THE RED CROSS DRIVE NOV. 11

J. E. Wheat, chapter chairman, has appointed chairmen in each community in the county in preparation for the annual drive for Red Cross memberships to be conducted during the regular roll call period from Armistice day to Thanksgiving day. Tyler county chapter has the record of an increase in memberships year after year. Last year 300 persons in the county joined the Red Cross and a substantial increase is expected this year, according to Mr. Wheat.

Dr. Watt Barclay, first aid chairman, reports that during the past year several Red Cross first aid classes have been taught in the county. Dr. Miller taught one class at Doucette. M. G. Kirkley conducted one class for employees of the State Highway department last summer. Dr. Barclay has taught two classes during the year and he expressed the hope that other classes would be organized this fall and a highway first aid station be established somewhere in the county.

J. L. Pate, who serves the chapter as Home Service chairman, has made about 50 investigations during the past year in answer to inquiries from the army and navy posts and from federal institutions. Mr. Pate has had some very interesting cases, including family situations in homes of men in service in distant parts of the county. By his investigations he has been able to ease the anxiety of the person away regarding the welfare of the folks at home. All such inquiries are relayed to Mr. Pate through Red Cross liaison representatives in other parts of the county.

During the month of November S. V. Sullivan, will distribute Red Cross accident prevention supplies to all the schools in the county. Each school child will have his attention drawn to accident hazards and to their prevention.

U. S. J. Willard receives information, materials from Red Cross, etc., in turn gives it to the community.

Maurice Curtney, as Disaster chairman, is responsible for taking full charge in case disaster strikes in Tyler County. He is the person who notifies the National Red Cross office in case of sudden disaster and who organizes local groups to meet the emergency.

O. A. Riley has been appointed to serve as Junior Red Cross chairman for the Tyler County Chapter. Under his supervision, schools in the county will enroll in Junior Red Cross and carry out regular junior services, such as exchange of correspondence with school children in foreign countries. More than 20 million children in the world belong to the Junior Red Cross, and are dedicated to the promotion of world peace and human happiness.

Messrs. Archie Nash, Bob Baker, Dick Johnson and son Frank of Emilee were in Woodville on Tuesday.

Hines Faces Trial Again

It Is Not True That There No More Frontiers For Exploitation By Men

Many writers recently have attributed our economic troubles to the fact that our frontiers are gone. From Colonial days, when men were destitute or disappointed, they moved west, took up new land and started over. The United States was settled because men moved to improve themselves. From the flight of the Israelites to Canaan to the settlement of Texas, men and women have moved because they were dissatisfied. America was developed by the courage and daring of men who were dissatisfied and did something about it.

America has achieved greatness in mechanical and industrial lines because men wanted to improve some process. Every scientific invention has been the creation of some pioneer mind who didn't like to do things the old way. They have forged forward, not by government aid, but by their own daring. And little minds have always been jealous of those who have achieved. Today there is no frontier of cheap western lands to conquer, but there are greater frontiers, than ever existed in the human mind. Perhaps no human being even developed his own personal capacities to the utmost. Today America cannot depend upon a lavish Government. The salvation of the individual is in his own developed power. The greatest event in any person's life is when he discovers himself. Every farm does not have an oil field under it, but every man who owns a farm or a store or a factory owns untouched assets in it. Every farmer owns another farm under the one he is farming. With new ideas, new energy, new devotion, he can bring new development and new profits. Timberland owners are finding new uses for trees. The scientist is pointing the way to new markets for new crops. The new "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign, sponsored by the National salesmen's organization, shows what can be done in a stimulating sales in the middle of a dull summer, when the steam of enthusiasm is turned on. When a new man comes on a job he is full of new ideas and changes many things the man before him had done. Today imagine that you are the new man in your job. Scrutinize the methods of your predecessor (yourself) just as critically as you would if he were some other fellow. Clean up your desk and clean up your mind. Try new methods. Get out of the rut. And take your mind on a daring adventure into your new frontiers.

BANKERS WANT EXAMINATIONS

As we understand it, the Banking Department of the state is one department which more than pays its own way. In the cutting of expenses, this department with others was in line. This meant there would be fewer examiners and banks would not be examined as often as now. D. P. Mann was in Austin week before last with other bankers putting in a protest. The unanimous statement to the committee was: "These examinations do not come from state funds. We pay for them and we want to continue to pay the bills and to be let alone."

The committee was told that to destroy the state system would take numerous banks out of small communities not served by national banks and thus it would deprive those places of banking facilities. There are now 412 state banks of which 337 have protection by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. All have two state examinations annually and those in the FDIC have a third, made jointly by federal and state agencies, declared to be rigid and desired by the banks. There are 56 state bank members of the Federal Reserve System that are subject to its examinations when occasion demands. Chairman John S. Redditt of the Senate committee several times asked if one state and one joint FDIC examination each year would not be sufficient and each time the bankers said no. The examinations are constructive and helped and that all their banks want them regularly. When these examinations are over, Dan E. Lydyck of Fort Worth, said "the bank knows it has been examined and it has a picture of its own condition. The banker likes this and knows what to do to maintain his high standard. It is what the stockholders want as well as what the protection. Owing the controlling interest in my bank I want these periodical rigid examinations for my own protection."

Study Club

At the meeting of last Tuesday in the home of Mrs. T. A. Houston, the Woman's Study club voted to create a building fund with a view to the erection of a club house. As an opening ceremony Mrs. J. B. Reid, president, led the club in repeating the collect and then welcomed a guest the mother of Mrs. Houston, Mrs. D. L. Jordan of Crockett. The critic's report was made by Mrs. T. J. Risinger after which Mrs. J. H. Evans, federation counsellor, noted the activities relative to progressive legislation of the present State convention of Federated clubs. Plans for the annual Christmas program are being made and will be announced soon, according to Mrs. C. E. Smith, chairman of the committee. Mrs. Lee Hensley presented a paper on "The Highborn Lady based on a Daughter of the Samurai, by Etsu Inagaki Sugimoto and Mrs. Lewis A. Parr, music director of the club, gave interesting facts in the history of Japanese music.

75-YEAR-OLD LOGS NEAR ROCKLAND

About 100 longleaf pine and cypress logs, estimated by old-timers of this section to have been buried beneath the waters of the Neches river for between 50 and 75 years, have been removed from the river bed by forestry men, reports Lorenzo Jared, U. S. forest ranger of this area. The logs are being taken from the river bed between Rockland and Smith's Ferry.

These logs were cut in the days before the use of crosscut saws. The logs show that the trees were felled and chopped into lengths entirely by the use of an axe, which significantly dates them. It was stated, The logs are branded with a J on the ends. Despite the fact that the logs have lain in the water for perhaps three-quarters of a century, or longer, they are said to be perfectly sound and will be cut into lumber at Beaumont.

SONGFEST AT ROCKLAND

You are reminded that the new Song singers will meet in Rockland next Sunday afternoon. If you enjoy music, come and be with us. If you have a book, bring it. A number from a distance are expected.

Unsightly Billboards And Safe Driving

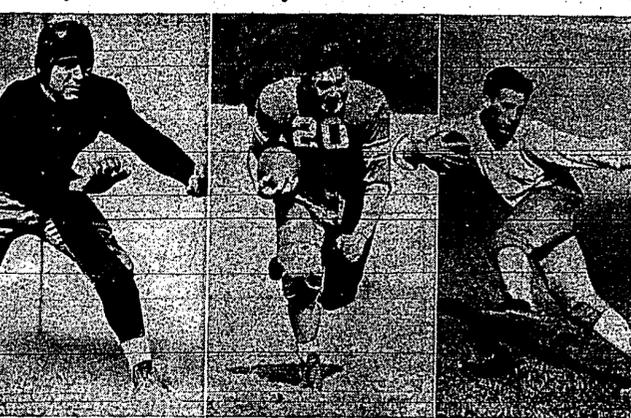

A good stiff tax on billboards valorem tax in your county? Newspapers can and at the same time are called upon daily to render every conceivable public service without compensation.

I have suggested to Governor O'Daniel that he recommend to the legislature a good stiff tax per square foot on all billboard and highway advertising. I would make the owner of real property responsible for the payment.

In the United States our law has probably not developed to the point where a legislative act removing all such advertising from private property would be held to be constitutional, although a strong legal argument could be made as to the constitutionality of such an act. Slaughter houses are forced to move as cities encroach upon them. Highway signs are offensive to the sight and are often a menace to traffic.

Could anyone by design create a more hideous sight than a roadside hot dog stand or beer parlor surrounded by every conceivable kind of unsightly sign? Yet they are erected along the highway.

They Shine for Navy, Duke and Notre Dame

WILLARD, Editor-Owner
B. H. WILLARD, Adv. Mgr.
 THE WILL ROGERS memorial was dedicated last Thursday and the exercises were broadcast out over the nation. Indeed, it was a fitting tribute to one of America's most famous men.

OUR IDEA of the person to be a driver's license should be the one who is not believing the story about the Martini attack one day early up north in New Jersey.

BETWEEN THE football game, the tent show put over by the "gemmen of color," one or two committee meetings and the usual picture show, we'll tell the world Friday evening presented a great variety of popular entertainment.

THAT LOUD speaker installed at the Woodville football stadium makes it easy to know who's who and why, when the crowd gets started. Before its installation spectators had to guess what each pileup meant, and as to ground gained or lost, it was an innovation worth while.

RED CROSS drive for membership should be backed 100% by Tyler counties. There's no telling when disaster may overtake and, too, it is stated the Rockland dam project has not yet been properly dammed, and most people know what happens when a dam goes on a spree.

FINALLY LONDONERS have given up the great search and are telling the world "the search for land who wrote Sheakespeare's works is abandoned." In view of the fact war clouds have loomed over the old world, the fact that the Jews are carrying a chip on their shoulder tip, it's well to let existing truce or wrongs remain as they are, and let the work remain as is.

TO THE BEST of our knowledge and belief the Eagles are not due to cup the district bunting this year. The boys are, putting up plenty of scrap, playing some good football, but not quite good enough to be classed as veterans. It seems a school cannot graduate the leading members of its team and expect to religiously win the following year. The Eagles will put up a different front next year. Coach Bob Nail could not disinguard, for even Coach Hill up north isn't setting the club after this year.

MARTIN DIES says the land and dam is still on the list. Some are willing to think there's a chance to revive the project, or to find the $10,000,000 hidden away in some pigeon hole or somewhere else. Well, we're willing, in fact can't help but be, as a new set of engineers are now at work attempting to keep alive the Trinity river canalization project. If the Rockland dam is good, so is the Fort Worth-Dallas Trinity river project, and we believe if one is okayed the other should be a good 100% gamble—gamble is good, when one stops to think of some of the Trinity river rapids and sandbars.

WOODVILLE DEFEATS WIERGATE 6-0 FRIDAY IN NEGRO GRID BATTLE
 The Woodville Black Panthers defeated the Wiergate Black Panthers 6 to 0 here Friday afternoon, in the first negro football game played in the county. Singly enough the two aggregations used the same name and was it not for an intercepted pass early in the game their score would have been the same also.
 Sanders' husky Woodville back, intercepted a Wiergate pass deep in his own territory and ran it back 86 yards to the Wiergate 3-yard marker. One line play produced the game's only touchdown.
 During the remainder of the game neither team threatened to score. Wiergate registered seven first downs to five for Woodville.—Jasper Newsboy.

BETHANY

Rev. J. B. Thomas has just closed a revival meeting here, had large attendance and did some fine preaching. We regret very much to see his leave, but hope he will come back again soon.

This community was saddened last week when Mrs. Perry Phillips was taken sudden ill and died the next day. Mrs. Phillips was 66 years of age and was Miss Mattie Goode before her marriage. She had spent all her life in this community and was loved by all. She leaves her husband Perry Phillips, and two sons, Roy of Leggett and Charlie of Houston, also one sister Mrs. Florence Martindale of Jasper. She was the sister of the late John and William Goode, who passed away some two years ago. Mrs. Phillips was laid to rest in the Hard Shell Cemetery where all her people are resting. She will be greatly missed for she had lived a noble life. The entire community extends sympathy to the bereaved husband, sons and sisters.

Mrs. Ham Mons, Mr Weeks and Mr Vinson of Camp Ruby attended the funeral here Monday of W. T. Heard who was brought here from Houston and laid to rest in the family cemetery at Bethany. W. T. was 24 years old last January. It will be remembered his aged father was buried here a little over a year ago. He had been in ill health since last April and had spent most of the time in a hospital. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. George Kruger of Houston and Mrs. Stratton Broom of Saratoga and two brothers, Joe of Camp Ruby and Frank of Houston. Rev. T. J. Campbell of Colmesneil spoke comforting words to bereaved brothers and sisters. Deep sympathy is felt by friends of the families. We are sorry we did not get the names of Mrs. George Kruger's friends who came to her brothers' funeral from Houston.

A large crowd from Hopewell attended church here Sunday.

Uncle Oliver Freeman is spending several days here with his nephew and family, Mrs. Roy Freeman.

Mrs. Garlin Davis seems to be slowly improving after several weeks illness.

CHESTER SCHOOL NEWS

We have been so busy up here with the fair, the carnivals, getting report cards out, trying to drill up the band and what not, that it has been well nigh impossible to report to the papers. With these things behind us we hope to get in a little report each week from here out.

We have had a very successful school year thus far. The new high school building permits a much smoother running schedule than was formerly possible.

The football team made a good showing the past week end when they held Jasper Bull Dogs to 20 points, while the Jackets made one touchdown.

If the Jackets continue to improve they ought to make it hot for Corrigan Friday night. The new athletic field here will be completed just about the time the season closes, and ought to come in handy for the next season.

Something over $100 was taken in at the Halloween carnival, but the net earnings have not yet been reported.

The Chester band went to Warren, Tex. and had a very pleasant trip.

Art has been added to the curriculum in the elementary school. They are 30 young men and women from this school area in the various colleges of the state. We shall attempt to give a list of these and the colleges they are attending in the near future.

STRAIT GATE

by Ruth Comfort Mitchell

...looking hands with their crimson nails were trembling.

"Here!"

"I saw him, just now, going into Lynn Dana's house."

"Mrs. Dana drew herself up with the ancient gesture of a lady putting an upstart in her place. She was white. "Thank you, but I appreciate your thoughtfulness, not of course, that it could make any difference now, but—"

"Ardine lifted one full shoulder in a final shrug. "All right, I just thought you'd like to know." She let herself out of the front door.

"Mrs. Dana stood still in her hand, clenched hands pressed to her jaw-bones for long moments. She went to her own room and rubbed her pale cheeks with a rough towel and pinched them and went back to Sarah Lynn and Duncan, who were playing chess.

"I mean, are you satisfied?"

"Your daughter is about to check-mate me!"

ment—Everything's ready, even to the license!"

Duncan deliberated with his knight. "Not our line, is it, Sarah Lynn? Old and settled and settled—"

Sarah Lynn's hand hovered over the board, hesitated, came to rest on the table's edge. She spoke in a voice they had not heard for a long time. "Duncan, are you very sure? I mean, are you satisfied?"

"Of course I am," he said quickly. "Your play!"

"I haven't tricked you, have I?" she went on. "You said you'd be content with half a loaf, but sometimes I think it's just a few crumbs, Duncan." She looked at him steadily. Sally Ann would have seen a crack in the cellophane. "Are you sure?"

"I gave her hand a pat. "I'm sure you're going to beat me in a minute!"

After a pause Sarah Lynn made her move. "Check!" she said in her usual voice.

Her mother went to her own room and talked excitedly over the telephone to Aunt Helena. The family seemed so startled but she pulled her serene over her head like a swan. Dear Aunt Helena, she said down at once without a pillow, with an feet toward her eyes, and relax, drawing long rhythmic breaths. There was not the slightest care for sleep. The intruder would hear from Lynn Dana of Sarah Lynn's impending marriage and he would go again.

CHAPTER XVI

Mrs. Dana's rhythmic breathing was interrupted by three telephone calls. She rose swiftly at each bell and a servant could answer, and said the same things in turn to Mary Dana Webster, Sally Ann, and Lynn Dana.

"No, I will not call her," she stated firmly. "I will call her, that is, that is, there is absolutely no point in telling her. It can make no possible difference now in her plans. . . . I tell you it would make no difference—I am simply that I do not wish to have her disturbed and distressed by the revival of painful memories. No . . . No!"

She went downstairs to find Gim Jung, the cat-footed Chinese second boy. "Gim Jung, telephone ring, every time, you call me. Company come, say, Miss Sarah Lynn, never mind, you call me!"

"All right," she agreed, incurious almost eyes on her face. "I call."

"Maybe letter come, maybe telegram, Miss Sarah Lynn, never mind, you bring to me!"

"All right," she said again. "I bring."

Ed Dana and his sons came home to dinner and it was a merry meal. Once the doorbell rang and Gim Jung said mysteriously, "Miss Dana, you come!" and Mrs. Dana hurried to the reception-hall, her heart slipping in her breast, to find a high school youth in a soiled sweat-shirt asking for young Bill. He was embarrassed by the warmth of her greeting.

"After their always formal coffee in the drawing-room the family separated, the older sons off on their own occasions, the youngest reluctantly to his books, the husband to a directors' meeting at the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, and the mother what upstairs with Duncan and Sarah Lynn.

"Duncan read a solid biography aloud in his high-backed chair, recited, recited, and Sarah Lynn leaned back in her chair, her hands loosely clasped in her lap, her eyes half-closed. The pretty room was quiet and warm and sooty lit, the pianos' cages were covered with gay charts and the Persian kittens were asleep in their basket in the sunny alcove. Framed photographs of "plump babies" looked down from the walls in dewy innocence, and Mrs. Dana began to have a sense of safety, of sanctuary, of complete rest, she started in on her work, and she started again. . . . The door opened without a preliminary knock and Miss Pennington came in. She had a pale face and her eyes were red. "I'll bring her over to you, by and by, if you like," said Miss Pennington. "I'll take care of Penny!"

"I'll bring her over to you, by and by, if you like," said Miss Pennington. "I'll take care of Penny!"

A NEW MARKET FOR TEXAS GRAIN

A brand new market for one million bushels of Texas grain each year. That's almost unbelievable, yet within the next 12 months that amount will be needed in the Houston area, according to the Houston Milling Company. Such a new market will do much to absorb the excess feedstuffs, and help materially to increase the farm income.

The Houston Milling Company is comparatively new in the feed manufacturing business. However, they are now offering 48 different feed rations under the brand of Arrow Feeds. They are anxious to get as much Texas grain and particularly corn of good quality as possible. In the preparation of Arrow Feeds much attention is paid to the Gulf area climate which demands certain types of balanced feed that differ from feed mixtures in other sections. A special formula has been worked out which insures properly prepared processed, and thoroughly mixed rations for all farm animals. Arrow Feeds are made in two names: mash and meals, cubes and pellets.

Following through, a staff of specialists in feeding is maintained by the mill whose job it is to work in co-operation with customers and users of Arrow Feeds in the solving of the many feed problems. The company is now considering the advertising campaign that is about to follow.
