SHE LOVED A SPY by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Love with an employer, Karl Miller, night club owner, Joan Leland, secretary, is horrified and disillusioned when he shoots his partner, Eric Strom, and threatens to implicate her unless she remains silent.

CHAPTER XVIII... "I can't bear having anything happen to Sybil," said Joan.

"But he can't go on like this," she insisted. "As Paul has told us, even Karl must make a mistake sooner or later."

"I understand," Joan cried. "You must consider me, Paul. You must do what you feel is right. I became involved with Karl through my own volition. It was no fault of yours. And I don't want you to feel responsible."

"But I love you," Paul said quietly. "I do believe that, don't you?"

"I have a hunch everything's going to be all right," Joan comforted, and Paul, kissing her tenderly, wondered at the supreme confidence of a woman in love.

"She's so brave," he thought, holding her close. But she didn't realize the horrors that might be in store for her.

"What are you thinking about, darling?" Joan asked. "Holding her closer, as though she were something very precious, Paul replied. 'I was thinking that I love you more—more than I ever have before.'"

"Do you remember the radio operator on the ship?" Paul asked. "He didn't speak a word of English."

"Sylbi!" Joan cried as the door opened to admit her sister. "Laughing and crying, they went in, each to her room. Joan was in each other's arms."

 The annual reunion of the Durham families was held Sunday, June 18, at the State Highway park near Woodville. There was a splendid attendance, although many did not come due to illness in the families. The reunion was one of the oldest reunions of the Durham family. Tom Durham of Larkton gave an interesting talk on "The Remedy to Get to Heaven." After the lunch was served and everyone enjoyed it for a sure was a lot of good food.
 Those that attended were Mrs. Tom Durham and daughter Mrs. J. A. Jones and son James Thomas, Mrs. Minnie Durham and son and Mrs. Clayton Durham of Larkton, Mrs. Leola Strunk and family of Corrigan, Mrs. E. B. Durham and son, Mrs. Estelene Mae and husband and children all of Corrigan, Mrs. Margaret McCreary of Steel Grove, Mrs. Bessie McCreary of Steel Grove, Mrs. Pearl Durham and family, Mrs. Ada Durham, Mrs. Lewis Durham and son Barney Lewis and Charlotte Durham and children and Mrs. Madeline Boyce and Fred Boyce all of Cherokee, Mrs. Johnny D. A good sum of money came forth and was turned over to Mr. Jimmie D. Hughes and he will send the telegram telling him how we missed him in our reunion. We will meet at the same place and at the same time next year. Every one reported a nice time.

BOARD TELLS HOW TO GET CANNING SUGAR
 When you come to the Tyler County War Price and Rationing Board to register for your canning sugar, be prepared to answer these questions:
 1. How many quarts did you use last year?
 2. How much of it do you have on hand at present?
 3. How many quarts do you propose to can this year?
 4. How much sugar do you have on hand?
 5. Is the fruit available to you from your own orchards, or will it be necessary for you to buy it from the store?
 Bring each member's War Ration Book with you.
 Under the revised regulations, the board may authorize family units and individuals not members of a family unit to obtain additional sugar for home canning of fruits in amounts not to exceed one pound of sugar for each four quarts of finished fruit to be packed. In addition, not in excess of one pound of sugar per person may be authorized for use in preserves, jams, jellies, and fruit butters, the reason therefore being that in view of the supply situation which makes it necessary to ration sugar, it is more desirable to conserve fruit supplies by other methods, such as canning, which require much less sugar.
 Mrs. Fannye Tungate, county Home Demonstration agent, states that many fruits can be put up with sugar substitutes, and it is suggested that those contemplating a large amount of canning contact Mrs. Tungate with reference to these sugar substitutes.
 Registration days are Mondays and Fridays only.
 W. L. Martin, Clerk.

Ahead There Lies Sacrifice For All of Us

"On the road ahead there lies hard work—gruelling work—day and night, every hour and every minute... ahead there lies sacrifice for all of us.
 "But it is not correct to use that word. The United States does not consider it a sacrifice to do all one can, to give one's best to our nation, when the nation is fighting for its existence and its future life.
 "It is not a sacrifice for any man, old or young, to be in the Army or the Navy of the United States. Rather it is a privilege.
 "It is not a sacrifice for the industrialist or the wage earner, the farmer or the shopkeeper, the trainman or the doctor to pay more taxes, to buy more bonds, to forego extra profits, to work longer or harder at the task for which he is best fitted—rather it is a privilege.
 "It is not a sacrifice to do without many things to which we are accustomed if the national defense calls for doing without it."
 Franklin D. Roosevelt.

EMPLOYMENT OF WOMEN IN WAR PRODUCTION
 A prediction that women will become increasingly important in the war labor picture was made by G. G. Nettles, local office manager of the U. S. Employment Service, who said that the addition of thousands of Texas women to Texas industry is a distinct probability as war production soars and the reserve of qualified male workers dwindles. Employers not now using women workers should review their needs and the requirements of their jobs to determine the degree to which women workers may be utilized.
 The necessity for widespread use of women workers apparently is never of hand than many employers realize. The problem may not be evident in some localities, but a broad survey of the Texas labor market reveals shortages in the supply of many types of male workers. Local employers should recognize the implications of this broader situation, which does or will affect them directly, and lay down their plans accordingly.
 Mr. Nettles' statement said that three million entirely new workers must be drawn into the industrial net of the war effort, over and above the seven million who will enter war production as the result of plant conversion. It appears that two million of these must not be women. Other women must replace men moving out of non-war industries. In the meantime, the proportion of women employed in leading industries must be doubled. They were employed in a broad range of occupations, including even some regular heavy manual labor. An almost unlimited number of occupations are suitable for women, and in many cases, jobs which are not suitable can be broken in to component tasks, each of which can be performed by women at a relatively short period of training.
 The Employment Service has made a nationwide survey of women in war and non-war industry and is in a position to advise employers and in which occupations women have definitely proved themselves to be capable. The demand for women workers in war industries already has resulted in the establishment of training facilities to prepare them for specific occupations, and further facilities will be provided upon demand.

Bottle Babies Thrive on Milk Diet
 Thousands of bottle babies are being raised in the United States. They are healthy and happy because they are fed on a milk diet. Milk is the best food for babies. It contains all the nutrients they need to grow and thrive. Parents should always choose a good milk for their babies. The milk should be fresh and pure. It should be sterilized and stored properly. Parents should also make sure that their babies are getting enough milk. A healthy baby is a happy baby.

NEW TIRES—OH, MY NO! SAYS RATION BOARD NOW
 New tires for anyone are practically a thing of the past according to instructions received by the Tyler county ration board this week. The new tires are still listed but to obtain them, even with an A-1-A preference rating the ration board must examine the tires to be replaced with new ones and to be sure that they can not be re-treaded.
 Leon Martin, ration board clerk says that tires, new tires, will soon be a thing of the past and users will just have to make the old ones last by lowering driving speed and taking good care of the tires. These new, low rubber manufacturers say there will be no new tires in carbon in before 1947.
