

The way the general election over the nation turned out we can understand why LBJ didn't want to get involved with some of the candidates. Tower won in Texas, Pat Brown lost to Reagan in California, and Percy defeated Douglas in Illinois, just to mention a few. LBJ had secretly set up plans to campaign for the losers, but being a wily politician he evidently saw the handwriting on the wall. His pending operation was a good excuse.

Rufa Wingate, the retired (?) highway maintenance engineer who is still busy with beekeeping and clockmaking, presented us with a jar of honey recently, and we were intrigued with a little label on the back of the jar. We think you will enjoy it, too. It reads:

I am made from the sweetest flowers on earth;
I was gathered by the meanest bees in the world;
I was bottled by a man who was too lazy to work;
I am specially recommended for City Slickers;
I am very, very sweet. Everyone calls me HONEY.

If you haven't been shot by a deer hunter so far, perhaps you will make it through the rest of the season. Last Saturday there were hunters everywhere, many of them on county roads. One man hunting in a small pasture came out yowling never to hunt in this county again. He said someone buzzed a rifle ball within a few yards of where he sat on a stand.

Game wardens warn that anyone shooting from or across a road will be arrested, but they cannot be everywhere at one time. So caution is the better part of valor.

Someone has mentioned that since Medicare is now in operation, and the local hospital is usually filled to capacity, it might be a good time to consider building a convalescent home on the west part of the Tyler County Hospital grounds. A good many elderly patients could be moved to it when their condition permits, and elderly people needing nursing home care could also use the facility.

What do you think?

Hunter's again are asked to volunteer their deer skins for use by patients in Texas State mental hospitals, TB hospitals and schools for the retarded where they are used in craft work to help with their recovery. About 28,000 ill and handicapped Texans can be helped with this program.

If you want to volunteer a deer hide or hides, sprinkle raw side with salt, let drain, package and pick up a special tag at the chamber of commerce or booster office. Attach the tag and take the package to any Motor Freight office for free delivery.

National Farm-City Week has been proclaimed for November 18 through 24 by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The president's proclamation cited the growing interrelationship between rural and urban areas and the need for finding still better ways of using our rural and urban areas.

Deer Hunters Kill Good Number, But

None Are Pictured

Deer hunters in large numbers were out for the opening of the season last Saturday, and quite a number of bucks have been killed up to this time. However, no hunter has brought a big 10-point (or even smaller) buck by for a photograph to appear in the Booster.

Usually at the opening of the season, several hunters will bring in deer with large antlers for a picture.

The next big one killed by any visitor should come by and have the buck's picture recorded for posterity or to prove to friends that it was really that big.

Chester Football Sweetheart

Steamboat On The Neches Still Intrigues Public

When a Booster photographer and reporter accompanied a group headed by James E. Wheat recently to the hull of a sunken steamboat on the Neches River below Dam B, no one anticipated the interest it would stir in history buffs and bring back nostalgic memories among old timers who can remember, as children talk of steamboats plying the Neches.

The hull of the old boat below Dam B was explored by Bill Brown of the Corps of Engineers' office at Dam B, Judge Wheat and Project Engineer Victory, accompanied the two. Water had been cut off at Dam B so that the flow of the river would stop and allow the hull of the boat to become visible.

Following publication of the pictures and story, numerous requests for copies of the paper were received.

And other newspapers in the area were interested.

The Booster pictures have been loaned so far to the Lufkin News, the Houston Chronicle and Port Arthur News. The story and pictures ran on the front page of last Sunday's Lufkin News.

And if the other papers "dress up" the story a bit to add to its romantic interest, perhaps it will bring about further exploration and perhaps the raising of the old steamboat.

Before the coming of the railroads, the Neches River was the chief artery of commerce between this area and the Gulf Coast. Steamboats brought in supplies and carried back products of the land.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating seabeds by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too... Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

In Memoriam

By J. T. Lindsey
Port Arthur, Texas

No one, not in my situation, can appreciate my feeling of sadness as we in this brief message express our sympathy and passionate love to the members of the families of Burns Gardner and Willie Gardner, deceased.

Burns Gardner was called to his Heavenly abode about the first day of October, 1966, and Willie Gardner followed him in death about the 4th of November, 1966, so the period of time between the deaths of these parties was of short duration.

The former of these parties was a member of the writer and an abiding friend and a close confidant in business.

We are glad to say Mrs. John T. Walker is home from Mary Dickerson Hospital in Jasper where she spent several days with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harris of Port Arthur spent the weekend at their country home here with their son, Steve Harris. They attended Sunday School on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Pettigrew enjoyed having their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mills and sons, here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pettigrew.

The aroma of fried venison steaks is lurking in the air around corners. If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your brother's faults, forget the slander you have heard, forget the temptations, forget the fault finding, and only remember the good points that make you fond of them.

with whom you have had such close association and where over the course of years there had been an everlasting friendship and fidelity existing between said parties, and so it was about these noble characters, each man in his respective community was honored, loved and respected, and who during his entire life manifested a spirit of duty and loyalty to the community in which he resided.
