A hot, summertime hello to all. The weather is a bit sultry nowadays. And it will get worse. The dog days of July are yet to come. I'm beginning to think that the best thing for us East Texans to do each summer is go north, just like the birds. Let's plunge ahead.

Something the businessmen of Beaumont and Port Arthur did recently has come to my attention. This is the practice of hiring young people for summer employment. If memory serves me right, close to 1100 jobs were found in the golden triangle area for youngsters who were willing to work at good wages.

Now here in Woodville and Tyler county a lot of people are crying for workmen. All right, here's your chance. If the businessmen who need the employees had enough would band together like the golden triangle businessmen do, young people out of school for the summer could be temporarily employed in unskilled labor jobs. Doing this would not only help take up the slack in our work force, but would also contribute to the economy of our county as well as providing wholesome activities for the young people and give them a chance to see what it's like in the working world.

KVLL radio started last Monday broadcasting the Little League games on Monday and Thursday nights. The broadcast starts at 6:00 p.m. and will last till 8:25 p.m. We want to urge everyone to go out and take in the games and carry your transistor radio along with you. If you can't make it, then listen to KVLL.

Chuck Stamps, and your's truly made a circuit last Friday. We had to go to Spurger to deliver some papers, and just made the round. Chuck pointed out some of the valuable history and heritage of Tyler county out to me. And I must say, some of the most beautiful country we have ever seen was revealed to me. We also made an excursion into Magnolia Ridge Park. This is really one of the most peaceful places on earth. You're really away from it all when you go out there. Also met some nice folks from Buna and Livingston who were camped there.

A lot of you folks will be taking vacations this summer. You'll be traveling to all points beyond. While you're gone, don't forget good ole Tyler county. When folks ask you where you're from, let them know. And take that opportunity to tell people about what Tyler County has to offer in the way of vacation attraction. Tell them about Don B. Heritage Garden, beautiful country of the Dogwood, and the friendliest folks in East Texas. That way, you'll be helping out our economy by encouraging folks to come here for their vacations, and showing your pride in where you live.

Congratulations to Judy Sturrock, our new Miss Tyler County. Judy is a very lovely girl, and I believe will be credit to our county in the Miss Texas Pageant. And a commendation of the highest merit to the A.B.W.A. for all their fine work.

People we saw: Dempsey Henley and Don Adams, two of the pageant judges, getting out of the heat Saturday night. Webb Ashworth very proud of his little girl. Thelma Cain, telehead of applause leading. Tom McQuire settling at the watering hole. Sheriff Grady Ray telling me to get rid of that record. Folks complaining about the heat. . . Nuff said.

MISS TYLER COUNTY 1968

Judy Sturrock Named Miss Tyler County

Judith Ann Sturrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sturrock of Woodville, was selected by the judges Saturday night as "Miss Tyler County 1968" at the third annual Tyler County pageant held in Woodville School auditorium.

Roschelle Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Durham, was first runnerup, and Virginia Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis of Warren, was second runnerup.

Janelle Maxey, daughter of Mrs. June Maxey of Woodville, was selected by the other contestants as "Miss Congeniality."

Miss Sturrock succeeds Janis Adams, who placed the crown on her successor's head seconds after the judges' decision was announced.

Mrs. Beverly Laird of Nacogdoches, a former Miss Louisiana, acted as mistress of ceremonies and kept the pageant moving smoothly through special entertainment, the swimsuit, talent, and evening gown competition.

Judges were Dempsey Henley, mayor of Liberty; Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Beaumont; and Don Adams, Jasper attorney and state representative-elect from this district.

Woodville Schools To Be Integrated In September

In compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and with the regulations of the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the Woodville Independent School District will integrate its schools in September, 1968, according to B. H. McGuire, superintendent. Affirmative action requiring the total integration of the school district has been taken recently by the Board of Trustees.

According to federal regulations, a school system which has maintained a system of separate school facilities for students based on race, must take prompt action to eliminate such a dual system and bring about a unitary school system. Compliance with the law requires integration of facilities, faculties, schedules, activities, and transportation.

The schools of the district will be divided into three administrative units: a senior high school, composed of grades 9-12 school, composed of grades 9-12; a junior high school, composed of grades 6-8; and an elementary school, composed of grades 1-4.

The Woodville Senior High School will be located on the Kirby campus. This school of about 500 pupils will be located in the old Kirby High School Building and in the new Kirby Building. The Principal of this school will be Bennett Hanna, M. D. Odum and D. M. White will serve as assistant principals.

The Woodville Junior High School will be located in the Wheat Building on the Kirby Campus. The anticipated enrollment in this school will be about 875 pupils. J. C. Clark will serve as principal.

The Woodville Elementary School will be located on the Scott Campus. This school of about 575 pupils will be located in the former Scott High School Building and the former Scott Elementary Building. The Principal of this school will be J. W. Shields. E. L. Spurlock will serve as assistant principal and director of the Title I program.

The school calendar for the 1968-1969 year calls for pupil registration on August 29-30. The first day of instruction will be September 3.

A pre-school clinic for first grade pupils will be held during the third week of August, according to J. W. Shields, principal. The exact dates and details of this clinic will be announced later.

NEW DIRECTORY LISTS 2920 NAMES OF PHONE USERS

The new Woodville-Spurger telephone directory which is now in the mail to subscribers indicates the growth of the area with an increase in both the number of pages in alphabetical listings and yellow pages.

The new directory contains 16 pages of alphabetical listings, totaling 2920 individual listings, and 52 pages in the Yellow Page section, according to Arthur Carruth, district manager. The company had 4875 copies of the new directory printed and is mailing approximately 3,000 this week. The remaining copies are for future use as the need arises.

The most important change in the directory to most subscribers is the change from letter prefixes to numbers. All Butler prefixes have been changed to 28 and Hamilton prefixes have been replaced by the numerals 42. There is no change in the way a user dials. The Booster phone number, for instance, was BU 3-2434 but in the new directory is 283-2434.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is gradually changing to all-number listings throughout its system.

Eagle Scouts Pose With Mothers

David Fain and Mike Nichols pose with their mothers, Mrs. M. A. Fain and Mrs. W. S. Nichols, following the pinning of Eagle Scout pins Thursday night at the court of honor at the meeting of the Woodville Rotary Club, sponsor of Scout Troop 37. Dale Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Ray, and Danny Rawls, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Rawls, were presented Life Rank awards. A number of Scouts were awarded merit badges.

Grant Made Reservation For Tourist Facilities

The Economic Administration in the Interior Department in Washington has approved a grant of $209,000 to the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation west of Woodville for construction of recreational facilities for tourists, according to Sen. John Tower.

Total cost of the additional facilities will be $418,000. The Texas Indian Affairs Commission will match the grant, Tower said.

The funds are to go toward developing the tourist complex which the Tribal Council hopes will make the reservation self-supporting. Plans are to build a dam, a lake, camping facilities, and trailer park.

The Tribal Council hopes to double the number of visitors to the reservation this year, or around 200,000.

Five Charged Here With Transporting Liquor In Dry Area

Five persons were charged in county court in the past week with transporting liquor in a dry area.

Four entered pleas of guilty and were fined $100 plus $38.50 court costs. They are Willie Mae Hatford, Alma Glider Smith, Gene Weldon Milton, and Essie Rigby Nix.

About Tyler County Starvation

An Editorial

by WILEY K. POSTON

To the nice lady from the Chesswood Addition that disagreed with our editorial last week and told us not to renew her subscription to the Booster, let us say that she has displayed true Americanism by standing up for what she thinks and having the fortitude to write it. With her kind permission we would be happy to publish the letter, and we sincerely hope she will grant us that right so we can protect her rights.

To the many hundreds that called, came by or wrote that they were in agreement with the remarks, let us say that in writing the editorial, it was our sole intention to express what we had actually seen, and although not documented, we have untold numbers of witnesses that have seen the same things that we saw. It was also an attempt to show the people of not only Tyler county, but in all areas that were designated "poverty areas" by the Federal Government, that unless we get "strong" within our own ranks and resist Federal encroachment, where it isn't asked for, we will become stagnated in projecting our own initiative. We heard Governor John Connally state in an inaugural address a few years ago, words to this effect: "We have Federal encroachment only when the LOCAL GOVERNMENT IS WEAK." Truer words were never spoken.

It all gets a bit confusing at times, and in future editorials we will give you some documentary evidence of why it is confusing.

Sawyer Wins By 8 Votes

The recount of ballots in the second primary race for tax assessor-collector was made by the Tyler County Democratic executive committee last Wednesday, June 5, with no change in the outcome of the close contest.

The final recount showed Sawyer still the winner of the race, although the final margin was reduced to eight votes.

The official tabulation by the committee following the second primary, showed that Sawyer won by 10 votes, and due to the close margin Thornton had asked for a recount.

Accident Claims Life of Beaumont Woman

A one car accident on Farm Road 92, four miles south of Spurger, Wednesday afternoon resulted in death to one person and injuries to two others. Pronounced dead on arrival at Tyler County Hospital was Mrs. Marie Ayers LeBlanc, of 4642 Avenue A, Beaumont. Mrs. LeBlanc was killed when the car she was driving went out of control during a heavy thunderstorm, and overturned. Passengers in the car and also injured were Charlotte Warren of Beaumont, age 22, and her son Charles Warren, age 19 months. Investigation officer Gary Hennigan stated that injuries to the Warrens were not believed to be serious. They were transferred to Doctors

Hospital in Siblee.

Damages estimated in the accident were $750. This makes the third major wreck in the county in less than two weeks. There have been six people injured, none seriously, and one fatality. Damages totaled in the accidents were estimated to be in excess of $3100.

Phyllis Edwards Is Bride Of R.E. Appel

Miss Phyllis Theodora Edwards and Richard Edward Appel were married at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, June 14, in the chapel of the First Methodist Church, Houston, with the Rev. Mounson Diggs officiating. Charles Mosley was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Allen Edwards of Woodville. She is a graduate of Texas Woman's University and was a member of the faculty at St. Thomas More Elementary School in Houston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Appel of Dallas. He is a graduate of Colorado School of Mines with a Ph. D. at Pennsylvania State University.

There was an air of simplicity in the chapel appointments. Majestic daisies, white stock, and spruce were the chosen setting for the altar with antique brass candleabra with cathedral tapers in the background. The bride wore a dress of dark Italian silk with a white bodice and a full skirt. She carried a bouquet of blue and white daisies with greenery. The groom wore a dark suit and a white shirt with a red tie. The ceremony was held in a beautiful setting with many guests in attendance.

Consue To Ask Questions About Employment Here

Persons in this area will be asked questions about their employment and unemployment during the week of June 17-22 by Census Bureau interviewers, Director Percy R. Miller, of the Bureau's regional office in Dallas announced.

The questions are part of the Bureau's monthly population survey taken simultaneously throughout the Nation to gather up-to-date information about the U. S. population. The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics uses these data primarily to evaluate the changes in the national job picture.

Households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically selected national sample. Their identity is confidential, and the facts obtained from the survey will be used only for statistical purposes.

The interviewer who will visit households in this area is George P. Ferguson of Longview.

America Still Is...

ONE WOMAN'S OPINION

By Mrs. Ethel O. Hill

America is a land of contrasts, as everyone knows, but the more one sees of different sections one wonders how it has produced such results. It feels a deep reverence for the fruits of the good earth.

"And God planned a garden, as in contrast, sections of our country" it seems that it is the work of man, coupled with the abundance of nature, that has produced such results. I feel a deep reverence for the fruits of the good earth.

There are still millions of acres of uncultivated land in this country alone. Why should any one be hungry? And why are there still so many people in this country who are poor, who are hungry, who are cold, who are suffering from grief and tragedy. And why are there still so many people in this country who are poor, who are hungry, who are cold, who are suffering from grief and tragedy.

STATE CAPITOL HIGHLIGHTS & SIDELIGHTS

By Vern Sanford

This is a crucial week for the special session of the Legislature which, as expected, passed the half-way mark with-out coming to grips with any major assignments.

House members were due to face up to Gov. John Connally's "small bottle" liquor bill early in the week, followed closely by a vote on a $2,500,000,000 budget for 1969 state governmental operations.

The mini-bottle liquor bill was voted out of the House State Affairs Committee, but only after the most contentious and lengthy legislative fighting history.

Two "uses" held critical positions. The late Lt. Governor, Clark started voting with the "no" side, saving the legislation was an impossible "disposition" of the bill, as he argued.

In case of failure of the governor's tax proposals, the Legislature is expected to raise the sales tax from three per cent to 7.5 per cent of the new income received to incorporate cities on basis of their populations.

Yarborough Newsletter

By U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough

This week I write with a heavy heart. We have witnessed the passing away of another great American leader of this generation, fully assassinated and cut down at the peak of his career, by the cowardly bullet of an assassin.

I first knew Robert Kennedy in the campaign of 1960, when John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson were elected President and Vice President respectively. I knew him later as Attorney General of the United States and worked with him.

America has experienced nothing like this since the funeral train of Abraham Lincoln in 1865. Hundreds of thousands of people lined the tracks for miles in every direction—both in the cities and in the rural areas of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

The title of the brochure is "Texas Seafood Recipes" but that doesn't tell the story.

The little booklet, compiled by the Seafood Marketing Section of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, has recipes on all right, but the main attraction is the wealth of information on nutritive value, storage, cooking, and variety of fish.

From the brochure, housewives may learn how much to buy for a serving and how to select a good fish from a bad fish. Seafood Marketing Specialist Bill Schwartz says the recipes included combine ease of preparation and variety.

Recipes include: Baked Fillet of Sea Trout, Crab Stuffed, Galveston Shrimp, Texas Fried Catfish, Baked Red Snapper, Flounder with Crab Stuffing, Galveston Shrimp, Shrimp Creole, Southern Curried Shrimp, Shrimp Salad, Oatmeal with Crab, Baked Oysters on the Half Shell, and Crab Cakes.

With other crops late and facturing an uncertain future, pastures should receive closer attention. Fertilizer is the biggest profit producer on pastures. To get the most profits from pastures, all land needing lime should have lime applied.

There is information on how to take hay, and how to take a good hay from a bad hay. From the brochure, housewives may learn how much to buy for a serving and how to select a good fish from a bad fish.

Old Fort Parker, Site Of Tragedy, Is Dedicated

Old Fort Parker, six miles north of Groesbeck in Central Texas, has been raised again as a symbol of the courage of Texas frontiersmen, and a reminder of the tragedy which all hoped would never happen—but did. The restoration of the old fort was officially dedicated last week. The keynote address was given by Will Odon, Chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, who told some 125 persons in attendance that such pioneer spirit was what made Texas the State it is today.

Elder John Parker came to the present fort site in 1834 to start a new life in the wilderness. With him were 31 other men, women, and children, and together they built the stockade and cleared the land.

For about two years, they lived a relatively uneventful life, if the privations of frontier living can be called uneventful, and established their crops and a routine of living. At first the men cultivated the land during the day and returned at night to the fort for protection, but gradually they abandoned these strict disciplines and safety precautions. Some of the settlers even built cabins outside the walls. Some of the settlers even built cabins outside the walls in order to be conveniently close to the acres under cultivation. As a result, they were unprepared for the surprise attack by a band of Indians on May 19, 1836. On the morning before the massacre, the families arose as usual and went about their chores. Some of the men went to the fields, and others went hunting, taking all the guns from the fort.

At around 10:00 a.m., someone within the fort yelled "Indians," and the occupants of the fort looked out to see several hundred Indians only 300 yards from their gates which had been left open to allow the warm spring breezes within the walls.

It has been traditionally thought these Indians were Comanche and Kiowa, but recent finds indicate that they might have been Caddo Indians. Benjamin Parker, son of Elder John Parker, walked out of the fort to where the Indians waited and was informed that they desired some beef and directions to a water hole.

He returned to the fort and told the occupants of their request and then returned for a second parley with the Indians. As he approached, several of the braves surrounded him on horse and killed him with their lances. The massacre had started. After Benjamin fell, the Indians rode into the fort, killing six other persons including Elder John Parker, and taking five captives, Cynthia Ann Parker, among them.

Also taken captive was Mrs. Rachael Plummer, who, when she was finally ransomed, wrote an account of her captivity by Comanches to whom she might have been traded. Mrs. Plummer related how the captives were dragged mile after mile over the prairie and kicked and beaten. At night, the Indians put the children near the women so the women could hear them cry but not comfort them. She also tells how, shortly after her capture, she gave birth to a child only to have it torn from her arms and flung to the ground because its crying annoyed the captors. Cynthia Ann Parker, who was nine at the time of her capture, was adopted as a member of the tribe and soon lost her identity as the white enemy. At fifteen, she married the great Comanche war chief Peta Nocona and soon had two sons by him, Pecos and Quanah Parker. Quanah was destined to become the greatest chief, both in war and peace, of the Comanche Nation.

After 24 years of roving with the Comanches, Cynthia Ann was captured by Captain Sul Ross during surprise raid on Indian Hunting Camp. She and her 11-month-old child, Prairie Flower, were taken to live with what family she had living in Texas.

Cynthia Ann was not taken back among the white people. She mourned for her husband and children, and several times she attempted to escape. She became somewhat friendly, but her Indian-born sons with the Indians made her stay in civilization. In 1864, Prairie Flower died. Cynthia Ann, however, lived to see the end of her captivity and her restoration.
