School Bands Aid Scholarships

The school band movement in Texas has developed in the last four years more rapidly than any other phase of the curriculum. Like any other rapidly growing movement, it has received its share of adverse criticism. Those who have criticized, have not in many cases, made thorough analyses of what band work does besides produce students who can play an instrument and put the left foot down on the proper beat.
The author of this article can not play any instrument at all, nor read music, and for that reason justification for offering the program must be had by taking the work in an impersonal and unbiased manner. Observations have been made and statistics have been gathered in the Slaton high school over a period of four years and these findings serve to justify the teaching of band work from many viewpoints, other than the actual musical training.

Some have emphasized the fact that a student who participates in the band does not have time to engage in other activities. This has not proved so in our situation. Of the school awards of last year, 39 per cent of the band received 39 per cent. Approximately 20 per cent of the student body play in the band and receive only 5 per cent of the demerits for misconduct. This band has invested more than $16,000 in the band since its organization four years ago. It has a seventy-two piece concert band of almost perfect instruction. This organization has won first division in its class three of the four years and has having received national, regional and superior, respectively. Thirteen of the members received first division ratings in solo and ensemble contests in the national contest at Abilene last spring.

There are 140 students receiving band training at a lower teaching cost than that of the other subjects taught in the schools. These students learn the meaning of cooperation in harmony in the strictest sense of the word. The students not in the band point with pride to the achievements of the organization.

Through the Slaton Band Mothers Club we are able to acquaint the public with the other fine work being done in the schools. This serves to bring the school closer to the public.

The taxpayer is able to see a portion of his money is spent each time he hears and sees the band. The band is constantly before the public in concerts, civic contests, churches, service clubs, fairs, rodeos, parades, and many other entertainments.

The leisure time problem is adequately taken care of for those students participating in the band. We know that the student body does not have enough worthy employment of time after school hours unless he is engaged in other entertainments.

In recent years character development has become a responsibility of the school, rather than the home. The school is meeting that situation with band and other organizations, because through these organizations we develop school spirit, scholarship, character, individual initiative and worthy use of leisure time. What more can be expected of any organization? How about the band? We think it is "swell."

Band Mothers Meet

Wednesday of last week the Band Mothers met with Mrs. Dave Mann, club president, presiding. First Edwin Martin, presented a saxophone solo and David man and Monroe Prescott a saxophone duet. Judge J. E. Whont gave them an interesting talk.

Basket Ball Hi-Tournament

It seems that Woodville has come to life in the basket ball world. For three years past it appears that Woodville was content with having Warren, Colthesell, Chester, Fred and Sparger furnish the basket ball entertainment for Tyler county. But thanks to someone, Woodville. We now have a very neat, public address system, large dressing rooms with hot showers, a first aid room and plenty of good seats for fans. And if you haven't heard, Woodville and Tyler county are using the gymnasium. Last Friday night saw one of Tyler county's largest crowds at a basket ball game. The crowd witnessed the Eastern State Service office are directed by Mr. George C. Betts, whose headquarters are located in the city of Tyler. All those calling to see him are requested to bring discharge papers, and all other papers and letters containing information concerning a claim which may have previously been filed by the veteran in question, or the dependent of the veteran.

Let's Stop This Killing - Allied

Governor Allied created a special committee to investigate an automobile license law, giving the committee the duty of investigating the traffic law and the dangers of these violations - failure to enforce the traffic laws, and provide remedy. The committee recommended a statewide traffic survey, county by county, perhaps through the Texas highway patrol. The need for a substantial increase in the state highway patrol personnel is urged adoption of an anti-ticket-fixing pledge by all city councils and county officials in the state.

In its conclusions the Committee charges the traffic system of the state with failure to educate the driver to the dangers of these violations - failure to enforce the traffic laws, and provide remedy. The committee recommended a statewide traffic survey, county by county, perhaps through the Texas highway patrol. The need for a substantial increase in the state highway patrol personnel is urged adoption of an anti-ticket-fixing pledge by all city councils and county officials in the state.

A definite program of education for motorists, a revision of the driver's license law, giving the Texas Department of Public Safety authority to suspend licenses on an anti-ticket-fixing pledge, and providing for a small fee to be charged for each license issued, were recommended.

The committee calls attention to the fact that the annual number of traffic accident victims in Texas is one of the highest in the New London school disaster and it appeals to every citizen of Texas to join the Committee and the Governor in demanding other steps necessary to make highway safety be put into effect without further delay and political quibbling, and consequent waste of life and property.

Woodvillians Busy Wednesday Night

In spite of a rainy day, a happy and profitable evening was had by the Woodvillians at the PTA. The Boy Scout Masters, and the basketball games in the gym. The Scout Master's meeting was held in the gymnasium in the office of Supr. C. A. Riley. The PTA met in the Grammar school auditorium. It was a pleasant surprise to this reporter to see the auditorium filled with opera chairs as 125 new ones have been added since the temporary partitions have been removed, as the new building now house the three lower grades. Mrs. Norman Paschal wears a smile and states that school work is now moving on smoothly with the added room, and auditorium space.

Last night was Men's Night in the PTA and while last year the men impersonated the ladies of the PTA, this year, the governors of the past 25 years were introduced by the program chairman, Atty. C. E. Smith. Each presented in speech his offerings to the state during his term of office.

While many real facts were brought to our minds many of them were burlesqued and brought laughter and applause. A social hour was enjoyed after the program with Jay Keady ushering in the so-called quiet room on the east of auditorium and Messrs. Esca Walker and Hugh Davis served punch and cakes. At the beginning of the program, Prof. Robt. Stapp presented a number of 4th grade boys in a pantomime with Monroe Prescott reading the story.

The governors were: E. W. Bailey, Ezra Eaves, A. W. Lay, D. C. Bracken, B. V. Ferguson, Norman Paschal, J. E. Wheat expected to appear at Pat Neff but late in the afternoon was called to Beaumont on a court case.

Historic Hoaxes
By Elmo Scott Watson
Columbus' Diary
A lawyer, announced that he had obtained from some Jews in Havana, Cuba, an almost priceless historical document. It was the original diary of Christopher Columbus which, enclosed in a wax casing, had been thrown overboard when it appeared certain that his ship was about to be wrecked in a storm near the Azores in 1493.
Thereupon, the experts on historical documents laughed long and loud. "So the original log of Columbus has 'bobbed up again,'" they said. "Well, it's about time—it comes to light about every two years." They know it's a fake for the very good reason that the diary is written in German and, so far as is known, Columbus could neither speak nor write German. More than that, the language of the "diary" is excellent modern German but resembles that spoken in the Fifteenth century no more than the English language of today resembles the English of Chaucer's time.
A year previously this "diary" had made its appearance in San Francisco. The two men who had bought this "500-year-old document" took it to a paper company to establish its authenticity by chemical tests. The tests were made and proved that the paper on which the "diary" was written was scarcely 30 years old!
What's the answer? Simply that forgets of "historic documents" continue to ply their trade, confident that they can always find a victim to buy their spurious "antiques!"
