All Tyler-County Tournament, Sat. 4

In basketball Tyler county will have a chance to witness a real basketball session Saturday. The games are scheduled to start at 9:30 Saturday morning with the Woodville girls playing the Fred girls. The other two games of the morning session will be Woodville-boys vs. Warren boys. The afternoon session finds the Chester girls vs. Warren girls starting at 1:30. There will be the two semi-final games for boys and the final consolation for boys played in the afternoon session. The afternoon session should be the most interesting of the tournament.

The night session beginning at 7:00 o'clock will include only the finals. The game for third place winner will be played at 7:00 and at 8:00 o'clock the All-Tyler County band composed of the Warren, Chester and Woodville bands ready to start. The concert will be played from 8:00 to 8:30. At 8:30 the girls' finals; at 9:30 the boys' finals and at 10:30 the presentation of awards will be made.

The tournament should be the high point of basketball this month for Tyler county and will be well worth seeing. Plenty of competition is assured in working for the fine list of medals and trophies offered for the tournament. Colmensen has three very fine players in Davis, Fowler and Starrock that will be working for the much coveted gold balls as well as for a team trophy. Warren has Jones, probably the county's outstanding player this season as well as last season. Warren can also furnish several other players of much ability. These lads from Colmensen and Warren will settle much of the heated discussion in the morning session at 11 o'clock. The morning contest between these two teams will have much to do with the outcome of the tournament.

Chester can furnish a real player in the person of Wilson. This lad can shine among any of Tyler county's best. Woodville, Spranger and Fred come in with a list of good boys that have not received so much early-season publicity, but are capable of knocking off a good team any time. Anything can happen in a one-day tournament and when the all-star selections are made only the work of the tournament will be considered, so new star players may be found to carry away the gold trophies.

The tournament will be best enjoyed by seeing all the games and, boosting all teams, so be there and help the best team win.

Mrs. Ruth Gillespie of Dayton enjoyed the week end here with her mother, Mrs. J. A. Ehn.

Texas Citizenry Has A Perfect Right to Expect

We may expect an honest and sincere endeavor on the part of all to work with singleness of purpose for the betterment of Utah.

That all legislators recognize that they represent ALL the people and not any party, clique or locality.

That all legislation enacted be based on general public welfare with no unfair advantage to any given group.

We may expect that the law regarding trading votes be adhered to and that each legislative body work unhampered and unbound.

That through civil service enactments all public employees be chosen according to fitness, training and ability alone.

That duplications in government be stopped, overlapping jurisdictions eliminated and waste checked.

We may expect that every department be required to operate on a carefully planned and efficiently managed budget, that all purchases be made on open competitive bidding.

That only essential activities be provided for and these at costs consistent with maximum efficiency, requiring EVERY item in the budget to thoroughly justify itself. When in doubt eliminate.

We may expect that there be no new board, bureau, or board-dash and babbling.

That present tax rates be reduced and that no new taxes be applied.

That the taxpayer be granted a "living tax rate," one within his ability to pay and such that his industry and thrift be not penalized and his property confiscated.

GREATER ECONOMY - EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT.

W. J. Galbreath States Some Facts

W. J. Galbreath, well known in this part of East Texas sends in for publication the following comment on Gov. O'Daniel's message to the legislature.

Galbreath also has a few notions of his own as follows— as is:

"No mention at all has been made in regard to the nearly 300 employees that constitute the personnel of the Liquor Board, or the same 500 employees in the Old Age Assistance Commission.

These two commissions absorb over a million dollars a year of the old folks money they should have; they should be trimmed down that much.

There are over two billion dollars of the best taxable values in this State not on the tax rolls and never have been—everyone knows that. If this unrendered property was placed on the tax rolls no new taxes whatever would be necessary. The owners of this vast unrendered property see the handwriting on the wall and are making frantic endeavor to evade their just share of the burden of government.

If this unrendered property was placed on the tax rolls of this state every honest taxpayer would have his taxes reduced more than one half of the present amount they are forced to pay.

No mention has been made of the many costly boards and bureaus that should be abolished, absolutely abolished in the interest of economy and efficiency. They are a nuisance and unnecessary. In short, very little was touched only a valiant effort to let the tax robbers of this state slide out from under.

Every type of sales tax, no matter what the name, is a serpent placed upon the breast of every poor person in this State, including the old people as well. W. J. GALBREATH.

Lake Charles To Check Up On Autos

Lake Charles, La.—The second phase of campaign to reduce automobile accidents which is being conducted by state police of the fifth district with Lt. J. W. Jones in charge will soon be started.

The first phase of the program which deals with the mechanical condition of all trucks in the state has been under way for about a month. When completed the police will start a check-up of passenger vehicles.

State police in this district are being required to turn in to headquarters here two inspection reports on the condition of equipment on the trucks. This examination includes an inspection of registration certificates, rear lights, clearance lights, illegal lights, horn, steering gear, windshield wiper, gasoline storage tank and the drivers' knowledge of the rules of the road.

If the checkup shows that the vehicle is in condition to comply with legal requirements, it is permitted to remain in operation until the next checkup. If anything in the list of items shows up unsatisfactorily, the driver is courteously informed of his course in the circumstances, whether to secure immediate repairs or to take up with the Lieutenant Jones, state driver's trainer, at willing and eager to assist truck and car owners and drivers to comply with rules laid down by law in regard to the conditions of vehicles.

Will Not Meet in Tax Controversies

Resolutions concerning taxation in government were adopted by the tax committee of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in Tyler Monday for recommendation to the executive board and directors of the chamber.

The measure, in part, was that the organization continue its work for budget control and economy in state and local government; not engage in controversies over sources of revenue; and urge that no further taxes be put upon the people by the legislature—until every effort is made to cut the present costs of government operations.

Also approved by the committee was the principle of refunding all county and district road bonds by the state by use of a 1-cent gasoline tax, provided a county qualifies by not issuing more road bonds, adheres strictly to the Texas budget law, and places its roads and bridge work on a county unit basis.

Judge J. E. Wheat, a member of this committee was in Tyler Monday to attend the meeting.

Evos. C. of G. on Cotton Improvement

The Executive Committee of the Evos. C. of G. is showing a significant improvement in quality during the 1938 season, for the second consecutive season.

One inch was the average of the staple lengths produced by the single variety cotton communities entered in the East Texas Chamber of Commerce improvement contest, it is announced today through its agricultural department.

Eligible contestant communities' cotton classified through December 10 averaged 16.09 sixteenth inch, while the average staple length for Texas cotton ginned prior to December 1, showed to be 16.29 sixteenth of an inch, based on grade and staple statistics report of United States department of Agriculture.

Although the improvement of staple length for Texas cotton production as a whole was clear and appreciable evidence for 1938; the quality production for East Texas single variety communities entered in cotton contest showed to have a much higher per centage of lengths 15-16 inch and longer, i. e., 99.8 per cent for communities as compared with 61.8 per cent for the state as a whole.

Cotton classed for the single variety cotton communities contest is being sponsored in cooperation with Texas extension service, bureau of plant industry, state division of vocational agriculture and Texas cotton agronomist.

Winning communities in the contest this year were: First, Rugby in Red River county; second, Coupland in Williamson county; third, Enloe in Delta county. Presentation of awards will be in Waco, February 22, at George Washington Birthday Cotton Improvement Day Ceremonies.

Contestant single variety cotton communities reported increased per acre value of from four to ten dollars because of the improved quality and increased yield. All contestant communities were emphatic that the program of standardized single variety cotton production had assured additional community farm income. Coupland, Williamson County, set its increase of farm income at $15,000.

Find a Way to Stop Bleeding

New York.—Bleeding during surgical operations and after accidents can be stopped almost instantly by an extract from beef blood sprayed on a wound with a perfume atomizer.

Four University of Iowa scientists announced in the Journal of Science, published by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, that they had purified thrombin, the element in blood which makes it clot, and had successfully used it in halting profuse bleeding within two or three seconds.

If you plan on reducing, please do not do it until after Feb. 17th. The Sunna class of the Methodist church asks this of you as a favor to its members. Read The Booster for their announcement next week.

Civil Service is Again Knocking At The Door

Civil service reform, meaning the substitution of the merit system for the spoils system, is making appointments to most of the employments within the state government, has knocked at the doors of the last three or four legislatures. But it has knocked with an apologetic timidity, and most of the few who heard it laughed it off the premises.

Pretty certainly a research would show that none of the few civil service reform bills which have made their appearance within that time has emerged from the committees to which they were consigned.

Civil service reform is going to knock at the door of this legislature. One would be sanguine to expect that the Legislature will heed its call, though hope therefore is not without reason. Gov. Lee O'Daniel is for the merit system, and he probably is the first governor Texas has had who stalwartly proclaimed his championship of it. And in the Legislature there are many more than the proverbial handful of the past who are in favor of it.

Tomorrow, Feb. 8, the annual meeting of the Beaumont Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America will be held in Hotel Beaumont. A delegation from here headed by Scoutmaster J. L. Pate will take an active part in several phases of this meeting.

4:00 p. m. Assemble for tea by ladies of the Council, Sky room.

FSA Under New Set Up

Tyler County farmers desiring assistance from the Farm Security Administration may now get it a little closer to home, for FSA headquarters for Tyler and Polk counties are being established at Livingston, it has been announced by State Director V. R. Smitham.

George S. Dean, formerly assistant supervisor for Trinity, Tyler and Polk counties, is to be in charge of the latter two counties. He has been connected with the federal government in rural rehabilitation work since 1934. Tyler County was formerly serviced with the two others from the FSA Woodlake farms project in Trinity county. The redistricting was undertaken, Mr. Smitham stated, so that better service could be given to local farmers.

The Farm Security Administration is an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which loans money to farmers who can formulate plans of farm and home operations looking to rehabilitating themselves and their families and also to repaying the loan. An estimate seven million dollars will be loaned to Texas farmers this year, and regional headquarters in Dallas report it now appears that there are sufficient funds for loans to all farmers eligible to enter the program.

WHEREAS, there is in Texas an organization known as the State-wide Cotton Committee, which expects to hold a meeting in the State Capitol on February 17, and

WHEREAS, said meeting is State-wide in character and expects to have speakers of national prominence in attendance upon its session; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the House of Representatives herein invites said State-wide Cotton Committee to hold its sessions in the hall of the House of Representatives, and that we do hereby tender the use of the hall of the House on Friday, February 17, for the use of said meeting, so members of the Legislature may attend said meeting, and cordially invite the officials in charge of said session to plan their meeting in accordance herewith.

Driver's License Ruling Given

Drivers' licenses, statutory expiration date of which is April 1, 1939, will not be voided on that date, the public safety commission rules last week Thursday.

The bills are before the legislature for re-issuing licenses, and hence the commission declared an indefinite period of extension advisable on present permits.

"The commission's ruling" did not affect licenses issued chauffeurs and operators of commercial vehicles. These permits expire automatically one year from date of issuance.

WHAT'S YOUR guess in regard to O'Daniel's assistance program? Shall it be the transaction tax, or will it be a 1-2-3 sales tax?

ON OUR last trip away we found the following on a restaurant menu: "We enter here on a refreshment bent, shall welcome be and forth with blessings sent." Just something a little different.

WHILE THE countries across the pond are frightened almost beyond endurance, anticipating the actual horrors of war, the new world busies itself fighting governmental costs. Which of the two subjects will cause insomnia most successfully is hard to guess.

IT WOULD seem if a fellow wants an easy time the thing to do is to get a job as a legislator in either house. How come? Friday, Jan. 27, the senate voted to take a three-day vacation. The house then followed suit by adjourning until Monday, Jan. 30. Ah, who wouldn't be a senator?

EVERYBODY WANTED a job at the commencement of the present legislature, and Coke Stevenson's office had to be cleared by the Sergeant at Arms. It appears Coke forgot to hang out the sign "Standing Room Only." And, we might add, they've still retained the same frame of mind, i. e., we want a State job.

GASOLINE TAX first saw the light of day in Oregon, and Friday, February 26, will be the 19th anniversary, ah, quite a lusty youth, we'd say. Last year 1927, gasoline tax amounted to $792,325,000, with every prospect of going to $1,000,000,000 for the year 1928, just to show what the growth in America amounted to.

THAT EVERYBODY can know all about taxes The Boosters wish all to know John T. Smith's book on The Texas Digest, can be found at Carlton Young's drug store. Smith is the editor of the Texas Tax Journal, and he's fighting the battle of Texans in a manner that is making legislators wonder if it is time to call a halt.

THE LATEST outbreak by M. Dies appearing in the o. k. by congress for Alfred for judge, in the finals will not make more friends for this district representative. The Boosters predict the president's appointment will stand. And, another thing Mr. Dies does not seem to understand—getting Allied in the chair as a Federal judge takes this gentleman out of Texas politics.

ELSEWHERE WILL be found a program of the Gulf Coast Chemurgic Farm Conference. Webster does not interfere that Chemurgic stuff, but we imagine it is not something to eat, but is a number of well-known speakers are on the program, and the sponsors range from the Elex C. of to the National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Assn., we believe the article must be of interest to our readers.

GOVERNMENT ON wheels in Texas in 1937 amounted to $1,343,712, and 1938, that was an increase of $287,445 over the year 1936. The figures have yet to be released for 1938. However, keeping in line with all other institutions, public and private, it is expected the cost for 1938 will probably amount to a cool half-million more than for 1936. Texas has a right to hope present legislature will reduce GOVERNMENT ON WHEELS.

THIS WEEK we are printing a new, signed by Odis E. Lucas, representative from this district, in which he pleads payment of poll taxes by Tyler County. He pleads for the end of the old program by the plan good or no, it appears two-thirds of these legislators are going to jump up and spread themselves in a new way.

DOUCETTE, TEXAS
 33 Years of Continuous Service IN DOUCETTE

lower house during his incumbency of office.

SOMEbody HAS said: "Driving on the highways has become a great sporting proposition." Right, again. You take a chance; exactly like shaking dice and there's 11 playing, and 11 smackers in sight. One takes a chance of throwing his number and winning. On the highways you take a chance on outguessing the approaching car. If you are lucky in not meeting a fool, we have reference to a drunken fool, or even a crazy speeder, you are lucky and may be proclaimed a good sport.

THE TERRIBLE things taking place in war-torn Spain and China, matched with the earthquake in Chillan, Chile, are making history the last of last year and this first of this. Should Italy-Germany, France-England war become a reality what a unbelievable amount of war today is not a case of dusting off a fellow's trousers, but rather killing, maiming, destroying. Let us pray America may be able to keep out of this modern warfare. Oh, the uselessness of it all. We didn't make the world safe for democracy by entering the World War, but rather set the stage for just what is now on the European war docket. "Germany" won the war, and their own country came through slick and clean with no property damage. Even now, should Germany get into another engagement, hostilities will again be in foreign territory. And so it seems America failed in making the world safe for democracy. Just as America today has failed to make its highways safe for either Democracy (or Republicans).

THE FACT remains that which ever way Gov. O'Daniel chose to raise the money for his old age assistance program, the plan would have been recalled by the Texas Legislature. It is also a fact, the men of both houses, imagine they have the chance of a life-time to become famous, by opposing the old age program by the plan good or no, it appears two-thirds of these legislators are going to jump up and spread themselves in a new way.

governor has a blue pencil and he can wield it when and where and how he pleases. The Boosters would suggest the legislature of 1939-40 come down to earth before its too late and realize W. Lee O'Daniel is governor of Texas. Some of the utterances of these gentlemen do sound extremely un-American. Somebody please page Mr. M'Dies.

"Didn't you expect a cowboy dance to be sensationally crude? Or course this is your first experience."

"Well, all right," he admitted. "This is my first cowboy dance and I came out of curiosity."

She looked up. Her eyes were not brown as they had seemed from a distance. They held a warm thing, almost gold.

"At least you're honest about it," she said. "And really I was curious about you too. Are we as good as you hoped? Goodness, won't you have a story to tell when you get back to Los Angeles, or San Francisco or wherever you come from?"

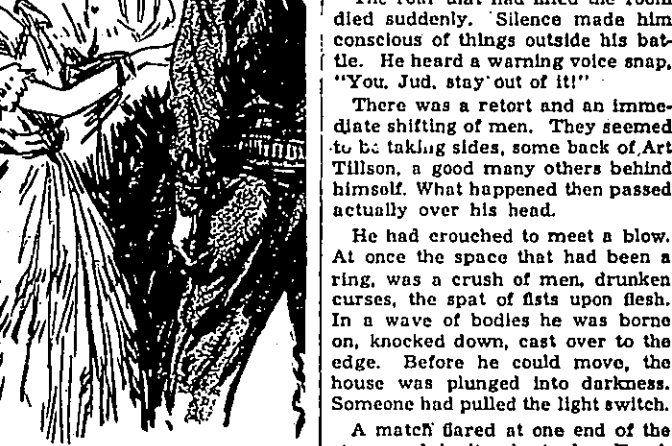

"But I'm here to stay," Breck laughed, making this decision suddenly. "As for my dance, it is about what I expected, except for one thing."

"What?"

The lightning of his arm was not altogether voluntary. The girl had taunted him and he knew it; he was a little angered, yet he had the sudden desire to hug her. Through his arm drew her to him only the slightest bit, the result was volcanic.

She halted in the middle of a dance step, flung down his hand and faced him with eyes flashing. "Don't you try that on me, you city man!"

Until that instant Breck had not thought anyone on the floor was paying attention to himself and the girl. Now all at once he was confronted by a dozen sudden faces. The music went on, dancing in his ears, the room continued. But in this corner men left their girls and crowded up in a close ring.

"What is it, Lou?" someone asked.

Another man edged through the mob and glowered out of a flushed face. "Something wrong?"

"Yes, you are!" she answered, giving him a little shove. "Get along. Why spoil a dance?"

Behind them the group broke up as quickly as it had formed. Men returned to their partners and swung a little above. "Get along, Lou, this is mine."

"You cut a dance," Tillson swayed unsteadily, clutched her wrist and swung to draw her close. "Come on, Lou, this is mine."

"I thought you were a little bit drunk. Go outside for a while. It was a command, given as if she expected to be obeyed, and for a second the boy seemed on the verge of going.

But then he looked at her suddenly. "Throwin' me down?"

"No, of course not!"

tried to roll the curtain up but it stuck halfway. "Tillson, come!"

"All right," Breck cried, springing ahead of young Tillson. "This act's ours!"

"No," Breck answered. "I intended to buy one in town this morning."

All H—Can't Qualify You

New state officials have been sworn in although, as these lines are written, James V. Alford hasn't taken the oath yet. Federal Judge: With all the inaugurations there comes to mind a story. (It is told simply as a joke, of course.) "An inchout sort of fellow ran against a county judge, who was highly educated, and beat him out of the judge. So on Jan. 1, the successful candidate called the judge of his outgoing term and said: 'I'm glad to see you go. You've been a good judge. You've been a good judge. You've been a good judge.' The judge replied: 'I'm glad to see you go. You've been a good judge. You've been a good judge. You've been a good judge.'"
