IT'S A GREAT TEAM

Side by side they work, Rouss, Guiseppe, Lars and John—all part of the Big Southern Pacific family. These fathers came from different parts of the world, spoke different languages, yet their Americanism has made them a team.

Each did a job in service, each gave generously of his time to help War Relief drives and other civilian war effort, and each gave an extra measure of himself to his war-time job of helping Southern Pacific accomplish the transportation needs of all time.

These are typical of the men and women who are working together as a team toward one goal—providing for their country the best facilities, the most dependable transportation in the world.

They contribute the best of every race, color and creed. It is welded into a splendid spirit of teamwork—pride in being a Southerner, a Pacifican, and a member of the Big Southern Pacific family.

These are the folks who make up the Southern Pacific family—and they're a great team!

What is Adequate Wiring?

Adequate wiring simply means a service entrance large enough to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time, through branch circuits of large enough wire to conduct a full measure of electrical energy to your lights and appliances, plus plenty of outlets and switches properly located. Adequate wiring is the key to better electrical living.
