● Pinus Palustris is Longleaf pine Southern Yellow Pine

● Time is so precious that with great difficulty can I steal one hour in eight days, either to satisfy myself or to gratify my friends. John Knox

●

● Yep, farmers have an eight hour day. Eight hours before noon dinner, eight hours after. One hundred and nine hours some weeks and no extra pay for overtime

●

● Now that the secret ballot has become a Texas law, the sore heads are having their innings and they're predicting fraudulent voting and the stealing of elections because of insufficient ballot identification.

●

● Down in Bardin county sports men want a law making it obligatory for hunters to use a dog to track down a wounded deer. Those dogs, however, must track deer 21 times before running a county line. Yep, those legislators have to work to earn their salary and so these war times

●

● The more we read about better breed, 4th war worker Slick to the statement we had prepared by the A&M college extension experts. Here's the latest and we wonder if some one who knows will tell us what is meched. (A&M experts call it enrichment.) Ham. Delegates will check up on the progress of their year long program and discuss proposed legislation affecting co-operative associations and the amendment of wheat finds and disposition.

●

● The amount of poultry shipped out of Tyler county should be more than 60% less. We notice trucks loads of live poultry on the way to market. Poultry raisers should not offer their stock at very old price. Eggs are actually worth real money. We know old man in the shop yards who pays 4c per for an egg with his breakfast. His wife is feeding poultry and at the same stand and did you imagine she receives 2 3/4 of that egg pay direct for her eggs. If producers will demand their price everywhere in Texas they'll be able to buy more feed to feed more pout, try to sell for a decent price.

● Oh, yes (but beat hell). Along about the time of the civil war Texas were used in great quantities by the armies. A great hole was dug and filled with hard wood and coal and when all burned with nothing but the coals left, a great kettle of prepared beans was let down into the hole which was empty, the coals fire and bean shoveled onto the top, the kettle had a close fitting cover, and the live coals were then shoveled in and all over the coals was a rather thick cover of earth. This usually happened late in the evening and the following day the beans were ready and did those old war veterans eat beans? No, this editor was not in the civil war. His own father, and, later his step dad who was also a veteran, knew all about the bean hole. The step dad, however, did do the work of preparing a great pot of beans in the old army style for the benefit of the merry-makers one 4th of July some 57 years ago. We remember it rather well, because we had to drive a team all that day. the Fourth of July just hauling beans, and people, and ice and what ever else was wanted. Ah, for those good old days!

FARMERS CO-OPERATIVE TO HAVE ANOTHER MEETING APRIL 3, SATURDAY, 1 O'CLOCK

Because of the Red Cross rally last Saturday the meeting of the East Texas Farmers Co-Operative Association was postponed until Saturday, April 3, at 1 o'clock at court house. We are now buying chickens and eggs paying cash for them.

We hope every farmer in Tyler county will be present and join with us to get a cash market for all farm produce.

AN APPRECIATION

In our late bereavement of my husband and our father we take this method of thanking our friends for their many comforting expressions of sympathy and the beautiful floral offering. —Mrs. John B. Cruse and the Family.

Red Cross Saturday Harmonious Success

Tyler county people gathered on the court house lawn Saturday afternoon to hear Judge Beeman Strong speak and were keenly delighted when he ignored the loud speaker remarking "Didnt have these when I started out years ago and guess I'll not need it now."

"If you can't hear me, tell me and I'll use it." He made a splendid talk nothing new but brought to our minds things that we already know, but chose to forget and neglect, just taking the easiest way." France Poland and other countries did the same thing and Judge Strong cautioned us not to be so careless. Urging us to send ammunition and Red Cross help to keep the battle on foreign soil and stated that we could consider this help for keeping it there.

A. B. Smith, president of the Co-op, and county chairman of the Red Cross stated that these two organizations were sponsoring this rally and called on Rev. F. C. Boyd to lead in prayer. Mrs. H. B. Alexander led a couple of patriotic songs with Mrs. L. C. Rock at the piano. The Boy Scouts presented the flag and Scout Raymond Harrison led the crowd in repeating the pledge. Four high school girls presented a spectacle which was much appreciated by the expected chorus didn't get there, and they sang without a piano accompaniment which is doubly difficult out of doors.

Presentation of war stamp prizes were made by the Chapter to Miss A. N. Owens of Spurger, Miss Bill Sheffield of Spurger and Mrs. Clyde Williford of Warren, southeast Texas winners in the recent Farm Fighting for Victory contest sponsored by the Beaumont Enterprise and Journal.

The V F W. Red Cross workers and Girl Scouts were recognized by Mr. Smith. Mayor Walt Barclay was asked to present the cups to the local persons who had the highest per cent for attendance at drill and lighting fires, which were to Chief J. P. Miller, Floyd Dean Assistant Chief and Otis Best, Bertram F. B. Sullivan also received a certificate of attendance for the year 1942. Judge J. F. Wheat introduced Judge Strong.

Much fun was enjoyed when $200 was raised for Red Cross, on three large roosters. Hitler, Hirohito and something.

C. M. Davis got the roosters, $7.00 was raised on three fine chickens given by C. G. Edmund, who was out of town. R. Z. Lavender won Quail and Vicar MacArthur, in the form of a young Hereford bull, was won by Lester Young third and I did by $2.00 cash dollars to Commissioner Hopson which swelled the Red Cross War Fund to $7,400. This is still far below our quota of $4,700 so the past few days a special effort over the county has been put on. As we go to press it was impossible to get the final report.

TRIP TO NEW ORLEANS

Mrs. C. F. Meadows of Beaumont spent Sunday of last week with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Davis and planned a business trip to New Orleans. Mr. Davis celebrated his 79th birthday the 4th of March and this, his first visit to the old French City of which he had read so much, was a dream come true. Huey Long's bridge both there and at Baton Rouge, were a worthwhile sight, and coming home via Baton Rouge the visit to the state capitol added to his pleasure. They brought home a number of azaleas and camellias from Lafayette and of course their stop in that lovely city, at this time of the year is a treat, for we think it is one of the most lovely places on the Azalea Trail.

STREET IMPROVEMENT IN DOUCETTE

Have you been in Doucette lately? A great improvement is seen and enjoyed by car drivers. The street in front of the Long Bell store has been graded up even with the sidewalk. For many years if one parked a car there and attempted to get out on the sidewalk, the car door wouldn't open, and one had to go one way or the other to step up on it. Doucette looks a bit empty since the big fire and some three months ago the large warehouse belonging to J. H. Fain was torn down by a buyer from Houston and the lot upon which it

Please Don't Take Off My Jacket

Miss Belle Nations and Mrs. Fanye Tungate certainly put on a demonstration for Victory Gardens. The H&H store graciously allowed them a large window for display and it was a real treat to those who stopped to look, as well as informative. An Irish potato dressed up with a tiny black jacket carried the notice "please do not take off my jacket." Of course, it is known that the best of the potatoes is just under the skin and usually wasted. They plan to use this window each Saturday so be sure and look.

Secret Ballot Passed By Texas Legislature

Austin, March 3.—The Senate Monday finally passed, 18 to 6, Weaver Moore's bill to insure absolute secrecy of the ballot in Texas elections but which an opponent said would open the way to fradulent voting and the stealing of elections because of insufficient ballot identification.

Absenteeism was felt Monday when only 24 senators were present out of the 26 civilian members and 25 were needed to vote for the introduction of any bill of general importance.

Moore's secret ballot bill forbids election officials from marking identification names or numbers of the ballots and provides for a detachable number coupon to record the number of ballots voted and prevent ballot box stuffing. These separate coupons would be locked in a box deposited with the county clerk.

R. C. Lansing, Jackaboro, had an amendment adopted providing for hourly counting to prevent election officials from peeping into ballot boxes to ascertain how a certain person voted. The presiding judge would surrender a ballot box to the receiving judge every hour for counting purposes but the count would not be made public during the course of balloting.

Clay Cotton, Palestine, had an amendment adopted forbidding the use of persons related to candidates within the third degree as election judges in elections below state office except the presiding judge.

NEXT WAR BOARD DRIVE STARTS APRIL 13

Mr. Feagin and Judge Wheat urge that the bond salesman who calls on you is representing the United States government, and that he is entitled at least to an interview when he calls, as he is asking no favors but is merely urging his fellow citizens to invest their money in the best security in the world—the United States Government securities.

With $8,000,000,000 of the $13,000,000,000 goal allocated to non-banking investors, the burden of putting the second war loan drive over the top will rest squarely on there grass root investors.

FSA BRINGS TWO TRUCKLOADS OF CATTLE INTO COUNTY

Two truckloads of dairy cattle were received by Max M. Beasley, FSA supervisor, this week. These cattle, handled by the FSA as agents of the commodity credit corporation, are being bought in areas where there are too many cows on account of the labor shortage and redistributed to areas where there is a scarcity of cattle on account of the increased population. Much of the milk in Tyler county is being trucked to the defense plants daily.

These cattle will be sold to any one who wishes to buy a family cow, or to any of the small dairies in the county. They can not be sold to dealers or for slaughtering, as the agents decide that the cow is not a worthy dairy animal. The purchaser agrees that he will not sell or otherwise dispose of one of these cows within six months from the date he buys the cow without the corporation's written consent.

THE COST OF WAR

"Renegotiation of war contracts" is a heavy-sounding term, and newspaper readers in the sections of America where public interests are localized and largely agricultural may wonder how such a subject can concern them.

But since every taxpayer has a personal stake in any measure that increases government expense and adds to the public payroll, especially at a time when every dollar is needed for the war effort, then this question of contracts for equipment and supplies becomes vital to all.

"Renegotiation"

In the early days of lend-lease and of the huge task of mustering an armed force of millions of men, a few companies receiving fat orders saw in these government contracts only a new gold mine. To meet the relatively small number of abuses which were brought to light the last Congress passed a law requiring that all new and old Army, Navy and Maritime Commission contracts be written with a renegotiation clause, so that they could be reviewed in the search for cases where contractors were making too large a profit.

The law requires that the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission each employ a separate force of experts to examine all contracts for postings, machinery, tanks, airplanes, gun clothing and the thousand items making up the huge war budget. Their job is to find out what it cost to produce the articles, what is a reasonable profit, and then to recover all profits above that figure.

The task assigned were and hard. But at least it is certain it was not a case of letting big companies would be entitled to an honest profit.

Cotton, feed grains, and sweet potatoes grown under this year's Food for Freedom program were announced this week by the Texas USDA War Board.

Prices will be supported, if necessary, by the Food Distribution, at $1.15 per bushel during the harvesting season from August through November and at $1.30 per bushel during December and January, the board explained.

During February, March and April, 1944, the support price will be $1.45 per bushel.

According to the War Board, these prices apply to U. S. No. 1 sweet potatoes packed in crates, baskets or hampers F.O.B. carrier, in carload lots. For U. S. No. 2, sweet potatoes containing 75% or more U. S. No. 1 quality and size. The price support will be 15 cents per bushel below the U. S. No. 1 price.

The state goal under this year's war production program recently was increased to 90,000 acres, which is 15,000 acres more than the original goal announced in December.
