No. 1, Continued from Page 1

The people themselves are fully capable of judging his inconsistency. "Governors do not pass laws. Legislatures do that, and sometimes the legislatures do not pass the laws governors want."

"Governors have been known to urge transaction and sales tax laws only to have legislatures pass omnibus tax bills. And even those same governors have been known to come right along and claim the omnibus tax bills as theirs when in reality for three years they have fought the legislature's passing such a law."

Advocate raising to $40 a month the basic pay of privates in the army and of seamen in the navy. I recommend that the government continue to pay the monthly wage now paid to each private and seaman as he serves in the army and navy and let the government lay aside in a government savings account, the total of these savings to be paid to each man as he is discharged from the service.

Many scored high tariffs, brain-drain of the Republican party, which have led the American market today on a high protected market and sell on a low, unprotected market. He condemned discriminatory freight rates.

Advocate general conservation, the Attorney General said: "The federal government has undertaken great programs on behalf of the rivers in Texas. The Rio Grande, Colorado and the Red River are the streams so favored. There is every likelihood that other federal projects on the other principal rivers in Texas as follows: ..."

Lyndon Johnson's campaign for the United States senate was sweeping throughout Southeast Texas like the proverbial forest fire during the past week. From every section of the 27-county district reports that Johnson, only candidate in the race endorsed by President Roosevelt, is meeting with the most enthusiastic support ever given a Texas candidate.

On Friday night the senior class held its commencement exercises, and the affair was a conspicuous success. Hon. R. A. Shivers put over the class night address.
