DIRECTLY WE all will be experiencing a bunch of Texas winter weather, with its wail nothers, that will be as bad it will be fit only for conversation.

SOME NEWSPAPERS are wondering if the war marriage will work. Well, of you ask we'd say they have as good a chance as about two out of every three of the other kind.

YOUNG MEN turned down by the examiners for the army might be able to get on the state payroll in Austin as highway patrolmen. Chief Bill Fournier says candidates are now being received.

THEY DO say hitlers and notable spst happens to be the railways, and one of these days they'll all be out of commission here, because a lot of our aren't coming back until it is over over there.

IN THE Beville-Bee Play, as George Atkins recalls a news item about a 4-year-old boy who I not spoken since bath, and I started his parents by satily proclaiming "This is a havana world." On which the Franklin Favorite commented "I tried to talk to that kid, but he ain't thinking." And he carried out as much in his four years as our greatest talkers do a lifetime. Ed Kilman in the Houston Post.

WE ARE not hearing quite much about the many thousands of bushels of wheat being lost of livestock these days, while about three quarters of Axis over our country a people are starting to surplus wheat. It is without reach of human possibility, that even here in America, there could be shortage of wheat before another wheat crop is harvested.

FROM FRANK H. Lancaster, M. D. Houston, we have received a lengthy notice of the next meeting of the Post Graduate Medical Assembly of South Texas at the Rice Hotel, Houston starting Dec. 2. Members of the Hardin-Tyler county medical society, including Doctors W. W. Anderson, Watt, Barclay, Hobbs, Luckey, J. F. Shavers and R. V. Tate are expected to attend. The notice is too long to find space in this week's Booster.

THIS GAS rationing about to go into practice must be causing a lot of speculation on possible ways to defeat the actual letter of the law. From early reports it seems that bootlegging of gasoline, when discovered by officers of the law, is going to be rather troublesome, and the penalty will be confiscation of the car. What some of the nation's gad-a-bouts will do remains to be seen. And walking isn't too good, either.

AND TALKING about hunting—that reminds us of hunting dogs. The editor has never owned a squirrel dog, but for the past two years there has been a lively little wire haired terrier up at our house, and we had hopes of training him to hunt out the furry game. Almost once a week we take him out, and put him in woods where we are sure squirrels have been, and he goes to hunting. Time and again he has barked, and we had him halfway down a hole when he would come out with a hole in his ear, and a squirrel in his mouth. He is a real find.

BOMBS BURST ONCE
 By GRANVILLE CHURCH

He got to bed early, put in a good night's rest, and after snatching breakfast in the cold gray of the false dawn, made an uneventful trip down river to Galveston. Emilio Vargas was silent with early morning suks.

Two ships were in port. One was Japanese—the Kello Maru. It had docked the day before. The other was a Norwegian steamer chartered by the company for the New Orleans run. This ship carried the two freight shoovels, minus their booms and dippers, as a deck load.

Ryden was on hand and in a short humor. He spoke in grunts or monosyllables. Curt got a pleasant surprise when these didn't work fell silent.

It was midmorning by the time the bargains had been removed and the first shovel had been worked on the side of the dock. Its own booms released, the big machine was hauled by the electric hoist to the loading platform.

Curt's purpose was to get a better look at the job. First of all, he wanted to see the machine in operation. But when he saw it, he decided to get a better look at the job.

On the other hand, he had never seen a ship of this size before. He was in a state of awe, and he decided to get a better look at the job.

There was no mistaking the guttural and guttural. Curt swung around to look at Emilio. He had a look of awe, and he decided to get a better look at the job.

IMPORTANT!

Those Living in and around Doucette Will undoubtedly understand what I mean when I say

I Accept the Challenge!

The only way for you to know whether I can meet the argument is for you to be present on every occasion when I speak. Among other subjects I shall discuss, are the following.

1. "GOD'S BOOK."
2. "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST."
3. "ESSENTIALS TO SALVATION."
4. "THE TRINITY IN SALVATION."
5. "THE JOY OF SALVATION."
6. "SALVATION ETERNAL."
7. "BAPTISM."
8. "THE LORD'S SUPPER."
9. "THE CHRISTIAN RACE."

Inasmuch as I shall have but one Sunday in each month, it will take some time to go over the ground. We shall go on a hunt for the Church of Christ. Be Assured THERE WILL BE NO MUD SLINGING. My Sundays will be the Third Sunday in each month. I will give my first talk the 3rd Sunday night in December, which will be December 20, 1942

W. A. LUSK

W. A. Lusk, pastor of the Church of Christ, will give his first talk on Sunday night, December 20, 1942, at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "The Christian Race." Lusk, who has been in the city for some time, is well known to the Doucette community. He will be giving talks on a regular basis, one Sunday in each month. His talks are expected to be of great interest to the community.

Better Breakfasts

DAUGHTERS-IN-LAW will be interested in a discussion by Thurman B. Rife, A. M., M. D., Associate Professor of Bacteriology and Public Health, Indiana University School of Medicine, of the "hasty breakfast" versus the one "like mother used to make."

"The 'hasty breakfast' of a modern time has come in for a great deal of criticism," Dr. Thurman says. "While that 'like mother used to make' is popularly believed to be ideal. Rather the contrary is really true. The old time morning meal consisted usually of black coffee, hot bread of some sort, cured meat with gravy, fried potatoes, preserves, jam or heavy syrup—and it admitted of mighty few variations."

All hasty breakfasts, however, are not model. Dr. Thurman states. We suggest above a breakfast devised by a graduate dietitian, and if the apples are baked the day before, it is a hasty as well as a model breakfast.

Spanish Omelet. To two tablespoons olive oil, add two slices of diced onion, one-half green pepper sliced, the contents of one 4-ounce can of mushrooms which have been drained and sliced; cook gently for five minutes. Then add the contents of one 16-ounce can of tomatoes, season highly with salt and pepper and cook for five to ten minutes to reduce the bulk. Spread over a six-egg omelet, fold over and turn out onto a hot platter. Serve at once. This serves six persons.

For 45 years General Electric has developed and built electric equipment for the Navy. Here are a few of the ways in which it is helping the Navy.

1. Just one battleship may have electric generators to produce as much as 150,000 kilowatts. This power would supply the needs of a city of 375,000.
2. Searchlights produce millions of candlepower of light to aid in detecting enemy ships and planes, and to guide Navy gunners to their targets.
3. More than 20 different operations are performed in bringing a vessel out to sea on its target. Electricity helps to coordinate these operations.
4. When a battleship goes into action, electricity helps direct the ship, operate the guns, and give the orders. G. E. is building equipment to do these jobs.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

STEAMER BASKETS

WAY out in mid-ocean, sitting on deck with hours of leisure and miles of blue skies and water before you— isn't it a glorious feeling to open a steamer basket from some one back home? Delving down into tiny jars of marmalade, treasure chest tins filled with assorted candies, a glistening package tied with gaily ribbon? Cat yields dates and figs, another candy tin which yields a mint assortment of endless interesting wee bundles and what is this rather bulky package not a professional gift wrapped but somehow more interesting than all the rest? Home-made goodies! Far away from home, it is the very best of all.

When you pack that steamer basket for some friend, don't forget cookies, or cakes or candies which you made yourself. Even for the week-end box which makes the most graceful gift to the hostess, a date loaf cake, a jar of fruit cookies, or a box of nut panache gives a personal note.

Here is a delicious cookie recipe which can be packed in a pretty tin box, tied with a malle bow and will hold first place in the week-end box or steamer basket.

Cocunut Buns: Cream one-third cup of shortening and three-fourths cup of sugar, add one well-beaten egg, then one-third cup of canned raspberries, mashed, but not sieved. Add one and one-half cups of pastry flour, one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon of soda and one-fourth teaspoon of salt. Add one cup of bran and one cup of moist coconut and chill. Drop by small spoonfuls on a greased pan, about two inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about ten minutes. This makes three and one-half dozen cookies.
