Booster Bits

By WILEY K. POSTON

With Ole Friendly Kenley back at his old stand on KSPL in Diboll, it behooves us to start writing the Booster Bits again. Ken did a real good job of it, we miss him, but that is the way the cookie crumbles these days and times. We wish him a lot of good luck just the same. Seems to be a lot of interest in the growth of Tyler county lately. We are planning a special edition in the next issue that will give us all a good perspective of what is really going on in the way of growth, and I believe when Ole Chuck, our editor, gets through compiling all the facts and pictures he has been working on, we are all going to be very pleasantly surprised at what is really going on. So keep on the lookout for the "TYLER COUNTY ON THE GROW" Edition.

I can't help but admire a person, in spite of the fact they are in the twilight years of their life, that keeps going, has a bright and happy outlook for the future, and a deep concern for his fellow man. I am referring to my good friend, Henry Hill. Mr. Hill lives at the Rainey Hotel, is up bright and early every morning, and can do a day's work that is the envy of many men much younger. Mr. Hill asks only that he be given an opportunity to work and certainly doesn't depend on anything but his own initiative to make a living. We have had many talks with Mr. Hill and it is most inspiring to find people this day and time that don't go around feeling sorry for themselves, but are just thankful that they can still do their part in making this old world a better place in which to live and let live. I deep admire and respect Mr. Henry Hill and thank the Good Lord everyday for people like him. Mr. Hill says the age of 80 is a good time to really get started.

People we saw Department: Big Star's Ed Miller with his usual nice smile and greeting. Drew Walker, having a juvenile delinquent problem. . . he has two young squirrels on the courthouse lawn that are not minding him as well as they should. My Ole pal Alex Weatherford with a good word when we saw him recently. Alex has been my good friend for a lot of years now. Jack Lane, Jimmy Brown, and Larry Dean feeling mighty good over selling a whole slew of Fords over the past weekend. Postmaster Milton Durham with some words from the Post Office Department over KVLL. Citizens State Bank's Emory Mahan with a big smile when we saw him in the bank recently. And in case you are wondering who the new voice on KVLL is, it is Orvus Woods who joined our staff last week.

Slow Learners To Be Screened Here

A screening and evaluating team from the Beaumont State Center for Human Development will be in Woodville Wednesday July 31, for testing and evaluating children and adults having learning difficulties and who may be mentally retarded.

The team will be at the junior high school building from 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. On a previous trip on July 11, the team found two children who qualify for a satellite program here and they are interested in testing more individuals who might qualify for the program.

The State Center is anxious to test pre-school children who may have learning disabilities and who will benefit from a special school if teaching is started early. However, adults with learning difficulties, who may be unemployable, will be tested for special teaching also. Causes of slow learning vary, ranging all the way from brain damage to epilepsy. The purpose of the screening team is to find these children and adults. Classes have been established in Port Arthur, Vidor, Groves and Kirbyville.

Highway Department To Extend Farm Road In County

The Texas Highway Commission has announced plans for development of 1.6 miles of Farm to Market Roads in Tyler county as part of the 1968 Texas Farm to Market Road Program. The project will extend FM 2922 to FM 1013, making a direct connection between FM 1746 and FM 1013.

District Engineer F. C. Young of Beaumont said the estimated cost of the work is $111,000. The Texas Highway Department engineer in charge of the work will be A. J. Cortez, supervising resident engineer at Woodville.

The work is part of 826 miles of Farm to Market road development included in the program.

The 1968 Farm to Market Program includes the addition of 545 new miles, bringing the designated mileage of the Texas FM-RM system to almost 39.5 thousand miles.

The Texas Farm to Market Road system is one of the most highly developed networks of rural highway facilities in the nation, exceeding the total mileage of the entire highway systems of most other states.

The program includes advance stage construction on some roads already begun in addition to new mileage. Total cost of the work is $23.8 million.

Garbage Patrons With Complaints Should Call Wright

Persons whose garbage has been missed by the pickup crew or who have any other complaints about the service should call Gilbert Wright Disposal Service at 283-2709, the city office said Tuesday.

Wright holds the contract from the city for garbage pick-up, and the city office said that complaints should be directed to the contractor rather than to the city office. By calling direct, quicker action can be obtained on poor service.

Rains Hamper County Farm Operations

Roy Pate, the stockman-merchant, said Tuesday that he had about 1,000 bales of hay cut but that the rain has prevented him from getting it baled.

Roy's plight is familiar to most farm and ranch operators in the county, since the daily showers during July have fallen on most areas with just enough moisture to keep them from cutting and baling the bumper crop of hay. Some who have managed to get hay cut have had it rained on, which does not improve its quality, to say the least. The rain has been a blessing.

DPS Offers Young Men Career Jobs

The Texas Department of Public Safety has announced that it has career opportunities for young men between the ages of 20 and 35.

Qualifications are a high school diploma or equivalent, good moral character, excellent physical condition, visual acuity no worse than 20/40 correctable to 20/20, and residence in the state of Texas for at least one year.

Young men who meet these qualifications and who are looking for a career may contact the Department of Public Safety office or any patrolman for an application blank.

Post Office Service To Be Limited To Deliveries Saturday

Effective Saturday all First and Second Class Post Offices will be open for a period not to exceed two hours for the purpose of delivering regular general delivery mail and parcels addressed to box patrons. No financial transactions will be made.

The Woodville office will be open from 8 to 10 a.m. only. The purpose of this restriction is to meet the budget requirements and personnel reduction required by the new tax bill just signed by the president, Postmaster H. M. Durham said.

He said there will be delivery service only. Stamps will be available in the stamp-vending machine in the lobby of the post office. There will be no collection from the drop boxes Saturday or Sunday afternoons.

The drop box at the corner of Charlton and Wheat Street near the post office will be tapped by the carrier from Lufkin at 5:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. This mail will be postmarked Lufkin, Texas 75901.

Non-Jury Cases Heard In District Court Monday

District Judge H. A. Coe will here Monday to hear the regular fourth-Monday non-jury cases and other matters.

He received the monthly report from the grand jury which returned four true bills. Two were for forgery and passing, one for theft by false pretext, and one for driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Judge Coe also heard one application for adoption, and a hearing for a summary judgment was held.

For the first time in several years, the fourth Monday session did not have a divorce petition on the docket. This was just a coincidence, however, as over 100 divorce suits are pending.

Indian Leaders at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation

15 miles west of Woodville said that they will continue their efforts to oust Superintendent Walter W. Broemer in spite of the apparent failure to convince the Texas Commission on Indian Affairs at a meeting Friday night in the museum building at the reservation.

Two of the three members of the Indian Affairs Commission were present at the meeting called to discuss the discontent of the Indians with the Superintendent, who is a state employee. They are Dempsey Henley of Liberty, chairman, and Victor Fahn of Nacogdoches. The other member is Ed Easterling of Beaumont.

Indian leaders said that petitions asking for the replacement of Broemer will continue to be circulated and that most of the residents of the reservation will sign them.

The simmering feud between Broemer and the Tribal Council, the ruling organization at the reservation, was brought to a head by a letter written to Henley by the first chief of the tribes, B. Cooper Sylestine. In it he charged that Broemer makes decisions and takes action on council matters without consulting with the Tribal Council, especially in conducting the affairs of the flourishing tourist business.

The Tribal Council and Broemer clashed recently over spending the $73,000 in oil and gas lease funds received by the reservation. Broemer had urged that most of it be spent on Tribal Enterprises debts. Tribal Enterprises was set up to run the reservation's tourist business.

The Tribal Council wanted to spend a bigger portion of it on improvements and maintenance of homes on the reservation. They rejected Broemer's proposal and voted to spend $38,490 for building and maintaining homes and $27,090 to Tribal Enterprises to apply on indebtedness.

Indian leaders cited the decision to build a small lake near the tourist complex instead of a larger one wanted by Broemer's actions without consulting the Tribal Council.

Indian leaders said that the meeting Friday night was run by Chairman Henley in a manner that did not give the Tribal Council an opportunity to adequately present their views. They said that another meeting will be held, possibly on August 2.

Broemer has been Superintendent at the reservation for the past 11 years. In answer to the Indian complaints last week he cited numerous improvements and progress of the reservation.

Sidney Allison Is July Junior Rotarian

Sidney Allison is attending the meetings of the Woodville Rotary Club as the Junior Rotarian for July.

Sidney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Allison of Woodville. He will be a senior in high school during the term beginning this fall. He is already a member of the National Honor Society, Spanish Club, a two-year letterman in football, member of the tennis team and of the basketball team.

Sidney also is president of the newly formed Woodville Youth Center. He plans to attend college after graduation with the class of 1969.

The program at last week's meeting of the Rotary Club was brought by B. F. Williams, supervisor in the employee relations department of the DuPont Company in Beaumont. Mr. Williams graduated from Kirby High School in Woodville in 1944.

According to Gilbert Wright, program chairman, this week's program will be brought by B. H. McGuire, a Rotarian and superintendent of Woodville schools.

Superintendent Reviews School Board Decision To Integrate

According to B. H. McGuire, superintendent, the decision to integrate the schools of the Woodville Independent School District was made by the Board of Trustees after many months of deliberation and several years of observing the course of integration in the school districts of Texas and the nation as it has proceeded following federal court decisions, civil rights legislation, and the guidelines for school integration as established by the United States Department of Justice, and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. For the past three years, the district has followed federal guidelines which permitted "freedom of choice" of schools by parents and pupils. In May, 1968, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, which has jurisdiction over Texas, ruled that the principle of "freedom of choice" had failed to produce substantial integration and ordered the total integration of schools. The Circuit Court was subsequently sustained by the United States Supreme Court in June, 1968.

Since these court rulings, the United States Department of Justice and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare have been active throughout Texas and other parts of the nation in applying the new federal guidelines in school districts that have continued to maintain separate schools because of race. The pattern of action of the federal government had again ruled in 1968 a speedy end to segregation schools. Observation of what was happening in other school districts and a careful study of the new federal guidelines and civil rights regulations caused the Board of Trustees to proceed with the total integration of the district. To have delayed the matter for another year, as some persons have suggested, could have resulted in a federal order to integrate the Scott Schools after the opening of school in September, 1968. Such an order would have resulted in the placement of a number of white pupils in the Scott Schools after the beginning of school. Therefore, the Board of Trustees reached the final decision that the district could no longer legally operate segregated Negro schools and proceeded to plan for total integration and the best possible long-range utilization of the school plant.

During the progress of the process of integration, the Board of Trustees had been giving careful attention to the location of schools, the grouping of pupils, the utilization of the professional staff, and the development of the curriculum to meet the requirements of the integrated student-body. The organization of the district into a secondary campus and an elementary campus had been under consideration for a number of years. The decision to use the former Scott campus as the location for the Woodville Elementary School had been under study since the enactment of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. With this end in mind, the Board of Trustees proceeded to acquire additional site space and to repair and remodel existing buildings. Final renovations and alterations are now underway so that when school opens in September the first four grades of the elementary school may be comfortably and adequately housed on the Woodville Elementary School Campus.

In the future, as the secondary schools of the district grow and require the total building space on the Kirby Campus, additional classrooms will be provided on the Woodville Elementary School Campus to house the first six grades. The elementary campus will provide adequate classrooms, playground space, auditoriums, and special rooms for a complete elementary plant.

Before making its decision, the Board of Trustees gave careful consideration to existing facilities and to the long-range needs of the district. Many of the facilities on the Kirby Campus were designed for secondary school purposes. To have converted the Scott Campus into a secondary school would have required needless duplication of facilities. The financial resources of the district do not permit such duplication.

At the present time the district is moving rapidly toward making the Woodville Elementary School Campus ready for occupancy in September. Building plans during the 1968-1969 school year include a vocational building on the Kirby Campus to house an industrial arts program and other voca-
