Booster Bits

By WILEY K. POSTON

Just in case you hear a lot of whistling, see a big smile plus a lot of pictures and sports news in the Booster, you are getting to know the newest guy around the Booster, Pineywoods Press and KVLL. His name is George Boulware and one of the happiest fellows we ever knew. George is a fine young man, a good photographer, a good writer and a real asset to our organization. In fact the crew in the composing room are even letting him use their glue can and scissors. . . and Ole Chuck, Booster editor is even entrusting him with developing film and making prints. This means Ole George is in like Flynn.

We have noticed something lately that is sure good, Chief of Police John Grammer has been watching the speeders coming into town and especially on the approaches where school children might be crossing. This was called very forcibly to our attention recently as we were coming in on West Bluff from making some calls for the Pineywoods Press in Livingston. The reason we were in such a hurry was because due to the failure, KVLL was off the air and we were not aware of anything but to get out to the transmitter and get it back on the air. Well to make a long story short, Ole John picked me up on radar and pulled me down. I am eternally grateful to him because it woke me up to the fact that with my mind fixed so strongly on what was wrong with KVLL, I wouldn't have noticed a small child dart out, or possibly someone pulling out from the hospital or nursing center. I am appealing with all motorists to cooperate with our Woodville Police Department, the Tyler County Sheriff's Department and our Highway Patrol in obeying our traffic laws. So thanks, John, because you were doing your duty and I was certainly in the wrong, and I only hope all speeders: you stop will look at it the same way.

KVLL's Orvis Woods and wife Beulah look off for Nashville, Tenn. Tuesday to attend the Country Music Association Convention of which Orvis is a member. This will give Orvis a chance to visit with the biggest stars in the business and should bring us a lot of good pictures, news and records. We sure are glad that he and Beulah could make it and if you youngsters can stand it, yours truly, Bill Mac and George Boulware will hold down through Sunday. And speaking of Sunday, don't forget the big singing at Chester 2:15 p.m. till 4 p.m. and if you can't be at Pleasant Valley Church, be sure to tune in KVLL.

People we saw department Mann Furniture Company's David Mann right in the middle of a gigantic furniture sale. . . he was even trying to sell one of our courtesan squirrels in a living room suite. Sonny and Dee Flowers all excited about moving Tri-County Glass and Mirror and Dee's Gift and Hobby Shop up to 430 South Magnolia. Our good friends from Spurger all fired up about the basketball game with Starks, La. Tuesday night.

Eagles Overpower Kountze

By BOB MCCOY

The Woodville Eagles continued their winning streak Friday night as they downed the Kountze Lions 13-0. The first half was much like that of Hardin Jefferson game, a great defensive battle with the Kountze ground attack balanced by the Eagle passing game. As one might expect, the first half "statistics" are fairly equal. Kountze rushing, 72 yards; passing, 0; total rushing, 72 yards; penalties, 1 for 15 yards; penetrations, 0; first downs, 4; kick-off average, 1 for 15 yards; punt average, 3 for 35 yards; fumbles, 0; interceptions, 0. Woodville: Rushing, 37; passing, 75 yards, 3 of 14 attempts, interceptions, 2; total, 112 yards; penalties, 3 for 20 yards; punts, 4 for average of 30 yards; kick-off average, 1 for 20 yards; penetrations, 0; first downs, 6.

During first half action Tommy Weaver and Vernon Botley intercepted two Kountze passes with Botley's interception setting up a 30 yard field goal attempt by George Cortez which was short and off to the left. At the end of the half, the score remained 0-0.

Second half action began with Kountze kicking off. Excellent pass reception by Willie Gill and some fine running by James Ivy and himself enabled Wayne Simmons to make the first Woodville touchdown from 9 yards out. With George Cortez's extra point blocked by the hard rushing Kountze line, Woodville led 6-0. After receiving the kickoff the Lions, on their first offensive play fumbled with A. J. Cortez of Woodville coming up with the ball. Though the following Eagle drive proved fruitless, it pushed the Lions deep inside their own territory. Again, the ball changed hands several times and about midway through the fourth quarter Tommy Hensarling intercepted a pass from Kountze's Wayne Renfro on the Lion 6 and da-

KOUNTZE COUPLE DROWN AT DAM BY RITES TUESDAY

A Kountze couple, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harrell, drowned in Dam B Lake last week probably Wednesday, while on a fishing and camping vacation.

The Harrells, who were camping in Magnolia-Hodge Park, were not reported missing until Saturday. Their pickup truck and boat were found in their camping site in the park, but their boat was missing. The Tyler County sheriff's department found that the couple had not returned to their home in Kountze with friends and left their belongings at the camp. Nearby campers could not recall seeing the couple since they put out in their boat early Wednesday morning.

Fishermen in another boat found the Harrell's boat half submerged in the lake. Mrs. Harrell's body was found Saturday afternoon.

The search and dragging operations for Mr. Harrell's body continued until late Saturday and were resumed Sunday morning. A helicopter had been flown to the area and was waiting for the fog to lift to begin an aerial search of the lake when Mr. Harrell's body was located near the place where his wife's body had been found.

Justice of the Peace Joe Loggins conducted inquests after each body was found and returned verdict of death by accidental drowning.

Officers surmised that the Harrells tried to return to their camp from the upper part of the lake when they were caught by the heavy windstorm and rain in which struck this area Wednesday afternoon.

Joint funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Harrell were held Monday at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Kountze. The Rev. Oral Speer, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Holland cemetery near Village Mills.

Mr. Harrell 51, was a member of the First Baptist Church a pumpier for the Atlantic Refining Co. in Village Mills and a veteran of World War II in the Army Air Corps. He was a graduate of Nacogdoches High School, attended Texas AAM University and was a member of the Myrtle Masonic Lodge.

The former Mary Jordan, Mrs. Harrell, 44, was a member of the First Baptist Church, Order of the Eastern Star and was a graduate of Kountze High School. She was a native of Kountze.

Mrs. Jordan is survived by her mother, Mrs. Madge Jordan; one sister, Mrs. Lois Pitts; and a nephew, all of Kountze.

Survivors for Harrell include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harrell of Warren, a brother, Charles Harrell of Beaumont; a sister, Mrs. Buster Gant of Oil City, La.; and two nieces.

America Still Is... ONE WOMAN'S OPINION

By Mrs. Ethel O. Hill

America is making valiant efforts to preserve certain areas of natural beauty, including vast tracts of forests, while other organizations with even more vision are destroying and obliterating larger areas in the name of progress, which is often an under-cover name for greed. Often this is loudly proclaimed as "for the benefit of many," regardless of the protests of a few. Very definitely there are two schools of thought on that subject. And many high-up realtors and building promoters are making fortunes on development centers where plots are so small and houses so close together, that in a few years the purchasers will find that instead of "getting away from it all" they are living in a crowded village with no more privacy than they had in city. Even in far off Alaska I read of clearing great forests, felling age-old trees, to make space for small garden plots, or mini-farms, though there are countless thousands of open prairie land.

And that brings up the subject of our beloved Big Thicket which under the above named procedure is being destroyed daily faster than it can grow back in hundreds of years. The talk of draining large areas to plant rice is sacrilege. With hundreds of uncultivated acres in all the coastal counties, why destroy, bulldoze, drain and prepare forest land to plant? Although even now rice acreage is limited and controlled by the federal agency known as the Agricultural Adjustment Plan, to which, I repeat, has not adjusted anything yet. Thousands of dollars, tax-payers dollars, are paid annually to land owners for not planting crops that they never intended to plant. As little sense to it as when they ordered wheat burned in the panhandle area because there was an over-crop, although in the deep south there was a shortage.

George Washington was our first ardent agriculturist, proclaiming that farming is the best, and noblest art of mankind. It's enough to make him rise from his grave and start a protest march.

But it is encouraging to note that several big and important organizations are at present making their current project the preservation of the Big Thicket. The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs is taking an active part in this and their wide-spread campaign of publicity has aroused an interest both in and outside the state that must surely bring results. However, many people are exploding into print who really know very little of the real Big Thicket. Therefore, many misconceptions are conceived. To me there is nothing this wilder, most unknown jungle in America as proclaimed in a magazine article about a year ago, with a picture depicting ferocious panthers perched on branches and a man fleeing for his life pursued by a huge bear, with six inch claws and teeth like the saber-toothed tiger. The writer had probably never been further afield than New York City limits, and the artists must have been inspired (emotionally by LSD). Such publicity does more harm than good. In the vernacular of the day it turns me up or makes me lose my cool. (Whatever that is.) There is no mystery in a big forest, no sinister secrets lurking behind every tangle of wild vines. It is a place of beauty and peacefulness.

There are a few (too few) jungle-like areas almost impenetrable and I hope they remain so. These are the only sheltered hide-outs for the few larger animals still extant. In my many walks into the Big Thicket in many years past, I have found countless fantastically beautiful things, a clump of the purple and violet colored orchids, big patches of wild spear-mint in bloom, or in some damp, mossy spot are the green and golden pitcher plants. And at this time of the year the wild crabapples and wild oranges are at their best. Sparkle berries, too, are plentiful and of course the delicious native persimmons. The list is long and alluring. Take a long walk in the forest some quiet afternoon, just you and nature. There is no telling what you might find.

The Lonely Grave—
Once I walked in the deep Big Thicket
Where the pines and the beeches wave,
And close by a spring, in a flowery dell
I found a lonely grave.
No man now knows it's occupant
Or whose hands laid him there,
Was he buried without a tear-drop?
On the smooth white bark of a beech tree
His epitaph was carved.
Did he die from the wounds of battle,
Or from lack of sustenance starved?
Brief is the written epitaph,
The date and the place of his birth,
Mark the first, in eighteen sixty four
He was laid in the arms of earth.
His birth-place, renowned Fort Sumpter,
On South Carolina's shore,
Little he dreamed, I am sure,
That he'd see his home no more.
For years, old timers told

You say you'd like a few suggestions on how to get more out of your telephone service?

Here are five tips to help make your every "hello" a real good buy:

- Whenever you're moving to another town within the Bell System, let us arrange for your phone service before you move. If you know the address of your new home, we can make arrangements in advance so you'll have the exact service you want in your new home. We'll also refer calls from your old phone to your new number if you like. Just call the business office and ask about our Easy Move Plan. There's no extra charge.
- Speaking of moving, we hope you realize that wherever you move in the Bell System, there is no color charge for the phones at your new address if you had color phones at your old address.
- Ever wonder what to do when you get a wrong number on a Long Distance call? Just hang up, dial "0" for Operator, and tell her what happened. She'll see that you're not charged for the call.
- And if you ever lose your dime in an out-of-order pay telephone, just go to a working phone and report it to the Operator. She'll arrange to have your dime mailed to you. Also, if you give her the number of the out-of-order phone, we'll get it fixed right away.
- Long Distance interstate rates are lower all day Saturday and Sunday, and after 7 p.m. each weekday. You can also save money if you call by number. A station-to-station Long Distance call costs about one-third less than a person-to-person call.

At Southwestern Bell, our goal is to help you get the very best telephone service. We want your every "hello" to be a real good buy.

STATE CAPITOL HIGHLIGHTS & SIDELIGHTS By Vern Sanford

Presidential candidates, wooing Texas voters and the state's 28 electoral votes, are becoming familiar visitors to the Lone Star State. Richard Nixon swooped into Dallas for a rally Friday. He's likely to return, as is his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, who also was here earlier. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will try to breathe new life into the late-starting Democratic drive with a barnstorming tour starting October 22. Ed Muskie, Humphrey's No. 2 man, is supposed to drop in around the 30th. Third party candidate George Wallace made plans to return to Texas this week. He scheduled a high noon rally for Fort Worth for the 27th (Oct. 19). Both Wallace and vice-presidential candidate Gen. Curtis E. LeMay are being encouraged by backers to make repeat performances before November 5.

With waiting for the candidates to make their personal appeals, their supporters fought the battle of the polls. Humphrey's national headquarters claimed a 40 percent showing in 35 out of 40 Texas counties. Wallace's supporters claimed 40 percent in 36 out of 40 counties. Nixon's supporters claimed 27 percent in 35 out of 40 counties and under 17 percent in Houston. Charles McNamara concluded Nixon is leading with 40 per cent of the vote. Humphrey's poll showed 33 per cent.

John Dowdy Reports

NO 1968 PRESIDENTIAL BATTLES. The House of Representatives stayed in session for 32 hours, and all of us who were present got rather sleepy. It was a bill which would have permitted television and radio stations to present a three-way debate between the principal presidential candidates. However, the Senate laid the bill aside, which means the usual provisions of the law will prevent such debate taking place.

John Dowdy Receives Award For Voting Record

John C. Mason, president, National Associated Businessmen, Inc., presented United States Representative John Dowdy with the organization's "Watchdog of the Treasury" Award in honor of his voting record for the Ninetieth Congress, 1967-1968. In congratulating Congressman Dowdy, Mason said that all men enlisting at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Lufkin, Texas, are proud of the fact that they have a member of Congress who has been recognized for his outstanding record in the House of Representatives. He stated also that these men will also be enlisted under the "120 Day Delay Program", if they desire and are otherwise qualified. Men from the outlying communities need not go to Lufkin for processing. They can call 634-9083 or 633-4540 and arrangements will be made for processing of paperwork and transportation to Houston for enlistment. Openings are available at the present for "Aviation School Graduate" providing the person is qualified. A young man may select the month of November, December or January to report to Marine Corps Recruiting Training Station at San Diego, California. Enlisting now under the "120 Day Delay" will afford more time to the individual to remain home and still have the military obligation started. Now is the time to act. Eastex means a better way

Eastex advertisement featuring a large image of a sawmill and text describing the benefits of their sawdust products. Text includes: 'For many years sawdust has been wasted in East Texas. It was a by-product of the saw mills and it had no where to go but up in smoke. Eastex has changed all that. We now have a way to use sawdust in our paper-making process, in addition to logs, bark and chips. So now we help clear the air, as well as provide new money for a previously unused product. We're proud to be your neighbor in beautiful East Texas.' Logo for Eastex Incorporated, Silsbee, Texas.

HOMEMA

By Mrs. Mauri

Fall and winter suggestions for home gardeners. The fall and winter season is the time for you to check and decide whether replacement plants are needed in the home landscape. Maybe a rose bush has died or failed to live up to expectations or there is a gap in the shrub border where a new plant is wanted and was shade adequate in the outdoor living area.

Make a list of your landscape needs and be ready to take advantage of the selections offered early buyers by garden and nursery centers.

The natural inclination is to put off garden work until late spring when everything is green and up and the spring flowers are in bloom. Then suddenly comes the urge to plant trees and shrubs and a rush for plants only find that only picked-over stock remains.

Balled and burlapped plants and those grown in containers can be planted anytime of the year. Many of the deciduous plants, those that lose their leaves each fall, can be more easily handled or transplanted in a bare root condition.

For best results, however, bare root plants should be set out in the late fall and winter from mid-November through February in most areas of Texas. Planting during this period gives ample time for good root development before spring growth begins.

With proper care, bare root plants can be set out as late as March and April. Their success, however, is dependent upon condition of the nursery stock used and the care they receive for six months after planting.

For ease of maintenance and to reduce the amount of disease and insect damage, the landscape plants which are native or adapted to the area should be selected.

Cool fall days of October... an ideal gardening time... The cool fall days of October are a prime gardening time. Do not put your gardening tools away for winter, put the tools shed in for the final Eagle score. Again Cortez attempted conversion and this time it was good. Following the kickoff, the Lions started a 62-yard drive which took them from their own 37 to the Woodville 1-on-a-running attack headed by Harrison M. Millard and a passing gain headed by Wayne Renteria. There on the Eagle one, with minutes left, Renteria brought his team to the line for a desperate attempt to score. The halfback intercepted and placed up the middle and to finish the ball with Woodville's Tom Weaver running over the stiff line. The Lions had for scoring. The ball game ended, 13-0.

Score by the quarter: Woodville, first quarter, none; second quarter, none; third quarter, six; fourth quarter, seven, with a total score of 13. Kountze, none.

Woodville: Rushing, 136 yards; passing, 120 yards, completing 19 attempts, total, 232 yards; 14 touchdowns; 13 punts, 54 for 172 yards; punts, 10 for average of 35 1/4 yards; field goals, 4; interceptions, 3; penalties, 1 for 10 yards.

Kountze: Rushing, 82 yards; passing, 39 yards, 4 of 8 attempts; 12 punts, 1; kick-offs, 2 for 22 1/2 yards average; fumbles, 3; interceptions, 1.

JOHN ELLIOTT: ALL-PRO

(Ed. note: This article was taken from the New York News and was written by sports writer Paul Zimmerman.)

John Elliott, the Jets' defense-right tackle, played a lifetime of football before he ever put on a professional uniform.

He's from Texas, and in that part of the world they don't put a football into a baby's crib, and if he catches it, the next 10 decades of his life are devoted to pads and plays.

Elliott came to the Jets last year with his football games behind him. Not a bad start. Organized football, with coaches and referees and clock and blackboards, and public affairs.

"He would have been more Elliott said, "except that the home town is Warren, Texas, population 400. The small town Little League football, which means that he had to start playing off-games as early as 11 in sixth grade, thereby joining out on 30 games or so. Not good enough for the state playoffs, which meant that Warren High's season ended after a meager 10 games. Playoff games can get as many as 15, six or seven games before college, and another 10 in four years at Texas, counting two bowl games and the coaches' All-America All-Star game, and John Elliott came to the Jets a man well schooled in matters.

"The high school, high jumping was my specialty," he said. "I weighed about 205 pounds and I played fullback and linebacker, and, once, cleared, 6-5. I couldn't do it now."

Now he can only clear 6-1, which might be a world's record for people who stand 5-4 and weigh 243 pounds. He proved it last summer when he and George Sauer, the Jets' All-League split end, and another 243 lb Texas product, happened to wander into a Longhorn track quartet.

"George kicked a 52-yard field goal," Elliott said, "high jumped 6-1. It took me two jumps to clear it, but I was wearing football shoes. I always did have good spring in my legs."

Maybe it's the spring that does it, but something in his legs has made him one of the quickest defensive tackles in football. At 243 lbs under-keeper the position, but so is Green Bay's Henry Jordan and Oakland's Tom Keating.

"He plays a lot like them," Webb Ewbank says, "like a kid. I had at Baltimore, Rabi Smith. A great pass rusher. He'll jump over people to get around them or under them. Somehow he'll throw out a 20, to get in there. If he's not tackling the passer, he's chasing him all of the pocket."

"He keeps going like he has. I don't see how he can miss being All-Pro."

Mike Talbot knows that Elliott is all pro material, in a recent game with Boston, Talbot found himself getting up after being slammed to the turf by Elliott for the sixth or seventh time looked up at the Warren product and said, "When is someone going to block you?"

MAX ALVIS: A GENTLEMAN FROM EAST TEXAS

A cheerful welcome greeted me in the office of the Alvis & Rhodes Agency as this reporter was seeking an interview with the star third baseman of the Cleveland Indians, Max Alvis. The older belonged to Honey Alvis, the lovely wife of Max, who was filling in as secretary this day. Honey, after a bit of mission, offered me a seat and informed me that Max would be in shortly from an errand he was running.

Shortly footsteps were heard, the door opened and there was Max smiling and extending his hand as he does so often during the course of one season, being a big teamer meant meeting all kinds of people and Max met it all with that same big smile and cordial greeting. That is the kind of person Max is. We went back to his office to confer. There in that room was

Tyler County Schedule

With the Tyler County teams comes a very tight schedule with all the teams starting their district encounters. Woodville takes on Newton in Newton and Warren takes on Lamberton in Lamberton. Colmesneil entertains West Sabine and Christoval entertains Lovelady. Both of these are home games for these teams.

The Woodville-Newton game will draw the spotlight for this week as the Eagles moved from 22AA to the tough 23AA district. Besides Woodville, there are three other teams that could draw the top spot in this district and Newton is one of them. Sporting a 4-1 record, they have been undefeated against opponents with an offense led by QB Jimmy Davis and fullback Charles Martin. Their offensive line is bolstered by Danny Stoffer and Prosty Kimes. These boys tip the scales at 215 and 225, respectively. Joe Carawa, Ronnie Henson, Stoffer and Kimes lead a tickle defense that has allowed an average of just 8 points a game.

Warren will be trying to make their first win against a Lamberton crew that took a 4-0 shutout at the hands of Hersh's Hill. Fullback Mike Mahady and backline Larry Smith are all Lamberton has to show for themselves.

In District 23B, Colmesneil and Christoval start their fight to be the number 1 Colmesneil takes on West Sabine, a team that picked up their first victory since starting their football program this season last week. Christoval takes on Lovelady who

Woodville Travels To Newton

It took the second half for the Woodville Eagles to score and top the Kountze Lions 13-0 for their fourth win against 1 defeat. The first half was a mixture of poor passing and a poor ground attack, but the half time "chat" with head coach Charlie McGinty seemed to be an inspiration of some sort as the Eagles came out the second half and promptly went in to score. Quarterback Wayne Simmons hit on key passes and fullback James Ivy carried most of the time on the drive. Simmons capped the drive with a six-yard scamper for the score. The PAT was wide giving the Tyler County boys a 6-0 edge.

but after that the offense seemed to get stuck in the mud much like the first half. It was the defensive unit which netted the last score, an Ambergar, Tommy. "Sawling grabbed a stray Kountze pass and pranced in for the score. Cortez booted the PAT. Late in the fourth frame, the defense another drive by forcing a fumble deep in Eagle territory.

It will have to be the same defense that will have to stop a potent Newton offense that has amassed a total of 133 points against 40 for their opponents. Half of that forty came as Orangefield handed Newton their first defeat 20-7.

Jimmy Davis and Charles Martin draw the spotlight on offense for the Eagles.

Both teams will have identical 4-1 slates with the low Woodville loss coming against Jasper on a night in

HOMEMAKING HINTS

By Mrs. Maurine J. Mooney, HD Agent

Fall and winter suggestions for home gardeners. The fall and winter season is the time for you to check and decide whether replacement plants are needed in the home landscape. Maybe a rose bush has died or failed to live up to expectations or there is a gap in the shrub border where a new plant is needed and was shaded adequate in the outdoor living area.

Make a list of your landscape needs and be ready to take advantage of the selections offered early buyers by garden and nursery centers.

The natural inclination is to put off garden work until late spring when everything is greening and up and the spring flowers are in bloom. Then suddenly comes the urge to plant trees and shrubs and a rush for plants only find that only pick-over stock remains.

Balled and burlapped plants and those grown in containers can be planted anytime of the year. Many of the deciduous plants, those that lose their leaves each fall, can be more easily handled or transplanted in a bare root condition.

For best results, however, bare root plants should be set out in the late fall and winter from mid-November through February in most areas of Texas. Planting during this period gives ample time for good root development before spring growth begins.

With proper care, bare root plants can be set out as late as March and April. Their success, however, is dependent upon condition of the nursery stock used and the care they receive for six months after planting.

For ease of maintenance and to reduce the amount of disease and insect damage, the landscape plants which are native or adapted to the area should be selected.

Cool fall days of October is an ideal gardening time. The cool fall days of October are a prime gardening time. Do not put your gardening tools away for winter, put the tools to work to insure a colorful and beneficial spring.

Planting spring bulbs in October is as natural as falling leaves or football games. Select top quality bulbs of daffodils, narcissi, jonquils, Dutch and Roman hyacinths, anemone, Ranunculus, Dutch Iris, and many others for October planting. An early fall planting allows the bulbs time to develop sound root systems prior to winter cold and spring bloom. Select a mixture of spring flowering bulbs to achieve a long season of spring blooms.

Spring bulbs, the glory of spring, require little care and treatment. Give them a sunny location in well drained soil and they will reward you with rich spring colors.

Purchase tulip bulbs during October and prepare beds for planting. Do not plant, however, until December. Tulip bulbs should be refrigerated for 45 to 60 days in the refrigerator prior to planting to insure long, strong stems and quality blooms.

Caladium bulbs may be dug and stored in October for planting again next April. Discontinue watering the summer caladium for several weeks, then dig and allow the tubers to dry. Store the tubers in old nylon stockings in a cool, dry location where they will be protected from freezing temperatures.

Winter rye grass may be planted in mid-October when there is an assurance of cool days and nights. Do not over seed, or apply more than 5 pounds of seed to 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Apply the seed evenly from North to South, then cross-sow, in an east to west direction so as to get an even distribution of seed.

October job is an ideal time to clean-up scale insects on such plants as gardenia, camellia, holly and euonymus. To control, spray the plants with dormant oil, malathion, or diazinon. Cygon may be used on camellias and gardenias.

Other gardening chores to accomplish during cool October days may include dividing and transplanting perennials such as shasta daisies, daylilies, bearded iris, oxalis and violets, making a compost pile for spring gardening soils from fallen leaves and dead vegetation; preparing for winter being sure to mulch tender plants with fallen leaves and pine needles.

October is an ideal time to report overgrown pot plants; to give pruned hedges a final pruning before winter; to dig and store gladiolus corms; to prepare pansy and rose beds for a later planting and to begin selecting trees and shrubs for a winter planting.

The fall days of October will turn quickly into winter; therefore, take advantage of this good gardening time.

The glory of fall is displayed by the vivid fall colors of our Northeast Texas trees. The vines, yellows, crimsons and golds of fall cloak our native woodlands, yet, all too often our immediate home landscape are completely void of this rich fall color. October and the fall season is an excellent time to take note of our various colorful native plants which are easily adaptable to our landscapes, and consider using some of this color in our own back yards, or along our city streets.

The color and degree of fall color in our area is dependent on several environmental factors, type of soils, acid or alkaline, cool fall days and nights and moisture conditions. Gardening guides check list for October:

1. Continue to divide perennials such as shasta daisies, bearded iris and daylilies in early October.
2. Use fallen autumn leaves in a compost pile or bin. Sprinkle generous amounts of soil over the layers of leaves, adding a helping of complete commercial fertilizer and water well to hasten decomposition.
3. Prepare a winter protection. Collect leaves for mulching around the root areas of winter-tender plants. Severe cold may be damaging to axalia and camellia, banana root stock, etc. A good mulch of leaves is a good soil conditioner as well as winter protection for any plant.

4. Continue to report house plants and get them in order for bringing indoors over winter.
5. Give pruned hedges a last general pruning. Late fall pruning may encourage new tender growth that is susceptible to frost damage.
6. Root-prune wisteria that has failed to bloom so as to encourage flowering next spring. Cut through the root with a spade in a circle about 30 to 40 inches from the main stem.
7. Continue to dig and store gladiolus corms.
8. Collect dried seed-pod, pine cones, grasses, etc. for Thanksgiving, fall and Christmas decorations.
9. Control fall caterpillars on ornamentals with DDT or Sevin.
10. Continue to give lawn grasses a routine mowing to prevent weeds from going to seed.
11. Begin to plan for and select shrubs and trees for a winter or dormant season planting.

At the coffee which preceded the program, the table was laid in the colors of the organization, silver and candles, providing the proper setting for the large birthday cake prepared by Mrs. Harry Brewton. With Mrs. Georgia Belle McAfee as chairman of hostesses, autumn fruits and foliage were also arranged to lend an air of gaiety to the luncheon room.

The program of the day was presented by Mrs. Thelma Hawkins of Kirbyville and her panel of capable teachers. The scholarship of Delta Kappa Gamma was ably discussed as to its availability, uses and rewards. The scholarship is not a loan. It is a gift made possible by mature teachers for those seeking to further their education.
