THINK 'MOBBIES'

If we had something we "sure nuff" wanted to get rid of we'd plead with Uncle Sam to suggest rationing it.

And what has become of "Wrong Way" Corrigan? Mr. Arthur could not be over there in the Far East. Anybody General McArthur seems to have a bunch of wired-together planes that he is performing stunts with.

Get the old man all in working order to extend the hand of welcome to veterans of World War No. 1 when they come here Sunday, the 29th.

It's sort of a shame the idea of telling one farmer who is ambitious to raise corn and wheat a neighbor who is down for a load of "empty" corn and wheat at relief headquarters.

And how do you intend to raise more food for the senseless part in the present set up would be to ration food that "relief" has been on the front

How do you intend to raise more food for the senseless part in the present set up would be to ration food that "relief" has been on the front

Many a man will get in the form of a box that is not a box of food but a box of "relief" that is not a box of food but a box of "relief"

J. C. CLARK ATTENDS STATE FFA MEETING

J. C. Clark, state parliamentarian in the Future Farmers of America organization, left Wednesday night for Fort Worth to attend a state executive meeting and help approve the American Farmer degree application. He will attend the FFA show before coming back.

J. C. has a Lone Star Farmer degree, the highest degree awarded by the state association, and has made an application for an American Farmer degree. They can be approved to get the American Farmer degree. They can only approve one boy out of a thousand or more fraction there of from each state to get the highest degree in the national organization. J. C. hopes to be one of the 28.

Carl Cruse, son of Judge Lou Cruse, is the only Woodville boy who has taken an American Farmer. He is taking agriculture at Sam Houston State Teachers College now.

Circus Coming to Woodville Soon

Circus Day is coming soon to Woodville. The date will be Friday, March 20. Dudley Bros. Three Ring Circus is the title of the attraction and the Eastern Star of Woodville are featuring the event.

Since this show was here a few years ago the advance man said it has grown into a big enterprise. It is a program of two hours presented in three rings and on the hippodrome track. Dudley Bros. circus is modest as to its place in Woodville but it is complete in its program. Its performance is unexcelled and superior to most shows, the advance man said.

Due to the war, most of the acts and circus celebrities of war ridden countries have fled to America for work and many of these are now with Dudley Bros. circus, the advance man said.

The advance man also said that one of the pleasant features of the circus is the presence of large groups of beautiful young females. J. R. MC COMBS ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY TREASURER

TO THE VOTERS OF TYLER COUNTY

I take the pleasure of announcing my candidacy for the office of Tyler County Treasurer. I am a native born citizen of this county and have lived here for many years. I am a member of the Tyler County Voters of the July primary.

As to qualifications for the office, I desire to say that I have had more than 10 years of experience in railroad work which included telegraphing, bookkeeping and various types of station and supervisory work that required long and hard hours and close attention to duty.

I am well known in Tyler county, having resided in Woodville during which time I made many friends and acquaintances in the county.

I was reared on a farm near Commerce, Texas, where my education from John Tarleton College, and also took telegraphology and accounting in Hills Business College in Waco. Here I met a family in Woodville and made their home. I have never offered for public office before, and if elected, will endeavor to serve each and every citizen in a courteous and impartial manner.

Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
J. R. MC COMBS

NATHAN DICKERSON ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSAR

Rockland, Texas, March 6th, 1942

To the Voters of Precinct No. 3, Tyler County, Texas:

I desire to take this manner of announcing my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner in and for Precinct No. 3, Tyler county, for the July primary.

I desire to say further that I reside in Tyler county, Texas, at Rockland, where I was born and raised. I have lived in this county all of my life and have never asked for a public office before. I am married and have two children. Now, I expect to see all of the voters in this precinct between now and the primary in July.

I believe that I am well qualified to fill this office. I trust that you will give me a fair consideration and should you see fit to elect me your commissioner I will do all in my power to make you a good County Commissioner.

Trusting that you will give me your influence, support and votes in the primary, I remain,
Yours very truly,
NATHAN DICKERSON.

Sugar Rationing Cards Arrive Here This Week

Although definite dates for the passing out of sugar rationing cards had not been received the county clerk received 14,000 for use in this county.

On the front page of the little folders is a certificate of the holder of the book to be filled in at the time the book is passed out. Below this is a warning with five different instructions. Most important of these is the notation that the holder is liable to 10 years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine, or both, for violation.

The cards are not transferable. They have 28 stamps in all attached. These stamps are perforated to be torn out at the time of purchase of sugar. The entire card is printed in black and has, so many warnings, etc., printed thereon that it looks more like a stock certificate than anything else.

Those in possession of more sugar than can be allowed under the rules, which is two pounds to the person, are urged to return the sugar to the stores where they purchased it prior to registration time. This cannot be over emphasized because the rationing booklets are being distributed to

War Veterans To Hold District Meeting In Woodville March 29

Woodville will be the scene of one of the largest conventions to be held in Southeast Texas this spring when the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion members of all of this congressional district hold their spring meeting here March 29.

Usually, it is pointed out, the two ex-service men's groups meet in separate conventions because of the war will meet here in a joint session.

Woodville was selected as the meeting place only after untiring effort by J. U. Henson, commander of the American Legion and E. M. Pitts, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The two local commanders of the veterans' groups are now perfecting plans for entertainment of the veterans.

The program will get under way at 9:00 o'clock in the district court room with registration of the visitors to be followed by calling to order at 10:00 o'clock.

Invocation will be by Rev. J. C. Boyd.

Advance of colors by the Port Arthur color guards V. F. W. and Am. L.

Address of welcome by Major Weston Glechrist, 44th Battalion, Texas Defense Guards.

Response by Hon. N. O. Burnham.

Production of visiting officers.

Address by Judge J. M. Combs. Dismissal.

Lunch at 12:30 served by the Woodville P. T. A.

The group will re-convene at 1:45 p. m. for a business session. Special guest badges and programs have been arranged for. It is thought that upwards from 500 veterans will attend.

Business people of Woodville are preparing for the event, it is said, and will have windows extending a welcome. Other entertainment is also planned, especially for the auxiliaries of the two groups but program of these had not been announced as we go to press this Thursday.

Since these groups represent the service men who took part in the last World War and this is the first district meeting since the clarification of the present world conflict, it is said the meeting will have double significance and the main part of the program will be devoted to devising ways of assisting the United States and its fighters in this war.

The two local commanders hope that residents will co-operate when called upon to make the Woodville meeting a huge success.

FUN FOR A DAY during these times of gloomy reports distant war fronts is a pleasing prospect and that being considered with the circus that will show here next week of course we have all seen big circuses and the one to show in Woodville will not be a momentary thing but just the same a circus is a circus.
 Our president wants that we must not look too long on the grim side of war but must cut loose and have fun. He wants to keep realizing that every cloud has a sunny side some day. So let's all buy a bag of peanuts to feed ourselves and the other monkeys and let us try to get through every performance whether it be funny or not.

WOODVILLE ALONG with other towns for a distance 300 miles from the Gulf of Mexico are placed in the "danger zone" by Uncle Sam. This placement was not something arrived at by jump conclusions. It is the result of a long and careful study of the actual and existing conditions in these countries. We do not believe in hollowing and we do not feel there is just good sound logic in the people here taking very seriously the matter of these defense efforts. Red Cross first and state guard, then the warning training, blackout training, emergency airport, evacuation center and the several other things that call for organized groups in this country. We say to the fellow who is a state guardsman, a Red Cross trainee, air raid warden or other, that he has a real responsibility that will rest with him when the time comes. Every citizen depends upon proper function of his department. It is far better to be prepared and never use that knowledge than it is to not be prepared and to be called upon to use knowledge you are supposed to have.

VETERANS OF the last World war will meet in joint session in Woodville the 29th of this month. Woodville should give them a very warm welcome for they represent our present fighters 20 years hence. They shipped Germany and others once but the peace to follow was not lasting.
 They fought their fight and did a fine job of it but were not given any in the terms of peace. They are willing and ready to give all they have in the second conflict and, for that reason if no other, should be given the glad hand of the community. That is the way to do your part in making this convention one to be remembered.
 Volunteer your services to the Commanders, Pitts and Hopson.

IT DOESN'T make sense
 The daily press continues to stress that the country is so badly in need of workers that women are being called upon to "fill in for defense jobs." We say it doesn't make sense because there are hundreds of men—the heads of families—in every community looking for and wanting work, and they do need work. Also, there are the thousands engaged in WPA, PWA, CCC, ETC. foolish not essential work for the most part. And still in another department of government congress considerers appropriations to help salesmen, etc., thrown out of work by defense conversions. Why, we can't understand, doesn't the government use these heads of fam-lies first and then, if there truly ever is a shortage of men, call up on the women?

SHE LOVED A SPY

by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland, secretary to Arthur Mulford, San Francisco importer, is amazed and angry when she discharges her without notice of explanation. Her sister Sybil, with whom she shares an apartment, loses her position also and Joan accepts a secretarial position with handsome Karl Miller, night club proprietor. He pays her well because of the unusual hours. She is fascinated and accepts his love-making. Later she meets his manager, Paul Sherman, and his partner, Eric Strom, who both express admiration for her. She unexpectedly, Joan overhears Karl and Eric in a mysterious conversation. Paul drives her home and they quarrel over Joan working for Karl. Later Karl in- sults her in a restaurant. Karl's captain, Sybil, warns her against Karl. Paul's friend following her. Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER VI
 Sybil shrugged. "There are a lot of people I don't trust. For instance, why is Paul Sherman following you?"

"I intend to find out tonight. He has an appointment at the club at ten thirty. I'll try to see him alone for a few minutes. I'm going to ask him to explain."

"Karl probably knows about it already. It may be his orders."

"That's ridiculous!" Joan flared. "How can you dislike Karl so much? After he got you your job and has been so kind to you?"

"You're just tired, honey!" Sybil said as she put comforting arms about Joan. "You don't get enough sleep. You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that shut-in office with no outside windows is enough to make anyone ill."

"Let me alone!" her sister went. "You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

But before Joan left for the office she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I am tired. One of the things that's making me nervous is having Paul follow me all the time. I can't stand it any longer, and I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley line through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

"The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought, and she patted the girls who were packed by her great emotion.

At the Club Joan paused to look at the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. It was a pleasant intimate room. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in front of the band which, according to Karl, was "going over big." The Club girls were definitely a success.

The bar at one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. She glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she was due in Karl's office. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "Is it possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky hat," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two other people. Want a drink?"

"No, thank you," Joan exploded. "There's no use trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

"His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No, I didn't."

"Why not?"

"I didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't be sure that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well, aren't you going to explain?" Joan asked. "I'm going to tell him."

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan."

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl told me once," Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered, he drew her into his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his. It was impossible to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened in the rest of the world when she was in his arms.

"I'll be out of the office until ten," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"Paul wants to see you at ten-thirty," she reminded him.

"I'll be back. Good night, liechen!"

Another kiss and he was gone. Joan turned back to her typewriter wondering how she could keep her mind off Karl Miller and type these letters. Karl was such a man! He had kissed her. He was not an inexpressible boy in his twenties. Paul must be twenty-seven or thereabouts, but he seemed a very experienced man. Karl, who was so young, seemed to know more about women than Paul.

One rainy night Joan said to Sybil, "I've never been so happy in my life."

"It's too good to be true," Sybil whispered gloomily. "I still don't understand. Why are you so happy? You're just a secretary. I don't see what's so wonderful about it."

"I don't know," Joan said. "I just feel that way."

"You're just a secretary. I don't see what's so wonderful about it."

Peanuts In Tyler County Will Help Government Win the War

Now, in 1943, with many of our sources of vegetable oil exports cut off by the war, the U.S. War Board is calling on Tyler county farmers to plant peanuts in a state-wide program calling for 1,056,000 acres, says F. C. Hill, Tyler county A.C.A. secretary.

During the ten-year period, 1930-39, Texas planted an average of 1,000,000 acres to peanuts with a total production of more than 84,000,000 pounds of shelled and threshed nuts.

In 1941, the acreage was increased to 343,000 acres, with a production of 171 and one-half million pounds. This would yield more than 50 million pounds of shelled nuts.

A bottom price of $82.00 per ton or $1.23 per bushel of 30 pounds for number one White Spanish type peanuts, delivered county farmers to plant peanuts in a state-wide program calling for 1,056,000 acres, says F. C. Hill, Tyler county A.C.A. secretary.

Here are some peanut production hints on how to get the job done.

Plant only the Spanish type peanut, since it is the best suited to Texas, is richest in oil content, and highest in shelling percentage. County agricultural agents and county A.A.A. officers have full information with reference to obtain seed on a loan basis.

UNCLE JAKE SEZ

Copyright 1937 by Olin K. King

From the books I have seen they must be a lot of gals named "Pullman" 'cause they married.

A feller in a asylum sells a radio play, I thought that was where they had bin comin' from all the time.

BEN WHITTAKER an' his Missus returned to Texas this week after a year in Florida. The greatest sports thrill a human being kin ever experience, their thrill cum last Saturday when their horse, Requested, won the $25,500 Florida race in Florida before 30,000 people.

They just ain't my greater thrill in sports then seein' a horse ya has trained up from a young colt display th' greatness of a real thoroughbred an' defeat th' cream o' th' crop of three-year-olds from all sections of th' U. S. It was Texas' greatest turf feat since th' days of Panzeretta, th' wonder mare from Sweetwater, Texas.

Mr. an' Missus Whittaker's thrill was greater 'cause Requested was last 't' get away from th' post an' had 't' win th' hard way. All other fourteen horses got away ahead o' him an' it looked like he didn't have a ghost o' a chance. An' then, like th' champion he was, he started movin' up an' passin' horse after horse, bringin' th' Texas colors further an' further 't' th' front o' th' pack. In th' stretch he took th' measure o' all o' em an' won, drive in away.

Whittaker, Dallas hotel man what has turned int' a Hereford cattle breeder an' a ranch near Dallas, picked Requested himself at 't' Saratoga sales for $1,200. As a two-year-old last year Requested won right at $90,000 for his owner. Ben sez he liked th' colt when he first laid eyes on him an' has always felt he had a Kentucky Derby winner.

An', that's what Whittaker is shootin' at—in th' Kentucky Derby in May. He wants 't' win. All other turf classic with a Texas-owned horse, somethin' what ain't ever bin done. Right now Requested is th' favorite 't' win this event at Churchill Downs.

'T' win th' derby with his horse wud give Mr. an' Missus Whittaker a bigger thrill then they had last Saturday. It wud do more then that. It wud give every horse lover in Texas a thrill they wud long remember. Whittaker is goin' 't' sacrifice probable a lot o' money in a effort 't' win th' derby fer Texas. He'll pass up a lot o' races 't' keep Requested fit fer th' classic an' wud probable run him in only one more race 'ore th' big day at Louisville.

MUST FILE INCOME TAX REPORT BY MONDAY
Collector of Internal Revenue Frank Scofield has issued the statement that approximately 100,000 more people in South Texas will be liable for filing of an income tax return this year than were liable last year. This is due to the fact that the revenue laws passed by the congress changed the basis on which income tax is paid, and also lowered the exemptions allowed.

The report must be made, whether a tax is due or not for income over $750 for a single person and $1500 for married couples.

STRIKE WITH MIGHT
War has been forced on America by an insane clique of Japanese militarists. All that matters today is that we are in the war and the nation must face that simple fact. All of us, from this time forth, have but one task. That is to strike with all our might to protect and preserve the American freedom that we all hold dear.—Chicago Tribune (Rep.)

LAWERY-WINGATE
Of interest to friends here is the marriage of Miss Don Wingate, daughter of Mrs. R. E. Wingate to Mr. B. E. Lowery, Jr., of Acadia, La.

The wedding took place at 8:00 o'clock Saturday evening, March 7, in the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of the family and a few close friends.

Rev. Ira Fulgham, pastor of the Baptist church of Warren, performed the double ring ceremony under the light of the archway in the living and dining rooms. The bride wore a pink and white gown, and the groom wore a blue suit and tie.

At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with white wedding cake, ferns and gladioli flanked by white candles in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. Lowery was a graduate of Newton high school. She received her degree from Sam Houston in 1941 and is a present teacher in the Junior high school in Orange.

Mr. Lowery attended Louisiana Tech. They will make their home in Orange where Mr. Lowery is employed in the ship yards.

MISS BOYD COMMENDED FOR FINE SCHOOL GRADES
In a letter from E. V. White, dean of Texas State College for Women at Denton, Miss Annie Lois Boyd was very highly praised for her school work when the dean said: "The records of the registrar show that you made at least 2.3 times as many grade points as hours of credit during the first semester of the present year; that you completed at least nine hours of credit, and that you made no failing grades. Your name is therefore placed upon the special honor roll for the semester and you are invited to participate in the Honor Day program to be given at 11:30 a. m., Tuesday, March 17, I congratulate you upon this attainment of excellent scholarship."

MISS BOYD RECEIVES HONORARY CITATION
Miss Frances Inez Rock, Woodville, was one of the group of 59 University of Texas students this week to receive official commendation. Her name was on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences.

On the honor roll, commending about one-tenth of the registration in arts and sciences. Miss Boyd's name was on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences.

P. T. A. HOLDS INTERESTING PROGRAM
The regular March meeting of the Parent-Teachers association was held last night at the grammar school auditorium with a good attendance. This was the time set aside as "Dad's night" and they were the honored guests.

The meeting was opened with the president, Mrs. Watt Barclay presiding. Miss singing was led by Norman Paschall. A "Peanut Boy" written by Mrs. Treva Evans, was given by Miss Julia Belle Cause for the invocation.

A short business session was held during which it was decided that the association serve the V. F. W. convention luncheon on the 15th Sunday in this month. It was decided to add $10 to the fund set aside for the use of the campus beautification committee for their use in the beautification program.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. Carlton Young, and J. H. Kennesson Jr., leaders of the Girl and Boy Scouts respectively. Mrs. Carlton Young introduced her girls and her aims for them in an original poem that was enjoyed by the audience.

The girls gave the motto, slogan and laws. The ten fields of work were discussed by as many girls and they closed their part of their program by inviting the audience to sing with them their scout song.

Mr. Kennesson told of the things the Boy Scouts are doing in defense work, which was demonstrated by different scouts. Then signals by the use of a single flag were given and a number of the scouts demonstrated some of the things they had learned in their scout work.

Displays of merit were prepared for the appreciation of all present. Those having exhibits were music books, Miss Lennard, puppets, art classes of Mrs. Carey, Cruise, sewing, Miss Robbins, Girl Scouts, Mrs. Carlton Young.

The pictures purchased by the Study Club and P. T. A. during the recent art exhibit were on display.

Refreshments were served during the social hour which followed with the hospitality committee acting as hostesses. Miss Robbins and her homemaking girls prepared the food for the occasion.
