There Shall Be Peace

BY TOM TORNER
Editor, Every Week Magazine

AND there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shined about them, and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them: Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men of good will.—Luke 2: 8-14.

THIS is the message of Christmas, echoing from that little town of Bethlehem across twenty centuries of time to a war-torn world. From the shepherds, the inactive members of a conquered people, the message in comfort to millions who must exist in fear and suffering until the promise of Christmas is fulfilled.

CHRISTMAS, 1943, is different from other holidays we have known. Absent are the happy trips homeward, the usual restrictions about motor travel and crowded railroads, the joyous efforts to spending time and money to war zones. Missing, too, are many of the season's joys. Even the Christmas trees may be conspicuously absent in many localities.

But there are only the outward symbols of Christmas. The real Christmas is still here, multiplied a thousandfold by the unity of a nation of 90 nations, joined in battle against the foes of all that Christ and Christmas represent.

The real Christmas is faith—faith in God—be He the God of Christian, Jew, Mohammedan, Hindu or Buddhist. Faith in the privilege of worshipping Him freely, as conscience dictates.

The real Christmas is hope—hope for a future in which all men and all nations shall be free. Hope that the spirit of Christmas—giving, not getting—shall one day spread over the earth. A hope backed by determination to give all, even life itself, that it may be achieved.

The real Christmas is love—love of fellow man; the desire for friendship and co-operation with all peoples so that all may have equal opportunity, so that all may share in the happiness of God's peace; so that all may be free from fear and want, from hate and killing.

THIS is the promise of Christmas. There shall be peace—no lasting peace in which we hope, there shall be no room for envy, for hate, for fear. In which not even our enemies shall find cause to raise up another Hitler, another Mussolini or another Genghis.

There shall be peace—in all the world, when men turn from the way of death to the way of life; when men put truth and justice above greed and conquest.

There shall be peace—in our homes, when sons and daughters and husbands return; when factory wheels again are ready to make toys and gifts, not bombs and guns.

There shall be peace—in our hearts. For those who do not return, we will know at last they did not die in vain. For those who have been made the victims, the victors will be worthy the cost.

From a Jungle

By HERBERT JIMMY DOWTHERS

This letter from New Guinea was written by a young man who was captured by the Japanese in the jungle of New Guinea.

Many of you have written me asking for news of the boys in the jungle. I am glad to tell you that we are still here, but the situation is not as good as it once was.

We have been here for some time now, and the Japanese are trying to force us to work for them. They are very cruel and they are trying to starve us.

But we are still fighting. We are still here, and we are still fighting. We are still here, and we are still fighting.

Japs Start Piling
We have been here for some time now, and the Japanese are trying to force us to work for them.

On about I could hear somebody holler. "Come out and fight, you dirty yellow bastards!"

It was the captain of the company in that area. The fellow in front of me went head first into the bushes. He was hit. I headed him out to the path.

I started about five minutes ago. I was very tired and I was very hungry.

The Japanese are very cruel and they are trying to starve us. They are trying to force us to work for them.

We are still here, and we are still fighting. We are still here, and we are still fighting.

Christmas Eve
I don't like the business of war but sometimes I wonder the thoughts of home and of Christmas.

What We Shall Miss
I guess we're going to miss the brightly lit trees and holly decorated windows at Christmas.

Every one has a home town. I have a home town in New England. Each year the government gives the town brightly with Christmas decorations.

I don't like the business of war but sometimes I wonder the thoughts of home and of Christmas.

Bright Christmas Star

Once on the hills of Galilee,
A Star arose to guide the Three!
And they were Wise who followed for
The hope and promise of that Star!

And they were Wise and they were Three
Who sought the Child in Galilee,
They followed in the holy light,
That went before them shining bright!

Oh, blessed Star of Bethlehem
That rose to light the way for them,
Now may it on this glad day be
A Christmas Star for you and me!

STORY OF THE PILGRIMS

...and you know that among the first to come to America were the Pilgrims. They came in the first voyage of the Mayflower in 1620. They landed at Plymouth, Massachusetts, December 21, one day after Christmas. They were led by John Smith and his assistant, William Bradford. They were known as the Pilgrims because they had taken the long journey to the New World in search of a better life. They were persecuted in England and sought freedom in America. They were the first to plant corn and to build a permanent settlement. They were the first to establish a form of government. They were the first to give thanks for their blessings. They were the first to be called Americans.

PAUL REVERIE'S DOG

Dogs have always played a prominent part in the lives of the people of the United States. They are our friends, our companions, and our protectors. They are the most faithful of animals and the most loyal of friends. They are the most useful of animals and the most valuable of possessions. They are the most beloved of animals and the most cherished of friends. They are the most faithful of animals and the most loyal of friends.

...the dog was named Rover. He was a large, black dog with a white patch on his chest. He was the most faithful of animals and the most loyal of friends. He was the most useful of animals and the most valuable of possessions. He was the most beloved of animals and the most cherished of friends. He was the most faithful of animals and the most loyal of friends.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE ABOUT COFFEE?

Freshness? True enough. For a truly important, essential, and delicious quality that is blended into a fine coffee. Administration's robust, delightful fragrance is always pronounced when a package is opened. It is achieved by careful blending. This type of aroma that far outweighs another for richness and so on. Together, they produce the mellow, exquisite flavor you enjoy so much in Administration and in Administration alone. Moisture, varying temperatures, absorption of odors, handling, and delay from roasting oven to coffee pot—all cause deterioration in freshness. To prevent any such losses, Administration provides two strong, full-proof safeguards—Thermofilm Sealing and The Lamofilm Package.

ENJOY BEAUTY OF THE SEASON

BY OLAV HUNTINGTON

Some people have an impulse to look at Christmas things because of various reasons. Some are attracted when a beloved member of the family is missing from the first time of the season, or thinking "How have the money to spend on my mother?" Still others in this season of war, they think they are too weighed down by the coming, not only here but in the world, to have any heart for Christmas celebration. And last, are those who have a hand, or rather, some of a sweetheart away from home in the service, perhaps actually fighting another day.

For all of these I believe it is better to be merry and believe you will be better if you are merry. Christmas is a time when the world is full of joy and peace. It is a time when the world is full of joy and peace. It is a time when the world is full of joy and peace.

Christmas is a time when the world is full of joy and peace. It is a time when the world is full of joy and peace. It is a time when the world is full of joy and peace.

THE CHRISTMAS DINNER

Christmas dinner takes on added importance this year as boys come home on furlough to see their families and as students return home from school. The dinner must be the best the house can afford, and the guests are plentiful.
