FINE, IF TRUE Chairman May (D-KY.) says war will be over in 1943.

ELSEWHERE WILL BE he acted a Bible story sent in from Harrisburg, Pa. It appears to be a prophecy having to do with the present day tire shortage.

OTHER GENTAPO says attempt to slip through the FBI lines and were frustrated. This time it was a German, Herbert Karl Friedrich, Bach, an American educated college man.

LAST FRIDAY at midnight was the official credit deadline.
The new law says "A person who fails to pay within a specified time is in default to the creditor, who is barred by the law from allowing the debtor to defer his credit until the account is cleared."

APPARENTLY NAZI captains want to show their ability to destroy. It made no difference whether their targets are English, American or German craft. The headline, day last week, told the world "Nazi Ship Loaded With Exchange Promises, Sunk by Axis Sub." Wonder what later will think about that.

AND THE Chase National Bank of New York, that outfit ought to bring its bomb chest a few years ago, in the June 30th statement shows deposits (ind. value) of $3,595,451,000.54. And again, The Booster wonders if Uncle Sam knows anything about the excess baggage carried by the many banks of the United States.

OFFENSIVE AND offensive, from day to day and even week to week it has brought home to us that we have to receive copy for news announcements, as well as advertising copy not later than Wednesday noon. Quite recently we received a church notice on a Thursday morning and it was not used. It takes time to prepare such notices, and advertisements, and we must receive the copy Wednesday or else hold the same for the following week.

HOW TIMES have changed.
Back yonder a spy was shot at sunrise. The evidence given was taken as self evident. Today the entire country is watching the course of a trial for eight German barron men, Nazi plotters, who were furnished with a trial lawyer and the hearings held and tasted and took, were wondering what the Bill Yip, times and atmosphere are just different than in the times of Washington and Lincoln.

NEAR ALBUQUERQUE, N.
M., is the largest unbroken stand of virgin ponderosa pine. As a war necessity bids have been opened on some 22 million feet of ponderosa pine and Douglas fir.
What a shame this last great forest will be destroyed. When a modern logging plant moves in now-a-days, the worked over land remains a place where the great guns and explosives of an army have torn up things. We know.
We have visited several Washington areas where the destruction was complete. Only a fire was needed to ruin the rich earth forever.

ONE REASON why our martial spirit does not express itself in music, although it is very expressive in other ways, is that our music has been horribly distorted and is unsuitable and even repugnant to the martial spirit.
It is not brave or inspiring in sound, but hideous, hoarse and not fit for a soldier's ears.

and these settlements are the fault of a set of vandals called arrangers who cannot create music themselves and, in their sullen envy of those who can, produce evil caricatures as monstrous as Hitler's most hateful distortions of truth. They even mock "Anchors Aweigh" and "The Caissons Go Rolling Along" beyond recognition and probably that is an additional reason why the people prefer to hear service bands when they can for the services are literal-minded.—Westbrook Pegler.

LAST THURSDAY the CIO and AFL presented demands for wage increase in all plants engaged in manufacture of planes.
The demands, affected, will hoist to at least $125,000.00 a week, on the Pacific coast, alone for a year.
The CIO demands that wage increase be made nationwide. We never did believe in CIO or in Lewis either. Up until now, the American Federation of Labor were our pick in organized labor unions. At this time, however, it does not seem possible that labor fellows just like you and I will engage in a labor dispute. In this connection we like to refer back to Teddy Roosevelt, who would say "What, you fellows strike? Get back on the job, or I'll conscript every one of you." Labor could make the country lose the argument with better and the yaps.

WE HAVE to learn to take it on the chin and standing up. We have had bad news from the fighting fronts of late. We've got to take such news in our stride. Always we knew victory would be won the hard way, but we have never doubted we would win. And so, on our sons, one by one, he reported missing, we have got to learn that grieving will not help. True, they were our fondest possessions, but when they go to that hour from which no traveler ever returns, we have a God-given right to be proud we have a right to glory in death, thereby fully realizing they are beyond the power of the enemy to torture, starve, imprison or work to death without proper consentment of a fit place in which to slumber. We've got to learn to take it on the chin. Most people realize that the death lists have hardly started as yet. Wait until we get into such a struggle as the Russians find themselves. It will then be the entire American nation that will be grieving.

GULF OIL STATION
Charles Gene McAllister, who was operated on at the Naogdoches hospital, was brought home Monday. His sister, Miss Sneed brought him down.

ter was in Woodville one day last week.

Methodist Church
Rev. Jesse Lee, district superintendent, of Naogdoches, will be the preacher at the Methodist church next Sunday at 11 o'clock.
At the evening hour Rev. J. S.
Denney will preach. These visiting preachers deserve a good hearing, and a cordial invitation is given everyone to come and bring their friends.
The pastor, Rev. W. W. Hardt, and wife are leaving Thursday to assist their son for a week in revival services in Wood county.
They will be gone only one Sunday, and the pastor expects to be in his own pulpit again both morning and evening on Sunday, July 26.

Mrs. Bonnie Barclay, Miss Barney, Frances Dismukes and brother Barclay were Beaumont visitors last day last week.

Mrs. Sena Jordan left this week for a visit in Chester.

of Beaumont came home from the week end. The family went to the daughter, Mrs. Eddie Fan-cloth to spend the day.
Miss Florence Lee Atkinson of Shelbyville is visiting her brother Ray week.
Miss H. H. Odum were Woodville visitors Wednesday.
Mrs. Sally McDonald and son only of Spurger have been visiting A. McDonald lately.
June Sawyer returned to his work Sunday after a short visit home.

Mrs. Ruth Swearingen of Spur-ger spent Sunday with Mrs. Jim Sawyer. Miss Jim Swearingen came in the afternoon.
G. K. Mott made a short trip to Thomas Warren's Friday.
Church was held here Sunday.
It was decided that we have a revival meeting beginning August 9. Everyone is invited to attend.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET Ruth McAlister was leader for the young people's Christian Endeavor society at the Christian church Sunday evening. Topic, "Playing the Game Straight." Evening worship, Gauda Mehafrey, president, and delegate to State convention convening in San Antonio, gave a report. Young peoples' choir and two musical numbers were a triumph, solo by Edwin White and voice solo by Odessa Gardner.

BOMBS BURST ONCE
By GRANVILLE CHURCH
W.N.U. SERVICE

"Yeh, I know, only it won't be a swamp much longer. They're doing a swell job of reclamation, Curt.
Well, I don't know much about them. Guy called Montaya heads the outfit. There's a whisper around he was hooked up with Cedillo in Mexico and got out by the skin of his teeth when that revolt failed.
But that's only gossip, take it for what it's worth. Seems to have pleased dough behind him, but I don't know where it comes from. Old Man Moore probably has the low-down, but you know how tight-lipped he is."
Moore was General Manager in Tierra Libre for Associated Fruit Growers.

"Who's in with this Montaya?"
"Don't rightly know, Curt. Montaya seems to be the only one who I can see. There's a couple of Swedes I don't know anything about —except they hold their liquor and don't talk. Youngish guys. And a Dutchman—Holland. I mean a chemical man, Panama disease has shown up over on our side and if they're going to raise bananas they'll have to find some means of combating."
"Yes, sure. But how come Associated didn't have that piece tied up? Never heard of anyone getting ahead of Old Man Moore before."
"Well, we've already got plenty of good land, all we can handle now or in the reasonable future. And this piece'll cost real money to develop. Why all these questions, Curt?"
"Under your hat, Jerry, they've offered me the job of Chief Engineer. Wanted to know more about them. Think they're reliable?"
"Well-I, yes, Curt, they are, so far as I know. But I'd hate to have you make a decision on my say-so." A wary, reluctant note had crept into Melnius's voice.

"Who's been handling the job?"
"Chigger Mitchell."
"What? Old Mitch? He's a good man. What happened they need another?"
"Well, you know how Mitch was kind of tough on labor. A driver and all that. And he could sure find a guy's weak spot and dig under the skin. He didn't get the name 'Chigger' for nothing. Well, he must've made an enemy over there who wanted a souvenir. Anyway, his ears were missing when they found him—just a few days ago, it was—and they had to use a basket for the rest of him. These machetes are bad stuff, as you know well enough."
Early in the morning Curt wired his acceptance to the C. A. T. people's New Orleans office. Back came, overnight, an contract for signing. And things moved fast.

The freighter Hicosa, one of a small fleet of Norwegian vessels chartered to the C. A. T. outfit, would be held over a day in New Orleans awaiting them. Loaded with rails, cement, lumber, machinery, it was bound for Cabeza de Negro, the new C. A. T. port at the mouth of the Rio Negro.
Curt had less than twenty-four hours to wind up all his affairs in the States, store the car, arrange for care and lease of the house through an agent, for forwarding of their mail.

Their mail: The first batch, readdressed and sent by air to New Orleans, caught up with Curt just before they sailed. Busy with details of baggage and boarding slip, he hastily stuffed the handful of letters into his pocket.
It was hours before he thought of it and handed them for inspection. The ship had reached the mouth of the Mississippi; they'd dropped the pilot and were headed out into the Gulf. One letter was a small plain envelope postmarked Puerto Soledad, Tierra Libre.
Inside was a brief note.
"Mr. Curtis. Don't bring your family to San Alejo, don't come yourself. Don't come! Zora Mitchell."

CHAPTER II
Don't come! And here he was with Lee in the care of his sons, Buddy and Chuck tugging at his trousers, with Tierra Libre rising up out of the morning sea, the buildings of Cabeza de Negro taking shape. His son unconsciously tightened about Lee.
Long before they drew close enough to make out details of the ship's bow, they saw the motor launch cutting along the coast as though to intercept them. It too, was headed for the port, and at last Curt recognized the figure standing in the cockpit.
He yanked off his hat to wave it wildly.
"Jerry, you old muckle-head," he shouted. "I might've known you'd come down to meet us."
"Jerry, you old muckle-head," he
shouted. "I might've known you'd
come down to meet us."
"Yeh, got your wireless you were coming through Cabeza. Hiya, Curt. Hiya, Lee," called the stocky man in the launch. "It's good to see you folks again. Where're the kids?"
Curt and Lee each picked up a child and stood him on his own feet. Buddy, from his new vantage point, piped up: "Mummy, what's a muckle-head?"
"A muckle-head, darling," she answered gravely, "is your Uncle Jerry down in the little boat. See?"
"My Uncle Jerry, Mummy? Have I got a Uncle Jerry?"
"Yes, dear. Wave to him."
There was no opportunity for dal-ying here. The launch drew away and by the time the Piacers warped up to the dock Jerry Melnius—leathered face, close-cropped hair, weather-stained clothes—was waiting. He had delivered a message from the boat.

"Sure, you know yourself a telephone line across these marshes would be out of the question; it'd have to be re-strung after every damp. They have a line now from Tempejo on to San Alejo—Tempejo is their nearest port across from our Riverhead Junction. Before that they used radio, as they do at Ca-beza now. And is their San Alejo station a dandy? More powerful than ours at Soledad. Talk with Europe, Asia, anywhere."
"That one of their river boats?"
"Yeh, they have two. But we can talk later, Curt." He scooped up the children, one in each arm.
"Let's find a more comfortable spot for the wait. Lee, you're looking great! If I didn't know better I'd guess you were twenty. Hard to believe these are yours. Maria sends her love and can't wait to see you."
Melnius, chuckling, nodded from Curt's piled baggage to his own laurelled boy, and the messiezo immediately took possession to stand guard. Then the Associated man led the way from the dock to the one main street of the village. There were signs of recent construction.
The new company was booming the village.
"That's a good deed they've built," Curt said. "I suppose Mitchell did it?"
"Sure."
Just the one word, and it sounded strange. Clipped and odd, for Mel-nius. Curt threw his friend a side-long glance.
"Looks like they're really going it big here."
"And how! They pushed their railroad from Tempejo to San Alejo more than a kilometer a week. And meanwhile were building San Alejo with materials flown across the swamp by sea freighter planes.
You've got yourself a job, Curt."
"They must've sprung up fullfedged."
"I'll say! One day we caught them throwing up temporary buildings at Tempejo, the next day heavy materials were coming in through Soledad.
We had the facilities. They shipped to Riverhead over our lines and ferried across the Negro. They still have a transportation office over in Soledad, but most of their stuff's coming in through Cabeza now."
Associated Fruit Growers—where Curt and Melnius, fresh from M. I. T., had their first years of practical engineering—stretched along the north bank of the Rio Negro, a hundred kilometers or more of banana plantations in an almost unbroken line. These were led by a narrow-gauge railroad, and there was one handling of fruit from farm pick-up platforms to conveyer belts at shipside.
But the new Compañia Agricola Tempejo, south of the Negro, had more of a problem. It wasn't possible to run a railroad through to the sea. Salt marshes lay between their concession and the coast and made it necessary to handle fruit by rail from farm to river port, and by steamer or lighters from there to Cabeza where ocean vessels could pick it up. Not so good, two handlings of perishable fruit. Costly, too. And the delay and expense of hauling construction materials up river was sharp in Curt's mind.
"Well, how are you?"
Melnius stopped before a small cantina, the facade a blinding, billous green in the raw sunshine. Mel-nius put the boys down, led them inside. Lee and Curt followed.
"It's nearly lunch time," Melnius reminded. "Shouldn't the kids be fed, Lee? You know what the cooking is like here, but we can probably get fabled soups." Lee snubbed.
"I don't need a brick wall to fall on me. Go ahead, you two. Have a drink. I know you have plenty to talk over. I'll drag out my rusty Spanish and get along."
The men turned to the deserted bar at the end of the room, mounted uncomfortable stools and ordered gin rickeys. While the native bartender mixed their nearby, Curt made conversation.
"Jerry, I'll cost so much to produce and ship fruit here that I don't see how these people can hope to compete with Associated. Not without a subsidy, and Tierra Libre does not grant subsidies."
"Well, that's their business."

ONE
BUCK...
Curt and Lee each picked up a child and stood him on his own
feet. Buddy, from his new vantage

LEARN TO KNOW YOUR DENTIST

A child's teeth are the key to a healthy body. It is the dentist's duty to see that the child's teeth are properly cared for. The dentist should be consulted at regular intervals to have the teeth examined and cleaned. This is especially important for children who are in the habit of eating sticky and sugary foods. The dentist will also advise on the proper use of toothbrush and toothpaste. It is a grave mistake to neglect a child's teeth, for it can lead to dental trouble and decay.

LOOKING FOR RE-ELECTION

Judge Harry N. Graves was elected four years ago to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge C. S. Lattimore as a member of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas. He has actively participated in the work of the Court since that time, and has written his share of their opinions. This Court has disposed of the cases submitted to it, and is up with its docket, and he requests a second term at the hands of the voters.

Would it be wise to change the personnel of this court at the present time?

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO MOVE

Read These New Government Regulations Limiting Extensions of Utility Service

In order to conserve materials for the war effort, the government, through the War Production Board, has issued new rules regarding service extensions by public utilities, effective June 23 and expiring September 30, 1942.

Under these new WPB regulations, we will not be permitted to build extensions to our distribution system to serve customers, except under the following conditions:

- (1) The extension must not exceed 250 feet in length (including service line from distribution system to building to be served.)
- (2) Building to be served must have been piped or wired ready to receive service prior to July 1, 1942.
- (3) In case of new construction, foundation under main part of building must have been completed prior to July 1, 1942.
- (4) Cost of material for extension must not exceed $1,500 for underground jobs or $500 for overhead extensions.

The above regulations apply only to ordinary non-defense extensions. In case of new consumer building projects bearing a preference rating of A-5 or better, we are permitted to use such rating in placing orders for material necessary to serve such projects without prior approval from the War Production Board, although this does not guarantee that the material will be immediately available.

Nothing in the above regulations applies to buildings already connected to our distribution system and which are piped or wired but are not now receiving service because of vacancy or for other reasons. Service to such buildings may be resumed at any time upon application at our office.

However, if you are planning to move into a new home or other building which will require an extension of our system to receive service, we suggest that you consult us before making any commitments or taking any action. We can assist you in determining whether or not service can be provided under the new government regulations.
