY
 I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of Treasurer of Tyler County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.
 I have taught school in this county for many years and feel that I am thoroughly qualified to fill the office properly and efficiently, and, if elected, I will do my utmost to show you my appreciation and gratitude.
 I have spent my entire life in this county; my father spent his 62 years here, and my grandfather left Tyler County and went to the Civil War and was killed in the Battle of Mansfield, La. I am telling you this so that you may know that I am of Tyler County.
 I ran for County Clerk twelve years ago, and was defeated by my opponent by about 65 votes in the second primary. I have reasons for not running for that office this year, and hope that I am not placing an unnecessary imposition upon you by asking for the office of treasurer.
 I have never had the good fortune of serving you as a county officer, and if you elect me, I will not ask you for a third term. If the office is a liability instead of an asset, two terms is enough for me to be honored with it. But on the other hand if the office is an asset, I will have saved enough at the end of two terms to stay out and let some other good mother's son or daughter have the benefits, honors and pleasures of it.
 I hope to meet and talk to each of you personally, but in case I do not, my wishes are that you will give me your most sincere consideration and know I am striving to show you what I need and will appreciate all the favors you may bestow me.
 Sincerely yours,
GROVER C. HOWELL.

The Houston Fat Stocks Show Will Be Held In The New $2,000,000 Coliseum; 8 Days
 An amazing array of spectacular attractions has been booked for the Houston Fat Stock Show and Live Stock Exposition which will be housed in Houston's new $2,000,000 coliseum for 9 days and nights beginning Feb. 28.
 For the first time in the history of Houston's annual Spring Trade Week there will be a series of outstanding attractions for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors expected here from the vast area constituting this city's trade territory.
 Five big time events have been booked and each will vie to outdo the other from an entertainment standpoint.
 Prize live stock from many counties will be exhibited in the stock show, which has grown so large that it was necessary to construct an auxiliary building at a cost of $90,000 in order to adequately house it. This big structure immediately adjoins the spacious coliseum. Permits will aggregate $8,865.
 Another big time period of entertainment, hitherto with thrills will be the rodeo for which $20,000 in prize money has been posted. Many of the World's champions will participate, according to Joe D. Hughes, chairman of the arrangements committee. Among them will be Chester Byers and Ed Hamblett, both of Dallas, who are champions of this and that rodeo each of which has become a national event. The rodeo will be held in the coliseum during the last week of the show.

Club International Revue, one of the outstanding attractions on the road today.
 Several blocks of one of Houston's downtown streets—Walker stage of the huge coliseum. This is a fast-paced revue that has won the acclaim of critics from coast to coast and has played return engagements in such metropolitan cities as New York, Chicago, and other places whose citizens are critical of their amusement fare. The cast of this production, which comes to Houston direct from Los Angeles and Hollywood engagements, consists of 40 people—mostly petite beauties, saucy personalities and the latest daring novelties, song, dances and mirth predominate in Avenue will be converted into a gay carnival midway where visitors will find virtually every conceivable variety of entertainment designated to please both young and old. There will be rides galore for the kiddies, thrills aplenty for the grownups, shows, concessions, outdoor attractions—in short, everything to be found on the midway of a first class carnival company.
 A deal was closed Saturday with Bill Hames, owner of Bill Hames Greater United Shows, an aggregation possessing a national reputation, to supply the midway attractions. After outlining the series of features garnered together for the show, J. W. Sartzello, exposition president, called attention to his statement some time ago that the exposition this year was going to be "the show of shows."
 "I believe that the public will agree with me on that count. I know for a certainty they will after they have seen the exposition. There will be entertainment for everybody!"
 The Houston Junior C. of C., the largest such organization in the world, is handling the advance sale of tickets, which they are offering at a reduction of 50%, providing they are purchased prior to the opening day.
 These advance tickets are available for showgoers throughout the Houston trade area, according to Knox E. Wright, general chairman of the campaign. A total of 30,000 tickets, in books of four each, are available at the special rate. Mr. Wright said: They may be obtained by writing the Junior C. of C., Fat Stock Show ticket committee, c/o C. building, Houston.

WOODVILLE HAS a history of doing things out of the ordinary, or, of doing ordinary things in an extraordinary manner. Expositions of this can be recalled by, for instance, the last three Junior-Senior banquets, the Foot ball Banquets. Getting away from the field of sports, The Booster would mention, in particular, the last two schools of instruction put over by the local chapter of the Eastern Star members. These were held in the Baptist church, The Eastern Star reception, also held at the Woodville high school gymnasium, which proved to be one of Woodville's greatest social successes. Getting in to the political arena all remember the great home-coming event, held at the State Highway Park, out on highway 106. Of course, the political dinner on the court house lawn, Rep. Dies the main attraction, was also in a class by itself, even if the weather acted up scandalously. Then a short time ago the new court house was dedicated. That day there were two attractions, i. e., the revamped, rebuilt and nearly naked as far as the grounds were concerned, and then the barbecue dinner. None of the events mentioned could be eclipsed by a city seven times the size of Woodville. Yes, we just do things differently in Woodville.

A GREAT deal of speculation is about as to the plans concerning highway 45, Woodville to Livingston. The surveys, indeed, several of them have been made, money is reported to have been allocated for the work and still no one can be found who knows just what it all amounts to. The Booster hesitates to believe politics, higher up than can be located in or about this part of the woods, is taking a part in the delay. And yet bits of news, newspaper reports, etc., keep on keeping on. During the past 60 days two reports were rife. Work was to start immediately. Everybody knows it has not started. Are the funds available? Have the funds been sidetracked? Are the funds being juggled? Can it be possible interests do not want the road improved and completed for fear business might be transferred from Beaumont to Houston? However, in these days of speedy travel, when automobiles just naturally cut up distances, trade in this part of East Texas that wants to go to Houston will go there regardless, even though 45, Woodville to Livingston is bad on account of rain. Indeed, this class of trade will go and by Chester and Corrigan, and then a straight shoot in. It is a fact, not improving will not keep Houston traders out of Houston. Find elsewhere a story carrying a Liberty dateline, which shows how Beaumont is attempting to secure a highway that would be supposed to divert Houston business to Beaumont.

HISTORIC HOAXES
By Elmo Scott Watson
which this newspaper will begin printing soon

In South Africa he's called the "ardvark", to scholars he's the "marmot" or "woodchuck", but to millions of Americans he's just a plump groundhog, emerging from his hole on February 2 in search of a shadow. For years popular tradition has held that the groundhog, upon seeing his shadow, will scurry back to cover for another six weeks, during which the weather will turn cold and gloomy again. But if February 2 is a cloudy day, there'll be an early spring.

He's An Industrial Worker!

YOU would naturally think of the man operating the tractor as a farmer. And he is a farmer, but he's also an increasingly important figure in the industrial world, not only as a consumer but as a producer. He's engaged in hooping up a field of soy beans, which later, after passing through various factory processes, you'll be using in the form of paint and varnish, soap, linoleum and scores of other products. Consumers Information points out that 31 million pounds of soy bean oil, a comparatively new crop for American farmers, was produced in one recent year. Of this amount, 2 1/2 million pounds went into the soap kettles, 5 million into linoleum and 13 million into paint and varnish. This brand new market for American farmers, who are now growing a large number of industrial as well as food products, has never developed, like many others, through the vast research programs undertaken by American industry, whose laboratories have added untold millions to the national wealth and also thousands of jobs for American workers.

Some Record as a Pie-counter Man

Washington.—Morris Sheppard, dean of congress, became a senator for Texas 25 years ago Saturday. This quarter century, he added to the 10 years he already has served in the house gives the short greying Texan a longer period of continuous service in congress than any other living member. He hadn't remembered the anniversary until newspapermen reminded him of it. "I haven't planned any celebration," he smiled. "I'll just work all day, as usual, I guess."

Several others now in the senate and house preceded Sheppard in congress, but their service has not been continuous. The senator is but three months senior to Vice President Gerner, who became a congressman from Texas in 1903. Sheppard had been out of college only four years when he came to congress to succeed his father, John L. Sheppard.

Officers were not provided for congressmen then, and Sheppard rented one near the capitol. Today he has quarters both in the capitol and the senate office building, and his one-man secretarial force has been increased to seven.

"And they all keep busy," he said. He is not a frequent speaker, but regularly each January 16 he addresses the senate in commemoration of the national prohibition amendment, which he wrote and still defends.

He addresses the chair with the same half-smile which greets visitors at his office. He stands still when he speaks, seldom raises his voice and uses but few gestures.

His long service stood him the good stead when the Democrats came into power, and in 1933 he became chairman of the important Military Affairs committee.

He is an ardent supporter of the New Deal, which he credits with having raised the national income from 30 billions a year to 80 billions. Since 1933, he said, the governments chief concern

From Gov. Amos Of Colorado

"I quote from Isaiah 54:10: For the mountains shall depart, and the hill be moved.
"Let it never be said of the sovereign state of Colorado that she does not meet her obligations. When the gun sounded the end of the disaster at the Cotton Bowl last New Year's day I knew that beef and speed had triumphed over our more spiritual representatives on the gridiron, and I knew also that I had lost to my own state forever one of her most treasured possessions—Pike's Peak.
"From that moment to this I have worried over the matter of payment. I knew I must make good on my wager, but how?
"It has been the income of the average man. Sheppard said he had seen the Democratic government overcome many critical situations and he predicted it would survive all dictatorships and "monarchical regimes."
"The two most dramatic incidents he had seen, Sheppard said, were President Wilson's World War message and President Roosevelt's first message to congress in 1933.

"If you don't mind, it's bedtime, isn't it?" I'm pretty tired." And then, her strange calm breaking, she wailed suddenly: "I want Mamma! I—I want Mamma!"

"She gave me this for you." Her tears were the best thing that could have happened, for both of them. In comforting Nora, James himself found comfort. For those pitifully-scrawled words on the scrap of paper tore his heart. Deserted only a month before her baby was born, too proud to appeal to the husband she had left for good, she had only yet giving the child his name because she had no other. Iris had at the last turned to him, asking protection for her little Nora.

It is James who had confessed to Ned the day before "an infatuation beyond my understanding."

"And if she marries him," Ned predicted, "you'll be supporting 'em all their lives. Dad—Don—Mason—is no good. He's a rolling stone. And what will you tell me, does Nora know about economy?"

Her father looked at her, his eyes a trifle hard. "You think he would?" "I think," she answered, speaking thoughtfully, "that a year in an office—especially in Ned's office, will finish Don, Father."

"But, Don, it's the night of the Currys' dance and I'm all dressed!"

"What's the matter, beloved?" "You, said Nora. "I'll be worth the price, Don."

Mrs. Edna Aldridge and son F. M. and wife of Beaumont visited the R. A. and Dr. J. B. Cruse families Sunday.

G. W. Pridden of Doucette visited the Booster office last week and with eyes atwinkle he stated that he had lived 50 years with one wife; fifty years on the same farm and only the first and last year used the other man's money to make crop. He fears that if he makes a crop this year it will have to be on borrowed money.

Jehro Holmes is surely having a period of bad luck. Last week we reported, the cow ramming his car and breaking off a horn, now Mr. Holmes is recovering his car and breaking off a horn, and jaw, caused by a horse he was riding, which bolted when the rein broke and threw his rider, and would have killed him had not the saddle band broken and let him and saddle fall in the clear.

Woodroe Cruse left early last week to again enter State U at Austin.

Miss Virgie Hutton has returned to Lamar college in Beaumont. Miss Ruthie Hutton was down Monday to spend a few hours with her sister, Mrs. Marshall who is in the hospital.

Attorney Clyde E. Smith was in Austin Friday to attend a joint meeting of five O. P. chapters. The day following he and Worthy Grand Master, Mrs. Norma Allen and wife, is charged in San Antonio with a banquet given in their honor at the Gunter hotel. Tuesday Mrs. Smith was with the Eastern Star at Port Arthur and attended a school of instruction.
