ONE REASON for auto mishaps. Highway patrol men state 20% do not dim their lights, but read the story elsewhere.

TALK ABOUT advertising. The Chevrolet schedule for the year covers 6,800 newspapers, the contracts starting about the middle of this present month.

IT IS noticeable what the automobile industry has done during the year in regulation of the very cost of cars to purchasers. For instance, in 1930, price, $2,877, horsepower, 43. In 1931, price, $1,118, horsepower, 64. In 1932, price, $795, horsepower, 83. And it seems there'll be more and better cars in 1931.

WE HAVE received two copies of the Trinity Valley Voice, published now and then somewhere in Texas. One of the heads struck our fancy. "Opportunity" is the title of the article. It is a story of a man who has made a fortune in the oil business. He is a known fact in many instances the big interests group. It is the opportunity for their own grandstand, utterly shutting off the class of workers and investors it takes to make progress. In fact those who do have vision but cannot invest because there's nothing but "skin milk" remaining. However, the Voice has some very splendid arguments for the Trinity River canalization.

CENSORING the radio, as we view the matter, should be practiced only when foul, obscene language is used or when the line of chatter is unparliamentary. We who use radios have the privilege of tuning out all programs that do not appeal. But for censoring groups, political, religious and economic, to attempt to censor the progress of radio is dangerous. Success is such an attempt would undoubtedly lead to an attempt to clamp down on the American press. That the great broadcasters have a headache is a known fact. But if the pressure groups are successful in barbing off the air controversial subjects the broadcasters will awake with a honey of a cranial quality, and they'll not know which way to jump.

IF MESSRS. Green and CIO Lewis keep on with their efforts to whip each other, if labor continues to strike, if a greater unrest pervades all of America what will happen to industry and to labor in the rank and file on this continent? Green and Lewis did plenty in the year that is now nearing its end. No good has come from organized labor difficulty. Only strife is seen. We are at war in America. Was between the great manufacturers and war between Green and Lewis. Neither one of these men will be satisfied with disruption of their opposing union, they want all labor ensconced under their individual banner. Labor and Capitol, Green and Lewis are in a heap of a fix, and, like the European struggle, no one can visualize the finish.

THE TITLE bill now in effect, covering, principally, the ownership of automobiles, is a crackerjack. The wonder of all this is where can a building great enough in Austin be located in which to contain enough office room to accommodate the many thousands of clerks that will be required to make out the records of your truck or automobile. To trade is a used car one must produce proof of ownership, (registered proof, we mean) a history it, good for but one thing. I mean when you garbion they neighbor car and attempt to sell it, you're going to experience difficulty with any and all dealers. If they do not know all about this Title Bill today, believe us they'll get wise inside of a week.

A SPECIAL session, it appears, will not do anything for the old-age assistance, etc. program. The letters, many of them, sent out by Governor O'Daniel, have been answered through the press. Long traders have been printed in several daily papers, and nearly all of them we have read took occasion to criticize the governor—sort of continuing where they left off at the end of the last session. A writer in a Houston paper head a story: "O'Daniel's Bill Would Fail." That is about as every thinking writer knows—at least in his own satisfaction. It seems the electorate of Texas must be put back into private life a raft-load of senators, and then elect a few representatives who use their position for other purposes than to secure funds to aid in a college course. And, too, free speech is an American institution. We maintain, however, that all who wish to show disrespect to the President of these United States as well as the governors of the several states should be made—by law—to show proper respect to their superiors. Abuse of our governors by disrespectful speeches and published articles should have a penalty attached.

THIS WRITER has not been very enthusiastic about the paper mill erected in Angelina county. The original line of bull about the timber to be used, was the Emory, crooked timber, not suitable for saw logs would be used from which to make paper. What a joke and what a lot of people, for the money, believed the stories. But how long would such timber last? How much of that kind of timber still exists. And, too, is one to imagine some knots will make suitable pulp from which to create great rolls of paper? And, too, more especially when we know that a pine tree that has gone through a fire will not be accepted at the paper mill because the wood hardens to such an extent pulp cannot be made. And so, the mill that a better tree than the old twisted, knotted trees must be used. It is supposed trees up to about six inches on the stump will be used, and as much of that tree as is clear of limbs. After all this has been cut a reworking of the ground will be made and poles from 2 1/2 to about 3 inches will be slashed and sent in—that, readers is the end of the forest. Fire will come in and then the land erodes and become the barren wastes now found on a trip from Colmesneil to Rockland. A fine prospect.

HILLISTER
Visitors in the A. E. McSween home last week end were Ernest Hamilton and Chas. Strahan of Lufkin. Mrs. Strahan are leaving for Hajia, Palestine, Tuesday, where they will be located for a year. J. W. Grimes of Houston was also a Sunday guest in the McSween home.—Mrs. Satter.

Several of their children came home to Mrs. J. P. Collier last week and Guy Enloe of Beaumont was a visitor in the home of his mother, Mrs. G. R. Enloe, Saturday night and Sunday. She has not been feeling well for several days, but is better at this time.—Mrs. M. Cle-

As They Eat In Germany—Eat like Nazis—and dream about a fine, thick steak, etc., etc. Four-day trial of sample German fare leaves Press writers weak after spuds, black coffee.

Did you ever try a potato—just a boiled potato without salt, pepper, butter or any trimmings? Did you ever come face-to-face early in the morning with a bowl of oatmeal just oatmeal, without cream or sugar? Did you ever try to satisfy a good old-fashioned appetite with a stalk of stuffed celery? We have, because we're testing Hitler's four-day war diet for Nazis—and if you'll pardon a pun, it's Nazi good.

The Hitler food conserving menu came by cable to The Press the other day. Immediately there was a discussion of "How'd you like to get along on that?" and before we knew it we were offering to eat like Nazis for four days. "Just to see."

It started at 6:30 a. m. one day last week. Take coffee black. It was a poor beginning—a cup of black coffee instead of the usual two with plenty of cream and sugar—a slice of dry bread instead of buttered toast—a dab of marmalade to take the place of eggs and bacon. Somehow the morning wore by, with many taunting remarks from folks going out for coffee and doughnuts.

Came lunchtime, and we thought we had worked up a genuine enthusiasm for boiled potatoes and celery. But lunch was a flop. You try it once. Besides, the fellows around us were eating steaks and roast beef and fried ham.

That potato again! Ah, but there was supper. Hopefully we turned to our menu, and there was that plain unadorned potato again.

The rest of the menus are not promising. We aren't looking forward to a "fruit soup" and we can't see any bright prospects in "bread soufflé."

—Weight for the record: Anyhow, we're in it until Friday night.

We weighed in at the start at 144 and 138 pounds. It will be interesting to see what has happened by the time we get to the end of the week.

The funeral of Mrs. Best was held Sunday afternoon in the Christian church with Rev. J. C. Boyd in charge and Rev. Jeff Rhodes assisting.

Her beloved grand sons acted as pall bearers and with Mrs. T. C. Rock at the piano, Messrs. R. E. Pennington, Esca Walker, Frank Lusk and Robert Stapp sang old songs she loved.

She is now resting with loved ones in Magnolia cemetery.
