WOODVILLE, TEXAS, OCTOBER 14, 1918.

Over the next few months millions of service men will be returning from foreign battlefronts. Other millions will be mustered out of U. S. Army camps. Until the last of them is home the railroads of America cannot consider their war job finished.

Home—the haven which has sustained our fighting men through three and a half bitter years is within sight. It is our obligation to do everything within our power to speed that homeward.

America is vast and it will take thousands of trains to deliver these men to their destinations, wattered across the breadth of a continent. Thousands of Pullmans and hospital cars will be needed, too, to carry America's wounded in comfort. This is work which cannot wait.

We of Southern Pacific feel that this will be the most pleasant phase of a long and difficult war job. We feel sure you will agree, too, that we should devote every effort to its completion. So if you will find it difficult to secure the accommodations desired when traveling please be patient a little longer until we can with clear conscience say—"Our war job is done."

Now... TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT for Peace!

Telephone equipment is getting into the hands of peace-loving people. Thousands of men and women in these far-flung areas have turned from making calls and waiting for the telephone to make telephone equipment. It is a change that means that telephone people have a more direct and better progress in making the telephone service. The leading job of the telephone is to connect them in working parts of the telephone system. But the good news is that we are working as hard as we can to get it done in a hurry.

Remember?

It was a long time ago, you were just a youngster, when you watched your first Southern Pacific train go by. Remember? Remember the lonely sound of the whistle way off in the distance, the first exciting glimpse of the cow-catcher rounding the bend, the engineer's friendly wave and then the endless chain of cars that clinked-clanked gradually off toward the distant horizon?

These reservations at present, but keep in touch with us, we may be able to take care of you later. It's the sort of friendship you feel when S. P. conductors on crowded trains interrupt their exacting work to try in many small ways to make the trip more comfortable for those who must travel. Though war traffic is taxing every facility today, we are still trying to give essential travelers the kind of friendly service that will make them look forward to the day when they can travel more surely, pleasantly on the Southern Pacific.

QUICK TRICKS

THAT WORK LIKE MAGIC TO IMPROVE YOUR LIGHTING

Keep bulbs, bowls and protruding glasses clean. You'll be surprised how much more light your bulbs will give you by washing them, bowls and protruding glasses you can get up to 50% more available light. Wash your glass lamp bulbs with soap and water and the next bulbs and bowls are dry before reinserting.

Brush or clean lamp shades regularly. If lamp shades are soiled, they reflect much less light than when clean. Clean or brush lamp shades regularly. If they are too dark or soiled, clean them with a brush. Wash them with soap and water.

Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs. Bulbs that have turned black with age rob you of light. Replace them with bright, new bulbs of light size and you'll get a big increase in light. Use full-wattage bulbs, not less than 40-watt ones.

4 NOW 2 POINTS FOR USED FATS

Help Increase Supplies of Soap and Other Peacetime Products By Saving More Used Fats

Industrial fats far short of last year! We are almost down to the bottom of the barrel. The nation's industrial fat supply is millions of pounds less than it was in 1944. We need fully as much as last year to help make the soaps and other civilian goods you want and need so badly.

If you want more soap and soap flakes... if you're dreaming of nylons, sheets, cotton fabrics and want them to hurry back to the store counters... you can help by saving those used kitchen fats as you never saved before! Save every drop, every day!

These fats are vitally necessary to help speed greater supplies of soaps and hundreds of other things—like new cars, electric washers, irons, refrigerators and tires. Industry must have these fats... to help get to you more quickly the peacetime products you've been longing to have for years!

As soon as you scrape and scoop just as you did... helpfully before V-J Day. To prove how easy it is to save, government has now put...
