THINK MBOBBIES

● Ever stop to think that the word American ends with I CAN?

● Fishing is a delightful activity surrounded by bugs and old clothes.—Don Marquis.

● Just think of it. Only 17 years ago Chas. Lindbergh was "all the world's hero." Today he is all but forgotten.—Ex

● When will Congress come alive to the fact that the word appropriating must, nowadays, perhaps be changed to "apportioning"?

● We just heard a startling piece of scandal — a true story about our town Bobbie Donnerly. He didn't get out with women or drink. Was almost four years old.

● They do say the new book, "The Problems of Living Together with Human Beings" and Hugh Calkins is selling at a rapid pace. Let's see, it being more or less a "self help" book, diversified social hour, etc. That it. We wonder if Calkins Herbert was excited about selling the books.

BAD FIRE DESTROYS HOME OF SOLDIER

Just before we go to press today Woodville was aroused by the fire siren and the boys from the fire were soon on the job. The home belonging to Harvey Foster (colored), who is in Uncle Sam's service, and wife is residing in Tyler and is employed by the Texas Eastern Refinery, was completely razed by the fire. Origin of fire is unknown. The Booster published part of the Woodville items and follows what has been turned since The Booster was mailed.

Courts Have Ruled---Vote Any Old Way

"The Courts have ruled that you may go to the polls Nov. 7th UN-BOUND by party pledges inasmuch as the pledge in the Democratic primary binds ONLY the nominees of the Primary Election, and you can vote for the Republican Electors who will in turn cast their votes for Thomas Dewey and John Bricker.

VOTE
'So Help Me God'

A number of persons have mentioned recently an editorial by Hollis Me God," published in the Oct. 6'00 Weekly and authored by Ray Le-Gette, publisher of that publication, as The Reporter is reproducing it.

I object to the blitzing son of El-mutope Field in Texas, Earl Mountcastle and watched the rabbits fly by, fine sandy chaps, watched them some also the hall in which they were to receive their wings as commissioned officers in the United States Army Air Forces. My third and last boy, a lad of 19, was among them.

"Two years ago the mother and I had seen a similar group file into the chapel at Ellington to receive their wings, and our second boy was among them. Today he and his elder brother, who had chosen Navy, are memories, precious memories, to be sure, but boys to be spoken of in hushed tones as boys who would have made good citizens, two boys whose memories will never be dimmed in the eyes of their father and mother. They, with thousands of others have made the supreme sacrifice for America as they knew it and loved it.

"Then Monday we heard again the prospective officers take the oath necessary to their commissions, 'I do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic, that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter: SO HELP ME GOD.'

"For a moment my thoughts drifted from the soil whose buried body lies somewhere in France and from the other son who lies in native soil.

"Our forefathers who wrote the Constitution knew that they were giving to future generations a document so precious that it would be worth the loss of American lives to preserve . . . and they knew that there would arise enemies to it, domestic as well as foreign.

"There I stood went back to a time nearly three years ago when my two boys volunteered, and the pledge I made then.

"To the best of my meagre ability I shall do all I can to defend against foes at home, the institutions you boys have enlisted to uphold . . . and I shall do that without fear of sacrifice if it costs me everything I have. So help me God.'

"It was not necessary that I pledge, those my fullest efforts to help prosecute the war . . . they could have expected no less of me as an American and a father.

"The casualty lists bring the country many thousands of parents whose boys have been lost and whose sons are as precious to them as mine were to me. I claim no distinction as the parent of boys who have died in the service. I can only claim to be among those to whom this war is a deadly serious thing, and I wish my claim to be listed among those who regret with every atom of their being the efforts which are being made by the Hillmans, the Browders, the Murrays and others, including our president, to nullify the sacrifices of thousands of American boys.

"As I heard the oath to defend the Constitution repeated by the young men at Ellington Field, I could not but remember the remarks which have been made about it by Americans of foreign birth who would seek to destroy it . . . 'A scrap of paper . . . an outmoded document . . . a bill of property rights rather than a bill of human rights.' And these are the men who are asking that we trust our country to them.

"The situation under which the communist front in America is trying to wield control over our country through the capture of one of our great political parties, is so preposterous as to be almost incredible. But make no mistake—the threat is a real one. That a Russian-born radical, with all of the class hate of his native land should aspire to control this country is so fantastic that many cannot believe it. But it is true.

"That he and his fellows have openly boasted that their organization, the CIO, is raising millions as a war chest to help keep Roosevelt in power, indicates a blatant confidence in their victory. That this money should be extracted from hundreds of thousands of members whose membership was forced on them, is a disgrace. That they get away with it is a shameful tribute to the close association they have with our Department of Justice.

"Who was it who climbed the stairs, hat in hand, to Hillman's suite in a Chicago hotel to learn the wishes of the boss as to who would be Democratic candidate for the vice presidency? It was our United States Department of Justice heads—the man sworn to uphold our laws including the Smith-Connally act which makes it a felony for a labor party, or a corporation, to contribute to a political party? Yes, it was Atty Gen. Biddle, and the man with him was the person who later was named by Hillman as the Democratic vice presidential nominee, Harry Truman.

With Hillman and Browder and their ilk as arrogant as they are now, what will their attitude be if they succeed in re-electing Franklin D. Roosevelt? Where will their power end? What will happen to the rights guaranteed under our Constitution? If our interests should ultimately clash with those of Russia, will these men make up their minds as to where their first loyalty shall lie? If England's interests clash with those of Russia, will our country's armed forces be thrown against a nation whose kinship to us derives from a common parenthood?

"This is a long way from the ceremony at Ellington last Monday. The field has widened until the lives of a large group of fine boys seem but a drop in the great ocean.

"But it is not a long way from the pledge I made my boys."

I will vote against the radical Communist who style themselves the NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS—SO HELP ME GOD.
