Warren 38-Nome, 33

In a game characterized by close scoring on the part of both teams, the Warren team defeated the Nome six-man team 38 to 33, Friday afternoon at Nome.

The deciding tally, scored by Jack Warren, followed in the closing seconds of the game; it was set up by a pass from the Warren backfield. Coach Dicker's use of two players in the backfield, while the other was composed of players who will make up the team next year. The game was refereed and acted by the yellow judge of the Warren pep squad which is under the able direction of Miss Mary Mann.

MALNUTRITION NOT DUE ALWAYS TO LACK OF FOOD

There is a popular though entirely false idea that malnutrition is due solely to lack of food. Of course, an inadequate food supply will result in undernourishment. On the other hand, quantities of the wrong types of food to the exclusion of the proper types can result just as effectively in malnutrition for both children and adults. Usually, in this country at least, malnutrition is associated with the public with young people. However, it was possible to take a census of adults who are victims of this condition, the results might be surprising.
