Small Town - Big Job for U. S.

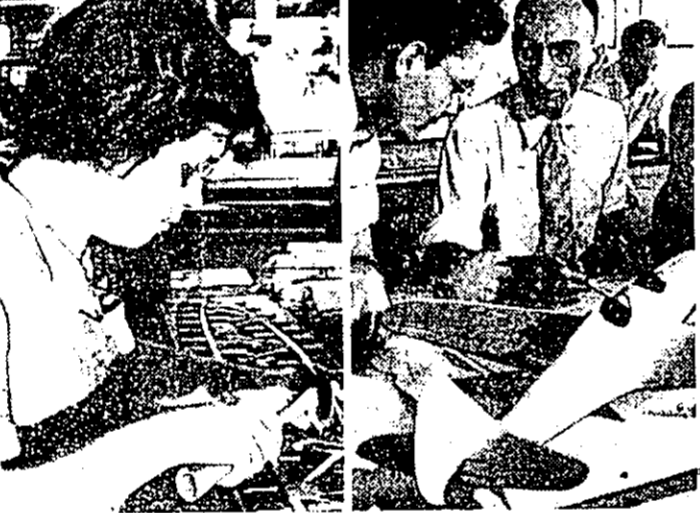

When most of us think of the great task involved in the carrying out of our gigantic defense program, we visualize belching furnaces and great shipyards where little men labor like ants to turn out big battle wagons. But we think of all these things as being in great cities like Chicago, Detroit, New York. However, vital jobs can be done outside of big industrial centers, as for example, Hagerstown, Md., one of the smallest industrial centers in the United States. Hagerstown boasts an air plane factory that is turning out three planes a day for Uncle Sam. It is the Fairchild Aircraft factory, makers of the training plane that bears the company name. This series of photos takes you through the plant.

ASSEMBLY ... In this department of the Hagerstown plant of the Fairchild company the motors are installed in plane fuselages. Then the assembled ship is towed to Hagerstown air port where test pilots take the ships into the air.

MAKING IT STICK ... Craftsman J. E. Clopper is engaged in welding the hollow piping used to shape the framework of an air plane. The piping is of aluminum alloy and each piece must be welded to its mate with the greatest care to withstand flight strain.

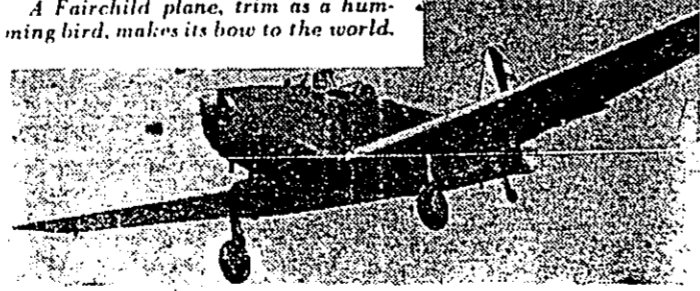

A BORN RIBBER ... Ribbing is the assembling of the framework of the wings which is being done here. Then the wings of the plane are covered with plywood.

BRAIN DEPT. ... Before you can start to build an airplane there are scores of things you must know about aero dynamics. Here are two project engineers dapping out stress, weights, etc.

DEBUT ... The men who take all army planes made in Hagerstown for their first trip are shown here in a brand-new ship. In the cockpit is Capt. C. W. O'Connor, U. S. A., army test pilot; chatting with him is Dick Henson, Fairchild's own test pilot. Henson has already flown the ship and passes it on to Capt. O'Connor.

A Fairchild plane, trim as a hummingbird, makes its bow to the world.

POOR UNDERTAKER
The following from The Bond may excite your sympathy: "Pity the poor undertaker! Others may publish happy advertisements of waives and give testimonials of satisfaction with the advertised product, but did you ever read a testimonial stating that the embalming process was thoroughly done, or that the robe was a perfect fit, or that the casket was comfortable, or one that thanked the maker of the hearse because of its smooth-riding qualities? Or one that reads: 'I was let down into my permanent resting place by the use of your splendid lowering device. I reached bed rock without a jolt.'"

APPRECIATION

It is difficult to express our appreciation and the comfort derived from the kindness and love shown us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. He loved flowers, and the floral offering was beautiful and the love offering means much to us.

Mrs. Frankie Rhodes, Allen, Arnold and Gene.

HIGHWAYS OF DEATH

The highways are strewn with remains of rabbits, squirrels and our feathered friends, all killed by automobiles. With no inconvenience, this destruction of wildlife can be avoided. Hook your horn and drive slowly. The killing of wildlife has reached alarming proportions.

YOU CAN'T TELL 'EM LIKE THIS 'N USE A WANT AD

YOUR TELEPHONE STILL PIONEERS

THE PAST 20 YEARS in telephone history are marked by constant progress. Workers in the Bell System... 300,000 strong... still are pioneering.

TELEPHONES AND CALLS DOUBLED

Today, America has more than twice as many Bell telephones as 20 years ago. More than twice as many calls flash through the lines each day.

FASTER, MORE DEPENDABLE SERVICE

Your service now is faster... clearer... more dependable. In the territory this company serves, for example, your local calls go through in only three-fourths the time it took just two decades ago... long distance calls in one-seventh the time. Coast-to-coast calls often are connected in one-twentieth the time and cost one-fifth as much.

BETTER ARMED TO MEET DISASTER

Today, America's telephone system is better armed to meet the fury of disasters. Storms that once silenced hundreds of telephones now disrupt service only slightly... and often not at all. Damage from major catastrophes is repaired in hours and days... instead of weeks and months.

Such a large part of the proceeds in previous years have gone for expenses that it is thought other entertainment might mean more for the cause, for which it is being given.
