LONG DISTANCE CALLS

He has thousands of essential calls to deliver this Christmas

Many are back. Expect important calls to their old homes for the happy Holiday Season. We only wish this year that we might be doing the same thing again, but areas of demand for the carrying of arms, fuel, their equipment and material will preclude most of this usual civilian travel.

But there's still a long way to go. When the war comes to a victorious climax, to be able to take back to their homes, every thousands will be patriotically serving the country. The men and women in all departments of the "D.P.C." of this time, need to you a message with "Merry Christmas and a speedy return of your loved ones."
