THINK'MBOBBIES

This is sure enough vacation time and we are having all we can do to keep on the job until our time comes, which will not be long now.

Leesville, La., had an election one day last week and decided that charming old-fashioned city could get along without the telephone dial system.

Last week the daily press told about digging gold in Mexico by the pound. Now North Carolina is seen in a search for gold, which is resulting as a most important industry.

Can you imagine it? There's only about 42 weeks left before the big show will be on and we'll be nominating a couple of men candidates for president of these United States, and then the fireworks!

Broadcasting the news as Japan buying raw goods in the United States make the average American wonder if the supply of scrap iron can last indefinitely, and also, what is Japan using for money?

Just as we expected, a Beaumont paper has come to the front and was showing one day last week how to most successfully "Boomp-a-Daisy." Back yonder when we were dancing quite regularly such a performance meant scrap, fight, or ruin.

We found out the other day what we've wanted to know for a long time. The main drag will be completed, curbs moved, and perhaps a bit of a change made appertaining to grade, etc., about the time highway 45 is blacktopped to the west of Woodville, on the road to Livingston.

No one seems to know, at least we have not contacted anyone who does know when the holes on the main drag from the Matthews corner to the educational center will be repaired. It allowed to continue in these disintegrating work that particular street will be a good one to keep off during the coming school year.

It is expected the United States will now get together its life-saving sea planes. Two young men have tinkered up their little old air boat and are supposed to make an attempt fly the big pond and to make a landing in Ireland in 24 hours. After that, will they be playing a harp, or find themselves on the way to Hollywood?

Anybody located the weed cutter? Honestly, we're not kidding about this at all. It is a fact the weeds on the south side of the street south of the booster manufacturing plant are becoming so high we fear they'll cut off the south zephyrs. These southern winds of a night in South-east Texas are almost an actual necessity. Anybody denying this?

TWO MEN HURT IN TRUCK CRASH

Two men were injured about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in a head-on collision between a gravel truck and a log truck 10 miles west of Kountze.

E. Richardson of Warren, driver of a gravel truck for Brown and Root, road contractors, sustained a broken arm at the elbow, cuts on the face, body and legs. Lance Goins of Evadale, driver of the log truck for Oscar Baker, received cuts and bruises on the face and body.

The men were taken to a Kountze drug store by J. P. Fillingim of Kountze, a member of the gravel hauling crew, where they received first aid treatment. An ambulance from Sibbee carried them to St. Thomas hospital in Beaumont. Mr. Goins was discharged from the hospital following treatment and sent home. Mr. Richardson remained in the hospital.

The drivers were blinded by the dust. The logs on the truck shifted forward and threw Goins off.

Texas Should Be Free of All Debt

The gasoline tax alone would liquidate Texas' indebtedness in nine months time.

Austin, August 9.—Yes Texas owes about $33,000,000. But even so, this state is far better off than most states in the Union.

New York	$547,951,000
Illinois	203,301,000
California	183,957,000
Pennsylvania	131,034,000
Tennessee	113,288,000
North Carolina	139,205,000
Missouri	121,020,000
Minnesota	126,406,000
Louisiana	145,502,000
Arkansas	161,000,000
Alabama	76,316,000
Massachusetts	84,408,000
Michigan	76,500,000
New Jersey	73,948,000
West Virginia	78,750,000

Few of these states have even a fraction of Texas' resources. This state's gasoline taxes would pay off the ENTIRE State debt in nine months. Oil taxes would pay it in a year and a half.

If Texas could transfer cash balances in special funds, it could pay off all its debts this month and have $15,000,000 cash left over. It has 48,000,000 in the bank to the credit of special funds.

The state debt consists of $10,956,000 outstanding relief bonds. A few years ago these totaled $20,000,000. It also owes a general revenue deficit of $17,941,000. The Confederate pension deficit of $3,161,000 completes the state's obligations.

By Dick Vaughan, Houston Press.

The Men Who Make Wheels for America

By R. H. Markham in The Christian Science Monitor

Detroit, Mich.—One day not long ago I was in Detroit and to my surprise ran across a Croatian with whom I had become acquainted 19 years earlier in Dallas. When I asked him what he was doing, he replied, "I'm an American nut man." Then he took me over to a car at the curb and as we squatted down he pointed out three nuts behind the left front wheel which he screwed on. "That's my life work," he said. "Every minute I put on a new set. Eight hours a day cars pass over me as I screw nuts. I'm a nut man on the line, one of America's million nut men."

It didn't seem to me a very inspiring life work, but my friend said he was glad to be an American, even such an American.

I took the first opportunity to see the nut men at work, and all day I've been watching men on the line at Henry Ford's Rouge Plant, which is not only one of the wonders of the world, but it is very American. It is indeed, typically American, a personification of America. Of course, it is new. Washington never dreamed of such a thing, nor did Lincoln, nor even Theodore Roosevelt. Work in this factory is not like the work of the Pilgrims who gathered for their first Thanksgiving festival. It is not like the work of the western pioneers. It isn't what Walt Whitman expected. None of the colonists who came over here to make this "the land of the free" imagined he was preparing the way for such a monstrous forge.

The perfection of the synchronization is almost beyond belief. All lines with the necessary objects converge on the right point at the right time. The final section of the assembly line, 1,000 feet long, brilliantly shows this. It begins absolutely empty. Then the frame swings on and slowly starts to move. As it goes along it picks up steering wheel, body, baggage carrier, motor, lights, wheels, gasoline, and everything else. Then it moves off under its own power as a car. A completed car leaves the line every minute.

Just imagine all the preliminary lines that prepared the chassis, the body, the wheels, the tires, the motor, the differential, the electric system.

The conveyor of line in this single factory is 135 miles long, as far from Philadelphia to Washington. You might imagine 80,000 men standing on one or the other of both sides of this road, putting pieces of steel together until at Washington a new Ford ran off the line every minute. However, the system has been perfected.

Special Session Plea Sent Gov. O'Daniel

Nacogdoches, Aug. 9.—Representative R. Lee Brown of this district has written to Governor O'Daniel urging him to call a special session of the legislature as soon as possible to provide additional funds for the relief of the aged. His letter to the governor follows:

Dear Governor: On account of the condition of so many of our old people, many of whom need medicine, dental work, food and clothing, a number of the outstanding citizens of our city met and after some discussion they appointed one of their number to consult with me with the request that I write to you, urging you to convene the legislature in special session at the earliest possible date for the purpose of providing additional funds for our old people.

Permit me to say right here that a little medical or dental attention in many cases would prolong their lives. "A stitch in time saves nine." Would it not be both cruel and criminal and placing a gamble on human endurance and human lives to compel them to wait two more years? How many of them would pass off by that time? Let us play the part of the Good Samaritan and render the assistance now rather than that of the priest and the Levite who passed by on the other side.

In conclusion, I am willing and anxious to assist in the passage of any reasonable and just measure that will bring relief to our needy old people.

Passing of George Washington Neel

The Colmesneil community and other friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Neel were saddened by the death of Mr. Neel Sunday morning.

Mr. Neel has been in very poor health for a number of years. His eye sight was nearly gone which deprived him of the solace of reading, and with his hearing bad he has had a lonely time especially since the accident of a year ago January, when Mrs. Neel fell and fractured a hip and has been confined to her bed most of the time since. Born ten miles north of Woodville in 1889, only son of Colbertson and Sarah Neel he was reared on the farm and has always farmed until his health broke. On November 8, 1933, he married Miss Nettie Davis, daughter of Benjamin and Ann Davis, and she with her daughter, Miss Willie, and four sons, George of Laredo, Bertie of Corpus Christi, Thel of Monahan, New Mexico and Herschel of Beaumont survive him. Love and sympathy of all go out to this broken hearted wife, and faithful daughter who is giving her life for the beloved parents, and to the sons who yearn to lighten the burden of sorrow for the dear mother and sister.

Mr. Neel is the last of his immediate family, the three sisters preceded him in death. A niece and her son and daughter, Mrs. Edna Pitts, Jack and Miss Wilma drove up from Houston Sunday to visit these dear old people only to learn of his death upon reaching Colmesneil while having the car serviced at a filling station. Funeral services were held at four o'clock at the home with Rev. Tom Campbell in charge of the services and interment was in Magnolia cemetery in Woodville at five o'clock Monday.

Atty. R. M. Briggs Gets Confession

A written confession was obtained in the Hill bank robbery, District Attorney R. M. Briggs said Sunday.

T. J. Red, Goldman, all the men who were in the bank at the time of the robbery, which was located in the neighborhood of $12,000. The bank was robbed by two men two weeks ago. Two men employees were locked in the vault of the bank and the cash taken.

Goldman was arrested Sunday at the home of a kinsman near Kountze. He is being held in Liberty County jail.

He refused to name his accomplices in the robbery, but authorities proceeded in the search of a man they believe participated.

The home coming at New Hope Sunday was well attended and a happy association enjoyed as also was the sumptuous feed spread at noon.

Vice-President Garner Will He Respond to Call As Presidential Candidate?

John Nance Garner presiding over destinies of United States Senate.

Garner Organization Claims 461 Delegates on 1st Ballot

DALLAS, Texas.—John Nance Garner, vice-president of the United States, will go into the next Democratic national convention with over 461 votes pledged to him, according to E. B. Germany, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee and co-chairman of the Texas Garner-for-President committee.

"We are convinced, from the deluge of pledges we have received at the Dallas headquarters, that there is a genuine popular demand for the nomination of Mr. Garner on the Democratic ticket. This comes, not from one section or group of states, but from the entire nation. From Oregon and Vermont, and two Georgia to the Southwest, we are getting the most enthusiastic professions of friendship and admiration for our stalwart Texas statesman.

"Mr. Garner's way of thinking has captured the public imagination of the middle ground of America's straight-thinking citizenry. It is the politicians do not have to the voice of the people in 1940, I predict that the Democratic party as an organization, won't be worth anything. I have heard many comments that the politicians are going to pick the party candidate from behind the Democratic and Republican parties, but I don't think so. The people are thinking in terms of what the American people will be in 1940. The American people will be in a position to elect a president who will be able to lead the nation out of the present depression and into a period of prosperity and peace."

DOUCETTE, TEXAS
33 Years of Continuous Service IN DOUCETTE

fact after the bankers fold up. The present building is inadequate in every possible conceivable way. Modern in only one thing. Some one in an unguarded moment had electric wires installed so that light can be produced, both day and night. The place is dark, dingy, no water or lavatories, etc., not a decent loading or unloading platform or entrance, and an absolute disgrace to one of the most consistently growing cities in East Texas. The building is located on the main drag and therefore naturally accumulates a daily crowd. There is positively no opportunity for a side and back entrance, as specified by the notice, to be installed. There is still another angle to consider and that is the close proximity to the corner where hundreds of school youngsters pass two or three times a day, and the patrons of the postoffice, hundreds of them, come in cars, and there is the extra traffic on the main drag just at this particular corner. It is time Woodville had a new postoffice building located anywhere, except where it can contribute to becoming a nuisance, for car traffic as well as for pedestrians.

SUDDEN DEATH
No employer would for a moment entrust an expensive, powerful and lethal piece of machinery in the hands of an inexperienced operator.

Yet the States of the American Union are doing precisely that. The modern automobile is an agency of convenience, in most cases a necessity, and certainly one of pleasure—but it also is an agency of death, destruction and sorrow.

This condition would not be true if there were uniform drivers' codes and these were strictly enforced. However, Brooks of Dallas' "sudden deaths" are those for Lieutenant Governor and also President of the Texas safety commission, A. J. [Name obscured].

Spectral Poetry
DURING the second decade of the present century there was a sudden growth of new "schools" of poetry and art, among them such as Futurism, Vorticism, Cubism, Dadaism and Polyphonic.

So in 1916 when the publication of "Spectra: a Book of Poetic Experiments" was announced, it was hailed with delight by the "emancipated souls" who were struggling for new methods of self-expression. The authors of this volume were "Anne Knish" and "Emanuel Morgan" and immediately they had a host of imitators who wrote the new "spectral poetry." Nobody could understand it, but that made it seem all the more important.

Then the whole movement was revealed as a hoax which had been "authored" by "two" authors—poet, Witter Blyden and Arthur Davidson Spivey, who used this method to satirize the current fad in new poetic culture. But in a sense, the joke was on the imitators.

SURE ENOUGH, 1500 good American passports makes the average reader-thinker know it is time this government have a system of keeping track of records of keeping valuable safely, of having men in charge of foreign affairs, who are responsible enough to take care of valuable papers. It is a fact, 1500 passports could be quite instrumental in wrecking all of America's crack trains, ditto the best of American war planes and the Panama canal.

WE RECEIVED a statement for dues one day last week and it was from the Woodville Chamber of Commerce, and the statement was written on a blank stock statement, the kind one can procure from any stationery store in the larger cities, in little pads of from 50 on up. They were not printed in the Booster's manufacturing plant. Anyway, we congratulate the Chamber upon its money-making tactics, but we must confess we actually thought the Woodville C. of C. had joined the great majority—if you understand to what we are alluding to.

WE MUST confess we wonder where all the good speakers come from that appear on each Thursday evening—(to take the joy out of life, for Thursday is Major Bowes night) at the Rotary club. The programs have been consistently good and the speakers—as good as can be located anywhere. We like the Rotary club for a couple of good, undebatable reasons. First local interests can not be expressed in the meetings. All that is taken care of by the committees. Whenever the Woodville Rotary PWA or WPA, or any other old soon will interest and attendance lag, and support stagger and fall.

JUST AT this time the old saw about well laid plans of men and mice, etc., comes to the surface. The general public, at least, knows not that a application for deviates from that rule past that alphabetical nick-name, funds were applied for by anybody in Woodville with which to build an accredited post-office building. While the getting was good, Trinity grabbed off to 67 or 78 thousand dollar Federal building, and ditto Jasper, Livingston, Center and if our memory serves us correctly San Augustine. Woodville's modesty has made it famous. If Uncle Sam's call for bids is successful, the present building will be for rent next year. Being in a good business location, however, it will not be vacant long.

THERE IS an attempt being made at this time to purchase the —Doucette golf course. There is a very considerable acreage upon which a lot of work has been performed and the price has not been hiked in proportion, by the owner. In fact it is being placed at the regular price of most of the unimproved land in the immediate proximity to community centers in the county. However, there is quite an acreage and for 8 to 15 men to purchase as a closed corporation, it will come rather high. At this time there is a lively interest being displayed and it may become a community affair embracing all the new centers including Warren, Hillister and Colmesneer-Rockland and possibly Chester. If some 25 or 30 could become interested undoubtedly the purchase could be consummated and improvements made from time to time to make of this place a most inviting country golf club.

READERS Of The Booster will find a notice calling for bids for a postoffice building, that is, a building 30' x 40' in size. This is a building that is being planned and will direct in every possible way, from the time the foundation is laid to the time the building is completed. Peas—of Course

PEAS are so plentiful that we take them for granted. Suppose you were visiting in a far-away land, and a little native boy brought to your window a basket full of vegetables you never saw before—and suppose one of them happened to be peas. You would marvel at the beauty of them, you would cook and eat them for their own goodness, and then go about discovering all sorts of things to do with them.

And if you found before returning home you could buy some in cans to carry back with you, what a cargo you'd carry! Try some of these new ways of preparing peas. Don't take them for granted. Be grateful for them.

Good Cause for Gratitude

Curried Pea Omelet: Make an omelet, as usual of three eggs, three tablespoons milk and one-half teaspoon salt. Combine one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three-eighths teaspoon curry powder and three-fourths cup milk, making a white sauce in the usual way. Add three-fourths cup of canned peas to the sauce and pour hot over the omelet just before folding it over onto the platter. This serves four persons. In doubling the quantity for eight persons, it is better to make two omelets rather than one large one.

Cauliflower and Pea Salad: Boil two cups of cauliflower tender, but not mushy. Keep the flowers whole and distinct. Marinate separately for at least one hour. The cauliflower, one cup canned peas and one cup of apricots, peaches or other fruit which contain untold mineral wealth, and do you eat golden yellow yams—priceless to the housewife in their convenient and stored form but quite inexpensive?

Bury These Treasures

Hide away some golden apricots in the following delicious dishes, and see what an adventure they contain untold mineral wealth.

Apricot and Grape Cocktail: Cut apricots from a No. 2 can and have them very cold. Chill, also, two cups of honeydew melon cubes. Arrange on individual beds of crisp lettuce. Pour over French dressing.

Apricot and Grape Cocktail: Cut apricots from a No. 2 can in quarters. Arrange them with a few grapes in cocktail glasses. Mix the juice of one and one-half lemons with the apricot syrup and pour over. Chill thoroughly.

Apricot Custard: Beat four eggs slightly, add three tablespoons sugar, and one and one-half tablespoons flour mixed with a few grains of salt. Add one and one-half cups of strained milk and the contents of one No. 2 can of apricots pressed through a sieve and heated to boiling. Pour into individual custard cups, place in hot water and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—until firm, or for about forty-five minutes. Serve cold from the cups.

He Got Back 15 Cents

Just before the opening of the special session of Congress November, 1937, Vice-President Garner arriving in St. Louis from San Antonio, en route to Washington, made a bee-line for a barber shop.

For 25 minutes, the Vice-President relaxed for a shave at the hands of Dexter Roosevelt, a barber who has had Garner in his chair four of the eight times in recent years he has stopped in St. Louis.

As he left the barber shop, he handed the Negro shine boy a quarter.

"Thank you, uh," smiled the boy.

"That's a quarter," reminded Garner.

"Yes, uh, I know it's a quarter," replied the boy.

"Well, I want some change," Garner demanded.

He got back 15 cents.

Historic Hoaxes

By Elmo Scott Watson

The First Bathub

LATE in 1917 Henry L. Mencken, "simply to have some fun in war days," as he later declared, wrote a story for the New York Evening Mail. It stated that the first American bathub as installed on December 20, 1842, by Adam Thompson in his home in Cincinnati where he proudly displayed it to his friends at a party for men and all the guests took baths. When the news of this got about, physicians denounced the bathub as a menace to public health. In Boston a city ordinance prohibited its use except upon medical advice. Philadelphia's council tried to pass an ordinance prohibiting its use between November and May, etc.

All of this is written in a spirit of "good clean fun." Then, to his surprise, Mencken discovered that his "spoofing" had been taken seriously. Other writers began using the "fact" in his story and they even appeared in standard reference works.

Finally in 1928 Mencken wrote an article which was syndicated to 39 newspapers. It was in this article, confessing the hoax, he appeared in his sixth series of "Prejudices" under the head of "The American Public Will Swallow Anything." His article did not seem to prove the story a hoax. It still goes irregularly and his "facts" are solemnly repeated in all the standard American reference works.

A Supper for Hallowe'en Night Owls

INVITE all of the congenial night owls you know people who know it's wise not to sleep when you can be having a good time—and plan a supper and games which will make the most solemn owl uproarious.

Send invitations to herald the event—black cardboard owls with a wink, enclosed in an orange colored envelope. Write this verse on the back:

"I'm sinking—not blinking,
So that you will be wise
To our supper and games
Under Hallowe'en skies."
Name Date Hour

Give each guest a pair of black cardboard ears that fasten around the head with a black elastic, and a pair of ten-cent owl glasses. Have some Hallowe'en games indoors before the supper, and outdoors, later, if the Hallowe'en skies permit.

Amusing Games

"A Bite of Apple or a Bite of Soap" is a good way to get the fun started. Use a stick, one and one-half feet long, and attach an apple to one end of it and a ball of soap to the other end. Swing the stick from a light fixture; so that the stick hangs horizontally. The stick to be swung, is now raised up with that end of it. Have the guest swing the stick. The end of the stick that is swinging is now raised up with that end of it. Have the guest swing the stick. The end of the stick that is swinging is now raised up with that end of it. Have the guest swing the stick.

Hot Devil Sandwiches: Spread the contents of one 4 1/2-ounce can of deviled ham between slices of buttered bread cut in individual servings in the shape of pumpkins. Toast on both sides and pour over the following sauce: Make a white sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour and one cup milk. Heat the contents of one can of tomato soup to boiling and add a few grains of soda. Pour the hot soup slowly into the hot white sauce, stirring constantly. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

 Developed this year at the University of Texas was a one-ton, fifteen-foot machine that performs 61 mathematical operations at once and solves high degree equations which would require an expert computer a month to put on paper. Its inventor, Dr. S. L. Brown, chairman of the University's Physics department, says the machine—a "multigraph"—operates on electric wave impulses.

LOST 1,500 PASSPORTS SAM WANTS THEM BACK
 Washington, Aug. 12.—About 1,500 lost American passports are somewhere in Europe, many perhaps in the hands of spies, and American authorities here and abroad are making every effort to get hold of and destroy them.

DETERMINATION BRINGS GOAL NEAR TEACHER
 The M. L. Sheffield family of need Colmesneil must have plenty of determination and grit. Some time ago the daughter, Grace, gave chase to a thief who held up the Service Drug Store in Beaumont while she was there alone about meal time, now another one of the family with sheer grit and determination will take the examination at Nacogdoches, SEA college, for her degree the 25th. This one, Mrs. Ruth Sheffield Simmons, wife of L. H. Simmons did not graduate from high school but attended SFA and took a junior course which gave her the credits of high school graduation. Since, through the summers she has, with her home duties, studied hard with mapped lessons by mail from the South Western College at La Fayette, La., and she expects to get her degree at SFA after the August 25th exams. Tyler County should be proud of such young people. She has taught school and this year will teach at the Holywell school in the north end of this county.

Luisitania Sinking Survivor Expires

Mr. Timmis, a cotton merchant who had crossed the Atlantic Ocean 70 times and the Pacific eight times, died at his home here late yesterday from a heart attack.

machines and equipment worth $3,250 and 11 1/2 horse power of energy. Men don't pound, men don't lift, men don't dig—machines do it for them. The work is done by a machine, not by a man. Machines are busy machines, but machines also are slaves in the hands of men.

These men do not wear themselves out. They grow up in the service. If disabled, many are retained. Forty percent are over 40 years of age.

Many have houses, most have cars, all have much leisure time. They have almost as much time for outside activity as a bank clerk, fully as much as a grocery store employee, far more than farmers or journalists. Their strain is not much greater than that of a busy stenographer. They are insured. They live in convenient houses, in America's best cities and have a steady income as most people. They picnic, swim, go on automobile trips, see the movies. Their yearly wages fall in the category of America's medium incomes. An agreeable spirit prevails in the plant. The men do not enter dejectedly nor leave exhausted.

The factory has come to stay. Industry has transformed modern life and given our people countless opportunities. Men never dreamed of before. We want industry and shall develop, rather than check it. Very few things have contributed more to creating equality in America than machines.

Eventually Control
 However, we as a nation must eventually control those machines. Mr. Ford and his colleagues have rendered us an inestimable service. He personally is a good master. The economic system he uses—capitalism—is the best yet devised, far superior to communism, fascism, or nazism, in every way. An average Detroit worker lives better than an average worker in Russia, Italy, or Germany. Ford owns the machines, worth $10,000, with which each man must work. He is just as much a feudal lord as a great landowner in Hungary who owns the land on which 35,000 peasants must work. Ford deserves vastly more than a feudal lord, for he created a large part of his wealth. This factory is his personal masterpiece. He inaugurated a new era.

We, collectively, as the masters of this land will control those machines and that marvelous plant. That is the American way. We control sanitation, house building, movies, mail, food, making, drinking, auto driving and everything else needing control. There is freedom in order. Order comes through control. We have freedom on the road because we all accept control. That's democracy. In industry that is limited capitalism. In a good society everything must be adapted to the common good. Such men as Henry Ford are our trustees. No American, whatever his deserts, should aspire to a greater reward than serving America.
