HOW ABOUT IT, MR. BYRNES?

Hardly has the whiskey distilling industry entered upon its second 30-day holiday from the production of war alcohol than the rumor is spread that another vacation is in prospect for April. This is unbelievable, almost fantastic, in the face of the situation repeatedly described by War Mobilizer Byrnes. Are manpower, materials, and transportation facilities to be diverted from the war effort for the manufacture of a non-essential?

AMERICAN ETHNOGRAPHICAL MUSEUM

The special exhibit of American ethnology, which was held at the University of California, Berkeley, from 1907 to 1910, is now on display at the museum. The exhibit is a collection of ethnological objects, including tools, weapons, clothing, and other artifacts, which were collected by American explorers and missionaries in the various parts of the United States and Mexico. The exhibit is arranged in a series of cases, which are labeled with the names of the collectors and the regions from which the objects were obtained. The exhibit is a valuable record of the material culture of the American Indians and is of great interest to students of anthropology and ethnology.
