MRS. J. H. WILLARD, Adv. Mgr.

WELL, WHAT do you know about this? Statistics show the average passenger car while touring carries 3 1/2 persons. The person who is only half there is usually the driver.

ANOTHER THING the do-nothing 1939 legislature did not do, was to make it tough for the loan sharks. As we see it, it is perfectly o. k. to charge 8% interest on all loans—if the sharks want to, and imagine they can get it.

NOW AND then some smart reporter gets hold of a story and heads it "The Conscientious Fund." What some of us country newspaper men could tell about such funds if a few hundreds of subscribers would pay up and subscribe for a year in advance.

WE HAVEN'T noticed any excited groups of Tyler county land holders who received statement of accounts delinquent on any or all parcels of land acquired by school land sales. Perhaps there are no such school lands in Tyler county. Anyway Land Commissioner Bascom Gills mailed out 15,000 statements on Sept. 1.

THERE IS any one man in Texas that should not perchance be elected governor of Texas, it is G. A. Jerry Sadler. This writer cannot and will not warm up to any man in whom we have no confidence. We notice several daily papers are soft-soaping around and feeling out the public. We do not believe Sadler will even get a start.

ABOUT THE only thing one reads in the papers these days, save war news, it Taxes. We get the Texas Tax Journal. This week appeared another publication coming to our exchange desk, the "Taxpayer's Digest." Reading either of these digest of taxes are, and as they will be, almost keeps readers from slumbering at night.

WE LIKE the ruling of the U of Texas Longhorn band by vote of the members. Girls won't prance ahead of the U T Longhorn band. Indeed, this should be universally recognized as custom. On long marches we know of several girls this year who were forced to quit. A band is judged not by prancing girls, but rather by the class of music rendered and the performance of the several players.

GOV. W. LEE O'Daniel told the world what he thinks about the donning legislature, as well as some of the state press that appears to be backing up the legislature and particularly those opposing every act of his. We have every sympathy with those who expected Old Age Assistance pensions, but it is doubtful if a special session would remedy the situation. We're in perfect harmony with everything Gov. O'Daniel put over in his Sunday broadcast.

OF COURSE, the last session of the do-nothings passed a couple of bills of merit—they couldn't help it—if they sent any measures to the governor to sign. Some one of these reveals in an unguarded moment was bound to slip up and introduce a meritorious measure. We have reference to the bill dubbed the Certificate of Title Act. Purloiners of cars will find it difficult to sell the cars after October 1. Find the bill in this issue of The Booster.

IF A man is nervous and the sounds of numerous hammers driving spikes and 10-penny nails drives him to distraction, we'll tell Woodville is a good place to live. Not once since old man Woodville has been driving this town, Woodville has there been a man building a house who has been nervous.

THEY DO things in Houston and to prove Houston is a good city in which to operate a maintenance garage, we quote the following remuneration for work, real and fancied, on one of the city water department cars. The record show, according to the Houston Press, nearly $800 in mechanical and tire maintenance last year on one car. Another car showed the city spent slightly in excess of $60 a month for mechanical upkeep. It is now expected there'll be an exodus of garage men from the country into the city. And, why not? That's good money.

EVERY SO often we view a truck lettered Lufkin Packing Company. This takes us back to the time when we were operating in Livingston. A proposition to install a packing plant in that thriving city was turned down by the Chamber of Commerce. It was to have been a stock plan and we boosted it. We knew the man behind it. When taken to task by one of the conscientious objectors and asked how much we would subscribe we answered and after that were not bothered further. The proposition was put up to Lufkin some time later, and it was grabbed immediately. That business now spreads itself all over East Texas, and Livingston could have obtained that business.

WE CAN but wonder how a man can write baseball, football, softball or croquet, as put over by any team, anywhere, and not attend and witness the performance of stars, would-be All-American players, as well as never-wasgers together with the average horse-to-toedness players. To truthfully report a game, attendance is necessary. One cannot do justice by a lot of geeks telling how a touchdown was made. If a fellow knows football it is still more necessary to be present to report the several plays leading up to a perfect run of the length of the field for the winning touchdown in the last minute of the game. We have reference to one Ed Reichelt, a writer for a Beaumont paper. A couple of weeks ago some writer (we do not know but what it was Ed) said the Jasper coach reported he had the poorest team he ever coached. Sunday's column said: "It looks as if Jasper will have everything its way in the east Texas district this season. The Bulldogs battled the heralded Ouyon boys to a 13-13 standoff Friday night. I do not see how such weak teams as Buna, Woodville, Burkeville, Kirbyville and Chester can even expect to catch sight of the Bulldogs on any gridiron." We wonder if he actually has seen any of the teams mentioned. What we are getting at is, we'd like to see a writer reporting game this year after actually seeing some of them in action.

SHIRT TAILS
Are Americans irresponsible spendthrifts? This would appear to be the only logical conclusion to be drawn from the fact that during the past eight years the mean yearly additions to the public debt have averaged three and a half billion dollars; which is more than the total cost of government "in 1929, notwithstanding new and heavy taxation that has been imposed since then. By July, 1940, the President estimates $48,000,000 as contrasted to $18,000,000,000 in 1929. Interest alone on this vast amount now consumes 20 cents of every dollar of tax revenue or over $1,000,000,000 a year. All the flag waving in the universe cannot save a spendthrift nation from revolution any chaos. And that is something that the general public does not yet even seem to realize. Public officials in the nations' capitol are now almost helpless to stem the tide of spending, even if they so desire. The desire to stop spending the nation into ruin has got to start at home. Every man and woman must come to realize the federal debt is spiraling, approaching proportions that threaten the very continuance of individual liberty.

And Now Cotton For Highways

Along shady Valliant street in Greenville, Miss., a crew of road workers rolled a huge, eight-foot wide bolt of cotton fabric, white and coarse, and seemingly more suitable for curtains or dresses than for this strange use. Housewives of Valliant street rubbed their eyes incredulously. What was City Engineer Frank Hall up to, spreading hundreds of square yards of cotton material on the street which had been a gravel one, and which had been scraped down for a new kind of hard-surfacing? They came out on the sidewalk, talking to each other and to the engineer who was putting down the first cotton-membrane streets on a large scale in the United States. Passersby fingered the heavy, loosely woven fabric which the workers were fitting upon the priming of asphalt, which had been laid earlier upon the prepared gravel.

Greenville was inaugurating this summer's day a road paving program which would result in the hard surfacing of 55 blocks of city streets with a cotton membrane filler between layers of asphalt. The work was being undertaken experimentally, on a large scale, in conjunction with the department of Agriculture, which was supplying the fabric. The program had been envisioned by Major Milton Smith and City Engineer Hall. And it was fitting that in Greenville, in the heart of the long-staple cotton producing Mississippi Delta, this first large scale experiment in cotton paving should be made. Only 30 miles away, at Scott, Miss., Oscar Johnston, president of the National Cotton Council, and operator of one of the world's largest cotton plantations, had himself laid down a mile of cotton road surface years ago.

The way in which that Scott plantation road had stood up under trucking, automobile and heavy machinery traffic, had been the subject of much discussion in Greenville. It was the subject of much discussion in Greenville. It was the subject of much discussion in Greenville.

building. To the task of experimenting in this new use for cotton is had assigned Dean Gilchrist of Texas A&M. And upon his findings depend the possible use of a million bales of cotton a year in road making. But Greenville hadn't waited for these findings, for the city officials had already been convinced by the mile laid down at Scott and by similar small scale ventures in New Jersey. The theory behind the proposed use of cotton in such roads is that it acts as a cushion between the layers of gravel and asphalt, as well as a binding material, and slows down the deterioration of the hard-surfaced road. If cotton is proved to be an important factor in road-preserving, its use will be a construction economy, for in hard-surfaced roads, the upkeep rather than the initial cost is what burdens the taxpayers.

The actual laying of roads with cotton binder is as simple as ordinary blacktopping. The prepared base is first primed with asphalt, which is absorbed by the base in approximately 24 hours. The cotton membrane is then laid down, by being unrolled the length of the street, doubling and splicing where necessary. Asphalt is then applied to the cotton and covered with gravel, and compacted. Finally, asphalt is applied to the rolled gravel, covered with coarse sand and broomed and rolled to a resultant dense, smooth surface.

Other cities besides Greenville are also experimenting in cotton roads, through the co-operation of the department of Agriculture. But the drive to make the nation cotton road-conscious awaits the report of Dean Gilchrist.

profiteering, the utilization of war psychology to boost prices for the purpose of making excessive profits. As manufacturers we recognize it to be our responsibility and moral obligation to conduct our businesses so that the prices of the products we produce and sell are related equitably to production costs. We pledge our energetic support to this policy. The NAM calls upon all its members to exercise vigilance against any price or profit policies not justified by actual cost and anticipated cost of replacement. For months this Association said: "No sensible person believes that profit can come out of wreckage of human life and economic dislocation." The use of this crisis as an excuse either to extort unjustifiable profits or to pursue partisan political objectives is not only indefensible and dangerous, but reprehensible morally. Nor should pleas of "emergency" be utilized as an excuse for reaching objectives which the American people would not otherwise sanction.

The present situation calls for agreement on common objectives, but the defecate process of consultation and criticism must never be abandoned. Otherwise, we shall be following in the footsteps of those who believe in government by coercion.

In a world distraught by force the best way to preserve representative democracy is to practice it.
