Uncle Jimmy To Have 106th Birthday Party

UNCLE JIMMY DICKENS

An open house birthday party will be held at the Tyler County Nursing Home, 1006 E. Mull Road Sunday morning, James Alexander "Uncle Jimmy" Dickens, who will be 106 years old.

Calling hours are from 11:45 a. m. to 1:45 p. m. with the party being held in the nursing home lobby. All friends and the public is invited to come during these hours. Refreshments will be served, according to Mrs. Polly Howell, operator of the home.

Uncle Jimmy was born in Mississippi on November 7, 1859, and was brought to Texas by his family when he was three weeks old. The family settled, Uncle Jimmy says, in the "Big Thicket". He attended school in a log school house at Midway for three months a year (schools then held three months terms for white children and three months for Negro children, he says).

On December 24, 1880, when he was 21 years old, Uncle Jimmy was married to Miss Lillie Coleman. He remembers that they were married at Campground by "Preacher" Jones. They had four children, only one of whom survives. He is a son, Crawley Dickens, who lives in the Midway community. He also has two granddaughters. A sister, Mrs. Nellie Davis, lives in Nacogdoches. She is 86 years old, he says.

Uncle Jimmy's father, R. N. Dickens, once served as sheriff of Tyler County.

Uncle Jimmy, famed in Polk and Tyler County during his active years, he remembers that he once bought a 100 acre farm for $500. He retired at the age of 87, and later lived in Beaumont. He has been living in the Tyler County Nursing Home since May 23, 1957.

Uncle Jimmy says that things were primitive in his early years. He says that he never saw a cook stove until after he was married. Cooking was done on the fireplace. He remembers that when he got married, he was building a house which was only partly completed, and the roof was finished on only part of it. He and his bride came to the home on their wedding night to make their home, and that night it came a heavy snow.

Uncle Jimmy is a bright-eyed and active man for his years. He wakes up each morning, sits up and puts his feet on the floor, and sings his favorite song, "Possum 'n' a S'mon 'n' Tree". School children like to visit him and hear him sing his song. He is able to feed himself, and when the reporter visited him Tuesday, he was sitting on the side of his bed filling his pipe with tobacco.

He cannot see too good anymore, and his hearing is impaired. However, he senses the things going on about him. While the photographer was making his picture, he could see the flash of the bulbs and exclaimed "He got it that time!" referring to his picture.

Safecrackers Hit Ogden Chevrolet

Safecrackers Monday night tried to open the safe at Ogden Chevrolet Company in Colmesneil and apparently failed.

Late Tuesday a safe expert from Houston was summoned to get the safe open, but gave his opinion that the safecrackers had failed to get into it. However, it will not be known for sure until he succeeds in getting it open.

The burglars entered the motor company by prying open a back door. They knocked the combination and handle from the safe. The door of the safe was shut, and the expert was called to try to open it.

If the burglars did get into the safe, they jammed the door closed. However, Sheriff Grady Ray said that they were apparently scared off before they had succeeded in opening the safe.

Q. My twelve-year-old son just opened a savings account with the money he made from his paper route. Does he need a Social Security number for the account or should he use my number since he is a minor?
A. Since your son, not you, has earned the money used to open the account, he is required to apply for his own Social Security number.

Q. How do you tell when an expense is deductible as a business expense?
A. The tax law lays down some general guidelines on this subject. To be deductible, the expense must be ordinary and necessary in carrying on the trade or business, or for the production or collection of income, or for the management of a profit-holding for the production of income.

Q. I will be 65 in February, 1966. When may I enroll for hospital and medical benefits?
A. By filing a social security claim, you automatically enroll for the hospitalization benefits.

Q. I have a question about the medical insurance benefits during the three months before you reach 65, or the three months following.
A. If you are currently entitled to social security railroad retirement benefits, you will receive a form and instructions, by mail, concerning your social security or railroad retirement benefits. You will receive a form and instructions by mail. Contact your social security office promptly if the form does not reach you by the end of the month. If you are eligible for social security, but have never filed a claim, you should contact your social security office now and establish your eligibility.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

DISBOL, CONN. PRESS: "Once upon a time, the sports seasons were clearly defined. There were certain accepted standards that the baseball season would last from April through September. Football would take the spotlight from that time until the holiday season and then basketball would take over for the next few months. Not so, anymore. It appears that as long as our fans are willing to pay the admission prices and the sports magazines can raise their television and radio receipts, there are no more clearly defined sports seasons, and more is the pity."

HARRISONBURG, VA. NEWS-RECORD: "Despite the Reserve Bank's repeated warnings, government economists still profess to see little or no danger from the pressure of high prices. Though they speak right, consumers get the uncomfortable feeling that the numbers in their pocket-books increase each time they go for food."

STORM LAKE, IOWA, P.I.-TIMING: "We are attempting to analyze the antipathy of some times with caution, and a lot of the time with curiosity and often with a bit of suspicion. The disclosure that congressmen have been passing out government jobs to their relatives in the post offices under anti-trust provisions, and at whose smooth hands a lot of it lies in this thing. Also, the fact that the government is buying fish-nuggets in thousands of dollars that need it."

COVALLIS, ORE. NEWS-TIMES: "Now that Modigliani has added to the burden of the taxpayers, a letter written to the Senate Capital District has perhaps come up with the suggestion that 'cash-stamp' be the next federal proposal. What, shall ever happened to the traditional American notion that citizens who are not normally or physically handicapped, should have self-sufficiency as their goal?"

Garden Club Meets At Community Inn

The Woodville Garden Club met at the Community Inn last Wednesday for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Ardell Smith, president, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. J.R. McCombs brought the devotional. Members were pleased to have Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Ryan as visitors, and Mrs. Hammond as a new member.

Mrs. Smith reported that Mrs. Ethel O. Hill was in Fort Worth at the state garden club meeting as a representative of the Woodville club. While there she celebrated her 80th birthday and was presented with a corsage from the Woodville club.

Several suggestions were made for raising money for club projects. The members will sell note paper and Christmas wrapping.

Program for the meeting was on planting bulbs. Garden club members are anxious to make all Woodville a beautiful spot, and it was noted that some spots in and around the city are very unsightly. It was suggested that city officials could help by having such spots cleaned up, as the members feel it is against the law for offensive garbage to be left lying around or partly buried.

The Fourth flower arrangement was made by Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. L.M. McCombs, Mrs. Murphy Davis and Mrs. J.D. Feucht were hostesses at the meeting. The next meeting will be held on November 17 with Mrs. Curtis Friedrich, Mrs. DuWise Ford and Mrs. Jerry Galford as hostesses.

LIBRARY NOTES

BY DICY COLLINS
New books on the shelves in the library are "First Woman Doctor", a story of Elizabeth Blackwell by Baker, "Discoverer of Insulin, Dr. Frederick Banting" by Levine, "Reminiscences" by General Douglas MacArthur, the story of his life. This book is very revealing as to the strategy of the military and other heads of government, especially in times of war. It tells in detail about the war in the Pacific and the events leading up to the fall of Corrigidor and the Bataan death march. There are also some new westerns and mysteries for those who like to read with an exciting bit of reading.

Are you wondering what to get that certain boy or girl for Christmas. Yes, I know it is only November, but it is the time to start shopping. There is nothing better than a book, as reading is fun. Make this the merriest Christmas with children's books that stimulate and entertain.

These area artists who had entries on exhibit for the 17th art convention were Mrs. Anita Thomas, Sidney Owen, Mrs. Vesta Spell, Mrs. Bernice Gannon, Mrs. Ann Garner, Mrs. Inez Harris, Mrs. Fay Allison, Walter Griffin, and Jerry Walden, and Mrs. J.C. Collins.

We wish to thank Mary's mother's flower shop for donating the lovely artificial arrangement that certain boy or girl for the past few months.

The Thrift Library of Woodville gave some new books, as did Mr. Budley Stone of Houston, Mrs. J.A. John and Mrs. G.H. Spurgeon of Beaumont.

Mrs. Hertha Youngblood of the subscription to the VA's "Home" magazine.
