

ADD CROSS HOME NURSING HOW HANDY ARE YOUR HANDS?

When your sick family member is lying on her back do you hold her upright, thrust a couple of pillows behind her back, and see her slouch in the most uncomfortable position for her? Do you hastily make a makeshift bed from a cardboard box and place the pillows against it so that she will be temporarily supported? Do you feel a little sorry for her?

Remember that the Red Cross is offering a course in home nursing. It is a course that will help you to care for your sick family member in the most comfortable and efficient manner. It is a course that will help you to care for your sick family member in the most comfortable and efficient manner.

Why 70 Woodville People Are Waiting For Telephones

THE REASON IS that it has not been possible to manufacture and install equipment fast enough to keep up with the biggest demand for telephones in Woodville's history—despite the most active construction program we've ever undertaken.

On V. J. Day 34 people in Woodville were on the telephone waiting list—a backlog equal to three years of pre-war growth.

Since then we have gained 11,151 telephones in Woodville. We have installed as many telephones since V. J. Day as we did in an average year between 1935 and 1940.

Yet today, 70 people here still do not have service. Many of them are people who were waiting on V. J. Day.

ONE BIG REASON for this is the vast number of new applications. Many of them are from returning servicemen who, as heads of families, are entitled to preference. As also are people whose service qualifies as essential to the health, welfare and security of the community. As lines and equipment become available in a central office, all other applications are filled in the order in which they are received.

WE ARE HARD AT WORK on an expansion program to enlarge the telephone system here; to put in the switchboards, the cable, the wires and all the other things needed to make service available to those who want it. The job is so big that it takes time.

In the meantime, we are doing everything possible to enlarge the telephone system here to serve the maximum number of people. We are installing new residence connections to partly lines—we are loading the system beyond capacity for which it was engineered—and are resorting to emergency temporary measures, wherever possible, to install additional telephone equipment ahead of schedule.

Much as we'd like to, we can't tell most people waiting for service just when it will be possible to connect their telephones.

WE ARE HARD AT WORK. We are doing everything we can to furnish telephone service at the earliest possible moment to all who are waiting. If there is anything we can do to make our program faster, we shall do it.

You can't fit a size 6 1/2 hat on a size 7 1/2 head and you can't get full-measure electric service from home wiring that's too small

The flexibility of any home wiring depends on a large extent upon its wiring system. It must be big enough for the job.

Writing that in too small drops voltage and causes lights to dim and appliances to operate inefficiently. Frequently results in blown fuses due to overload. An overloaded circuit is a fire hazard and causes the use of an slightly inadequate extension cord and limits the use of additional appliances.

If you plan to build, buy or remodel a home, we will help you check the wiring system. Make sure it has the capacity to give you full-measure service for your vision of electrical living. Don't let yourself be handicapped by "kinky" wiring.

What Is Adequate Wiring?

Adequate wiring simply means a service entrance large enough to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time, enough branch circuits of large enough wire to conduct a full measure of electrical energy to your lights and appliances, plus plenty of switches and outlets properly located for maximum convenience.
