THINK 'MOBBIES

You tell me if you know what does a fellow have to have to pose a political mob?

A liberal should keep out of politics if and when he is home and expect to remain that way.

Have you ever seen a man who has been out of the country for a long time and when he comes back he is a different man?

The nation's stamp movement, the Agricultural Marketing Administration, will be continued May 30, 1942.

Somebody ought to tell Hitler he is not a god and that he is a man like any other man.

If the head of these nations and the head of these nations are to be the same, they should be the same.

U. S. O. "High Speed" Drive Starts With Pep Breakfast Here Saturday

MERCHANTS BUSY MARKING CEILING PRICES ON GOODS

In compliance with the federal government's price ceiling order, Woodville merchants, nearly 100 in all, have been busy putting on price tags and making carbon copy lists of every item, one for display in the store and one to file with the ration board, since Saturday of last week.

Hundreds of tags bearing the inscription "Our Ceiling Price" have been printed and sold by the booster.

The federal ruling states that all commodities, in certain classifications, must have a plainly printed tag bearing the highest price charged for that item during the month of May, 1942. The merchant can sell any item below this price but he can not sell it above the price.

The government says the tag will help bring down the price of one and one-half per cent and will guard against gross war profits, over-inflation and increased wages.

Because the law intends to help the United States in its war effort, Woodville merchants readily complied with its provisions not to hike in the lunch.

The U. S. O. campaign in Tyler county will get under way Saturday morning with a breakfast for the committees making the drive.

At this breakfast the workers will view a motion picture showing the purpose and use of the booster.

WHY WE'LL WIN

First donor to the fund was the senior class of Woodville who gave up the $190 saved through four years for a trip to the seaside to the U. S. O. —their luxury given so that a fighting man might have a place to rest and remind him of home.

The campaign officially began Saturday morning with a breakfast for the committees making the drive.

At this breakfast the workers will view a motion picture showing the purpose and use of the booster.

TEXAS INSURANCE FIRM BUYS $7,000,000 IN BONDS

Since Pearl Harbor, the South Western Life Insurance Company has purchased $7,000,000 in United States Government Bonds according to W. W. Cruse, local representative.

This is enough money to buy 25 bombers of the Flying Fortress type for our aviation to help blast Tokyo and Berlin from the new map of the world.

United States bonds purchased by the company in the last five months represent more than an entire year's increase in the company's assets, Mr. Cruse said.

O. A. RILEY MADE HEAD OF SCHOOL AID GROUP

O. A. Riley, Tyler county superintendent of schools, was made chairman of a group of county superintendents from the second congressional district whose efforts will be toward procuring a national program for federal aid to schools.

It was pointed out by Mr. Riley that by federal distribution of funds a more equalized school system could be maintained. He said that teacher wages and school operating expenses were much lower in the south but that most of the money was in the north and the per capita school income and earning capacity of taxpayers in the south was much lower than in the north.

STEERING WHEEL, a publication devoted to the trucking industry in Texas, and published in Austin, came out last week with a 36-page 1942 convention number. The big show is at the Rice Hotel, Houston. The number is a regular reader of trucking law and information relating thereto.

TRAINSMEN'S BROTHERHOOD has voted to hold the 1942 convention in either in a $1,000,000 United States OFFENSE bonds. This incident might be passed on to about 10 thousand judges. 15 thousand different conventions that employ hotel services, highways, railway service, and forest camps, and, instead, spend the pay money on War Stamps and Bonds.

PAR BE it from our editor's advice to the writers of the various certain questionnaires that appear from time to time in the paper. However, the most ardent reader of any of the demand made by some of the government writers, must admit some of the questions asked are absolutely foreign to the subject under consideration. Some times it is difficult to decide whether to be polite and lie or to be honest and say "This question doesn't pertain to subjects under consideration, therefore I consider it nobody's business." Furthermore, this is not non-patriotic in procedure.

CAN IT be possible the big moguls in Texas are the terror of their wives and are attempting to separate things with Uncle Sam and the public in general, by making the various business of endorsement officers with a little touch of cash? The way the matter stands now, base ball is supposed to be paid for the members, and the various officers of the county, also good for the army, why, absolutely no one knows. And so the big leagues are going to play 16 games and donate every cent of the gate take-in to the government and—too, the pay gate is to be locked. It has been estimated some $650,000 will be paid in to Uncle Sam. In the mean time, many men get $21 per. Base ball players draw down their many thousands each a month. Yep base ball is good for the morals of the entire county.

IT IS a known fact CCC camps are being dismantled, disbanded and what else is there—all over America, and yet under State of Texas, from Austin arrives stories that NEW CCC camps have been established at Camp Bowie, Brownwood and Camp Walters, Mineral Wells, Find the story elsewhere. It appears something is screwy. The word come and goes, flitting about like feathers in the wind. There are several CCC camps in many places that have been abandoned, but that could be put back into use for these new adventures, without much expense comparison with establishing new camps. Word comes that these new camps are to be for "young boys just out from school," "young men who are not fit for military service," and that they are to be taught army principles. All the several departments that may be the principal part of the new camps are to be "Don't ever raise what you have. Forget people you don't like. Keep your sense of humor. It's a good sense of proportion."

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE

"It can't happen here," think many Texans, but to be ready in case it does happen here, Gov. Coke Stevenson has received 50 Texas towns to recommend men to be sent to Texas A&M college where they will take a ten-day intensive course in civilian protection under the direction of regular army service. To date six such schools have been held at the college and the Texas delegates left the college and almost all of the eighth grade and selected but it is for future schools that the Governor is appealing for candidates. The county county judge, fire or police chief in the towns have been asked to recommend men who will be sent to the school and after completing the course will return home to teach the proper and approved War Department methods of fighting incendiaries, war gases and air raids in their home communities. Appointment to the schools is through the Regional office of the O. C. D. and no students are accepted at the college unless sent by that authority. The staff of instructors includes seven regular army officers of the Chemical Warfare Service and 25 enlisted men who do most of the demonstration work. Lt. Col. H. R. Brayton, C. W. S., former director of the Fireman's Training school, is in command of the school at the college.

All applications should be addressed direct to Gov. Coke Stevenson, Austin, and Woodville men. was one town invited to recommend...

ARE WE BORN TO WORRY?
Some things we worry about do happen, of course, and a few unpleasant ones might not have happened if we had we had given more thought to preventing them, but there's a world of difference between thought and worry. The former involves calmness and a certain amount of clear thinking. These are powerful antidotes for folks who are forever "stewing in their own juice."
Channing Pollock, a noted writer, has offered some savvy bits of advice for this type of "juice stewing" people:
"Mind your own business... and have plenty of it."
"Don't bite off more than you can chew."
"Tackle one job at a time."
"Make your decisions promptly, and don't fear the outcome."
"Learn to delegate part of your work and responsibility."
"Don't stake too much on success."
"Don't be afraid of failure."
"Don't overvalue what you have. Forget people you don't like."
"Keep your sense of humor. It's a good sense of proportion."

State FFA committee meetings will be held at New Braunfels on June 13-14-20. The meetings, being held in lieu of the regular annual convention, are to determine outstanding FFA chapters in livestock, poultry, dairy and plant improvement; to select officers for the coming year; and to make working plans to encourage increased production of food for freedom, according to the president.
High schools in Tyler county teaching vocational agriculture include Chester, Colmesneil, Spurger, Warren, Woodville.

SHE LOVED A SPY

by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland, secretary in love with a nightclub employer, Karl Miller, is horrified when he shows his business partner, Eric Strom, she is sickened when he tells her he has a wife in Germany, and is acting as a Nazi spy. When she threatens to call the police, he reminds her, he finger-prints are on the gun, implanted there when he asked her to pick up a package. And unless she will keep silent and continue her work, she will be charged with the murder. When his manager, Paul Sherman, who had been a friend to Joan, backs him up, the terrified girl agrees. Later Paul secretly reveals to her he is really an FBI agent and she promises to help him trap the higher-ups in the spy ring. Police find Bybil's clothing and a suitcase note near her and Paul suspects Karl is holding her hostage. Meanwhile Karl hires a beautiful girl as a singer, who is to be Paul's run-away sister, and who innocently betrays him. Karl captures Joan and Paul as they find a Nazi radio transmitter and bomber plans and places them under guard on board an old tramp steamer. Paul thinks Karl will transfer the stolen bomber plans to a submarine.

On deck, Joan had to cling to Paul to prevent the wind from sweeping her off her feet.

that when that submarine leaves this ship, Paul will be on it."
"No! You can't do that!"
She could imagine his smile as he said, "I am really quite jealous, Joan, that you can transfer your affection so quickly. I would prefer that Paul is safely out of the way so that there is nothing to interfere with our friendship."
Paul's hands clenched on the arms of his chair, but he said nothing. Joan understood then that it was better to pacify Karl than to antagonize him further.

Her hand grasped Paul's tightly as Karl disappeared around the corner of the deck. "Is he bluffing?" she whispered.
"Oh Paul!" Joan gasped. "Are you all right?"
"I'm fine," Paul said grimly. "Karl's just been trying to persuade me to join his little group. Both of us, for that matter. He thinks we'd be valuable to him in his spying business."

Then he glanced at her with a smile. "You sound almost as if you care."
"I do," Joan said. And suddenly she realized that she did care. That she cared terribly what happened to Paul Miller.

Five more days passed as the weather became increasingly uncomfortable. "We're probably off the coast of Mexico," Paul said as he stood at the rail looking into the vast expanse of blue sky and water.
Without turning his head, Paul said in a low voice, "I have something to tell you. Do you know that sailor he called 'Thomas'?"
"I think so. The one who brings our meals."
"Right. It seems Karl has something on him, forced him into service on this ship by blackmail. He's promised to help us, when the time comes."

"What time?" Joan asked, feeling suddenly chilled in spite of the tropical sun.
"If everything goes as I expect, it should be within two or three days."
"You still don't know how Karl plans to get rid of those papers?"
"Submarine," Paul said briefly. "Thomas tells me we're to contact it within the next twenty-four hours."

"There's a ring around the moon," Paul observed. "We're going to have some bad weather."
"Anything would be better than this." Closing her eyes against the heat, Joan leaned her head against the chair.
When she felt a hand over hers, she started. "Oh... Paul... Color flushed her cheeks."
"Joan," he said simply, "don't you know I'm in love with you?"
Relief and joy flooded her heart. Fatigue fell like a mask from her young face.

"I've been in love with you ever since the first day I saw you," Paul went on in his quiet voice. "But I didn't love Karl. I just thought I did. You must believe that, Paul!"
"Of course I believe it, honey," he said. "If I didn't, do you think I'd be telling you this? We O'Malleys are easy people."
She smiled in the darkness. "If I ever get out of this mess," Paul continued seriously, "will you marry me? It's not an easy life, and Joan, I'm gone a great deal and my job's dangerous. I haven't much to offer."
"You have all I want," Joan assured him. "And Paul, we've got to get out of this now. There's so much to live for!"

"Mind your own business... and have plenty of it."
"Don't bite off more than you can chew."
"Tackle one job at a time."
"Make your decisions promptly, and don't fear the outcome."
"Learn to delegate part of your work and responsibility."
"Don't stake too much on success."
"Don't be afraid of failure."
"Don't overvalue what you have. Forget people you don't like."
"Keep your sense of humor. It's a good sense of proportion."

SCIENTISTS TELL HOW TO MAKE SUGAR GO FURTHER

Would you like to save food rationed sugar? Scientists at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Beltsville, Md., have discovered a way to make sugar go further. They found that by adding a small amount of a certain chemical to the sugar, it can be used for a longer period of time. This is because the chemical prevents the sugar from being broken down by bacteria. The scientists found that this method could be used for all types of sugar. They also found that this method could be used for all types of food. This is a great discovery for all of us who are trying to save our rationed sugar. We should all try to use this method to make our sugar go further. It is a simple and easy way to do so. We should all try to use this method to make our sugar go further. HITTING A PERSON WHO CALLS YOU A JAP "LEGAL" COURT HOLDS

It is legal in extreme cases, according to Judge Phil Woodruff, to resort to violence any time someone calls you a "Jap." Testimony in his court revealed Monday.

The ruling was handed down Monday in the case of D. J. Seals of 7601 Eagle Pass who was charged with aggravated assault upon Charlie Rumbles of 7406 Alderson.

Testimony showed that Rumbles called Seals a "Jap," and that Seals hit Rumbles with a soft drink bottle. At the end of the testimony, believing that Seals was justified in his actions, Woodruff returned a verdict of not guilty.

JOHN CARSON HILL

Sincere sympathy is felt for Mrs. J. B. Chase in the death of her brother, J. C. Hill of Beaumont. Son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hill, he was born Nov. 27th, 1869 in Groesbeck, Miss. The family moved to East Texas when he was but a boy. In 1901 he married Mrs. Anne Handley of Houston where Mr. Hill was bookkeeper for the Handley Lumber Co. of the log holdings in Polk county. Later he was bookkeeper for the Kirby interests in this county but for 20 years past, bookkeeper for Wilson Hardware company in Beaumont.

His wife passed away some four years ago. Two weeks before his death on Thursday of last week he suffered two strokes from which he could not rally. Mrs. Chase was in attendance with him and the brother and wife, Miss T. D. Hill, and the funeral cortege here and went on to Houston where he was laid by the side of his beloved wife in the cemetery.

Rev. J. J. Strickland, of the South Park Baptist church conducted funeral services in Beaumont and Rev. W. C. Winkler, pastor of the First Baptist church in Livingston held services at the grave.

He is survived by 4 daughters and 2 sons. Mesdames E. E. Elliott, Mike Ramsey of Beaumont, Robert Turner of Corpus, La., and Mrs. Ruth Hill of Corpus Christi. The sons, Cecil of Beaumont and John C. Hill of Searsville, Calif. seven grandchildren.

WONDER WHAT A FRENCHMAN THINKS ABOUT

Two years ago a Frenchman was as free as you are. Today what does he think?

As he humbly steps into the gutter to let his companion's swag get past.

As he works 53 hours a week for 30 hours' pay.

As he sees his wife go hungry and his children face a lifetime of serfdom.

What does that Frenchman—soldier, workman, politician, or business man—think today? Probably it is something like this: "I wish I had been less greedy for myself and more anxious for my country. I wish I had realized you can't beat off a determined invader by a quarreling, disunited people at home; I wish I had been willing to give in on some of my rights to other Frenchmen instead of giving up all of them to a foreigner. I wish I had realized other Frenchmen had rights too; I wish I had known that patriotism is WORK, not talk 'GIVING' not getting."

And if that Frenchman could read our newspapers today, showing pressure groups each demanding things be done for them instead of for our country, wouldn't he say to American business men, politicians, soldiers and workmen: "If you knew the horrible penalty your action is bound to bring, you'd bury your differences now before they bury you; you'd work for your country as you never worked before, and wait for your private ambitions until your country is safe. Look at me—I worked too little and too late."

W. E. SUTER LOSES BROTHER

Sincere sympathy is felt for W. E. Suter who was called to heaven last week by the death of his beloved brother. The following is lifted from the Houston Chronicle: Funeral services for A. L. Suter, 47, Jeweler, was held Friday at 4 p. m. at the home by Rev. Geo. R. Forrester, pastor of the Christian church in Brenham. Mr. Suter was a member of the first contingent of selective service men to enter World War I from Washington county. He served as mess sergeant in Battery C, 343d Field Artillery, 90th Div. Meuse-Div. Argonne drive. He served in the army of occupation, June 17, 1920, he married Miss Geraldine Fisher of Brenham. In 1921 Mr. Suter purchased the Oscar Brennehan jewelry store, which he operated up to the time of his death. He was a member of the chamber of commerce and American Legion.

DIARRHOEA COMPLAINT

The season of the year when the most complaints are received of diarrhoea and dysentery or "summer complaint" is here and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State health officer, has issued a warning to parents in regard to this, and offers the following suggestions to prevent its occurrence among babies.

The chief causes of diarrhoea include impure milk, water and contaminated feeds, overeating, fever from any cause, overmuch sugar or cream in the diet, overfeeding and underfeeding.

Mother's milk is the safest food. However, if other milk must be used, the supply should be clean and pure. The water should be clean, pure and boiled. Any other articles of food should be fresh and clean and no unsuitable articles of food such as cake and candy should be given.

On a short time, a physician should be consulted and it must be prepared with extreme attention to all cleanliness and kept cold until regular intervals and should not be forced to eat when he is hungry. The baby should be kept cool and comfortable in hot weather, should not be overfed and should be given plenty of clean water to drink. Any infections which develop in a baby should be promptly treated.

If diarrhoea develops, feeding should be stopped or greatly diminished and an abundance of water should be given. Cathartics should not be given except on the advice of a physician. If the diarrhoea does not improve within a short time, a physician should be called and a complete examination should be made.

The three F's, flies, fingers, and food are the three sources of danger to the baby. Flies carry disease germs to the baby and to its food. Fingers and hands that are not thoroughly washed before preparing the baby's food are likely to carry germs. Food, milk and water that is intended for the baby should be boiled for five minutes, then carefully covered and kept in a cool place until used.

A QUESTIONABLE CHANGE

Congress should think twice before passing H. R. 4530. The average citizen thinks of 4-H work as rural areas in some general approving way as the does of the CCC and Boy's Club work. Bill 453 proposes $4,000,000 more per year for the 4-H work increasing annually to $10,000,000. The added millions would be expended, as are present funds, by the extension services of the state colleges. On the surface, one would immediately be disposed to say the money should be appropriated.

But, aside from questions as to where one can get trained workers at present or whether these funds should be added to taxpayers' burdens is wartime, there is a deeper one. Do we want a whole-scale, government, American plan which largely ignores the leadership through interested local men and women to become another bureaucratic affair run by big government and big employers? If we believe in the democratic ideal of self-help and personal initiative, isn't it better for the nation to have its million and a quarter of boys and girls work out their own problems under present leadership in their 100,000 clubs?

Granted that there is a tendency to substitute an unjust, personal central government, nevertheless American citizens who believe in the democratic way of life as opposed to paternalistic government, should not support a central government, never their heritage of self-ownership wherever it does not impede the war effort. The 4-H program, Head, Heart, Hand and Health, can stand on its own feet. Christian Science Monitor.

INTENSIFIED PROGRAM OF TURKEY IMPROVEMENT

The intensified program of turkey improvement, begun in Texas in 1933, is paying dividends, says George P. McCarthy, poultry superintendent of the A&M college extension service.

On the basis of figures from the USDA bureau of agricultural economics, McCarthy says the increase in turkey production in Texas in 1931, was 14.2 pounds, and in 1932, the average was 14.2 pounds, and in 1931 it had increased to 15.2 per bird. Calculated on the 2,760,000 turkeys, the increased production in 1931 over 1931 was 7,352,000. Figuring the increase on an average selling price of 17 cents a pound, the improvement program was worth $1,249,840 to the turkey producers of Texas.

McCarthy attributes this increase to the program introduced to turkey growers by the extension service which included careful selection and better feeding, along with emphasis upon the broadest type of bird.

Not only has there been an increase in weight brought about a larger return to growers, McCarthy explains, "but Texas is producing a better quality of turkey, and eventually will mean more money on the basis of higher grades."

The gross income on turkeys sold in Texas in 1931 was $9,747,000.

IF BE A REAL AMERICAN

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—Caspar's selection service recently moved him up from 3-A to 2-A classification on Tuesday after he wrote:

"Am writing to let you know that my father is in a better financial position than when I was classified 3-A. Due to the fact that my sisters have come out of the orphanage and two of them that have come out of the orphanage the last one getting a job Feb. 16, 1942.

"Altogether they are putting into the family $30 a week which is sufficient to run the household, which means that my classification should be changed accordingly. Hoping to hear from the local board soon."

Angelo is 25, is the youngest of six children of parents who emigrated from Italy in 1905. The father was a street cleaner until three years ago when all health forces visited her mother, Mrs. Ed Pope over the week end.

Seventy men and women in East Texas have been convicted of illegal woods burning in the period from Jan. 1 to March 31. Most of the fires were started accidentally from brush burning, according to records of the Texas Forest Service.

REPEAL DEMANDED FOR THE HATCH ACT

Washington—A Senate hearing on legislation to exempt teachers from the Hatch Act brought demands for repeal of the law, which curbs political activities of many persons paid from Government funds.

"This is a non-trocity in a free country," declared Senator Ellison D. Smith (D) of South Carolina, after representatives of teachers' organizations had testified that under the law faculty members of institutions receiving any kind of Federal funds were barred from participating in even local elections.

When Senator Theodore F. Green (D) of Rhode Island, chairman of the elections committee, conducting the hearing, reminded Senator Smith that the Hatch Act was not before the committee, but only an amendment, the South Carolinian retorted: "Well, it ought to be."

"I hope we have an opportunity some day to get rid of it," said another committee member, Senator Abe Murdock (D) of Utah.

YOUR MEASURE

You're measured as a workman by just the things you do. When there's nobody looking, and so one knows but you. Your only REAL value is what you think and say. When no one ever hears it. And shame is stripped away.

Your power is debilitated. By only what it tries to be your code of honor. When no one is around, your character is founded. Without the slightest doubt, on just your course of action. When no one will find out.

You've rated just remember. By only what it tries to be your code of honor. When no one is around, your character is founded. Without the slightest doubt, on just your course of action. When no one will find out.

And so we stand or fall by the fundamentals of what we ARE, that's all. Sidney J. Burgoyne

Timely Tips on the Use and Care of Your Electric Refrigerator

Uncle Sam wants you to take good care of your electric equipment—to make it last. Here are some suggestions that will help you get longer life and better service from your always economical electric refrigerator:

Defrost whenever frost is about 1/4 inch thick. Frost acts as an insulator—retards cold making.

Be sure door gasket seals tightly. Wipe off any grease that falls on gasket as grease destroys rubber.

Wash inside of refrigerator, including freezer, with weak baking soda solution each time you defrost.

Wash exterior with cloth dampened in lukewarm water and mild soap. If non-porcelain, wax occasionally to preserve finish.

If an open unit model, keep oiled per manufacturer's instructions. Closed unit models need no oiling.

Remove dust from fins of condenser coils occasionally. Keep unit compartment clean.

Don't overcooling

Don't se, cold control for lower temperature than necessary. Forty-five degrees is safe.

Cover all liquids. Moisture drawn to freezer speeds formation of frost.

Don't put hot foods in refrigerator. Wait until they cool.

Don't clutter refrigerator with ketchup, canned goods and other items that do not need refrigeration.

Avoid quick freezing as much as possible. It increases running time of motor.
