CARIBBEAN CONSPIRACY

By BRENDA CONRAD

You do look a little different, Miss Howard," he said, looking at her. "What I was about to say is, if you will, I'd like to see you. I'd like to see you in person."

She looked at him for a moment, then she smiled. "I'd like to see you, too. I'd like to see you in person."

He looked at her for a moment, then he smiled. "I'd like to see you, too. I'd like to see you in person."

The man in the doorway.

Wouldn't Die

Col. Robert H. Hays, 39, of the 101st Airborne Division, who was captured by the Japanese in the Philippines in 1942, is reported to have survived the ordeal. He was taken to a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines and was held there for several years. He was eventually released and returned to the United States in 1945. He is now a resident of Woodville, Texas.
