

Tyler County Booster

A Weekly Newspaper Boosting Tyler County and Woodville
WOODVILLE, TYLER COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1940

INK-MOBBIES

...read right on a Louisiana highway...
...notice the Democratic Women's club of Houston is backing John Garner for president of these United States.

...The Booster is publishing a communication by B. B. Barnes, Chester, which is well worth while. The points at issue are well taken.

...One of these days with fires going at full blast there'll be a fire alarm sounded. By the way, who knows where does the city park its fire hose and the chemical truck?

...We said something some time ago about being in the market for tubercular seals. Well, the market came to us, and we are now, more than ever, convinced advertising in The Booster pays.

...Notice is hereby given to the eligible bachelors of Woodville and Tyler county—the year 1940 is leap year, and the women folks have a license to say anything that happens to come into their minds, that is, along certain well defined topics.

...Then there is Major Bowes and his weekly programs. Just about once a month there's something worth while. Folks are beginning to tune out. Of the matter is about 89 1/2% of the best amateur talent has been discovered and the Major is about four feet tall.

...A bunch of Tyler county who are looking at the 1940 and wondering what about the answer. Not only presidential candidates will be found in the parade but all kinds of county officers are to be filled at election time. Just what will happen to the well-known Tyler county party-house gang's only problematical. It is a fact, only time can solve the uncertainty of the present now and now.

...Say, you folks who helped keep the fires going during the past week, how'd you like to be in Finland fighting for "Old Glory" in 25 degrees below zero? How'd you like to be a Russian bossed by a dictator, ill clad, poorly fed, forced to get into battles? Isn't a fact America is a fine place is which to be a citizen? If so, lets be better citizens, better Americans, and more backers of American law and order, and, indeed, better patriots.

...Rather than comply with a state law and have his nine-year-old vaccinated, Earl Allison of Pittsburgh said he would leave Pennsylvania. He quoted Scripture as the reason for his refusal to permit the vaccination: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile the temple of God, him God will destroy; for the temple of God, which temple ye are."

...As the months went on however, Germany's U-boats repeatedly torpedoed passenger ships. The feelings of the American people were irritated increasingly as news reports told of ship after ship ruthlessly shelled by the raiders of the deep. Several American ships were sunk. Finally a telegram was intercepted and deciphered showing clearly that Germany was trying to arouse Mexico to military action against the United States. According to this plan, Mexico was offered the states of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas if she would attack the United States. Then more of America's vessels were torpedoed.

...The United States could stand no more. War fever flared up. On the 6th of April, 1917—two years after the sinking of the Lusitania, this country entered the war against Germany. The Lusitania was not forgotten, indeed the barbarous sinking of the ship still remains a thorn in the conscience of civilized mankind, but it is obvious to one who has studied the facts that the torpedoing of the great liner did not cause America to enter the worst, most murderous conflict of all time.

...Mr. C. W. Matthews of Colmesneil suffered a severe heart attack early last week but is some better now. Mrs. Mattie Hewett, who was in the hospital for several days, is also improving.

Town Institute Here Teaching Betterment and Beautification

H. C. Morrison, director of the Home Beautification, at 9:30 a. m., in the vocational agricultural room for the Future Farmers and other persons interested.

A big crowd gathered at night for the Mass reciting at the court house, with Boy Scouts in uniform singing. Mrs. C. C. Leonard led the mass singing and talk with illustrated slides on Home Beautification, at 9:30 a. m., in the vocational agricultural room for the Future Farmers and other persons interested.

Prof. Wm. Brock presented his school band in special numbers. Mr. Morrison was the speaker but a number of towns people took part in a round table discussion later. Judge J. E. Wheat, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. Woodville is proud of the new firm, and old ones with new business houses that has been a product of 1939 and there were 16 firms with their owners and managers presented and congratulated.

The meeting adjourned to meet again Monday night, all present agree to attend.

The crowd Monday night was about two-thirds the number, but all present took part in electing as permanent officers, E. W. Tubb, president; Jay Kelley, V. Pres.; Mrs. A. W. Harrison, Sec.; Treas. The first official duty of these three will be to appoint a nominating committee, who will select a group of names from which will be elected a forum of some 21 or more active participants, who are supposed to meet in several groups once a week.

These forum committees are to study the city's needs and to plan for activities covering the work of beautification, growth and betterment, including rural and surrounding communities. In an early issue of The Booster the roster of these committees will be made public.

Dr. James Gee, Dean of S. H. S. T. College, Huntsville, has asked that he make but one talk in Woodville and as both P-T. A. and the Teachers Association want him, it is decided to combine the two meetings so watch The Booster of next week for the date set.

Supt. Lee Hensley is making a trip to Huntsville this week but can not have notice of date of this week's issue. So, no P-T. A. meeting next Wednesday.

Mrs. Bevis O. Wood of Emilee are proprietors of a store and the past few months Mrs. Wood has been collecting the dimes as they were put in the cash register.

Tuesday when a baby daughter was born, the attending physician was surprised when he was given 250 dimes, which act as a worthy of John Hix's "Strange as it Seems." However Dr. Shivers didn't keep them long for his wife, too, is also collecting dimes and that was the biggest haul she had ever had an opportunity to make, so added them to her collection.

Mrs. Wood are delighted over the safe arrival of the baby and their friends are rejoicing with them.

What Democracy Means To Me

By Raymond Morrison
The forces of wind and water and sunlight bring about constant change; so do ideas possessing and working through human beings stir up and torment races until a new order of society is established.

The trend of man's "blundering through" has been toward the mastery of the physical, and the art of living harmoniously together. Of the first, it may be said, we have nearly arrived; there is little man has not dared. Of the latter, it cannot be denied, we are still primitive.

Shining always through the darkness and despair and ugliness have been ideas lighting the way to progress. The most persistent of these have been the hopes of liberty and peace, and of worldwide brotherhood. These goals were suggested in Athenian democracy; in the teachings of Christ; in the spiritual oneness of the Mayflower Compact; and in the idea of liberty which Europeans brought with them to America, and which expanded as they sensed the bigness of land and water and sky.

The ultimate of man's struggle through succession of events appears to be democracy as I interpret democracy. Today, when Europeans are dying for ideas, Americans should be aroused to live militantly for our democratic inheritance. Too long have we accepted passively the heritage for which our forefathers fought. We are now satisfied with a negative definition of our priceless inheritance of liberty; it is neither Communism nor Fascism! What we should demand is a positive definition of goals, and objectives, stated and clarified. We will then have unity and enthusiasm.

I conceive democracy as a way of life, a sort of religion, permeating industry, government, and our social behavior, and an enlightening spirit. My democracy has twelve points; namely: liberty, tolerance, friendliness, equality, self-government, enlightenment, unity through common objectives, balance of values, respect for minorities, world-wide brotherhood, respect for the laws of nature or a higher power, and action.

Let us define each point. I think of liberty as freedom to think freshly, always searching for truth; freedom of expression in so far as it acknowledges social responsibility; freedom to question institutions and traditions when they prove harmful to democracy, because it is this freedom of opposition which makes democracy more powerful than dictatorship. Through the clash of opinion clarity of thought results; new ideas are born. It is the old story of thesis, antithesis, and synthesis. And finally, liberty is limited by a sense of justice which protects man and his social environment.

It is futile to think of democracy without tolerance. You may disagree with me, but I should be willing to fight for your right to disagree with me. I may be enjoying your mode of life, but it is your privilege to live. Only you must not become intolerant of my way of living and try to force your way on me.

Democracy thrives on friendliness. In an atmosphere of good fellowship and good will are found the seeds of understanding and unity. Equality does not mean that all men are created with equal opportunity. But it does mean the responsibility of the more fortunate to raise the standards of living, to educate, and to equalize opportunity for the less fortunate.

Parent-Teachers Meet Postponed

Enlist in Livingston
For the convenience of young men desiring information regarding enlistment in the regular Army, an Army Recruiting Station has been opened in the county Court house at Livingston. The Recruiting Representative there will be more than glad to answer any question you may wish to ask either write or come to the recruiting office. The vacancies now are Air Corps, Panamas, Naval Dept. Infantry, Fort Benning, Georgia, Cavalry, Fort Bliss, Texas, and several other different places that you may desire to go.

Tyler Scout Leaders
New leaders for the Tyler district of the Boy Scouts of America will be chosen at the annual meeting set for Jan. 15, next week. Members of the committee appointed to make the nominations are A. King, Doucette; J. H. Slack, Chester; and O. A. Riley, P. H. Powell and L. M. Feagin, Woodville. The arrangement committee is composed of F. B. Sullivan, Mrs. J. Robert McCombs, Supt. Lee Hensley, J. H. Kennesson, Jr., Miss Evelyn Kennesson, W. W. Cruse and T. A. Houston.

Methodist W. M. S.
The W. M. S. of New Bethel and Hardin county association will meet Thursday of next week, Jan. 15th at 10 o'clock a. m. in the Woodville Baptist church. Mrs. R. L. Matthis, State Young People's leader of Dallas will discuss various phases of the W. M. S. work. Mrs. E. A. Ingram, district president, Mrs. Fred Wilcox, president of South East Texas Association and Mrs. Troy Brooks, district Young Peoples Leader, will also be present. All the Baptist women and leaders of the young people are urged to be in attendance.

W. M. B. Prescott
William B. Prescott was born in Alabama in 1884, and came to Texas at the age of 12 years with his parents. Mr. Prescott never married and lived on his farm near the town of Woodville, Texas.

For Funds For Finnish Relief

At the meeting of the Tyler County Booster, held last week, the number of newspapers in the United States, and relayed through the national headquarters of the Finnish Relief Fund, which is now in charge of the relief of Finland. Mr. Hoover's request that a Mr. Willard accept the local chairmanship was received here last week. The late for last week's issue, Capt. Lacey was associated with Hoover in the Belgian Relief drive in 1914 and advises that plans similar to the Belgian Relief Program will be used in raising funds for the present campaign.

The Booster will receive and acknowledge contributions from its readers and forward such contributions once the evacuation of the Finnish Relief headquarters for Texas, which Capt. Lacey has opened in the Baker hotel. The Funds so received from the state will be forwarded to the state headquarters for the national headquarters of the Finnish Relief Fund in New York City.

Mr. Hoover issued the following statement: "America has a duty to perform in the relief of the hideous suffering of the Finnish people. Our people should have an outlet in which to express their undying sympathy. I have consented to organize a nationwide Finnish relief fund for this purpose."

"I appeal to the American people for its support. Finland is not a rich country. The people have little reserve for emergency. They are making a heroic defense. Air attacks have compelled the evacuation of civilians from their towns and cities. Hundreds of thousands of women and children have been driven from their homes in the middle of the northern winter. Many are destitute. Others are without adequate shelter, clothing and food. This fund is for the purpose of serving these in need. I fully realize the present needs of many of our own people and also the needs of Polish people as well, but I am sure that in this time of our need sympathy for the people of Finland, American people should make sacrifices for their relief. I have asked an unusual service of the newspapers of this country, that they should sponsor the fund in their localities, that they should accept and acknowledge contributions through their columns. I hope the people in each locality will co-operate with and aid their paper's efforts."

A nationwide appeal for general conduct of the fund. My former colleagues in Belgian relief have volunteered to underwrite the work of administration under the leadership of Edgar Rickard, with an office at the Graybar Building, New York City. Emergency supplies can be obtained in Norway and Sweden pending payment from the United States. By the aid of the press and the volunteer service of these experienced men, we can move quickly and avoid any consequential overhead expenses. I hope those who say they will contribute generously. Contributions no matter how small are the evidence of our sympathy.

SCOUTS HOPE FOR BIG TEAM
The Woodville troop of the Boy Scouts of America is getting lined up for one of the finest teams in its history, according to the officials. For the first time in troop history each member of the troop committee, whether it be a boy or a girl, is being represented. The troop is composed of men, boys, and girls, and has a definite aim. Other unique features of the organization set up for 1940 are: The troop will have a representative on the board of directors. The Woodville troop will be the first in the United States to have a Marshall as a member of the board of directors. The troop will have a representative on the board of directors. The troop will have a representative on the board of directors.

THE STORY

CHAPTER I—Lovely, independent Autumn came through the door of her father's study, an old lady friend, the late Mrs. H. J. O'Connell, had come home, that things have changed. "You're late," she greeted lovingly by her father's side. "I'm sorry, but I had to see to the house for a short time. I'll be back in a moment."

CHAPTER II—Riding around the estate with her father, Autumn realized that he had changed. Between them she rode to the next day Autumn was dancing at the castle. When the night of the dance in the garden, she was dancing with her father. "You're dancing with me?" she asked. "Yes, I am," he replied. "I'm dancing with you."

CHAPTER III—Autumn calls again on Hector Cardigan—this time to find out the reason for his absence. From his conversation she inferred that Hector had been in the city because he loved Millicent Dean, her mother. "I'm sorry, but I'm not in a position to see her," he said. "I'm sorry, but I'm not in a position to see her."

CHAPTER IV—Florian Parr, at the castle for dinner, proposes to Autumn. She refuses him. "I'm sorry, but I'm not in a position to see her," he said. "I'm sorry, but I'm not in a position to see her."

CHAPTER V—Autumn tells her father that she is going to see her mother. "I'm sorry, but I'm not in a position to see her," he said. "I'm sorry, but I'm not in a position to see her."

WILL MOVE MILL FROM CONROE TO LUFKIN
Sawmill equipment of the Conroe Lumber Co. will be moved to Lufkin and will be installed at the Kelly mill of the Anselma County Lumber Co., which was destroyed by fire last December 10, officials of the firm have announced. The double band and gang saw mill will be transferred and is capable of cutting approximately 120,000 feet of lumber daily. Installation of the equipment will take about four months, after which time the Kelly mill will resume operations according to the latest report. The Conroe Lumber firm, which is owned by E. L. Kurth of Lufkin, ceased operations when its mill was destroyed by fire last December 10.

Strange As It Seems

By John Hix
The following is a copy of a clipping from the Los Angeles Times, dated January 10, 1940. It is a story about a boy named Jang, who was born with a tail. The story is titled "The Monkey Boy" and is written by John Hix.

THE MONKEY BOY!
JANG -- 11-year-old Borneo boy, WAS BORN WITH A TAIL, 6 1/2 INCHES LONG!
(Chicago Daily News, N.Y. World's Fair)
DEEPEST HOLE IN THE WORLD -- A San Joaquin Valley (Calif.) oil well, 15,000 FEET DEEP -- NEARLY 5 MILES --

WORD FROM A NIECE OF WILLIAM COLMESNELL
N. Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 3, 1940. —Mr. J. H. Willard, Woodville, Texas. Dear Sir: Please be so kind as to send me a copy of "The Tyler County Booster." The enclosed clipping from the Los Angeles Times, awakened many pleasant memories of a visit to Woodville years ago. I was a guest of my uncle, William Colmesnell for whom the town of Colmesnell was named. Woodville was then a village. The next time I visit Texas I will make a tour of your part of the great state. Thanking you, yours truly, Mrs. Ida M. Simmons, 11555 Dilling Street, N. Hollywood, Cal.
