Woodville Locals

The O. E. S. is to put on a negro minstrel within a few weeks and urges everybody to make plans to attend. It will be east of local talent.

Mrs. J. E. White and son J. E. Jr., of Sour Lake came Thursday to help Judge D. P. Rock to celebrate his 73rd birthday. Mrs. J. C. Rock also enjoyed the birthday dinner with them.

A large crowd gathered at fairview for the annual squirrel hunt and dinner. Squirrels are plentiful this year and there were plenty for dinner and to carry home for the next day.

The Fun-co pumping station Mrs. J. C. Rock was working full time for a number of months and a month ago the family of Mrs. Sam Gallagher of Van moved and he took the job of chief engineer. Just a few days ago Mrs. J. M. Haynes of Grand Saline moved here to the Eddie Rainey home west of town and Mr. Haynes will work at the station as pumper.

Churches

Baptist Church News

The regular church offerings Sunday amounted to $60.82. The pastor and church are indebted to Bro. Bailey, Bro. Martin and Bro. Rhodes for taking the leadership of the services during the absence of the pastor while in attendance upon the meeting of the State Convention at Dallas.

The plans for the proposed church building were submitted to G. S. Hopkins, State Sunday School secretary, for his investigation. After examining them Mr. Hopkins heartily approved the same and commended the Woodville church for its progressive spirit.

A request has been sent to the Home Mission office at Atlanta, Ga., to send its representative to Woodville to make a survey of the local situation in view of extending financial assistance to assist in the building program. This was done at the suggestion of the state office at Dallas.

We congratulate our local Methodist friends because of the consolidation of the two congregations, thus making possible a stronger church for Woodville. We rejoice with them in all of their plans for the future.

Worship somewhere Sunday. The Baptists invite you.

CUT IN RATES SHAKE BUDGET AS ANNOUNCED WE TO PAY

In an advertisement in this issue of the paper, Community Public Service Company announces a reduction in the residential electric rate, effective with billing for the current month. The reduction is the fourth since 1928 and cuts the cost of electricity to the average user to less than half the 1928 level. Previous reductions were made in 1929, 1934 and 1937.

The advertisement shows the savings compared to the previous rate and the 1928 at various consumption. Manager Benny Jones says that he will be glad to explain exactly how this reduction will affect any individual customer. He asks those who are interested to call him at the office.

PREVALENCE OF SCARLET FEVER

The seasonal rise in prevalence of scarlet fever has been, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer. Each year as cold weather approaches, reports of scarlet fever cases tend to increase in number. This year, a slight increase in recorded prevalence was noted in September, with a larger rise recorded for October and the first week of November.

Fever, headache, sore throat and vomiting are early signs of invasion by the scarlet fever germ. The incubation period, or the phrase between exposure and onset of illness, is usually from two to six days. On the second day, as a rule, a rash appears which may cover the entire body. The rash of scarlet fever is usually but not always present. The patient who has symptoms and signs of the disease, but without rash, should be isolated as well as the patient who shows the rash.

Such a disease as scarlet fever is dreaded whether in severe or mild form, because of the frequent development of secondary complications especially those of septic nature. Among complications, the most frequent are those affecting ears, neck glands, kidneys or the heart. Convalescent human immune serum prepared in laboratories can be used in many cases to prevent and modify the disease.

Scarlet fever is a disease of the colder months and may be expected to continue until late in the spring. The current increase in prevalence is not cause for alarm but emphasizes the importance of early recognition, prompt reporting of cases and careful isolation of infected persons.

Big Stars in Weekend Gridiron Tussles

Football teams from coast to coast go into action Saturday, Nov. 19, to climax the current season. Peto Fay, left, Stanford halfback, who will see action against California at Berkeley; Daye O'Brien, center, whose team mates half as a second Sammy Baugh, who was a mainstay in Texas Christian's game with Rice institute at Houston; Kabeale, right, of Ohio State, whose team will meet Michigan in a Big Ten game at Columbus. See Sunday morning's papers for results.

THE PASSING OF WILD GAME

It is time for citizens of Tyler county to do something about the passing of wild game. One of the most valuable assets of the wild game, according to F. B. Sullivan, secretary of the newly organized Tyler County Wildlife Planning board, is the hunting consensus of opinion of the men at the organization of the planning board that the game is disappearing because nothing is being done to protect it.

The report comes from a game warden in Wood county, Kentucky that 12,000 sportmen killed an average of six birds each, or 72,000 birds in that county last year, and the outlook is even better this year. This is the result of a group of fellows getting together about seven years ago and laying plans to restock their county with their own valuable birds. All the hunting in that county is under planned supervision with co-operation from the citizens of the county in protecting the game and seeing that the laws are enforced.

Today with the opening of the season many Texas citizens are in West Texas hunting deer and wild turkey. Each one of these fellows will pay probably $100 or more to hunt on private land, cafes, and filling stations before they return. Why should not the citizens of Tyler county be getting their share of this money? The deer, wild turkey, squirrels, and birds that Tyler county already has would soon make all sportsmen's paradise with the proper regulation.

Grange Meets

WPA GRANT OF $54,000 FOR LIVINGSTON

Quite a number of Woodville citizens have asked this writer how come Livingston was able to procure so many allotments of WPA, etc., funds with which to build their new most magnificent school plant, the athletic field, miles of concrete sidewalk, concrete paving, new city hall and county jail, the latter two now in course of construction, and the government postoffice building.

We must confess we do not know, except in a general way. Now, however, after meeting up with a few of our former friends in Livingston we find the United States' representatives in both houses of congress in Washington, and backing and boosting it appears, in connection with several of these grants the local bankers, aided, and you see, it was easy for the bankers to assist. One of the Livingston bankers had no interest in the building now occupied by the local postoffice, so he could aid in every way possible. Owing to the fact the service had positively outgrown the present quarters, and there was no way to enlarge, the other banker also became a booster for the new governmental postoffice building.

Enough business and professional at Livingston men, aided by its splendid Chamber of Commerce was back of every boosting move made in the last 18 years, and they have been successful in almost all of their undertakings.

Here is how the last project sounds so successfully completed by the Livingston Boosters and other influences:

"A $54,000 street traveling Project for Livingston was approved by Washington authorities, according to a Washington news despatch on Nov. 11.

"The project, with labor financed by WPA, is scheduled to start within 30 days, and will give employment to a number of men for the next 10 months."

The city will be required to furnish gravel.

Miss Schaffay with Mrs. Pearl McCoy of Somerville visited Mrs. J. H. McCombs the past week end.

Mrs. C. C. Pool of Jasper spent most of last week with her parents Mrs. E. V. Rainey.

WOODVILLE TOPS CHESTER 20 TO 0

After reading the account of the Jasper-Chester game some time since we were looking forward to a very-close game between the Eagles and the Chester Yellow Jackets. The game was played Thursday afternoon at Chester and the Eagles, it appears from the records, played circles around the Yellow Jackets.

The published records state, first downs, Chester 3; Woodville 9. Passes by Chester, three, completed one; Eagles, two completed two. Penalties, Chester three for 15 yards; Eagles four for 35 yards.

The scoring: The Eagles scored two points on a safety about the time they got started. Also in the first period the Eagle fullback, Pitts, scored a touchdown on a line plunge. A pass from Stanley to Hopson failed for the extra point. In the second quarter Hollomon made a season touch down on a line play. The try for extra point was blocked by Butler of Chester.

Third quarter no scoring, but the ball was in the Yellow Jacket territory most of the time. In the final quarter the Eagles again counted but the extra point did not materialize.

The next game is with Buna Friday night or the Woodville stadium.

500-GALLON STILL IS FOUND - DESTROYED

The following story is lifted from the Beaumont Enterprise, with its usual discretion tells but part of the story. We wonder if the Enterprise knows whose still it was and whether an arrest will later be made when the authorities catch up with the law violator-owner.

"A 500-gallon still, the largest confiscated by federal authorities in the Beaumont division in two years, was discovered and destroyed this week, according to Fred Frost, federal commissioner.

"The largest still ever taken in the area was a 1500-gallon copper one two years ago, Mr. Faust said. Two negroes were arrested in connection with the still and are held in jail on federal charges of possession and operation of the still, possession of 30 gallons of whiskey and possession of 800 gallons of mash."

No, the Enterprise did not say who the two negroes were working for. However, had it been a murder story all the little it and and would have been dish up for the benefit of the dear reading public.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

On Thanksgiving Day, the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches in all countries will hold a special Thanksgiving service to which the public is cordially invited. The service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon the topic of which is "Thanksgiving," and opportunity is given for the individual members of the congregation to audibly express their gratitude to God for the blessings which have come to them during the year.

The Golden text is: "Offer unto God Thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High." (Psalms 50:14)

(Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Ye are the children of the Lord your God . . . and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest." (Deut. 14:1, 29).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all-having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (page 518).

LET'S MUZZLE THE RAD

The following from Newsday, by Boake Carter, perhaps some day, in some way, radio broadcast, be disrespectful to the President of these United States and made to recognize the fact that in spite of his Executive Order, this writer, within the past five months, has written articles, like newspapers, statements, proclamations, with insulting the President of America, and other similar, and he wishes to see that the President of the United States is AND UNBRIDLED FREEDOM.

The freedom of the press should not be taken away by any man, and it should be interpreted by loyal patriotic Americans, and not by a few who are determined to state untruths about the President of the United States. We believe all writers should be held responsible for their statements, and should be held responsible for their statements, and should be held responsible for their statements, and should be held responsible for their statements.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

ARMISTICE DAY crept up on most folks almost unannounced. And what a day it is—20 years after the end of the World War which was supposed to end all future wars—with its League of Nations which only proved to be a League of Nations—which after all probably did do some good. The past year has been full of war, horror, murder, all of which ended in several new dictatorships, and probably one or two dictatorships still on the skirts—just waiting for the correct time to be announced. However, our American war veterans are resting easier just at this time as war in the old country has, at least, been sidetracked for a spell. The American Legion boys who we are honoring at this time, know better than all other native-Americans what war means. The sidetracking of the European war had a tendency to make this world feel easier, and we can now find time to rejoice with the American Legion boys. And then comes the next day to remember—Thanksgiving day, and we'll tell the world we'll have cause for a day of Thanksgiving.
