JUDGE MOONEY FAVORS HIRING COUNTY AUDITOR

Postal Receipts Up $19,000 In Past Year

Postal receipts at the Woodville post office for the calendar year ending Dec. 31 increased $19,094 over the total receipts for the calendar year ending Dec. 31, 1962, according to H. M. Durham, postmaster.

Total receipts for the calendar year 1963 were $57,666 as compared with $38,572 for the calendar year 1962.

The post office operates on a fiscal year ending June 30. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1963, postal receipts here had increased from $38,455 to $47,480 over the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962. This was an increase of $9,025.

The healthy increase during the calendar year 1963 reflects the growing volume of mail originating through the post office here. Postal receipts include all receipts for postage, money order fees, mail permits, etc.

Commissioners Don't Go For Suggestion

A proposal by County Judge Jeff R. Mooney that the county hire a full-time auditor was one of the items discussed at the regular January meeting of the Tyler County Commissioners Court Monday.

This being the first meeting of the new year, the commissioners set the salaries of all elective and appointive officers at the court house. In both instances, wages and salaries will remain the same as for the past year.

Other matters discussed were airport maintenance, enforcement of the stock law, hiring of a part-time helper at the Allan Shivers Library, and maintenance contract for the county's typewriters and other office machines.

The court voted to hire Miss Effie Jordan, who has been employed as librarian since the county library started, as part-time helper at the Shivers library for six hours weekly.

The question of maintenance of the county airport was discussed, but no action was taken at this meeting.

Commissioner H. A. Crews, in the discussion of enforcement of the stock law, expressed the opinion that the county could not afford to keep a range ride at $4800 a year.

The commissioners decided to defer action pending a study of the problem.

The commissioners court approved the continuance of Tyler County's participation in the Multi-County Bookmobile with Hardin and Polk Counties for the next year. It was pointed out that Tyler County paid the least ($1900 a year) and the library headquarters were here.

Each office holder and commissioner was requested to have an inventory of all county equipment in each office and in each precinct warehouse made and filed with the county by April 1. Each commissioner is to have on file the number of miles of road maintained and number of bridges serviced.

Judge Mooney called attention to an article in the Capital Tax Letter relating to the illegality of using county equipment on private property. The commissioners voted to publicize this once again so that no one will expect the commissioners to do any work on private property in violation of the law.

The question of equalization of county property valuations was discussed, but no definite action taken at this meeting.

On the question of hiring an auditor full time, the commissioners voted to stay with the contract method, and just hiring an auditor when needed.

The court entered into a contract with A. King Accountants in January 1963 to audit the books for 1962 and to set up a bookkeeping system in each of the county offices.

This audit was made and the bookkeeping system installed. Judge Mooney said that he felt a full-time auditor would save the county money. He said that an auditor is required in a county with $15 million or more valuation. Tyler County Continued on page three

TYLER COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE GIVES ANNUAL REPORT OF WORK, SHOWS PROGRESS

The annual report of the Tyler County Extension Service has been made for 1963 by Mrs. Maurine Mooney, county home demonstration agent, and Clinton Currie, the agricultural agent.

The report is enlightening on the excellent work being done in the county by the Extension office, and is published here as a public service:

The following is Laurann Jordan's Spurger 4-H Club opinion of 4-H Club work:

"It is hard to say exactly what 4-H means to me because it means so much. There are so many wonderful people and activities connected with 4-H that to put into words what one feels about such an organization.

I've found that many people do not know what 4-H is and seemingly don't care. They say, 'Oh, it's a boy raising a calf, or a girl making a dress or a member keeping record books, going to camp, or putting up an exhibit!

Yes, 4-H is all of these things and more. Yet it is none of these things. 4-H is people—boys and girls. It is the development of boys and girls into capable, well-adjusted individuals who will someday be the leaders of our communities, states, and nations.

The things we learn in 4-H give us a head start in this old world. We learn to use to the ultimate what we have.

The 4-H stands for HEAD, HEART, HANDS, AND HEALTH. In our program we are taught to train each in the way they will help us most.

Our Adult Leaders and County Extension Agents help us in training our Heads for the power it will give us to think, to plan and to reason. They help in the training of our Hearts for the nobleness it will give us to become kind, sympathetic, and true. They help in the training of our Hands for the strength it gives us to enjoy life, to resist disease, and to work efficiently. They help in the training of our Heads for the helpfulness, usefulness, and skill they can give us.

4-H gives us the opportunity to become useful citizens of our community, State and Country. If 4-H taught us no more it would be a wonderful organization for its teachings of citizenship alone.

The lifeblood of America is in the hands of its youth—the boys and girls who are devoting their lives to caring for the flocks of sheep, the herds of goats, corn and wheat fields, gardens, poultry, orchards, and the home.

The hope of the world is the hope of the youth and today 4-H is helping to mold our world's future."

Five Tyler County 4-H Club boys received 50 broilers from Billy Mitchell, Woodville, to caponize and raise. These were to be exhibited in the South East Texas State Fair in Beaumont. At the time of showing these capons were 9 months and 3 days old and averaged 13 to 15 pounds in weight.

The 15 capons shown by the following boys brought a total of $410.00, Jerry Thornton, Woodville, Grand Champion pen, sold to Olsen Shows for $175.00, Jackie Ogden, Colmesnell, Reserve Champion pen, sold to Gulf States Utilities for $75.00, Stephen Gardner, Woodville, third place, sold to Porter Reed Oil Co. for $50.00, Randy Hickman, Chester, 4th place, sold to United Gas Co. for $50.00, Claude Gulley, Chester, 5th place sold to Moncla's Restaurant for $60.00.

CLOTHING

4-H club members were given training in Choosing School Clothes, Colors in Clothes and Becoming Colors, Good Grooming, Wardrobe Planning, and construction in 1963.

Donna Scott, Spurger, won the County Dress Revue and placed third in District Dress Revue. She also entered the Dress Revue in South East Texas State Fair in Beaumont and won second place in the School Dress Division. Laurann Jordan also entered this in Best Dress.

4-H Club members and Home Demonstration sponsored the showing of the National Cotton Council Wardrobe to approximately 750 people through out the County in October.

FOODS & NUTRITION

Amanda Haralson, Colmesnell won District Contest in Favorite Food Show Fruit and Vegetable Group. She represented Tyler County in State Contest and won a Blue Ribbon. Her father says, "Much of her poise and interest in family and community life is attributed to training received in 4-H."

Nutrition education in the first grade is being extended through the sponsorship of Tyler County Foods and Nutrition Committee of County Program Building Committee. This includes four first grades in Woodville, two in Warren, one in Spurger, and one in Fred school. Each teacher is given help by the Home Demonstration Agent and in one instance by 4-H club members. The means of teaching has been through regular class subjects—reading, science, writing, art, recreation, rest periods and luncheon periods. The purpose is to teach better food habits to the young.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT

Colmesnell Community has completed their third year in the Community Improvement Program sponsored by Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Utility Companies of Texas. Mrs. John Sturrock has served as chairman for two years and H.A. Crews as chairman for one year. During this time, they won second, third and first places and a cash award each year. They believe that this is "one of the finest programs sponsored by the Extension Service." They say, "It is a program that each member of every family in a community can be reached and helped in some way." People who work together are a happier group. There has been a task for everyone who was willing to cooperate and participate. They feel that the honor received was great, but the lasting benefit is in the change and improvement in the community and its people.

COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION COUNCIL

Tyler County Home Demonstration Council met eleven times in 1963 with a total attendance of 212. This included three special meetings when visitors were present. All clubs were represented at every meeting with one exception. One member of Council has had a perfect attendance record for four years—Mrs. John Sturrock of Colmesnell. One new club was organized in Woodville in 1963 with ten members. Hillster club was combined with Harmony and changed to a night meeting. Three delegates attended State THDA meeting in San Antonio. Twelve members attended District Training meeting in Nacogdoches in January. Members attending and belonging to the Home Demonstration clubs range in age from 18 to 78. An exhibit was placed in the South East Texas Fair and won a Blue Ribbon. The title was "Do You Hold The Keys To Better Baking?" and won a cash award of $89.06.

COUNCIL sponsored a County Cleaning Equipment Workshop, Recreation Workshop, County Style Shows, THDA Workshop, County Christmas Program, Parliamentary Training, Slide presentation of "Life of Christ in Art," Club and Council Officer Training Workshop.

POULTRY

Tyler County poultry farmers produced about 5,000,000 broilers during 1963 according to the Agricultural Study Group of the Program Building Committee. The County Agricultural Agent met with the feed dealers in offering his help to work with the broiler producers. The dealers have welcomed the help in management training of their producers. There are many improved management practices which the producers could carry out to increase their profits. In order to remain competitive the producers will have to keep pace with technological developments.

TRUCK CROPS

According to the Agricultural Study Group there are approximately 50 Truck Farmers in Tyler County. The demand for fresh vegetables is increasing, yet the number of truck farmers are getting fewer. This County Agricultural Agent spent 43 days working with the farmers on truck crops and horticulture problems during the year. The past year was a very hard year with the farmers due to the lack of moisture.

PASTURES

The Agricultural Agent supervised 10 soil fertility demonstrations on pastures during the year. It has been proven where a farmer follows a soil test recommendation the economic returns will be greater.

BEEF CATTLE

The beef Cattle Industry continues to be the leading source of income for the farmers and ranchers of Tyler County. The amount of land in woodland pastures increased from 48,360 acres in 1945 to 116,808 acres in 1959. Crop land harvested decreased from 18,320 acres in 1940 to 4,151 acres in 1959.

According to the Agricultural Study Group, of the Tyler County Program Building Committee, there are approximately 12,000 head of beef mother cows in the county. Tyler County has approximately 31,000 acres of open pasture land, and approximately 300,000 acres of woodland that is used for pasturing cattle. The carrying capacity of open pastures is approximately 1 animal unit to 5 acres. The carrying capacity of woodland is about 1 animal unit to 40-50 acres. Mr. Bob Stone of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station along with the County Agricultural Agent continued to conduct 12 demonstrations on record keeping of the beef cattle enterprise in Tyler County. Demonstrations were given on the control of external and internal parasites of livestock. The County Agricultural Agent conducted four meetings with the committee members of the Screwworm Eradication Program and six meetings with the 4-H Clubs on the eradication of the screwworm. The people of Tyler County contributed a total of $1,716.00 to the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation for the eradication of the screwworm. There has not been any cases of screwworms reported from Tyler County this past year. Five cases of non-screwworms was sent in from the county. Five meetings were conducted on feeding and wintering of beef cattle with the adult farmers. Articles were published in the weekly newspapers on the cheapest feed the farmers and ranchers could winter their cattle on. The pastures were below average in 1963 due to the lack of moisture. Many of the farmers creep fed their calves so they could get heavier calves and wean them off the cows earlier so as not to draw the mother cow down going into the winter. Four Tyler County 4-H Club boys entered the Houston Fat Stock Show Calf Scramble. Charles Bandy and Larry Seaman, members of the Colmesnell 4-H Club, entered the beef cattle scramble Friday night, March 1, 1963, but neither boy caught. Leonard Wardlaw and Kay Thornton, members of the Woodville 4-H Club, entered the dairy calf scramble Saturday morning, March 2, 1963. Leonard Wardlaw was the only one to catch a calf. Leonard and his father and the County Agricultural Agent attended the Brown Swiss Heifer sale at College Station March 23, 1963. At this sale Leonard bought a heifer for $220.00 of which he had a $200.00 certificate. Leonard has done a very good job in developing his heifer, and he will carry his heifer back to show in the Houston Livestock Show February 4, 1964.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

BY CLINTON CURRIE

A subject that is most neglected or least understood by broiler growers and broiler service personnel is management, according to C. B. Ryan, Professor of Poultry Science at Texas A&M University. He says that you can't expect broilers to live and be profitable if they have been abused. In many cases the breeder and feed manufacturer are blamed for problems that have developed because proper attention hasn't been given to management. The broiler operation must be started with healthy, well bred chicks, Ryan says, but you can't expect them to live and be profitable if they are abused. Included in the list of "Broiler Husbandry Practices that Count," which Ryan stresses for a profitable enterprise are: a good clean house with clean equipment; ample floor space for the birds; adequate feed and water space; ample supply of good water; adequate heating and ventilating equipment; lights to stimulate growth; and a sound vaccination program. Your success as a broiler grower may well depend upon your understanding and use of the broiler husbandry practices that count, Ryan concludes.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

BY MAURINE MOONEY

Remember those nostalgic childhood days when the whole family gathered 'round the dining room table for a rousing game of cards? Those were the good old days when we didn't talk about "togetherness"—we had it, in spades! An exciting game of Hearts, Fan Tan or Michigan was everyone's delight and all that was needed to complete a perfect family evening of fun was a panful of hot and buttered popcorn. Why not introduce your own youngsters one of these long winter evenings to some of that old fashioned family fun? Card playing is real family entertainment that gives youngsters fundamentals of arithmetic, good manners and fair play. And a deck of playing cards is a common denominator of fun for young and old alike to test test their wits and luck. A new booklet, "Family Fun With Card Games," published by the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers, will jog your memory with rules and pointers of play for six of the best-loved family card games. In its pages you'll find rules for such favorites as Fan Tan, Hearts, Michigan, Concentration, Red Dog and Oh Pahaw. Do you consider yourself the unlucky cardholder of the family? Then Hearts is the game for you because a hand containing numerous low cards usually wins. Would you like for your youngsters to learn how to play "Oh Pahaw"? Teach them to play "Oh Pahaw" which card experts call a wonderful "stepping stone" to Bridge since it employs many of Bridge's features. Want to improve your youngsters' memory? Concentration is a memory game and the dismaying fact for grownups is that the small fry are unusually good at the game. In fact, it is difficult to beat the youngsters at this simple game because they are more attentive to the location of the cards. If you have any children who are good at arithmetic, they should do well playing "Red Dog." It will test their skill. All of these games can be played with a standard 52-card deck. Michigan, perhaps the best family favorite, also requires the Ace of Hearts, King of Clubs, Queen of Diamonds, and Jack of Spades from a second deck to form a "boodle." So if your family card games have been limited recently to Canasta or Rummy, this is a booklet you should have. Call the county home demonstration agent.

BY MAURINE MOONEY

basic breakfast plan of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and eggs can be varied by using different frozen fruits and fruit juices. Frozen food offers a wide selection of frozen hot breads—such as muffins, French toast, waffles, pancakes or coffee-cakes. These frozen bakery products are unusually useful where the work or school schedules of different members of the family makes one breakfast time impractical. No one need eat warmed-over fare from earlier servings. Some of these are crisped in the toaster—others may be placed on foil to heat in the oven as each person is ready for them. Lunch, whether eaten at home at school or at work, is basically a sandwich and salad or soup affair. The freshness and bright colors of frozen fruits and vegetables makes them ideal for a variety of salads; portioned patties of meat and cooked meat slices frozen with gravy and the frozen cooked seafood fillets make delicious protein-rich hot sandwiches. Frozen condensed soups especially are well liked because of their rich fresh-made flavor. Dinner time is family time, and should be relaxed and pleasant. Variety and change are most important in the dinner menu, and nutritionists suggest including a new dish or two in the menu each week—in addition to new variations in preparing or serving old favorites. Offering different vegetables is probably the easiest way to supply variety—there are so many different vegetables from which to choose, and dozens of ways to serve each one. Frozen food packers have recently introduced a variety of seasoned and sauced frozen vegetables as well as new vegetable combinations. Why, the National Association of Frozen Food Packers tell us you could serve a different frozen vegetable product each night for at least three months without once repeating. A tentative food plan and shopping list for the week ahead helps you stay within your budget and go through the week without missing important nutrients. Frozen foods enable you to buy for a week or even a month in advance. And don't forget to consider the supply of food for unexpected guests. It is wise to keep on hand in the freezer at all times for quick preparation to include guests. A selection of frozen desserts to offer afternoon drop-ins is a good idea, too. HOW WELL ARE YOU PREPARED FOR EMERGENCY?
How well are you prepared to meet an emergency? Could your family survive in case of a natural or man-made disaster?
The answers to these questions are vital to all Americans today and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has two new bulletins that will aid you in preparing for such emergencies should they occur.
"Family Survival Plan," MP-666 and "Emergency Food and Water," MP-665, may be obtained from your local county agricultural agent or the Agricultural Information Department, College Station.
The "Family Survival Plan" says that planning is important to the family's safety and says that plans should include provisions for an adequate supply of food and water and medical supplies. The plan should also inform members of the family of their responsibilities in case of an emergency and should provide for continuing study and training to better prepare them for any possibility.
Included in the bulletin is information on how the community will be warned, and a chart of what duties each family member should assume during an emergency. Shelter plans, protection factors, and shelter supplies and equipment are also considered.
"Emergency Food and Water" suggests that a 14-day supply of food be provided for big disasters or just the unexpected visit of guests for dinner. The bulletin discusses radiation effects, decontamination, storage methods, special foods, foods for infants and other factors concerning provisions for an emergency. Examples of food and water in emergencies are also given.
Preparation for disasters must be made before the need arises and these bulletins can help you get ready. Get a copy of them soon, before you need them.

STRIKE AND SPARE

By LARRY WILKINSON

The league leading Mill Masters' game win over Rainbo-Bread was in the spotlight in the Pineywoods League. The Machinists got plenty of mileage from Harold Pryor 510, Luke Norton 531, Noel Adams 201-536, and Gilbert Wright, 563. The Bread men were topped by Jimmy Hurton 536, and Luther Scoggins 508. Jarrotts Drug and Ferrell's Ole Pros fought to a draw in a real battle royal. I. D. Vinson tops for Jarrotts' with a 203-542, but had plenty of help from Smiley Burgess 528, Dallas Pally 521, Jeff Rhodes 202-516, and J. W. Reid a 226 game. Ferrell's also had a long list of contributors. Milton Durham belted a 201-201-589 for a 685 with handicap. This was tops for the season, but due to a league rule Mr. Durham will not be eligible, good rolling way-way. Helping Mr. Durham, were B. J. Vardeman 201-639, Buddy Greenwood 522, and A. L. Ferrell a 208 game. Title Insurers paced by Robert Sutton 224-568 and David Pate 534 swept 4 from Rod and Reel John's Restaurant won 4 from Tyler County Survey with the spark provided by Jimmy Brown 516, John Smitley 503, and Tom Best, a 219 game. Opposition was provided by Billy Martin 532 and Walter Stanford 502. Air Control led by Leroy Teson 470, and Joe V. Ramsey 462, split with Ogden Chevrolet paced by Charles Owens 514 and Steve Phillips. The Gutten won 4 from the 4 Ace's in the Friday night couples league, R. L. Stephens, who has a 130 average, bowled a 492 Billy Martin was top Ace with a 531 series. The Joker's and the Goofers fought to a draw. The Joker's roared from behind with Josie Reid 227-547 series and J. W. Reid 231-580. Action was, once more up to par in the Pin Splitters League Chester State Bank knocked off Clemmons Insurance with a 3 to 1 win despite a 202-544 by Letty Robinson. Tyler County Motor Co. and Josie Reid 547, won 3 from Air Control. Rainey Insurance Co. Warren led by Beverly Cole 478 won 4 from Tolar's Washateria. Woodville Electric Co. won 3 from Woodville Florist in a Dogwood League clash, Thursday night. The Electricians were paced by Letty Robinson 521 and Odessa Best 470. The Tosettes paced by Annie Ramsey 476 split with Howard Motor Co. Stephens Lumber Co. and John's Restaurant also divided 4 games. The following women are worthy of mention for picking up one or more of those seemingly impossible splits: Margaret Platt, Harriett Struts, Elise Harvey, Jo Burgess, Letty Robinson, Mary Louise Mann, and Violet Vinson.

BUCS BEAT WARRIORS

The East Chambers Bucs won two games from the Warren Warriors. The Bucs boys team led by Pat Grivich who scored 17 points waltzed by the Warriors to the tune of 56-36. The Warriors played a close to the vest game and at the half the score was Bucs 32 Warriors 17. The Warriors, however never gave up. Don Fry had 11 points for Warren and George Pate, 10 points. The Lady Bucs edged their counterpart Warriors to the tune of 37-33. This was an extremely hard fought game. Annie Faye Smith was once again outstanding for Warren with 19 markers. The Warriors jumped to an 8 to 5 first quarter lead but the Bucs stormed back to score 18 points and led at the half 23-17. The Warriors closed the gap to 1 point but could not sink the go ahead point. Charlotte Ruggles and Teri Daniels each scored 7 points for Warren and Bobbie Freeman, Judy McIntins, and Lucille Cravey did a fine defensive job. Oh well better Luck Next Time.

SPORTS BEACON BY LARRY WILKINSON

If your Saturday nights seem dull it's the writers suggestion that you consult your paper and see if the Lamar Cardinals are in Beaumont. The Cards boast a flashy fast break and a zone press defense that is hard to cope with. Corner man Richard Smith is the top hand and sports a 17 point plus average. Center Don Bryson is next with a 16 point average. Guard Don Heller is a fine ball handler and averages 15 points. Postman Jerry Parker is also a threat inside or outside and is in the double figures at 11 points. The remaining starter is one that Tyler County is familiar with, Wee Willie Wilson. Willie has been starting all season and averages around 8 points. Willie's high game of the year was 22 points against Abilene Christian. During the Holidays he was stricken by the flu bug. As a result, he was replaced by T. Nelson Bruce for the past few games. Willie should be back soon in his old place. Next Saturday the Cards meet the University of Southern Mississippi.
