Eagles Meet Crockett In Season Opener

Warren Host to Corrigan in First Game

The Warren Warriors open the season at home Friday night against the Corrigan at the Warren Field at 8 p. m.

Corrigan, playing in District 21-A, has 16 lettermen back this year and may be a darkhorse for the district title. Their best material includes Ronnie Smith at end, Guard Billy Garsee, Tackle David Ferry and backs Gary Burris, Randy Gasford, Billy Mallard and Carl Bidson.

The Warriors, playing in District 26-A, are an improved aggregation this year. Coach Jim Lowrance has a solid line with Roy Moore at center, Willie Hoffman at tackle and Nolan Campbell at end, Lynn Chance, George Pace and Robert Haynes in the backfield have looked good in practice.

The game should prove to be a hard-fought contest, with Warren favored to take their season opener by a couple of touchdowns.

Walker and Bobby Greer. Standing are Billy Abbott, T. Carrell, Bobby Wisenbaker, Kenneth Weaver and Ods Ray Fortenberry.

The Kirby High School Eagles will open the 1964 season here Friday night against an old foe, the Crockett Bulldogs, now in District 21-AA, with most of last year's speed and drive back this year.

The Bulldogs have seven returning lettermen and they should be improved this year. They have speed in backs Jack Woodward, Richard Sprull and J. D. Woodward, and a fast end in Jimmy Sprull. They have John Dust back at guard, and he has twice won all-district honors at this position. Carroll Sullivan, a capable fullback, is up to 175 pounds this year and should be better than last year.

But then the Eagles have some points in their favor, too. Coach McGinty has some capable material this year. The Eagles have experience in a dozen lettermen and seven returning regulars. They have three excellent quarterbacks, led by Kenneth Walker, up from last year's B squad. Bobby Greer in the backfield and Bill Weatherford at end will be remembered from the 1963 squad. Jim Harrison and Roger Shepherd at tackle should give the Eagles a solid line with Bobby Best at center.

Two new faces are John Bednarik at tackle and Tom Carrell in the backfield, and they have been looking good in practice. Bobby Wisenbaker, Charles Blanks, Larry Kelley and Kenneth Weaver are also solid in the backfield.

However, the entire Eagle squad is bigger and better this year and should make a strong bid in District 22-AA.

Game time Friday night is 8 p. m. A large crowd is expected for the Eagles' opener.

"NEITHER MURMUR YE"

by Barbara Pickett

One of the most perplexing, vexing and discouraging aspects of Christian life is the murmuring and complaining that is constantly going on. This statement can well be proven in the trials Moses, the great Hebrew Prophet and leader, had to suffer.

Before the Israelites were out of Pharaoh's reach—while they were still manufacturing bricks without proper materials—they began whispering and murmuring against Moses and Moses' God.

They were led to the Red Sea and the moment they glimpsed the surging waters, their resolve to escape the Egyptians left them and the murmurings grew again.

Once on the other side of the sea they were happy—but only for a brief while. The Hebrews looked back to Egypt too much; they forgot quickly their existence as slaves. Rather they thought only of the delicacies their stomachs craved. The luscious melons, the hearty onions and leeks, the tasty cucumbers—out in the desert they had nothing but dust and heat and they were weary.

Mind you, they were only one month away from bondage; one month away from what appeared to be a helpless, hopeless situation; one month away from a sure road to annihilation. This made no difference to them. The hardships of the wilderness began to take their toll.

First, one whisper, one murmur, one complaint and soon the entire huge crowd was grumbling. Not really loudly but indistinctly. It was difficult for some time to tell exactly what was troubling them but their complaints grew and grew until it was impossible not to know. The murmuring had led to complaining and the complaining to rebelling. The Hebrews were ready to give up their God given freedom for the food of Egypt. They wanted to go back—to idolatry, to servitude, to toils, to a future filled with uncertainty for their children.

Never mind the miracles that brought them out. The plagues, the pass over of death, the crossing of the Red Sea, the could by day, the pillar of fire by night. Never mind the fact that God had given them a leader who was fearless, untiring, consecrated and devoted to God and to them. The only thing that mattered was their hunger and their blistered feet. Their dispositions were radically changed.

Just days before, they were singing praises to God for their salvation. Now, they wanted to stone Moses and run back into the arms of captivity.

Each time trouble came the people were ready to turn back. Each time God delivered them. He made bitter water sweet. He sent bread and meat to assuage their hunger. He healed their afflictions. He led them through battles with hostile tribes. He let them live out their lives even after their idolatrous worship of Aaron's golden calf. He passed the inheritance of the promised land on to their children. God was merciful, gracious, loving, forgiving even when he heard the murmurings, the complaints and saw the intent to rebel.

You say that was a long time ago? Why yes, it was. Moses and those Hebrews have been dead for a long time—several thousand years. But, unfortunately, the inclination to murmur did not die with them.

If we could trace Hebrew history here, you would find that each generation had its murmurers. Each era of the nation's life was beset with complaints. Every king that ruled had to quell rebellions right down to the time the Assyrians carried away the northern kingdom and Nebuchadnezzar carried off the Judeans and razed the golden city of Solomon to the ground.

What has this to do with you and me? Everything. We hear the low, indistinct sounds all about us. We even help make them. Something does not please us. We are most unhappy with a situation, with a person, with an event, with our church, our family, our business, our government. The murmuring begins. Very softly at first because it would never do to come right out and express our discontent. No—stir up a few people and let them make the complaint and if we get enough people on our side, we can rebel and change the course of things.

Faultfinding, gossip, disputes, confusion, severe unhappiness and deep sorrow are bred by murmurs and complaints.

When one has an honest complaint, it is not necessary to whisper—to look over our shoulder to see if anyone overheard. But an honest complaint is quite different from the low tone of the murmurer.

Perhaps the reason so many things are heard wrong, why events and conversations grow out of proportion to the truth is whispering. If we have something to say, then we should speak out in loud clear tones. If what you would say would hurt someone, then do not say it. If, by your speaking out, you would create a gulf between people, remain silent.

The best advice that could ever be given to someone who is inclined to murmur is simply "Hush!"

Have you ever walked into a room that was buzzing with whispered conversation? The minute the occupants of the room saw you, a guilty silence spread and the blood climbed higher and higher on the ashamed faces before you.

Churches split. Businesses failed. Reputations ruined. Personalities changed. Homes ruptured. Communities saddened. All this and more can be caused by murmurs.

In Lamentations, which is a book of the Bible filled with sorrow and sighing, the writer asks why does a living man complain. Why indeed?

There is a story about a woman who was an incurable grumbler. She grumbled and growled at everyone and everything. At last her minister thought he had found something about which she could make no complaint; The old lady's crop of potatoes was the finest for miles around. "Ah, for once you must be well pleased," the minister said as he met her one afternoon in the village. "Everyone is telling me how splendid your potatoes are this year." She glowered at him as she answered; "They're not so poor. But where's the bad ones for the pigs?"

Here was a person grumbling in the midst of plenty. Evidently, this woman would never find peace and contentment. She could not recognize it if she ran head on into it.

We must be careful lest we fall into this trap of the devil. I am sure he must dance with glee when we begin grumbling in our throats and his joy is uncontrollable when our tongue begins to wag in that unmistakable sound.

The Jews murmured at Jesus many times because of his teachings and actions. Jesus told them "Murmur not among yourselves."

The Christian life is beset with trials, suffering, disappointments, temptations, discouragement, but griping has never made the load one ounce lighter. St. Paul admonished the church at Corinth and us as well, "Neither murmur you, as some of them murmured and were destroyed by the destroyer."

Jesus said to come unto him—He will give us rest and peace. He will comfort us. He will put a song in our mind instead of a dirge. He will reach us to be

BATHE YOUR PLANTS
It doesn't always take an insecticide to rid your house plants of insects and other pests. Sometimes a bath will do the trick.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says a washing with soapy water and a soft brush (or cloth) may be all that's needed to remove aphids, mealybugs, and scale insects from broad-leaved plants. Use 2 tablespoons of a mild detergent to a gallon of water.

A number of these insects may also be washed off the plants with a lukewarm spray of water. If only one or two plants are infected, try removing the aphids and mealybugs with tweezers. Or, use a small thin stick (a toothpick will do nicely) with a tuft of cotton on the end. Dip the stick in rubbing alcohol and dab up the insects.

COLOR
"Color is everywhere around you, and no where is it more exciting than in your own home," says Maurine Mooney, County Home Demonstration Agent.

"Light and color are inseparable," she explains, because without light there is no color and light is always colored. There are no hard and fast rules in the world of color, anyone can develop pleasing color schemes throughout the home by observing a few basic principles:

One color always carries the theme, and it is dominant. This color should be used for large areas such as walls and floors. A harmonizing and a contrasting color may be used to express individual preferences. A safe limit is three colors in a scheme other than tints and shades of the same color. A good proportion of three different colors is 60% for an area of one color, 30% for the second, and 10% for the third. Repeat the colors. This ties a room or rooms together.

A further discussion on color and other phases of the beautification of the home will be discussed and demonstrated in all the Home Demonstration Clubs in the county in September—"Accessories for the Home." Make your plans to attend and participate.

Kirby Kapers

by Charles Blanks

Monday morning's school bell brought on sighs of relief from many vacation-weary youth as well as moans and groans from others who were sad to see the end of the summer and the beginning of those long days of learning.

High school this year will be in many ways like and unlike the high school that we've known of previous years. We're back at the old routine again as before but this year brings with it new faces in the faculty and also in the student body. Even the old campus scenery has taken on a new appearance.

However, I'm sure that we students, and especially the freshmen, will soon be well used to the transformations and will be making our progress in learning, with an eye on the future.

We hope the year will be good to us and I hope that we will give it a chance to. With that and with the excellent and much appreciated support of you good people of the town, surely we can make this year one of Kirby High's finest.

Perhaps by keeping up with this column you can stay informed as to what the students are doing, or should I say what the students are "up to," as this school year progresses. Being informed might possibly make it easier for you to give your full support to our school spirit. We students will appreciate that effort on your part above all else. With this, we invite you to attend the first Kirby High School football game here this Friday night.

DAM BINEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Pedigo had as guests last week his sister and husband, the Edd Leslers of Lake Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Nellie Fitzgerald underwent surgery in Tyler County Hospital and we are happy to report she is doing nicely.

Otha Miles and family are glad to have him home after a long stay in a Jasper Hospital. We are very glad too, Mr. Miles. If you remember, had the misfortune to get his foot cut off by a bush-hog machine.

Miss Naoma Edwards of Colmesneil was a guest of Miss Kathy Walker last week attending church at Fairview.

Mrs. Linda Hicks was home from Houston last week visiting with her parents the Sheldon Hicks, also grandfather Oscar and her aunt Jewel Hicks before entering Sam Houston College at Huntsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barclay were visitors in the Bice home one afternoon last week. They were thrilled at having talked by telephone to their little grandsons who are now in California.

Miss Oda Ogden and Mrs. Ella Boyett of Colmesneil attended our revival at Fairview one night last week.

Our song director, Eldredge Creech and wife, were accompanied to church here by Mrs. Creech's mother and aunt. We failed to get the names but were very happy to have each of you.

Our revival which was led by Rev. Jimmy Beaver doing the preaching and Eldredge Creech leading the singing with our Frieda Thomton at the piano was good. God is where we look for Him. Refreshments were served each night after services, followed with old time dinner on the ground. Only it was spread on the long table under the shade trees. Water from the church's new well was good to have.

We were happy to have Bro. Leroy Smith of Rocky Springs in our services last week. One night we could count five or six preachers. Bro. Dicky from Highland Avenue, Beaumont; Bro. Leroy Smith, Rocky Springs; Bro. Simmons, Hillister; B. B. Read, our own pastor and Jimmy Beaver, our evangelist from Baytown. If I missed one please excuse me. So you know we had a good revival.

Our WMU is meeting at the church each Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. Won't you join us. There is work for the master that needs doing. You might help. The field is white and workers few. We regret losing our friends and neighbors the Vernetti's. He is being transferred. His wife and children have already gone so as to get the children

LINES TO MY WIFE (on our 56th wedding anniversary)

We were young and fair together
In the dawn of life's first May.
When in bright and sunny weather
Sang the birds from every spray.
Through life's summers still together
Hand in hand and heart to heart
We have faced the balmy weather
And have watched the days depart.
Still she is to the maiden
Who stepped daintily of old
Through the grass her apron laden
With bright buttercups of gold.

She was comely, I had courage
She was timid, I was bold
And together we united
For the future to unfold.

Through the years and many changes,
We have met them day by day
And our love has ever heightened
Though her hair is growing gray.

By J. H. D.

YOU TELL ON YOURSELF

You tell what you are by the friends you seek,
By the very manner in which you speak,
By the way you employ your leisure time,
By the use you make of dollar and dime.

You tell what you are by the things you wear,
By the spirit in which your burdens you bear,
By the kind of things on which you laugh,
By the records you play on the phonograph.

You tell what you are by the way you walk,
By the things of which you delight to talk,
By the manner in which you bear defeat,
By so simple a thing as how you eat.

By the books you choose from the well-filled shelf;
In these and more, you tell to yourself.
So there's really no particle of sense
In any effort at false pretense.

GOD'S GOLD

by Ethel Osborn Hill
God's gold is in the piles of yellow corn.
And fields of ripening wheat,
At early morn;
In glossy autumn leaves, adrift in light,
And banks of golden-rod, like sunshine bright.

God's gold is in a baby's sunny curls,
And in the tinkling laugh of boys and girls;
'Tis in the golden notes of singing birds,
And in the tones of kind and loving words.

God's gold is free throughout the whole wide world,
Yet I sit at a desk on which is heaped
Great bags of gold that I must count with care.
Such cold, hard gold—it fills me with despair.

There's something in the contact of this gold
That chills my heart and makes my blood run cold.
My soul cries out for open fields and streams,
And for the warmth of golden sunlight's beams.
Banker, come county your gold, I cannot stay
Within this iron cage another day.
God's gold is what I crave; the flowers, the sun.
I'll wrap my soul in gold that God has spun.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

If you want a good case of the thumps just let someone come running up all out of breath shouting "your house is burning up," especially if it is Buddy King or Rois Brockman doing the shouting.

As I topped the hill on McAllister Street a great host of cars and people were all around our house. The smoke was rushing up from behind the house and crackling flames could be heard but not seen at that moment. When the back side of the house was finally seen a quick survey revealed the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department on the job with a grass fire well in hand and no buildings even scorched. The buildings were sure considering catching on fire as the grass burned within a few feet of them.

Eloise, Vicki and I are most thankful to all who responded to this call of distress. It was not bad but it sure could have been bad. Thanks again.

Please take this notice and make no slanderous remarks about the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department within earshot of me, because as of now I believe they can do no evil.

touring EAST TEXAS

By BOB BOWMAN

Probably no East Texas town as appropriately named as the tiny village of Fair Play in western Panola County.

Travelers supposedly originated the name in gratitude for the way they were treated at pioneer merchant John Allison's hotel and store.

Even today, Fair Players are trying to carry on the standards of hospitality set by the Allisons.

One example of their kindness is in Williams Cemetery, where a little wooden marker covered by a white shed stands among the astute monuments of Panola County's early leaders.

The marker and shed cover the grave of Sarah Jane Northcutt, member of a wagon train who died among strangers here in 1855.

Down through the years, Fair Players have carefully cared for the grave as if it belonged to one of their own kin.

The grand daddy of East Texas' fall festivals, the 49th annual East Texas Fair, opens its gates for a six-night run Sept. 21 in Tyler.

It traditionally ushers in the country fair season throughout East Texas.

Started in 1910, the big fair has been held annually except for four years during World War II. Its attractions include the largest beef cattle show of any fair in Texas, outside the state fair in Dallas and the spring stock shows in Houston and Fort Worth.

Housewives at Diboll, a modern-day sawmill town in Angelina County, literally bake their bread by the whistle.

For almost 53 years, the "combread whistle" of Southern Pine Lumber Co. has told homemakers that the lunch hour is near for their laboring menfolk.

The whistle originally in 1910, according to local legend, when the company was having trouble getting the men back to work after lunch because their wives were so slow in preparing meals.

An assistant manager at the sawmill decided a regular signal would let the wives know it was time to start baking biscuits and congregate and getting dinner ready for their men.

Neither Murmur Ye

quiet when it is tempting to say some caustic remark. He will ease our yearning to give vent for our dissatisfaction. He will help us think pure thoughts. He will help us be kind and Gentle.

It would be wise for us never to get into the habit of complaining and try never to growl at things large and small or we are certain to be mistaken for members of the murmurer's society.

Think about Him who never complained even when the nails pierced His hands and feet and the thorns encompassed His brow. Do try to smile and soon the ability to smile instead of murmur will grow strong when things go wrong.

TYLER COUNTY IN THE 1870'S

Have we of Tyler County made any marked degree of progress during the past century? A glimpse of the county as described in Thrall's history, published in the 1870's, might point out a few of our accomplishments thus far and also help us to shape worth while goals for the future.

At that time Tyler County had a population of 5010 and an assessed property value of $507,253. It is said to have been heavily timbered with pine as first choice for building purposes. Agriculture products were listed as cotton, corn, rye, oats and tobacco. Pastures were inferior and cows and hogs did not do well. Hogs grew with little care and bacon could be saved without loss or trouble. Butter, milk, cheese and eggs could be had in abundance, as there was no market for them. A family could live comfortably and cheap. It is described as one of the best watered counties of the state with several fine creeks, many flowing branches and any number of good springs. The Neches River, which bounds the county on the east, was navigable up to six months in the year. Old Sulphur Spring, near Mt. Hope church, was said to have been an excellent "watering place" of the county.

A letter written in 1873 by Emma Lignett of Woodville, who later married Frank Sumrall of Sunny Dell community, boasts that Woodville had fifty scholars at that time and that the more advanced studied Composition and Rhetoric and the Dictionary.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Many children go to school for the first time! Don't let it be their last! Your caution can save a child's life!

- DRIVE EXTRA CAREFULLY around schools and playgrounds! Be on the lookout for children when they walk to and from school! Your vacation from school children is over now!
- BE ON THE ALERT when you are near a schoolbus. Of course, they have to obey all traffic rules! But, give schoolbuses a break anyway ... they carry a priceless cargo!
- PARENTS! NEVER STOP TELLING children about the many traffic dangers! Only then can we hope to help reduce traffic fatalities! One out of seven fatalities involves a schoolchild! One out of ten fatal accidents is caused by a teen-age driver!
- DRIVERS! DON'T HURRY when you drive! We may as well face it! We cannot reduce traffic casualties unless we slow down! The lives of others are in the hands holding your steering wheel. The minute you may save, isn't worth the life of a schoolchild!
- HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED by an expert! Any car that is not in perfect mechanical condition is a potential murder weapon! The few dollars you spend may save a life!
- PULL OFF THE ROAD when you're tired, and take a nap! DON'T DRIVE at all when you've had a drink! Drowsiness and drinking are responsible for most fatal accidents!
