ONE DOWN - TWO TO GROW

Woody has found a new automatic tree planter in East Texas - the "seed tree".

Seed trees, if enough of them are left following a timber harvest, will plant tomorrow's dollars for groceries, shoes, taxes, etc.

You should never permit your land to be cut down of all trees.

At least five to ten good, healthy full-topped trees per acre. If location more in diameter, should be left on each acre after harvesting. They will produce the seed for growing your new forest. Later, after this first harvesting, you will not have to do any more work.
