Was it a Kansas of Texas editor, who, upon waxing eloquent in the writup of a bachelor's obituary added: "So that's the end of Sally Jones. God rest her weary bones. But death for her had no terrors. She was born a maid—she died a maid. No runs, no hits, no errors."

Notice of Importance To New Flying Cadets

Rep. Ottis Lock Tells of Aid to Dependent Youth

To The Booster:—I am giving this information for those that are interested in the "aid to dependent children" program. Under the authority granted by a constitutional amendment adopted by the legislature in 1937 the present Legislature appropriated $1,500,000 a year.

The maximum monthly payment is $16.00 for one child and $24 for the children in any one family. To be eligible, the child must be under 18 years of age and be deprived of parental support by death, separation, continued absence from home, physical or mental incapacity. As with all other types of aid, the Federal Government requires that each case be investigated and the applicant's income be taken into consideration in arriving at the approved grants.

This month there are 683 children in 281 families on the State rolls receiving an average of $20.50 per family. Parents or guardians that would like to apply for their children should see the Field Worker of the Department of Public Welfare.

A PROFITABLE CROP

Many crop failures have been reported to me this year, but the 4 acres of alfalfa seeded by Henry L. Flowers of Colmesneil has been a very profitable crop even though he has lost nearly the parts of the third cutting, and the insects ate most of the leaves off of the fifth cutting, but Mr. Flowers saved for home use and sold eight tons from the crop this year.

Figuring the value of this crop at $20 per ton the gross income from the four acres is $160 and the cost of seed and labor $40 would leave a net profit of $120 or $30 per acre.

Woodville Hi School Band To Go To Houston

Woodville high school's snappy colorful band got a "be with us again" invitation this week to take part in activities of the Houston Fat Stock and Live Stock Exposition which will be held in the Houston Coliseum February 6-15 and which gets bigger and better each and every year.

The band attended the 1941 show last spring and had quite a time. The show gave the band $35 toward its expenses, and in addition the members in uniform get in free to both show and rodeo, and play a concert.

They must have made a hit, for now they are getting asked back. This year, the band and anyone else who goes will get to see Gene Autrey, the cowboy movie actor and Radio star, in person. He has been signed to produce the rodeo, and the show ought to be a knock-out this year, with Autrey, with a bigger list of premiums for livestock exhibitors, more performances and plans in general being on a scale not attempted before.

Autrey will produce the rodeo, and the top broncho busters of the United States from the national rodeo circuit will be there to try their skill on top of the bucking horses and Brahman bulls and steers. The invitation came to the high school superintendent in a letter from W. O. Cox of Houston, show secretary-manager.

We enjoyed entertaining your band last year and are privileged to extend an invitation for it participation for it in the 1942 activities said Mr. Cox who continued, the 1942 program has been planned on an extended scope and the band members enjoyed and profited by the show last year they will certainly be pleased in 1942. A contract has been signed with Gene Autrey, and in addition to the splendid entertainment program, all educational features have been improved. The nation's finest livestock will be on exhibit and other attractions will make the day worthwhile.

WHY AID RUSSIA?

The other day the Secretary of State of the United States was asked by a Senator to justify our giving aid to Russia. His reply was: "The answer to that depends on how anxious a person is to stop Hitler in his conquest of the world. If we were not just enough to defeat Hitler, we would not worry about who was to help defeat him."—Roosevelt Navy Day Speech.

HOW TO PREPARE A DUCK

The duck and goose season is on and that's swell for the sportsman, but what of the barred housewife who's expected to pick the ducks and roast them in a manner pleasing to the Master of the hunt? The Game Department will try to be of assistance. First, this matter of picking ducks. Do not try to pick all those dry feathers off. Pluck the larger, coarser ones, and pour melted paraffin over the entire bird, and let it solid. Water. All you have to do then is pick off the paraffin, feathers and down in big chunks, and the job's over. When the feathers are off, dry the barred housewife, and it's ready for roasting.

SOMEbody STOPPED and showed a in wallop at its editor, saying "I thought you were anxious to get better mail service for Woodville, and now you are trying to keep what little service we have." Well, in spite of the service which is rendered on certain days it takes three days to get a letter delivered in a Beaumont residential district we prefer to continue as such, in preference to having express and passenger service, also, as is. But if the towns along this Gulf Coast branch do not get busy, p. d. q. we'll be finding ourselves a lone wolf among the pack. Citizens know means singularity and luck.

WHAT IS being done about it? About what did you say? Well, get this. Application has been already filed by the Railroad officials of the Dallas, Beaumont, Railroad Branch to discontinue mail, express and passenger service. This application was filed the 12th day of this month. If nothing but freight will be handled on this line, leaving no arrangements for mail or for passenger express. Reports reaching the booster state nothing is being done by Woodville and several other community headquarters. It seems as though we hadn't better keep still, sitting around and waiting for a change of heart, not even thinking while dying of anxious desuetude.

WHAT A mess football finds itself in district 26-A. Four teams have withdrawn. Kirbyville has found itself discarded, and a new district must be organized as only Jasper, Kirbyville and Woodville remain of district 26-A. We never did like football very much. There are a few musts that must be adhered to—no matter what happens. Unlike baseball when untoward weather prevents, football must go on—rain, snow, ankle-deep mud and all other imaginable conditions the game must be played or forfeited. It makes no difference if, as an aftermath, the entire team finds itself possessed of the pneumonia, chills and fever, and a complete breakdown from physical standpoint, the result of rolling in the mud and water and snow, sometimes becoming other times fanned by a brisk northern breeze, the game must go on merely for the sake of its Alma Mater. And as the years roll around these athletes—all together too many of them, look back and remember the glory (?) that was theirs as they saved the game and accumulated physical disabilities that will outlast all the honor and glory won on the "battle field", and, incidentally, battle is right. It is a fact, football can scarcely be called a game—it's all business. Jealousy, hatred and resentment have become lasting. Football in schools not large enough to accumulate a winning team, in a district with a bang-up team (for instance, Jasper vs. Chester) must, nevertheless, play on though hopelessly outclassed in weight and in numbers of players until the season's end. In fact football is no longer a game when it breeds illwill, hatred and fight. B. W. Martin, Kirbyville's superintendent, announced: "We have always felt that football was a game, and that it should be played such, and that sportsmanship should be one of its main purposes." I shall recommend very strongly that Kirbyville withdraw from district 26-A.

WHAT'S WRONG with the law? Why the question this? In Lufkin Roy's wife was attacked and murdered. This took place in August, this year. Nov. 25, the case was brought to trial. A bill of indictment was returned against Roy.

lawyer's attempt to clear up the case. The jury reached Moorehouse drew a pocket knife across the killer's throat and the trial came to a hurried close. That a mispelled word could be any flight of imagination be cause for a continuance is beyond the ken of the average man. And, too, despite the average man's ignorance of Blackstonean theories, there is a right and wrong in this connection it will be remembered that over in Polk County there was a case. Of course, the affair never should have been brought into court, but it was—not once but three times. When two juries of 24 adults cannot convict any man of such an attack, there's something rotten in American law. The Polk county case came up for hearing a third time, in Cleveland. The outraged husband killed his wife's attacker in the court. There was an immediate trial of the wronged wife's husband, and a verdict of not guilty was returned. Perhaps Moorehouse glimpsed a long-drawn-out trial, and he may have felt unequal to the part he would keep as clear as it was possible.

Washington, a four-point program for government economy was outlined Friday by Sec. of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, but that even drastic cuts in non-defense expenditures would not obviate the need for stiffer taxes.

Morgenthau gave his idea about how to curtail nonessential spending in a statement read to the newly created committee on reduction of nondefense expenditures. The group is composed of Morgenthau, Budget Director Harold Smith and a dozen members of the Senate and House appropriations and taxing committees.

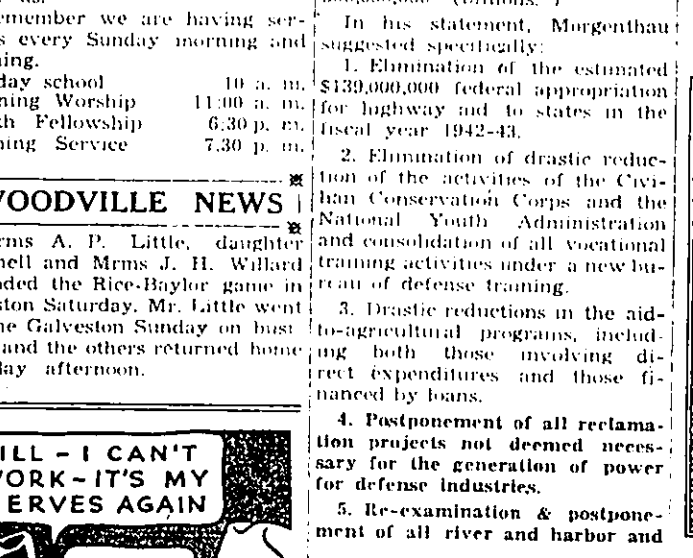

The Treasury head said he believed it possible to knock off one billion dollars out of the non-defense budget annually. Senator Harry Flood Byrd (Dem.) of Virginia, chairman of the investigating committee, declared, "We can make a reduction of at least $1,500,000,000 (billions)."

In his statement, Morgenthau suggested specifically:

1. Elimination of the estimated $139,000,000 federal appropriation for highway and to states in the fiscal year 1942-43.
2. Elimination of drastic reduction of the activities of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the National Youth Administration and consolidation of all vocational training activities under a new bureau of defense training.
3. Basic reductions in the aid-agricultural programs, including both those involving direct expenditures and those financed by loans.
4. Postponement of all reclamation projects not deemed necessary for the generation of power for defense industries.
5. Re-examination and postponement of all river and harbor and

FULFILLING A PREDICTION

The state board of health, not long ago, made a prediction that an epidemic of influenza in Texas is represented by the 1932 reported cases for the week ending November 15. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in commenting, said this total is six times larger than that shown for the same week, in the preceding seven years.

Neglecting proper treatment of influenza, or allowing the patient to be up too soon may have disastrous results, the doctor said, since persons suffering from influenza are particularly susceptible to other infections.

Dr. Cox emphasized the importance of guarding against flu, drinking plenty of water, eating simple, nourishing foods, outdoor exercise, plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room, and sensible dress according to the weather as stressed as best precautions.

Pneumonia, frequently resulting from influenza, is a very dangerous complication, the doctor added, and advised that a patient go to bed immediately upon the first appearance of a cold and place himself under competent medical care.

WOODVILLE NEWS

A SOUTH TEXAS customer rite in an asks me what was the greatest example of sportsmanship I ever seen? Well, I can't say. That's a kinda big order for me. I thought at first, but as I reflected back over 30 years o' seeing sports events, I can't say there was several examples o' real sportsmanship.

Course sum folks have different ideas what sportsmanship means. T' my way o' thinkin' it's a spirit what'll sacrifice glory in a victory for what is right. Sportsmanship kin be found in all walks o' life—sports, biznis, religion, school an' even in th' home.

T' my feeble way o' thinkin' sportsmanship is th' greatest asset a man kin have in his character. T' a true sportsman is th' quickest route t' real happiness. T' know ya didn't talk unfair advantage o' a fellow man an' know ya fought th' fight clean an' honest, just makes a human being happy.

Ya often hear 'bout sum fellas 'gittin' th' breaks.' I know many what got th' breaks but when ya look on back down th' line you'll find a true sportsman is th' quickest route t' real happiness. T' know ya didn't talk unfair advantage o' a fellow man an' know ya fought th' fight clean an' honest, just makes a human being happy.

But, back t' th' greatest example o' good sportsmanship. It happened when Pittsburgh played Stanford in th' Rose Bowl in 1928.

With th' score 0-0 in favor o' Pitt an' but two minutes t' play Stanford worked th' ball down t' Pitt's seven-yard line an' with th' Panthers t'rin' badly with no more subitoots left an' all o' Pitt's time out's used up it was really a tuff spot for th' Pitt quarterback. His team needed a breathin' spell if they was inny hope o' them holdin' back th' Stanford charges but a time out meant five yards. An' from th' two-yard line it looked like a cinch Stanford would score. Don't forget Pitt was leadin' 6-0.

Not only that but, after the four Aggie who over an hand, he'd p' d' it.

Just think o' the chance Hoffman took. Th' glory o' winnin' a Rose Bowl gain at stake. Th' big difference in makin' a touchdown from th' seven-yard line. Hoffman's route t' real happiness. FARMING IT... BY WILLARD BOLTE

Ever notice that roosters won't fight on the roost? Nine-tenths of the fighting between valuable males can be done away with by providing range roosts like the one pictured at the top.

The laying house shown at the left was specially designed by Michigan Experiment Station to avoid dampness and cold in winter. Complete plans and specifications may be obtained from Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.

Cut the bottom out of an old bucket—hang the grain sack on the bucket with a couple of wire hooks—hang the bucket on a nail—and one man can fill her.

Sketch at lower right shows how to make an apple picker that will get the ripe ones at the top of the tree, without knocking down half of the crop. It can be made easily in your workshop.

SOME BIG TREES WE DO NOT HAVE

Among the hundreds of biggest tree measurements of all species collected by the American Forestry Association at Washington, none originated in "So Big" Texas.

"But," says C. W. Simmons, farmer forester of the A&M College Extension service, "A Texan might Tom Thump his way for a Paul Bunyan hall of fame with the clean claims that Texas has the biggest area of farm woods in America."

We have big hat trees, the most saddle trees and a whole passel of small lumber log trees of all kinds on farms for small sawmills and small industries, Simmons comments. In west Texas hogs eat acorns off the trees and in other parts of the state there is an abundance of nuisance trees a little too tall for an upright goat to eat.

The American Forestry Association's listing awards the biggest ash tree to New Jersey, the basswood (to) to Delaware and a catalpa to Ohio. New Jersey has the kind of red cedar Texas has; Maryland our black cherry; Wyoming a cottonwood; Florida the cypress; Connecticut, Iowa and Alabama three kinds of our elms; Maryland the black and red (Sweet) gums and hackberry; hickories in Ohio and Wisconsin; holly in Virginia; honey locust in Delaware; Magnolias in Florida and North Carolina and Texas; maples in Washington; Connecticut, New York, Ohio and West Virginia; and 20 species of oak mostly in eastern states.

The largest oak species listed is the Canyon liveoak in California; bois d'arc (Osage Orange) in Maryland; pecan in Louisiana; and the persimmon in Maryland. The largest of nine kinds of pines is the sugar pine in California; redwood and sequoia in California; sassafras in Virginia; sycamore in Ohio; black walnut in Pennsylvania; willow in New Jersey.

The tree with the largest circumference is the sequoia, 101 feet, 9 inches, in California, and the tree given the widest spread (188 feet) is a liveoak in Hahnville, Louisiana. The wide-spreading liveoak on the Liendo Plantation in Waller County seems to be unrecorded on the banks of the Potomac. A California redwood with an altitude of 364 feet is given the palm for greatest height. The world's record for girth is given to a cypress in Mexico.

Probably the largest, oldest, slowest and fastest growing trees we have had, or probably now have in Texas, is the cypress. Its wood also has had more home and industrial use than any other kind of tree in America.

Thirty days hath September. April, June and November. All the rest have thirty-one, Except February alone, Which hath twenty-eight in fine Till Leap Year gives it twenty-nine.

After the above date, provided the sponsors of the 1946 Calendar Reform can persuade all the nations of the world to okay their plan, every month will have thirty days; each quarter of the year will be the same length; the days of the week will fall on the same calendar days each year, (Christmas, Fourth of July, Easter, Abraham Lincoln's and George Washington's Birthdays, San Jacinto Day, Thanksgiving, etc., as well as our own individual birthdays, will come on the same days of the week each year); every New Year's Day will fall on Sunday and every quarter will likewise begin on that day; four Saturdays in the year will be in no month at all, being considered as extra days; and there will be an extra Saturday at the end of each regular year and an additional extra Saturday at the end of the second quarter on Leap Year.

"What a mixup!" you say. Not at all! This whole calendar business has been a mixed up proposition since man first began to try measuring time in terms of the moon's periodical journey around the earth and the earth's regular rotation about the sun. Our modern calendar makers are merely trying to undo the mixup that was started by the Chinese and Hindus in the Far East, by the Babylonians in Mesopotamia, by the Egyptians in the Nile Valley and carried by the Greeks and Romans into confusion. Julius Caesar in 46 B. C. with his Julian Calendar helped to bring things back into some semblance of orderliness; the Emperor Augustus undid some of it. Pope Gregory XIII in 1582 tried to help matters, but even his best was too little for the job at hand.

NO SILK WORMS IN THE UNITED STATES

The current shortage of silk brings to mind the fact that Cortez imported silkworms and mulberry seed into Mexico back in 1522. Nothing much came of that. Attempts have been made to start a silk industry in the United States since the days of the first settlers. The U.S. Department of Agriculture carried on experiment in silk production for some years but discontinued them in 1908 when the venture failed to show promise.

Brazil has had some success in producing silk but even there the production is far below domestic needs.

The main barriers to silk production in the United States are the large amount of hand labor required in caring for silkworms and the expense of the reeling process by which the cocoons are unwound and the strands blended to form threads.

Increased use of cotton and of the silk substitutes, such as rayon and nylon, are expected to take the place of silk in the domestic field. So far no substitute has been satisfactory for parachutes and powder bags for large calibre guns.

KEEP THE GOOD GAS MILEAGE

EVERY FORD is built to give

Have your Ford serviced by men who know Ford cars best!

Your car's fuel efficiency can be greatly lessened by inferior parts and service. That's why it pays NOW to take your Ford to your Ford Dealer. Expert Ford mechanics... genuine Ford parts... Factory approved tools and equipment. For best service at low cost—take your Ford "back home."

GET RID OF RATTLES—Bring your car in for a complete tightening job by our trained Ford mechanics. You'll prevent unnecessary wear, and get rid of annoying squeaks and rattles.

QUICK STARTING SPECIAL—Now's the time to get your car in shape for the colder, drier weather ahead. Quick Starting Special—a ten-point tune-up including check-up on the adjustment of parts important to easy starting, such as cold weather battery and top gasolene. Ask for our special tune-up price on this ten-point check.

WHEEL ALIGNMENT is important if you want top tire mileage. If a wheel is not in alignment, the tire is "dragged" sideways, scraping off rubber with every turn. Have your wheels checked every six months for longer tire mileage.

Our FORD PARTS EXCHANGE PLAN saves money for you. When your distributor, carburetor, or other assemblies become worn from long service, you'll often pay less for a Ford Exchange Assembly than you'd pay for a complete overhaul of the part.
